

DOUBLE TRACK ROAD FROM CHICAGO TO NEW YORK IS TO BE BUILT

Jos. Ramsey, Jr., Former President of Wabash, Heads Syndicate.

Line to be Operated With Electric Locomotives
From First.

Easier Grades and Shorter Line Than Any Other Road.

Pittsburg, Aug. 14.—Papers of consolidation of three railroads in different parts of Pennsylvania will be filed at Harrisburg this week which will constitute the formal announcement of a project of prominent foreign bankers, associated with Joseph Ramsey, Jr., former president of the Wabash railroad, to build a low grade double track railroad from New York to Chicago by way of Pittsburg. Complete surveys have already been made, and it is expected that work preliminary to actual grading and construction next spring will begin this fall. It is expected that the road will require three years to construct. It is contemplated to operate with electric locomotives from the beginning. It will be known as the New York, Pittsburg & Chicago air line, and will be sixty-five miles shorter to New York than the Pennsylvania and 108 miles shorter than the shortest line between New York and Chicago.

The new Keystone air line will traverse the important bituminous coal fields of Central Pennsylvania, now controlled by the Pennsylvania railroad and will also pierce the anthracite region throughout its length. It will not only be the shortest line through Pennsylvania, but it will cross the summit of the Allegheny mountains 400 feet lower than the Pennsylvania and will have very few curves and remarkably low grades for a mountain line.

Mr. Ramsey confirms the above in a telegram from New York to the Pittsburg Dispatch. The telegram says the information of the line between Pittsburg and New York Mr. Ramsey says is estimated to be between $75,000,000 and $100,000,000, all of which has been pledged, the bulk of it by foreign capitalists.

The merger paper to be filed this week will provide for the consolidation of the Indiana, Cleveland & Eastern, the Albion, Tamaqua & Eastland, and the French Creek & Green Run railroad.

AUTHORESS DIES IN LONDON

Mrs. Craigie, John Oliver Hobbes, Passes Away
in Sleep.

London, Aug. 14.—Mrs. Pearl Mary F. Teresa Craigie, the authoress and dramatist, known as John Oliver Hobbes, died in her sleep some time during Sunday night of heart failure. Her death was unexpected, she having been apparently perfectly well when she retired. Mrs. Craigie had been spending a fortnight at her home, Stepney, London, and had just returned to her home in London, which she left Sunday afternoon to keep an engagement in London. She was 39 years of age.

Mrs. Craigie had just spent a fortnight with her parents at Ventnor, and was in excellent spirits and busily planning future work. Reaching London Sunday evening, she complained of feeling tired and went early to bed, leaving orders not to be disturbed until she rang in the morning. At 9 o'clock yesterday, hearing nothing from their mistress, the servants became anxious and went to her room, where they found her dead. The doctor who was summoned was unable to give a certificate of burial, though the indications pointed to heart failure, because Mrs. Craigie had had no occasion to consult a doctor for some time previously and hence it will be necessary to hold an inquest.

Mrs. Craigie's parents, who have been summoned to London, are heartbroken over the terrible news.

The inquest on the body of Mrs. Craigie will be held tomorrow. The burial will take place in the Catholic cemetery at Kensal Green. At the time of her death Mrs. Craigie was engaged in adapting her play, "A Time to Love," published last year as a novel. Her last novel, "The Dream and the Business," is ready for issue, the publishers are awaiting a copyright from America to say that the United States copyright has been secured.

THINK THEY HAVE LEADERS.

Russian Official Thinks Moscow Arrests
Were Important.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 14.—The authorities attach great importance to the capture of revolutionaries at Moscow and in that vicinity during the last few days. They believe they have broken up the headquarters of the military organization and arrested the leaders. In addition to seizing their clandestine printing establishments and a large supply of bombs and explosives, including phosphorus powder, the authorities found plans which were to be used in the event of an uprising.

Milwaukee's Mayor Tells Eagles They Own
the City.

Contests for Offices of Grand Aerie to Be Exciting.

Milwaukee, Aug. 14.—The eighth annual convention of the grand aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles opened in Fabst theater this forenoon, the delegates numbering about 1,500. Mayor Sheehan M. Becker extended the freedom of the city in a few appropriate remarks, taking occasion to "raise the lid" during the time the visitors are the city's guests. Worthy President Conrad H. Mann extended a cordial welcome on behalf of the Milwaukee Eagles. The opening session is the only one during the week to which the public was invited, the remaining sessions being of an executive character.

There promises to be an exciting contest throughout the week for the various offices to be filled by the aerie. For grand worthy president, William Krause of Wilmington, Del., and Wooda N. Carr of Uniontown, Pa., are the most active candidates. Congressman Theodore Bell of California seems to have little opposition as grand worthy vice president. For grand secretary A. E. Partridge of Kansas City, Mo., has Robert Minahan of Chicago as an opponent, and Grand Treasurer Frank E. Hering of South Bend, Ind., is opposed by C. A. Stephens of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. The contest for the next place of meeting seems to be between Norfolk, Va., and Omaha. The Western city is making a most strenuous campaign. It is understood that the contest will be a close one.

SEVEN HURT IN RAILROAD WRECK

Freight Engine Runs Into Fast Passenger Train in Kansas.

Fort Scott, Kan., Aug. 14.—A St. Louis & St. Paul freight engine ran into the Missouri, Kansas & Texas fast passenger train No. 6, northbound, at the crossing of the two roads near this city early today, overturning a chair car and one sleeper. Seven persons were hurt and a number of others were thrown from their seats or hurled by escaped injury. None of the injured is serious hurt. The injured are: Joseph Haddick, St. Paul, Pa., hand smashed; Mrs. Joseph Haddick, arm cut and back injured; J. N. Vallard, Montrose, Mo., cut about face and head; A. V. Ringland, South McAlester, Ind. T. arm cut; John E. Rice, Muskogee, Ind. T. hand smashed; Joseph Lindsay, Granger, Texas, head cut and leg bruised.

Several persons were bruised or badly shaken up among them the following: A. P. Humford, Chantillon, Iowa; J. J. Priebeburger, New London, Wis. The passenger train was bound from Texas to St. Louis and was six hours late. The chair car was turned completely over, but the sleeper fell against a telegraph pole which prevented its falling to its side. The injured were able to continue their journey after receiving the attention of physicians sent from Fort Scott.

GOMPERS OPPOSES

Not Agreeable to Chairman Shonts' Chinese Coolie Plan.

Says It Is Plainly Violation of Chinese Exclusion Act.

Washington, Aug. 14.—President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, in an authorized statement takes issue with Chairman Shonts of the Ishmian canal commission as to the employment of coolie labor in the construction of the Panama canal. Mr. Gompers characterizes as an absurdity the contention of Chairman Shonts, that the law with respect to the exclusion of Chinese is only applicable to territory at that time subject to the authority of the United States and that the canal zone was acquired subsequent to that date. There is no provision, says Mr. Gompers, in the law referred to and he cites the various provisions of the law in this connection.

Mr. Gompers declares that neither he nor James O'Connell, president of the International Association of Machinists, who visited Mr. Shonts were able to persuade him from his position on the 8-hour question and they devoted little attention to the subject of Chinese coolies, because, he said, Mr. Shonts emphatically declared it was not his intention to employ them.

The charge is specifically made by Mr. Gompers that Chairman Shonts had sufficient influence with congress but not only of the eight hour law, but the eight hour principle in the construction of the canal. The future, construction of the canal.

EMPEROR GOES TO CAMP.

Will Meet Guards in Spite of Assassination.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 14.—Despite the attempt on the life of the Grand Duke Nicholas on Aug. 10 at Krasnoye-Selo, the emperor, accompanied by his entire family and the major portion of the court, has gone to Krasnoye-Selo in a week at the Guards' camp. Six additional Guard regiments have been taken to the camp from St. Petersburg and the most rigid precautions have been taken to assure the safety of the emperor during his stay at Krasnoye-Selo. The emperor is heavily guarded and no civilians are allowed to leave there in Krasnoye-Selo except after being fully identified. A grand review is scheduled for Aug. 19, after which the imperial family will go to the Saratov. Although some of the papers report that it is the intention of the imperial family to immediately go by sea to Livland, in the Crimea, and spend the autumn there.

TO WIPE OUT PULAJANES

Officials in Leyte Preparing to Exterminate the Outlaws.

Band Numbers Hundred and Forces Others to Join it.

Manila, Aug. 14.—Governor Ide returned to Manila today, after a conference at Tacloban, Island of Leyte, Aug. 12, with Maj. Gen. Wood, Brig. Gen. Lee, Governor De Veyra, fifteen presidents and Col. Taylor of the constabulary. The presidentes promised to support the American authorities, and to furnish information leading to the extermination of the Pulajanes.

There are various causes for the present conditions of Pulajanism in Spanish times. The flight back to the island of Leyte, during the Philippine revolution, was the result of the municipal police by Governor De Veyra, his political opponents assert, caused the recent disturbances. It is declared that had the late First Lieut. John F. James of the Eighth Infantry possessed correct information, he would not have gone out with a small force, Aug. 8. The flight occurred in the darkness and the troops were the victims of a bold rush of superior numbers, during which their rifles were of no use. The bodies of Lieut. James, Contract Surgeon Caleb Snyder, Privates William J. Gillick and Matthew Zeek have been buried at Tacloban.

Governor Ide has decided to appoint a commission, consisting of Governor De Veyra, Brig. Gen. Lee, Col. Taylor and three presidents, to visit the disaffected districts and hold meetings of the town councils to impress the people with the necessity of co-operation and support in exterminating the Pulajanes. The outlaw band numbers about 100, and is being greatly increased by the leaders forcing peaceful farmers to participate in raids, threatening them with death if they refuse. These recruits are armed with bolos. The real Pulajanes do not trust them with guns.

A special term of the court has been ordered at Tacloban to try the prisoners. It is understood that the leaders will get the extreme penalty of the law, but that the misguided natives will be dealt with leniently.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

Clubs Invited to Send Delegates to State Meeting.

St. Paul, Aug. 14.—Hugh T. Halbert, president of the Minnesota State Tennis association, has extended invitations to every tennis club in Minnesota to send two delegates to the annual meeting of the association which will be held at the Town and Country club Saturday evening. It is expected that delegates from Duluth will be present, also from Red Wing and Winona, besides from all Twin City clubs. The state tournament will begin Saturday afternoon and continue during the next week. The election of officers will be held Saturday evening.

Official Report of Bank's Condition is Not Given Out.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Interest in the investigation into the affairs of the suspended Milwaukee Avenue State bank was stimulated today by anticipation of a clash between the circuit and superior courts of Cook county. Judge John Gibbons of the former tribunal yesterday appointed the Chicago Title & Trust company receiver for the bank, and today preparations were made to oust receiver John C. Fetzer, acting under authority of Judge Brennan of the superior court. Besides this complication, there is still to be settled the status of Receiver W. C. Niblack, named by Referee in Bankruptcy Eastman to collect the personal estate of President Paul O. Stensland.

The official report of the condition of the defunct institution is to be given to the state auditor today, but Bank Examiner C. C. Jones has declined to withhold the contents of the report from the public in Chicago, in order to protect those most vitally interested in the bank's affairs. He may, however, he says, decide to give extracts from the report.

The banks of the Chicago Clearing House association have offered a reward of $5,000 for the apprehension of Paul O. Stensland, fugitive president of the Milwaukee Avenue State bank. So anxious are the bankers to capture the accused official that a conference was held yesterday afternoon to decide upon some action to search for Stensland, and the passage of a resolution to pay this reward was the result.

Theodore Stensland, vice president of the bank, and son of the missing man, says: "I do not know where my father is, but it is my belief that he is dead. I know his temperament, and I do not believe he will stand this. I believe he has ended it all."

Another warrant against Henry W. Herbig, cashier of the Milwaukee Avenue State bank, charging him with forging a note for $10,000, in the name of Paul O. Stensland, was issued today by Judge Kersten. The warrant was signed by Kerkby.

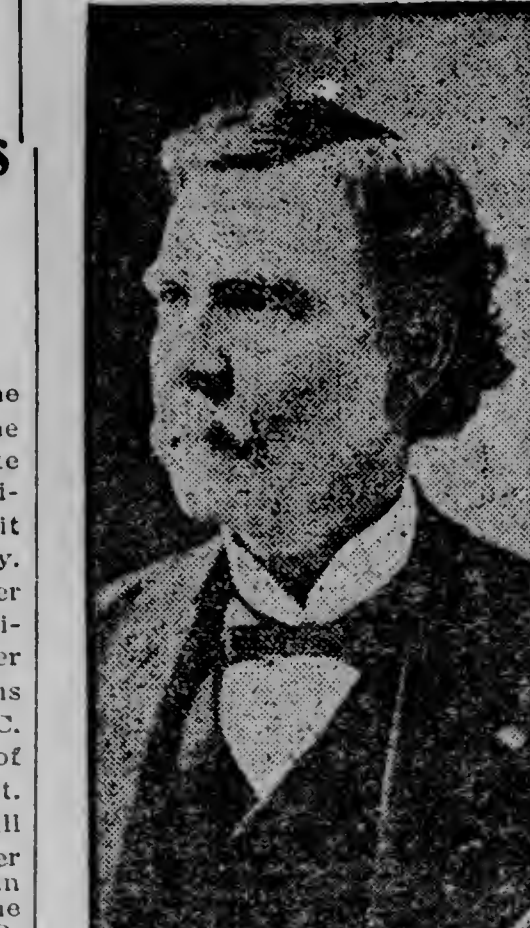

It was announced today that action in the nature of contempt proceedings growing out of the recent complication would begin before Judge Brennan in the superior court this afternoon. A conference with Judge Brennan, the attorney for Receiver Fetzer began preparing a petition asking that at least one of the lawyers and parties to yesterday's receivership proceedings be punished for contempt of court.

IMPUDENT ENGLISHMAN.

Bayonne, N. J., Aug. 14.—James

Piere, an Englishman, was fined $25 in police court today for hissing the American flag during the performance at a theater last night. The judge who imposed the fine was a member of the audience. Piere's action in hissing the Stars and Stripes as they were waved by a performer at the conclusion of a song almost caused a riot in the audience.

Manager of Company
Threatens to Suspend
the Cars.

New York, Aug. 14.—The difficulty between the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company and its patrons, which arose over the efforts of the company to collect a double fare from New York to Coney Island, was continued today. Application was made to District Attorney Clarke in Brooklyn for several warrants for the arrest of employees of the Rapid Transit company on charges of assaulting passengers in ejecting them from the cars after they refused to pay a second fare.

J. F. Childerwood, general manager of the company, said today that if he were unable to collect the double fares, he would suspend traffic on all the surface lines to Coney Island.

Plans have been made to station police under the charge of captains all along the lines where the employees of the company halt cars to eject passengers. A resumption of the electric cars and lights was expected when the rush to Coney Island begins this afternoon.

Yesterday afternoon the company's employees again began halting cars, whenever second fares were demanded, coming from passengers, and demanding their payment. Several assaults occurred and there were some arrests. Numerous threats were made against the company men and some passengers were thrown at cars and companies were being held during the enforcement of its rule that double fares must be paid. Numerous cars were bound from Coney Island who would not pay the extra 5 cents were allowed to continue on their way.

The body of a young woman was found last night on a trestle crossing the Rapid Transit company on charges of assaulting passengers in ejecting them from the cars after they refused to pay a second fare.

Visitors in Minneapolis
Estimated at 125,000—
Parade Wednesday.

Minneapolis, Aug. 14.—This was reunion day at the G. A. R. encampment and the gatherings of old soldiers were held in all parts of the city and at all hours of the day between 9 a. m. and midnight. In addition to these features of the day, there were receptions, the majority of them being all-day affairs, by various patriotic societies, Masonic bodies and various organizations affiliated with the Grand Army.

The crowd of visitors was greatly increased today, the rush of travel apparently reaching its climax last night and this morning. It was said that 600 visitors came in from Chicago alone, and the statement might be easily believed for at 7 o'clock in the morning the lobby of the West hotel and particularly that portion of it adjacent to the Illinois headquarters was packed by a dense throng, all of them apparently wearing a small yellow ribbon upon which was printed "Illinois." The crowd was so great that the doors of the Illinois headquarters were forced to open, and even then only a small portion of the crowd could be accommodated. It is believed by the railroad men that the last of the crowds will arrive today and that the total number of visitors will be about 125,000. So far, there has been no difficulty in caring for the crowd and excellent accommodations have been provided for all arrivals.

A delegation 250 strong arrived from Manchester, N. H., in the evening, and the Pennsylvanians, among whom was one survivor of the famous Pennsylvania Buckle, arrived in the morning. The "buckle" man wore in his hat the same old badge, which he carried through the war, and he was sufficiently battered to justify his claim that it had been carried through nearly all the campaigns of the Army of the Potomac.

The campaign for commander is growing more warm. The adherents of R. H. Brown of Zanesville, Ohio, have commenced to push their man in energetic fashion and have scattered a large number of cards announcing his candidacy and setting forth his qualifications for the office, as his friendly view of the election of Capt. Coney, of Kansas, however, express their views as undismayed and confident of the election of their candidate. Charles G. Burton of Missouri is also strongly pushed. A resolution, a public caprice, he held in the auditorium when addresses of welcome to the old soldiers and

BOY DROWNED IN RED LAKE RIVER

Fifth Victim of the River at Crookston This Season.

Crookston, Minn., Aug. 14.—(Special to The Herald).—Vielman, the 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Laramie, was drowned in the Red Lake river here yesterday afternoon. He was swimming for the log boom and was carried under by the treacherous current. He is the fifth victim of the river at this point this season. His father is one of the old time engineers of the Great Northern running out of this city. The body was recovered an hour later.

HARVESTING IN POLK COUNTY

Has Begun and Will Be Rushed Fast as Possible.

Crookston, Minn., Aug. 14.—(Special to The Herald).—The harvest is practically on in the eastern part of Polk county, and considerable grain has already been cut. Most of the harvested grain is barley, but some wheat has also been harvested. The farmers are disposed this year to cut their grain on the green side, for while the weather has been fine for the past few days, and gives every promise of continuing so, the weather clerk has been so far from some time past that there is a feeling of apprehension as to what may happen later.

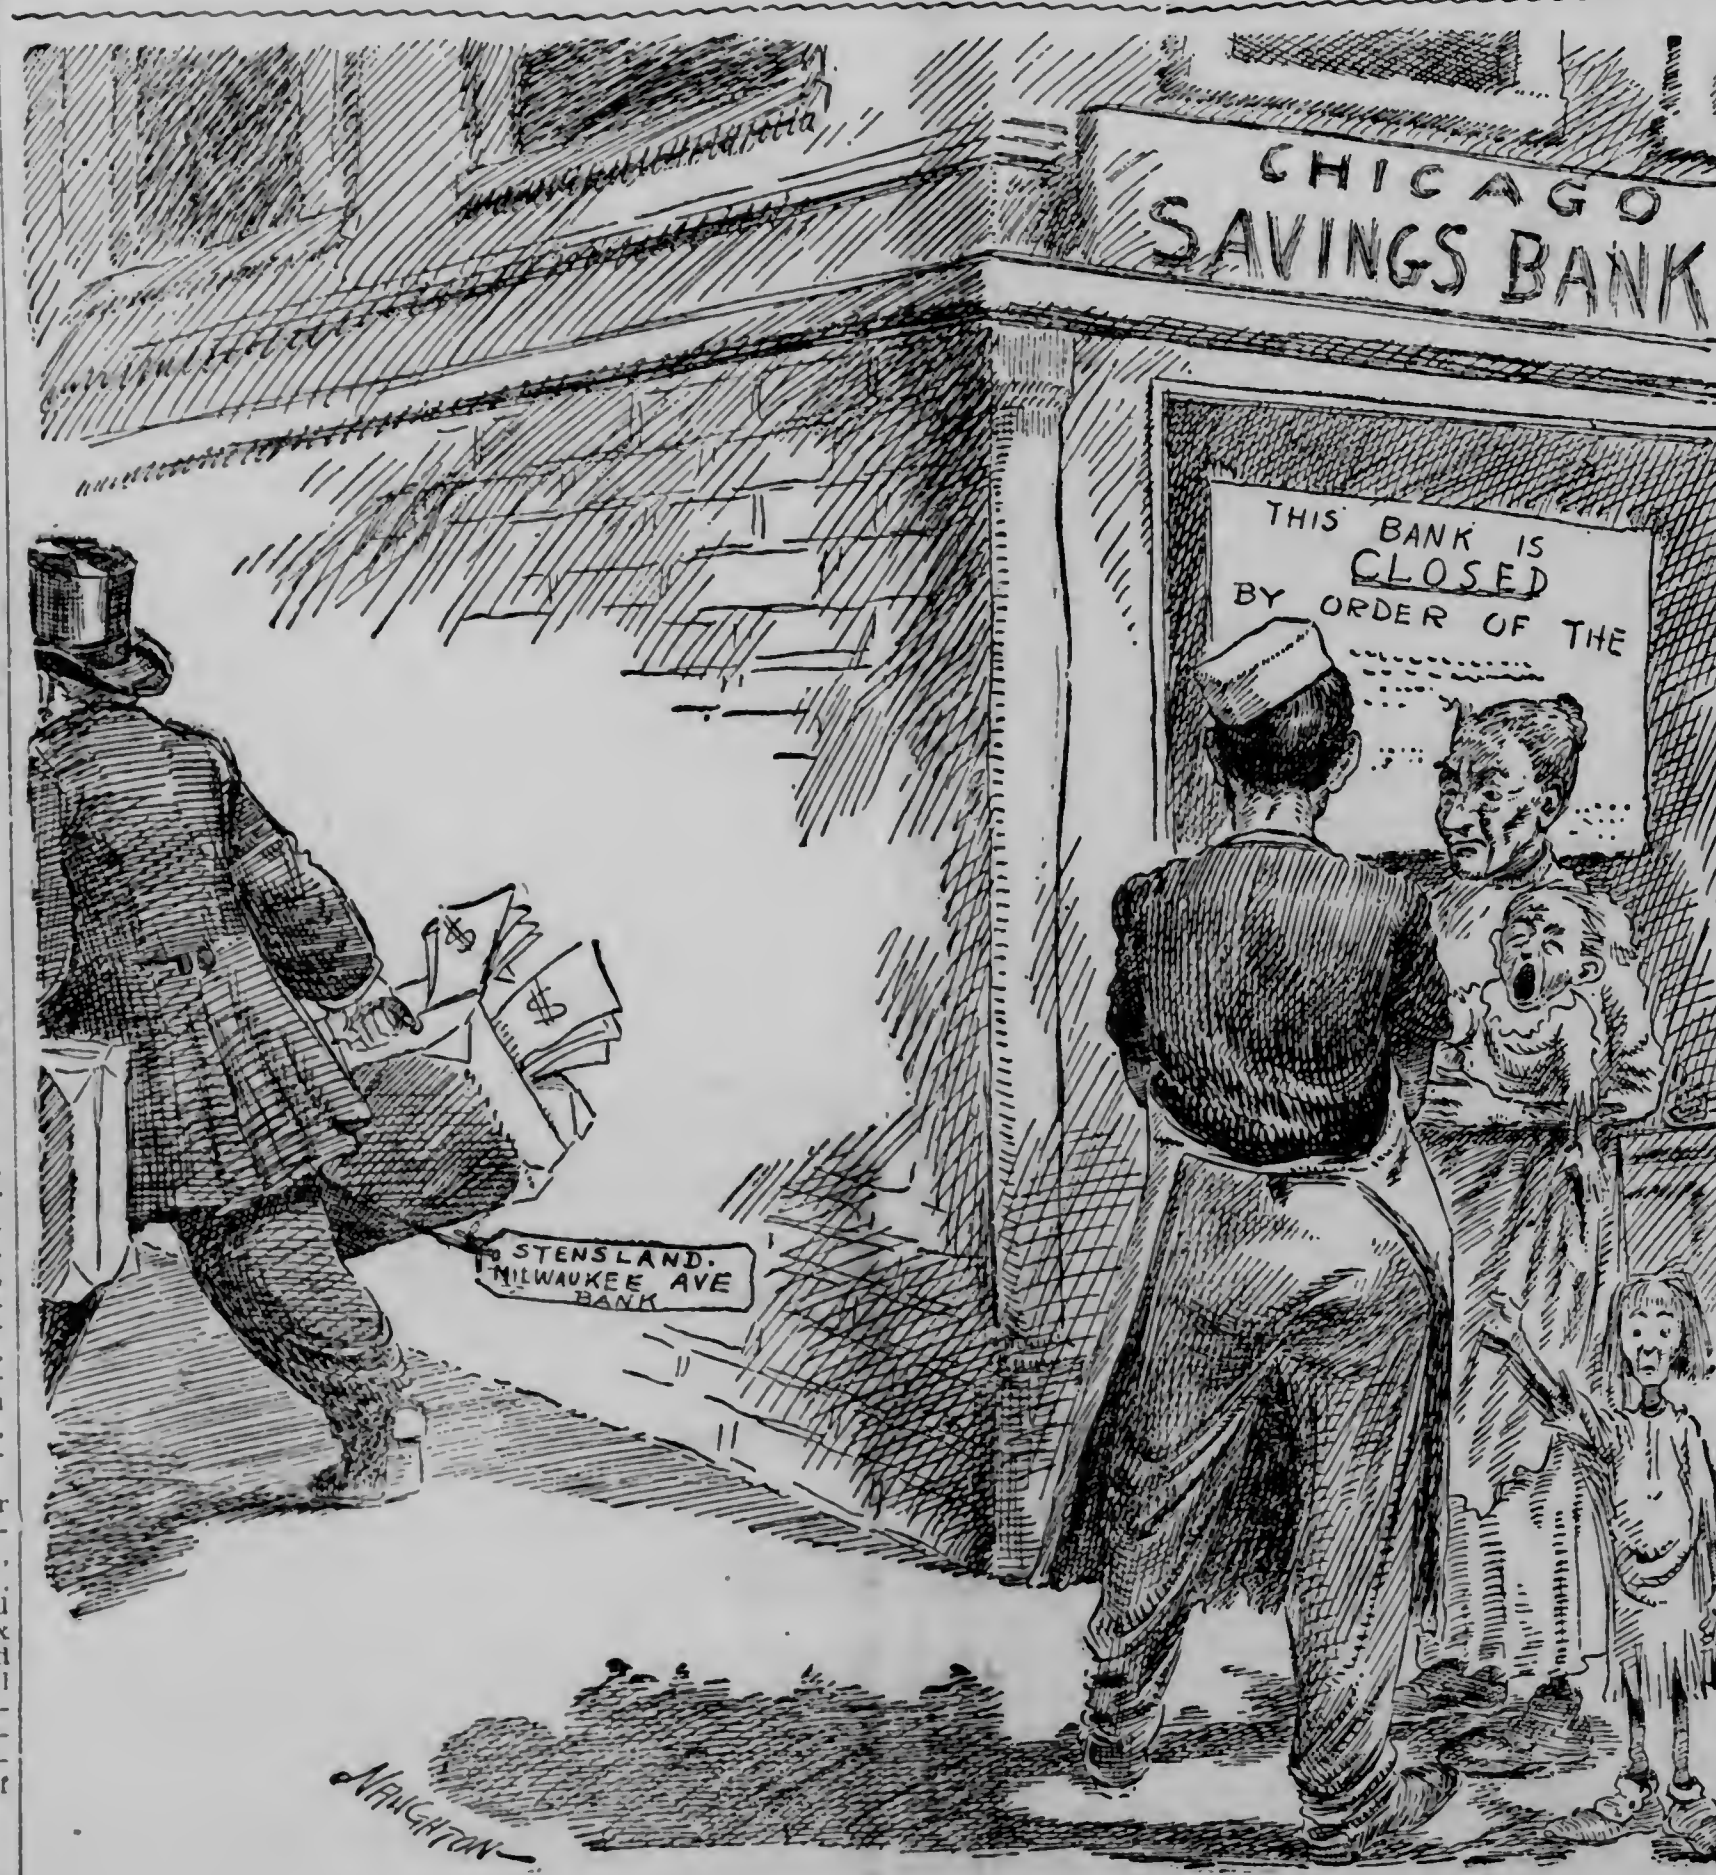

The harvesting of barley is now general throughout the county, and the wheat harvest will start quite generally the latter part of the week. Preparations are being made by the farmers to make the harvest one of the shortest in the history of the valley, and extra forces will be put on to accomplish this. The same will be true of the threshing, as the farmers are determined to save the present crop at all hazards.

WATCH TOWER SOCIETY.

Holding Convention in St. Paul—Has no Formal Creed.

St. Paul, Aug. 14.—(Special to The Herald).—The Watch Tower and Tract society is holding a convention in the national guard armory here. The opening meeting was held this forenoon, with about 500 Bible students in attendance. There are representatives from twenty-six states present from Canada and Scotland.

The Watch Tower people do not trouble themselves with a formal organization, or a formal creed, or any obligation to which they are called upon to subscribe. There is not even a prescribed course for Bible study. They believe that the world is now in the first or opening stage of the millennium. The first period of the millennium is called by them the "harvest" and contains wars, pestilence, famine and death. The series of meetings will close Sunday in the People's church.

SIXTY-FIVE AUTOS HERE

List of Licenses Issued by City Clerk Steadily Growing.

Three New Machines Will Arrive in the City Shortly.

There are just sixty-five automobiles in Duluth. Sixty-seven licenses have been issued by the city clerk, but since the issuance of the license one machine has been sold and the sixty-seventh, which is owned by W. F. Bailey, has not yet arrived but will be here within a few days. Two other machines have been ordered by local citizens and will be here shortly. They are both electrical machines and have been ordered by J. B. Cotton and W. W. Brown.

Of the machines already in the city, P. W. Heinicke owns No. 1 and 2 and is owned by the Duluth Electrical Construction company. That number was formerly owned by G. A. Wood. Whether it was to avoid the supposed hoodlum in connection with it or not, is not known. G. A. Wood traded with the Duluth Electrical Construction company and took the number 727, which was owned by W. F. Hurst, the West Duluth jeweler. Dr. D. W. Squire of West Duluth purchased J. F. Fry's machine, but probably never thought of the combination of numbers in it. It is No. 26, which is a combination of thirteen and twenty-three. No. 26 is the number of the generally accepted lucky number. The numbers of the various machines of the city follow:

No. 1, P. W. Heinicke; No. 2, A. C. Ribbeck; No. 3, E. Vincent; No. 4, A. M. Miller; No. 5, J. H. Miller; No. 6, J. B. Cotton; No. 7, W. F. Bailey; No. 8, W. W. Brown; No. 9, William B. Godfrey; No. 10, No. 11, is said to be out of town; No. 12, McTearney; No. 13, with plate No. 1699; Duluth Electrical Construction company; No. 14, Ward Ames; No. 15, D. G. Cutler; No. 16, E. A. Wood; No. 17, P. W. Heinicke; No. 18, J. B. Cotton; No. 19, Dr. C. W. Hoppmann; No. 20, J. P. McCarthy; No. 21, W. F. Bailey; No. 22, W. F. Hurst; No. 23, J. J. C. Bates; No. 24, H. S. Myers; No. 25, W. F. Farmer; No. 26, J. H. Baker; No. 27, C. A. Ribbeck; No. 28, Mary L. Fillion; No. 29, C. S. Nelson; No. 30, Dr. C. W. Hoppmann; No. 31, J. P. McCarthy; No. 32, H. S. Myers; No. 33, J. J. C. Bates; No. 34, E. A. Wood; No. 35, J. H. Miller; No. 36, J. B. Cotton; No. 37, W. F. Bailey; No. 38, W. W. Brown; No. 39, J. F. Fry; No. 40, J. B. Cotton; No. 41, J. B. BAYHA & CO.

The Rex Inner Tufted Mattresses.

Without exception the finest mattress on the market today—a test, by you, will prove it—and we guarantee every one sold to give perfect satisfaction or your money back.

The following FIVE CLAIMS of SUPERIORITY for the REX (inner-tufted) MATTRESS will be sustained:

1st. CLEANLINESS. Its smooth surface can be swept clean as easily as one can brush a tablecloth.

2nd. DURABILITY. Contains six times as many sustaining "tufts" as the old-fashioned mattress, and the two sheets of strong netting besides. Furthermore, the ticking or cover is not punched full of holes. It is practically indestructible.

3rd. COMFORT. Each and every square inch of its surface is equally soft and elastic—no hard spots, bumps or hollows.

4th. SANITARY. No creases, wrinkles or pits in which dirt can collect and vermin can find hiding places.

5th. ECONOMY. Costs the same as an old-fashioned mattress made from materials of equal value. An occasional sun bath, a whisk broom (and the laundry in case of accident), will keep the REX (inner-tufted) MATTRESS in prime condition for a lifetime.

JAILED FOR CONTEMPT

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hart Collide With Official Order.

Refuse to Appear in Replevin Sent in Municipal Court.

In police court this morning a husband and wife were sentenced to jail by Judge Cutting for contempt of court, but the sentences will be moderated. The people who suffered are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hart of West Duluth.

A suit in replevin was started against them by the local agent of the White Sewing Machine company, who claimed that they owed him eight months' payments on a machine which they got from him. They refused to disclose where the machine was, and in general, it was asserted, acted in a most contrary manner. A few days ago they were called to appear in municipal court and make disclosure of the place where the machine was kept. They ignored the court's order and did not appear.

Yesterday warrants were issued and served on them. They were found guilty of contempt of court and each given a sentence of 29 days and costs or thirty days in jail. They were taken to the city lock-up for the time. The women of the congregation will serve refreshments and an elaborate program of music has been prepared. Father Feely will leave for Grand Rapids tomorrow.

Farwell Reception.

The people of West Duluth are planning to give a farwell reception to Father Feely tonight at St. James hall and invitations have been sent to the congregation and to the public at large to be present. Father Feely and Father Lynch will deliver addresses and it is probable that several others of the clergy will speak. The women of the congregation are trying to make the occasion a happy one by serving refreshments and an elaborate program of music has been prepared. Father Feely will leave for Grand Rapids tomorrow.

To the Public.

It has been contemplated by evil-doers (whom we regret to name) and evil minds, and whose presence are a constant menace to the vicinity in which they live, and whose conduct is a disgrace to the city, that a God's blessing to the community at large, and for some unknown reason are trying to injure me by circulating reports that are absolutely false, and that I was the cause of Father Feely's removal from West Duluth.

It is a well known fact that for the last seven years I have been a constant friend of Father Feely's, and have done all in my power, both physically and financially, for the up-building of St. James' parish, which Father Feely must admit. And upon oath, to my knowledge, have never been in payment for the bank of the Holy Trinity, or in the last two years to Father Corbett, and that I am in no way instrumental in removing Father Feely.

WILL PLAY AT STAPLES.

West Duluth Ball Tossers Going After Fast Amateur Nine.

Manager Tom Foubister of the Universal Millers has scheduled a game for his players which will be a much more serious proposition than anything which they have run up against yet.

He received a letter from the Staples, Minn., city team asking if they could play a game there next Sunday and agreeing to furnish transportation. The boys will take the 8:00 a. m. train, arriving in Staples about noon, and will return in the evening.

Manager Foubister expects to strengthen his lineup before the game by several recruits from the Big Duluth aggregation and believes that they will be able to give the Staples ball chasers a good run. Staples has one of the strongest amateur teams in the state and large crowds come in every Sunday from the surrounding country to witness games there. Manager Foubister expects a good bunch of rooters to accompany the team.

The roads were knee deep in sand and the grade rather steep, so they were forced to walk about thirty miles of the distance. They started back next morning however about sunrise and got into West Duluth during the late afternoon. Between sunburn and dust their

HAPPENINGS IN

THE DAKOTAS

Receiver of Defunct

Minot National Bank

Accuses Three.

NORTH DAKOTA.

Minot—Receiver of the defunct Minot National bank has started suits in the United States circuit court against E. E. Page of Leeds, C. E. Studdard and Al Nuttmeier of Churches Ferry to recover $250 from each. The complaint charges that the defendants knowingly took these sums from the bank in payment for the stock sold to J. A. Erickson, former president. The defendants were directors and stockholders of the Minot National. It is charged that each of the defendants sold Erickson 20 shares of the bank stock, the value of which was $100 a share. The transaction is alleged to have occurred in October, 1904, at which time Erickson was acting as cashier of the bank, and the complaint further alleges that the defendants were aware of the fact that Erickson was not a shareholder of the bank, and that they allowed him to take the money from the funds of the bank, knowing at the time that he was robbing the depositors of the money he paid to them.

Jack Logue, who was found dead in a shack near Surrey and whom the authorities believed had died of consumption, committed suicide by shooting himself with a razor. This was not discovered until the body was prepared for burial. Respondents are expected to have the motive for the act.

McMahon—Driving along towards his hayfield, Matt McMahon noticed what he thought was a red hunting dog with its tail clipped. McMahon knew a dog fight, so he set his bull terrier, which accompanied him, on the stray dog. The animal turned upon the terrier and soon lay dead.

By this time McMahon discovered that the supposed hunting dog was a big lynx. He called to a couple of men at work in a nearby field and the three of them captured the animal. McMahon was in charge of the rig and frequently four or five men abreast drive the street from the trains with utter disregard for the rights of others.

Grand Forks—Word has reached here of the accidental death of J. H. Ryall, a former well known resident of Nelson county. Ryall was struck by a train at Ross, a short distance from Spokane, and died at a hospital in the latter city before regaining consciousness. He was a commissioner of Nelson county for many years before moving to Washington a few years ago.

Roscoe Fawcett, a son of Dr. J. W. Fawcett, who served during a campaign in the Philippines with a troop of regulars, has received notice of his appointment to West Point, and will report to Fort Snelling for a physical examination.

Jerome L. Bosard, a native of Osceola, Pa., died at his home in this city at the age of 27, following an illness of two years. He is survived by a wife, two daughters and a son. He was a brother of J. H. Bosard, a prominent attorney.

SOUTH DAKOTA.

Osceola—The authorities of Lyman county and detectives employed by the Bankers' Protective association are looking for a man who made a $2000.00 in Lyman county. Recently a draft for that amount was sent from Chicago to W. E. McFadden of Fresno, one of the new towns on the Chamberlain-Black Hills extension. By mistake the draft was delivered to another man, who is alleged to have gone to Kennebec where he had cashed it. After receiving the $200 the man disappeared. Inquiries for the draft were made by the Lyman county sheriff and upon proper affidavits being sent to the Chicago bank McFadden cashed a new draft for the amount due him. Now the Chicago bank is searching for the man who got the first draft cashed.

Sioux Falls—Somewhere in Minneapolis, enjoying a brief vacation, is Mrs. Edward Hollenberg, unaware of the fact that her husband was found dead in bed here yesterday morning. Mr. Hollenberg was a prominent member of the local Pressmen's union, and for some time has been pressman in the office of the Forum, a local newspaper. Heart disease is supposed to have caused his death, but to remove all doubt an inquest will be held.

Lead—While attempting to fill a gasoline stove that was lighted, Mrs. Raymond Strom of this city was burned and died at a late hour Sunday night. With her clothing in flames she rushed into the yard, throwing herself on the grass in an effort to subdue the fire. The flesh on her entire body was burned and charred and she died in fearful agony. She came from Moline, Iowa, and was twenty years of age. She leaves a husband and one son.

Evarts—Some of the papers of South Dakota are persistent in trying to establish that Evarts water, drunk in temperance, is responsible for the typhoid cases which have become numerous since that time. Dr. George has had four cases of typhoid in Evarts, three of which were treated by Dr. Edwards of Belle reports ten to fifteen cases, and says that except two or three not one of the persons was in Evarts this summer. Dr. Hill of Ipswich has about the same number

FIGHT TO THE FINISH IS REPUBLICAN PLAN.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—A Washington special to the Record-Herald says: Are the Republican leaders deliberately courting a fight to the finish with the politicians of organized labor? There are accounts circulating that such is the fact. Travelers drifting this way from or to New York and Oyster Bay have dropped hints of a scheme of deeper significance than appears on the surface of plans to defeat representatives in certain districts where union labor leaders have served notice of their intention to oppose that and the other together many analysts see an offensive policy on the part of the campaign managers that was outlined far in advance of the recent developments in the open.

Black is going to again be worn by others than the old fashioned kind of folks who have been wearing it. Black is not black. It will be the color or the lack of color that will be chosen and the beautiful softest possible brown until they are almost "burnt" (as Mr. Carnegie would have it) and then the peculiarly softest possible gray or other blacks that have just out of the shades of navy. Black sweaters made in the North Norfolk area are made of a soft, lively, and warm wool that cannot be slipped on under a cloth coat as in themselves sufficiently warm. They are made in a variety of patterns, and vary at any time. A black and white striped killed sweater is smart this season. A black and white striped sweater, perhaps collar and cuffs of red or pale blue are also much in favor. This season the color of the sweater must be full and large to be pretty. The striped sweaters have of course but a small amount of the color mixed in with the solid shade.

Extremely pretty are the white sweaters with deep yokes, belts and cuffs of pale blue, pink, lavender, gray, or black. These sweaters are most becoming to the wearer. This style of sweater is comparatively new and is not so common as the striped sweater. It is also seen in gray, with white collar and cuffs, and in all black for the winter. For a cool day there are little sweaters loosely knitted with a light weight yarn, which are fortunate without being too heavy. This sweater is trim enough to be worn over a blouse or dress. If the weather is the cloth suit even is a trifle light. Then there are the really heavy sweaters for autumn wear. These are made of a heavy, pretty made up with bright colored collar and cuffs.

Sweaters of angora wool are warm, but they are not so light in weight, and these are equally good to wear alone or under a heavy coat.

"Don't forget the Gregory dinner to-night," said Mrs. Ashton to her husband as he stepped into the runabout.

"No," he answered absently, inspecting the car.

"Oh, dear! Do get rid of him somehow," said the Gregories are so punctilious."

"Do my best. Good-bye."

"Good-bye," said Mrs. Ashton.

Mrs. Walton hurriedly attended to her household affairs, and went off to the office. When she returned, she returned, with just time enough to dress, she found a note pinned to the door.

"Mr. Walton telephoned out, ma'am, a hour ago, for ye to come out to the club at six o'clock," said the maid.

Mrs. Walton put down her curling iron, and, despite on every occasion, she cried, "he's forgotten all about the Gregories."

"Show me," said Mrs. Walton.

"Give me a card. Hello—is this the Country Club?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"Show me, and say, ma'am, with this message. Tell Mr. Walton that he's forgotten our dinner party, and that he must excuse himself to Mr. Ashton and follow him to the club at six o'clock. It's most important. All right—good-bye."

"Now, Maggie," she said to the maid, "hurry just as fast as ye can, and I'll be home in half an hour."

"There he is. He ought to be beaten." Then she stepped into the runabout and drove off.

An hour later a station hack dashed up to the door of the country club, and the head of the house, hot, flushed and irate, leaped out.

"Where is Mr. Walton?"

"He's in the dining room, ma'am."

"He called to the driver, as he sped upstairs."

"Maggie—Maggie," he bellowed, as he reached his room. In due time her head appeared at the door, and she was quickly withdrawn at sight of Mr. Walton.

Commissary department Finds it costly to follow War-law.

Washington, Aug. 14.—An opinion of the attorney general has been asked by the war department as to the application of section five of the sundry civil bill in the purchase and handling of supplies known as "sales stores" for commissary department of the army. This section requires a detailed report to be made within thirty days after the end of the fiscal year of all moneys received from any source whatever rising from the sale of public property.

The commissary department transacts a business amounting to nearly $3,000,000 a year and the commissary stores throughout the country. The money to carry on this business is borrowed from the regular annual appropriation and is returned to that fund from time to time. It would require a detailed report to be made of a great many clerks to keep an account of this business in such shape that a detailed report could be made of every transaction. The sale of a tooth brush would require the same detail as a transaction involving hundreds of thousands of dollars. It will be necessary either to exempt the commissary department from the application of section five or to largely increase the appropriation and clerical force, or to exempt completely the commissary department, has called the attention of the department of justice to purchase of supplies which it is believed would exempt that department

PROTEST BY VETERANS

Indignant Over the Abolition of Canteen at Soldiers' Homes.

Congress Likely to Investigate the Case of Maj. Rathbone.

FROM THE HERALD
WASHINGTON BUREAU.

Washington, Aug. 14.—(Special to The Herald).—The abolition of the canteen at national soldiers' homes by congress has created an outburst of indignation on the part of the old soldiers which in all probability will find expression in a scathing resolution at the national encampment of the G. A. R., at Minneapolis this week.

The commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, Corporal Tamm, is out in a very strong protest against the action of congress in removing the canteen from the several national soldiers' homes throughout the United States and from state homes where national aid is given. Letters are coming in from all over the United States in opposition to abolition of the canteen. Gen. George W. Cook, senior vice commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., of Colorado, who entered the army and did his part for the preservation of the Union, at the tender age of 17, is vehemently opposed to the action of congress in abolishing the canteen. In answer to an inquiry Gen. Cook expresses himself as follows: "With the sale of liquor regulated by the commandment of temperance or unmanly conduct, and drinking in moderation was the rule. Now the veteran who is inclined to the convivial is subject to no check or restraint. As soon as he receives his quarterly pension check he leaves the reservation and falls a victim to the dives and doggeries that always flourish in the vicinity of our homes. His time is beguiled through the blandishment of women and the strains of music until the old soldier's pockets are empty. Then he is thrown out to lie in the gutter, until cold, rheumatism or pneumonia sends him to the hospital ward to increase the expenses of the home. Corporal Tamm, our commander-in-chief, does not touch liquor and therefore cannot be accused of partiality for the liquor traffic. He stands unswervingly for the canteen.

"The habits of the old soldier are fixed. It is too late to attempt any reform in that direction. We are confronted by a condition that must be met and the soldier we recognize that fact the better for all concerned. If by abolishing the canteen we abolish the consumption of liquor then this movement would have some merit but there is not a single argument to recommend it. The check will be by whom Rathbone was tried, from time to time, during the progress of the trial, and so influenced and dominated these tribunals as to thwart the purpose of justice and do a great wrong to the petitioner. In many particulars the Rathbone case is analogous to the Dreyfus case. Maj. Rathbone, up to the time of his trial and conviction, was looked upon as one of the very ablest men in the post-office department. He had served with distinguished credit, and until the disclosures relating to Neely and Reeves were made public Rathbone was regarded as a most exemplary and high-toned officer, but he was found in bad company, so the allegations went, and with Neely and Reeves he suffered the penalty which is usually meted out to those who are convicted of crime. On Aug. 1, with the return of July complete, there were 35,767 rural free delivery routes in operation in the United States. A total of 5,532 petitions had been referred, 14,767 petitions had been adversely reported, and 3,997 petitions remained for final action.

Of the 356 congressional districts 349 have one or more routes in operation. The thirty-seven districts which have no rural routes are metropolitan districts, having no free delivery, and are as follows: the Fourth California, in San Francisco; the First, Second, Fourth, Fifth and Eleventh Illinois, in Chicago; the Tenth, and Eleventh Massachusetts, in Boston; the Second, New Jersey, in Newark and Hoboken; sixteen of the districts of the city of New York, including Manhattan and Bronx; and one in Buffalo; the Twenty-first Ohio in Cleveland; and six districts in Pennsylvania, including the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth, Nineteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-first, Twenty-second, Twenty-third, Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh, Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, Thirty-first, Thirty-second, Thirty-third, Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth, Thirty-sixth, Thirty-seventh, Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, and Fortieth.

The greatest number of rural routes is 250 in the Tenth Iowa district of fourteen counties, represented in congress by J. P. Connor, and the Twenty-first Ohio in Cleveland, and six districts in Pennsylvania, including the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth, Nineteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-first, Twenty-second, Twenty-third, Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh, Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, and Fortieth.

Of the petitions referred the average number of rural routes is 249 districts having rural routes is 27 per cent of the whole. The district in which the largest percentage of petitions is the First Alabama, represented by George H. Taylor, next is the Fifth North Carolina, represented by Edmund Spencer Blackburn, the percentage of his rejection is 58. The Fifth Virginia, which up to his election as governor of the state, had not been ranked by Claude Swanson, had out of 466 petitions referred, the great number referred to the one district—36 per cent rejected.

DOES NOT LIKE THE DOCTRINE

Paris Newspaper is Concerned for Latin American Republics.

Paris, Aug. 13.—The Temps today devotes a leading article to Secretary Root's speech in South America and the Monroe doctrine. It says: "Latin America feels the need of guarantees against the United States. The Monroe doctrine protects the republics against Europe, but it leaves them defenseless against the United States."

The Temps says that Brazil favors the United States, owing to its coffee and rubber exports, adding: "But it is to be hoped that the Brazilian statesmen will not sacrifice Pan Americanism to Monroism, except compatibly with what the Latin republics owe to Europe and owe to their destinies."

WILL NOT HURT WATER. Seattle, Aug. 13.—The fight against the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul entrance to Seattle by way of the Cedar river and through the city watershed collapsed yesterday when the King County Medical society officially announced that the decision of the Prof. C. A. Abbott of the University of Pennsylvania, Prof. Sedwick, sanitary engineer and Dr. Charles Barrington of Harvard, would be acquiesced. The three experts said the railway would not contaminate the city water supply, either during construction or operation. The fight against the road has been waged by the doctors, who claimed the water supply would be polluted. In railroad circles it is said that rival lines inspired the opposition to the St. Paul road.

ROMANCE BEGUN IN STATE PRISON

Ends in Marriage of John Watson Hildreth, Train Wrecker.

Rome, N. Y., Aug. 13.—A romance that was begun in this state prison at Dannemora, N. Y., had its culmination at a small village seven miles north of here when John Watson Hildreth, of New York city, son of Lawyer J. H. Hildreth, was married to Miss Agnes C. Tysing, daughter of William Tysing, of Syracuse, N. Y.

Young Hildreth with Theodore Hibbard, Herbert Plato and Fred Bristol as a result of much reading of "yellow literature," in November, 1895, decided they would emulate the example of notorious train robbers and hold up a train. They went down along the line of the New York Central & Hudson river railway one morning just before daybreak and planned to hold up the last western mail train from the west. In order to stop the train they removed a rail from the track and when the train came along, drawn by one of the latest locomotives in the service, No. 888, a

What has tomorrow in store for you?
That depends a good deal upon what you have in store for your stomach.

You can't build a good business on bad breakfasts. You can't reach the goal of success by following the crooked trail of hap-hazard eating.

Apitexo is success in the form of a crisp, delicious cereal that yields more nourishment than meat or eggs, and gives the stomach rest work.

It is a scientific combination, in right proportions, of all the essential food elements. And it contains vegetable iron which enriches the blood, stimulates the nerves and energizes the entire system.

Apitexo with milk or cream is good for everybody that wants to grow. Try it a month and you'll know it's so.

Apitexo Biscuits, like the package. Apitexo Grains, like the package. Sold by grocers everywhere.

FOOLS THE MOSQUITOES.

Billy, the Goat, Has New Game at League Island.

Philadelphia, Aug. 14.—That dread of the high seas, the fo'c'sle growl, that would sound like sweet music if tried out alongside the howl that is now going up from the berth decks of the warships marooned at League Island. Grizzled old officers, some of whom have proved that they are not afraid of a fort with a hundred cannon split-fire, are ready to retreat in the face of this mosquito pest.

And below decks the "men behind the gun" are ready to run up a white flag. The officers are greatly worried over the mosquito invasion, and fear a round the nettings, it is easily worse outside, where the enemy gathers in strength. "Billy," the Brooklyn mascot and a great goat of wonderful insight, has organized a new game. When he inside he sticks his nose up against the netting. The mosquitoes gather there in a thick cloud, and Billy runs along the netting, the clouds outside following the nose. In this way the Billy goat has a few thousand mosquitoes to a point opposite a hard surface. Billy then draws back, suddenly springs forward, butts a regiment of mosquitoes into pulp.

JILTED GIRL'S SORROW MAY WRECK HER MIND.

Iowa City, Iowa, Aug. 13.—A faithless lover's flight after an ardent wooing may mean insanity to Miss Emma Havlik, aged 26, the good-looking daughter of well-to-do parents, who live at Kimball, S. D.

Miss Havlik, the victim of pronounced melancholia, was examined by the commissioners of insanity, and consigned to the care of Sheriff Rowland to await further action. Physicians who examined her say that a change of scene and rest may save her.

The missing lover, who left Iowa City without telling her his intentions, is a student in the university of Iowa, but the girl, faithful even in her misfortune, refuses to reveal his identity.

INDICTED IN BOSTON.

Charges Against Ice Dealers and Companies Made Public.

Boston, Aug. 14.—Secret indictments against seventeen ice dealers and six ice companies, which were returned by the Suffolk county grand jury on Saturday last, were made public in the superior court yesterday. The ice dealers are charged with having unlawfully conspired "to regulate, advance and fix the price of ice for public sale," and the ice companies are charged as corporations with conspir-acoy. The dealers indicted include President Lewis G. White of the Massachusetts Ice Dealers' association and Secretary Charles W. Hallstrom of the association. The companies indicted are the Boston, Independent Union, Fresh Pond, Cambridge and Highland County Operative companies. The dealers, when arraigned, pleaded not guilty, and were held in bonds of $1,000 each.

TO INVESTIGATE DIVORCES.

Census Official Going Over Records in New York.

New York, Aug. 14.—With a large force of assistants, W. H. Jarvis, chief of division in the census bureau of the department of commerce and labor, yesterday began an inspection of the divorces granted in courts of Greater New York, with a view to gathering information relating to the causes which have led to a severing of marital ties. The statisticians will go through the records of the courts in each case, it is sought among other things to ascertain the number of divorces granted, the number of children affected by the decree, whether all money was asked and granted, the occupation of those concerned, whether temperance was the cause, and whether the suit was contested.

PASSPORTS NECESSARY.

Stricter Regulations Governing Foreigners Who Visit Spain.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Since the recent attack on the life of King Alfonso of Spain, strict measures have been instituted to establish the nationality of foreigners residing in that country, and the American consulate at Madrid is sending to visit Spain a letter to the state department, calling attention to the fact that Americans intending to visit Spain should provide themselves with passports. Mr. Summers received a communication from the civil governor of Madrid a short time ago asking that all Americans residing in the city present themselves at the consulate and obtain certificates as to their nationality. In some instances the Americans had passports, but many had no documents to prove their nationality and it was with much difficulty that the status of such persons was established. Formerly it was held that all foreigners should have passports but this was theoretical and the regulation was not generally applied to persons residing in one place for a period of less than a week. Now, however, the regulation will be strictly adhered to, according to Mr. Summers, and travelers must be prepared to meet it.

DISCUSSES MANY SUBJECTS.

President Roosevelt Has Busy Day With Guests.

Oyster Bay, Aug. 14.—Yesterday was visitors' day at Sagamore Hill. President Roosevelt's luncheon guests numbered five and the topics of discussion ranged from the prospects of republican success in the congressional campaign to the digging of the Panama canal.

Representative James S. Sherman, of New York, chairman of the republican congressional committee, brought the material for the political discussion. He had the proofs of the party's new campaign textbook for the president's revision and approval, besides several of the arguments which Speaker Cannon is to make in his convention speech Thursday at Danville, Ill.

Chairman T. Shonts, of the isthmian canal commission, who landed from Panama Saturday, informed the president of affairs at present on the isthmus. Secretary Joseph B. Bishop of the commission came with Mr. Shonts and remained a house guest of the president. Henry W. Taft, of New York, a brother of the secretary of war, was also a guest, as was Robert Bridges, the author. Representative Longworth, who is a member of the campaign committee, took part in the political discussion and will visit the Republican headquarters in New York tomorrow.

We Will Cure You

We want all afflicted people to feel that they can come to our office freely for examination and explanation of their condition without being bound by any obligation to take treatment unless they so desire. We will make a thorough and scientific EXAMINATION of your ailments FREE OF CHARGE—an examination that will disclose your true physical condition, without a knowledge of which you are groping in the dark. If you have taken treatment elsewhere without success, we will show you why it failed. THE GOPHER HOME AGAIN

Naval Reserves Made a Fine Record at Manitou Island.

Attracted More Attention Than Any Other Boat in the Fleet.

Duluth's naval reserves are home. The training ship Gopher, formerly the Fern, steamed into the harbor at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon with a full fighting and working crew. No lives were lost in the maneuvers participated in by the Gopher at South Manitou Island, but the boat and reserves on board covered themselves with glory in drills with the five other boats of the fleet.

Capt. Guy A. Patton, in command of the vessel, expressed himself as being very well pleased with the showing made by Duluth. The other boats taking part were the tugship Voltaire, Capt. Morrell, who was in direct charge of the entire maneuvers; Donkey, Capt. Standish; Essex, of Toledo, Capt. Nieland; and Hawk of Cleveland, Capt. Seaton.

The Gopher was given two competitions from the tugship, one for position in line and the other for the man overboard drill. It is understood that the Duluth vessel was the only one to be thus complimented and more proud of this distinction.

In the man overboard drill five boats were in position abreast of each other, all at full speed ahead. The signal "man overboard" was given from the tugship and immediately upon the signal and twenty seconds the life buoy, dropped overboard the moment the signal was given, had been picked up by the Gopher, returned to the tugship, and the lifeboat back on the davits.

The Gopher's crew also made record time in "abandoning ship," doing this in the same time it took her to pick up the buoy. The period of three minutes and twenty seconds. Six regular army officers witnessed the maneuvers, and they were free in their compliments concerning the manner in which the Gopher was handled, and the expertness of her crew. This was the first maneuver of the kind ever held by the United States militia squadron.

The work of unloading the militia was begun immediately upon the arrival of the Gopher in harbor. Two of the boats were towed by a launch to land from shore until the men were on land. They seemed to be glad to be home again, but all reported a fine time.

CASES SETTLED OUT OF COURT

Pasquella Picciano Reaches an Agreement With Railway Company.

Stipulations for full settlement of the damage cases brought by Pasquella Picciano against the Duluth, Missabe & Northern Railway Company were filed with the clerk of the district court this morning, together with the railway company's answer to the complaints filed by Picciano in both actions. The stipulations for settlement and dismissal were signed by Picciano for himself and his minor son, and by Vice President W. A. McGonigle for the Duluth, Missabe & Northern company.

According to the complaint of Pasquella's young son, with some playmates, entered a wrecked car on a shore track at Eveleth and began playing with some signal torpedoes, one of which exploded and the fire, besides receiving other injuries. His father claimed the company was negligent in leaving the car open in a place, a playground and the torpedoes exposed. The company answered by claiming the car was on their property, was properly shut up, and that the boy trespassed and unlawfully entered it and took the torpedoes. Contributory negligence was claimed.

Picciano started suit for damages on account of his son's injuries and the other for the loss of services of the boy.

OLD RESIDENT DIES.

Mrs. Marietta Anderson Succumbs to Bronchitis After Year's Illness.

Mrs. Marietta Anderson of 2511 West Second street, one of the best known residents of the city, died this morning at her home of bronchitis, from which she has been a sufferer for some time. She took sick about one year ago of pneumonia, and since that time has been bedridden. Last Friday her condition grew worse, and this morning the bronchitis caused her death.

Mrs. Anderson has lived in the city for from fifteen to twenty years, coming here from Norway with her family. She was 76 years of age, and is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Thomas Sumner and Mrs. Marie Anderson of Duluth, and also by a granddaughter, Mrs. Frank Hughes of East Third street, and a son-in-law, Fred Fredericksen, with whom she lived.

Mrs. Anderson was well known throughout the city, but particularly in the West end, where she has lived over since coming to Duluth. The announcement of her death will be received with deep regret.

OFFICERS ARE CHOSEN

A. B. Hovland is President of Globe Consolidated Company.

Certificates Are Being Mailed and Books Opened for Transfer.

The directors of the Globe Consolidated Copper company held a meeting in its offices in the Lonsdale building yesterday afternoon and perfected the organization of the company.

The certificates are being mailed today, and the books are now open for the transfer of the stock. The par value is $10 per share, five of which is to be paid in, and the remaining five subject to call.

The officers of the corporation elected are: President, H. B. Hovland; vice president, R. B. Whiteside; secretary, J. Uno Schenck; assistant secretary, J. Uno Schenck; treasurer, T. T. Hudson. The directors are Louis Rouchelleau, R. B. Whiteside, J. Uno Schenck, Hovland, Smith and H. B. Hovland. The general offices of the company will be located here.

"I shall leave in a short time for Globe, and mining will be commenced at once," said Mr. Hovland this morning. Three tunnels are being driven now, but this is light work and merely preliminary to the shaft work. It is planned to locate one on the Gem claim, where there is a liberal outcrop of ore on a very strong fault. It is expected that this shaft will open up much good ore in the next few months.

The general plan of the work is that of sinking shafts, exploring many strong veins to depths of 900 or 1,000 feet. For the present, at least, I shall spend much of my time at Globe, but in the near future, a capable manager will be selected to look closely after the details of the work."

The copper stock market had a good tone today, although North Butte was weak and some of the unlisted shares were off. The weakness in North Butte was due to the dividend declared yesterday, a larger one being expected.

North Butte opened at $30, advanced to $30.75, fell off to $30.25 and closed at $30.25 bid and $30.50 asked. Anaconda opened at $25, sold as low as $25.50, rallied to $25.75 and closed at $25.75 bid. Butte Consolidated opened at $31.50, sold as low as $30.50, rallied to $31 and closed at $31 and $31.50 asked. Calumet and Arizona opened at $109.50, advanced to $110, fell to $109.50 and closed at $109.50 bid and $110 asked.

The unlisted shares were active: Superior & Pittsburg sold at $17.50 and $17.25 and closed at $17 bid and $17.25 asked. Denn-Arizona at $20.875 and $20.875 and closed at $20.875 bid and $20.875 asked. Keweenaw at $11 and closed at $11 bid and $11.50 asked. Cananea Central at $11.50 and closed at $11.50 bid and $11.50 asked. Warren at $12 and closed at $12 bid and $12.125 asked. Globe Consolidated at $4 and closed at $4 bid and $4.25 asked; and Ophir Tunnel at $23 cents, closing at 20 cents bid and 23 cents asked.

Hancock Consolidated was inactive and closed at $8 bid and $9 asked; Copper Queen of Idaho at $4 bid and $5 asked. Black Mountain sold at $5 and closed at $5.50 bid and $6 asked.

Federal Court Acts in Interest of Stensland's Store.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Judge Beetha in the United States district court today issued a temporary restraining order prohibiting all interested parties from interfering in any way with the assets of the Milwaukee Avenue Co-operative store, the majority of stock of which is owned by President Stensland of the Milwaukee Avenue Co-operative store.

Stensland, who is a resident of the city, is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin. He made a walking campaign for office two years ago.

Stoner was arrested by employees of the store, who were dragging to the police station. He was found to have a large quantity of beef alleged to be poisoned with cyanide of potassium. Several small children were playing in a yard where some of the meat was found.

TO COMPLETE IT QUICKLY. Toledo O., Aug. 14.—Judge C. Clements, member of the Interstate commerce commission, today began an inquiry on behalf of the government into the relations between the railroads entering Toledo and the ice companies shipping over these lines. Forty witnesses have been summoned and Mr. Clements believes the investigation can be completed in two days.

SECRETARY ROOT MAKES MOST IMPORTANT SPEECH OF HIS TOUR IN ARGENTINA

Official Banquet is Tendered Him by President Alcantara.

Secretary Gives Assurance of Strong American-Friendship.

United States Rejoices in Prosperity of South America.

Buenos Ayres, Aug. 15.—At the official banquet given at the government house, last evening, by President Alcantara, in honor of Secretary Root, to which the diplomatic corps and high officers of state only were invited, the secretary made what was considered the most important speech he has delivered while on his tour. The scene was most brilliant, the staircase and banquet hall presenting a picture of great splendor.

Addressing to tender the secretary an official welcome, and proposing the health of Mr. Root, the president traced the similarity in the constitution, progress and success in overcoming obstacles of North and South America, and dwelt especially on the mutual advantages of closer friendship between the two nations.

Mr. Root, in replying, said: "I thank you, sir, for your kind welcome. I thank you for yourself. I thank you for that true and noble gentleman who holds in the United States of America the same exalted office which you hold here. I thank you for the millions of citizens in the United States.

"We inherit the right to be interested in the Argentine republic, and to be proud of the Argentine people. From the time when Benjamin Rush was fighting, from the day when James Monroe threw down the gauntlet of a weak republic, we were then in defense of its independence and rights, and from that day to this the interest and friendship of the people of the United States for the Argentine republic have never waned. We rejoice in your prosperity. We feel that you are justifying our faith in free government and the principles of the United States, which demands the possession, the enjoyment and the con-

TO STOP USE OF RED CROSS

Organization Endeavoring to Present Indiscriminate Use of Insignia.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Antiseptic barber shops, medicine manufacturers throughout the United States will be compelled to cease using the Red Cross as a trade mark, if the convention agreed upon at the recent international Red Cross conference in Geneva is lived up to in every detail by the United States. This convention provides that each of the signatory countries shall do all in its power to bring about legislation preventing the use of the Red Cross insignia for any sort of commercial purposes. It was suggested at the convention that the use of the Red Cross insignia by corporations should not be permitted to use it for the purpose of trade or as an advertisement of any article. Consequently officers of the American National Red Cross say that the use of their insignia by persons or corporations which were not authorized to use it in 1905 is in direct violation of the law. The punishment for the offense, the act provides, is a fine of not less than $1 or more than $500, or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both fine and imprisonment. All fines so collected are to be paid to the American National Red Cross.

PERSIANS WANT MORE.

Progressive Party Claims Shah Does Not Go Far Enough.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 15.—According to private advices received here yesterday from Teheran, the complete demands of the Progressives far surpass the scope of the reforms proposed by the government. These demands involve the radical abolition of all the power of the shah, leaving him only a figurehead, and even proposes the abolition of the "divan" on which his authority is based, and provide that the national assembly shall have complete control in all cases. The Progressives in all cases demand that the ministers shall be bound to put its decisions into immediate effect and that the ministers and officials shall be responsible to the assembly which can demand their dismissal. The conditions also include complete amnesty, freedom of the press, "in order that the shah may learn nothing but the truth," and the enactment of a new code and the right of habeas corpus.

HON. ELIHU ROOT,
Secretary of State.

REACHES GERMANY

King and Emperor Kiss Each Other on Both Cheeks.

German Press Think Visit Will Have Beneficial Effect.

Cronburg, Hess-Nassau, Prussia, Aug. 15.—King Edward arrived here on a special train from Frankfurt at 8:45 a. m. today. Emperor Frederick Charles of Hess-Nassau met him at the railroad station. The emperor assisted the king in alighting and then they kissed each other on both cheeks. The meeting was very cordial. The king wore a black Prince Albert coat and a silk hat. The emperor had on a uniform of the Posenjaeger regiment, with a steel helmet.

After introductions had been exchanged the royal party and their following proceeded to Friedrichshof in automobiles. The emperor, King Edward and Prince and Princess Frederick Charles occupying the first machine. The streets were profusely decorated with evergreens, flags and streamers.

After reaching Friedrichshof the royal party breakfasted and then the emperor and king spent some time together. About 11 o'clock they, with Prince and Princess Frederick Charles, went sight-seeing and after lunch the king's visit was made to Homberg and the Roman camp at Sauburg. The king's visit was a very busy one. It is understood that his appearance in civilian clothes has created the greatest interest among those surrounding their majesties that they wish to avoid prolonged political discussions.

Berlin, Aug. 15.—The press of all sections treats King Edward's visit to Emperor William from the standpoint of being a sign of improving relations between him and the emperor and the belief and hope are generally expressed that the visit will have a beneficial effect on the peoples of both countries, besides putting their political relations on a better footing. The papers, however, avoid all extravagant hopes in the political sphere. They are generally positive in their views of the foreign office, except the rulers fully to discuss all political questions concerning Germany and Great Britain, besides the principal position of European politics. A tone of sincere admiration for the king pervades all the leading articles.

LONDON KEEPS QUIET.

Will Say Nothing as to King's Visit to Germany.

London, Aug. 15.—The strictest silence is maintained in official circles as to the subjects to be discussed by King Edward and Emperor William at their meeting at Friedrichshof. Up to the last moment it was not admitted at the foreign office that Sir Charles Hardinge would accompany the king. He had been away on a holiday and brought it up to join the royal party on the continent. His presence adds significance to the meeting, as the permanent under secretary of the foreign office, he is really the man who carries on the foreign affairs of the country, and the fact that he is attending the discussion leads to the belief that the king will be of the widest range, taking in all the questions outstanding between the two countries and those likely to come up in the future. Generally speaking, the press is more directly interested in Persia than any other country, and it is believed here that the king will be to secure a port on the Persian gulf as a terminus for the Bagdad railroad.

LEE MANTLE WANTS IT.

Battle, Mont., Aug. 15.—Former United States Senator Lee Mantle, of Battle, yesterday formally announced his candidacy for United States senator.

AGAINST HIGGINS

Former Governor Odell Opposes Renomination of Governor.

Would be Candidate of Faction, Not of Whole Party.

New York, Aug. 15.—The Tribune today says: Ex-Governor Odell at the Fifth Avenue hotel last night, after conferring with various members of the state committee, friends of Governor Higgins among the rest, came out squarely against the renomination of Governor Higgins. He said that he regarded Governor Higgins as a weak candidate, that he would if nominated be the candidate of a faction, and that his own experience four years ago in running a second time convinced him that the old fashioned Republican precedent of refusing a governor a second term in this state was a wise one.

Mr. Odell took pains to say that he had no personal feeling against the governor, but was giving expression to his best judgment of the political situation from the Republican point of view. When Mr. Odell saw the newspaper men he was asked: "Are you in favor of the renomination of Governor Higgins?" "I am not," he replied. "I don't think the Republican party can afford to waste any votes this year. If Governor Higgins is renominated he will be the candidate of a faction. What we need is a candidate for the whole party."

Ex-Senator Sharon's Daughter Will Not Help Rebuild Palace Hotel.

San Francisco, Aug. 15.—Lady Florence Hesket, daughter of the late United States Senator William Sharon, of Nevada, has given notice through her London solicitor that she will not help in the rebuilding of the Palace Hotel. She arrived at this decision after a thorough discussion of the subject with Sir Thomas Hesketh, who advised his wife to devote her funds to some other purpose. This information has been conveyed to the other Sharon heirs, who, however, announce that the Palace hotel will be rebuilt. Architects are already studying plans for the new Palace.

LASHED BY SOLDIERS

Women Brutally Treated for Stinging Remark Made on Street.

Authorities Confiscate Newspaper That Dares Denounce Outrage.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 15.—Intense popular indignation has been created here by the brutal treatment of Miss Smirnov, a refined young lady, at the hands of the crack cavalry guards. While a squadron of these guardsmen was passing along the Nevski Prospect yesterday, Miss Smirnov, who was accompanied by another young lady, remarked: "They are as gay as if they had captured Port Arthur."

Pedestrians hearing the remark, repeated it, and quite a crowd collected and joined in the jeering. The commander of the cavalrymen suddenly wheeled his squadron and gave the command to charge with drawn whips. The troopers then charged the crowd, laying about them right and left. Miss Smirnov and her companion, who in the meantime had passed on down a side street, were pursued. They tried to escape into a doorway but were caught.

Under the direction of an officer, they were forced to enter a cab and were driven to turn Miss Smirnov over to the police, but other officers interfered and the girl finally was taken to the court-yard, where troopers, in the presence of the officers, administered to her twenty-seven lashes with their whips. The girl's clothing was cut as if by knives by the wire thongs of the whips, and her flesh was horribly lacerated.

The papers are demanding the trial both of the officers and men who participated in the affair. Reports of both police and private surgeons are printed, describing in detail the extent of the wounds inflicted. The girl's back is so swollen that it is impossible as yet to ascertain whether any of her ribs are broken.

No action on the part of the military authorities has yet been announced. The Twentieth Century, which printed another story of the case today, has been confiscated.

Brazil's Tariff Reduction on American Flour Produces Consternation.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Brazil's announcement of the reduction of tariff on American flour has produced consternation in Argentina. Dispatches from Buenos Ayres announce that Argentina is preparing to make a 20 per cent reduction on Brazilian products admitted in Argentina, in the hope of getting a tariff rate from Brazil on flour, which will prevent American millers from monopolizing the Brazilian flour markets.

Wheat and other grains used as breadstuffs are cultivated very extensively in Argentina, and the milling interests of that republic have become extensive, much of the flour produced in that country going to Rio Janeiro and other Brazilian ports.

Veterans in Line For Fortieth Time Since Their Work Was Finished.

Parade of Pathos as Well as a March of Pride—Many Faltering Steps.

Weather is Ideal, Showers Bringing Relief From Oppressive Heat.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—For the fortieth time since its work was finished and its glory won, the Grand Army of the Republic was in line today. There have been many parades more gorgeous, many spectacles more dazzling and bewildering, but never has there been in this country one more appealing and impressive than that which passed through the streets of Minneapolis during the greater part of this morning.

The Grand Army of the Republic has often marched before. It will march again next year, and again the year after that. It will march until its members can march no more, and then it will commence its greatest march of all—through time into eternity and its ordained reward.

Some small token of what this generation owes to the old soldiers who filled the ranks today. They were made to realize for the time, at least, of heroes were gone, and the days of the heroes were come again. At times their ears were greeted with cheers that drowned the roar and crash of their many bands—times they passed through living lanes, where every tongue was still, every eye was directed every hand was raised in reverence for what they had suffered and wrought for the welfare of their fellowmen.

The parade was a notable affair as such things go, well handled, quick moving and inspiring to look upon. It was a day of pride for the old soldiers in themselves and for the multitude in the streets. Over the heads of the veterans as they marched along, countless flags snapped in the breeze, and their lines passed by miles of buildings gorgeously decorated in their honor. The plaudits of the crowd were in their ears, the con-

Commission Summoned Delirious Man Kills To Philippines by Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood. Another and Himself and Cuts Wife.

San Francisco, Aug. 15.—The call today says: Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood of the United States army has named a commission to the Philippines to investigate the conduct of certain army officers on duty in the Philippines. He is keeping secret the object of his investigation and even members of the commission declare they do not know what they are to do. They will receive their instructions when they land at Manila.

The following officers make up the commission: Capt. Ira W. Fredendall, quartermaster's department; Capt. Fred W. Cole, quartermaster's department; Maj. Amos L. Kimball, quartermaster's department; Clerk Edward Pierson and D. N. McChesney, the recently appointed inspector of supplies at Jeffersonville, Ind.

Capt. Fredendall and McChesney leave on the Logan, sailing today and the remainder of the party will follow in investigation leave on the next transport.

SEVERAL CITIES WANT THE NEXT

Contest for 1907 Meeting Place of Typographical Union.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Aug. 15.—Reports of committees and the nomination of cities in the race for the next national convention were the matters of business before the International Typographical Union today. The principal interest in the committee reports centers in that of the eight-hour committee, which urges the continuation of the fight for the eight hour day now being waged throughout the country in cities where a longer day is in force. The selection of the next meeting place will be tomorrow, the cities in the race being Vicksburg, Miss.; Hot Springs, Ark.; Springfield, Va.; and Baltimore, Md.

PAPER MILLS BURN. Ypsilanti, Mich., Aug. 15.—The Superior mills of the Ypsilanti Paper company, located short distance outside of the city limits, were destroyed by fire early today. The loss is about $100,000, fairly well insured. The mill employed eighty hands and had been working day and night. It manufactured sulphide fibre paper.

FAMOUS REPORTER DEAD.

Francis H. Smith of Most Interesting Career Dies in Connecticut.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Francis H. Smith, one of the first official reporters of congressional debates, died yesterday at Washington, Conn., where he was born, March 11, 1829. For many years he had been a prominent banker there. Daniel Webster was one of the first men Mr. Smith reported in congress, and Mr. Smith reported for the Associated Press the court-martial of the Lincoln conspirators and the subsequent trial of John H. Suratt. Another famous trial he covered was that of Gen. Daniel Sickles for the killing of District Attorney Key.

CALUMET & HECLA DIVIDEND. Boston, Aug. 15.—At the annual meeting of the Calumet & Hecla Mining company held here today the following directors were re-elected: Alexander Agassiz, of Newbury, N. BEE STINGS ARE LIKELY TO KILL LITTLE GIRL.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Aug. 15.—Bees almost killed the 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Larson, living near this city.

The child was playing about the hives, when she stumbled and fell, knocking one of them to the ground. As a result she was attacked from all sides by the bees, and when assistance finally arrived, she was unconscious, her head and face being almost covered with angry bees.

The father and mother were also badly stung in rescuing their child. It is not believed she can recover.

WEST DULUTH DROWNED IN THE RIVER

Visitor in West Duluth Loses Life at Devil's Elbow.

May Have Been Drawn
Under by Suction of Steamer.

Ray Sarr, a Pittsburg young man about 20 years of age who has been visiting with Superintendent Harris and family of the blast furnace, was drowned last evening.

At about 5 o'clock, while bathing in the St. Louis river just above Devil's Elbow. The Harris family and Mr. Sarr had been camping at Schuler's old camp and it was within a few feet of the dock at that place that he was seized with a cramp and he did not rise to the surface after going under. The steamer Newsboy had just gone down the river on her return trip from Fond du Lac and as the course of the stream is very narrow there, some hold to the theory that it was the suction from the boat which drew him under. Some of the ladies of the party were the only ones near when young Sarr went down and they did everything possible to save him but without avail. They threw out a number of poles to him, and also pushed the gasoline launch which was tied at the dock out to him, but he seemed unable to grasp them, which would seem to bear out the cramp theory.

Undertaker Filatrault worked all last evening trying to locate the body but without success. This morning about 8:30 it was secured by means of a grappling hook and pole and is at present in Filatrault's undertaking rooms.

FATHER FEELY LEAVES.

Nearly 1,000 West Duluth People Attend the Farewell Reception.

Attended by a large delegation of West Duluthians who went to the station to bid him farewell, Rev. Father Feely left this morning for his new pastorate in Grand Rapids.

Last evening nearly 1,000 of the people of West Duluth attended the farewell reception tendered to the departing pastor by his parishioners. Rev. Father Feely, the new pastor, and Father Feely were the chief speakers of the evening. John Cashin introduced Father Feely who expressed himself as desirous of pleasing the congregation and making a success of the work in his new field, and also spoke in the highest terms of Father Feely's work here for the past seven years.

Father Feely then told how deep was his sorrow at leaving the work of the people here to whom he had become very much attached during his pastorate, and expressed the hope that he would make as much of a success of his work in Grand Rapids as he felt justified in thinking that he did here. He thanked the congregation for their hearty co-operation with him during the seven years of his work among them and for the cordiality of the reception extended to him, and expressed his confidence that Father Feely would make a success of the work in West Duluth.

The Twentieth Century Progress club presented the departing pastor with a check, and L. J. Brotherton presented him with a purse from the co-gregation at large.

AUTOISTS IN TROUBLE.

Luck Deserts West Duluth Party After Leaving Independence.

The troubles of the auto party from West Duluth which is touring the ranges, are many. Everything went finely until they got to Independence, and a postal received from there yesterday morning told of line roads and lack of money. At Independence, however, their luck left them. The roads became almost impassable a little way out and a broken steering gear was the result. They managed to get back to Independence however, where they found that the rim of one of the wheels had been broken by getting into a rut of the road. A card received yesterday closed by saying that Henry Gifford had been bitten by some kind of insect and his eyes were swollen nearly shut, so that Jacoby is doing the "chauffeur" for the crowd. They will not attempt to complete the tour unless the director of the route improves wonderfully within a few miles of Independence.

May Build Club House.

At the meeting of the Royal League held last night in the Commercial club rooms, the erection of a club house was considered and although no definite action was taken, nearly every member seems to be in favor of the project and the erection of the building in the near future seems assured. The club is figuring on about a $3,000 structure.

Hoodoo Auto Sold.

West Duluth has lost a hoodoo automobile, No. 1, which formerly was owned by W. F. Hurst in this end of the city and had been sold to C. O. Johnson in the West end.

The mystic number of questionable origin which has adorned the back of Mr. Hurst's runabout has been the subject of a good deal of joking among the would-be humorists of West Duluth and Mr. Hurst is much relieved at his escape from the rain of "skiddos," "23 for yours," etc., which has been every appearance of the hoodooed machine. The number never had any noticeable effect on the auto and it is now said to be a portent of good rather than of evil for Mr. Hurst has had very few mishaps since he has owned it. He has with the car a wish to get another of greater carrying capacity and perhaps, to escape from the number.

West Duluth Bells.

Harry Lamons returned yesterday from a trip through the West. He traveled pretty thoroughly through the western territories, and picked up some interesting curios. One of these is a horned toad, which he secured in the desert in Nevada, and brought all the way home without giving it food or water. It was all right on arrival and seemed giving the owner a lively chase around the office. At present it is on exhibition in Lincoln Park.

Sure Bug Death, 25c bottle, Nygren's. Miss Ada Holberg and Daisy Mitchell left yesterday for a visit in Ashland.

A party of West Duluth young men, including Simon Van Dyke, Sam, J. L. Fredrickson, Bennett and William Simmers, left for Fond du Lac yesterday on a week's camping trip.

RAILROADS

SOUTH SHORE EXCURSION.

Cheap Rates From Northern Michigan into Duluth are Offered.

The Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic road has announced its annual cheap excursion rates into Duluth from the Michigan iron and copper country. Less than one fare for the round trip will be the rate on Aug. 21, Sept. 2 and Sept. 3. Provided tickets are deposited at the Union depot or city ticket office immediately upon arrival, they will be extended ten days on payment of 50 cents.

It is believed that several hundred people will come to the Head of the Lakes on the cheap rates. They will be escorted from Marquette, Negaunee, Ishpeming, Houghton, Calumet and all other Northern Michigan iron and copper country points.

W. H. HOLLENBECK DEAD.

Northern Pacific's Agent at Fond du Lac Many Years.

W. H. Hollenbeck, agent at Fond du Lac for the Northern Pacific, died yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock of gas gangrene.

He was 61 years of age. Mr. Hollenbeck had been agent at the river town almost continuously for the past thirty-four years. He was a well-known and respected citizen of Duluth.

He was a son of A. T. Hollenbeck, who is superintendent of telegraph for the Great Western road. He arrived in the city last night. The father had been sick for about ten days, and the time of death occurred. He got here too late to see his father alive, however.

CHURCH GOERS WERE IN A PANIC

Lightning Bolt Razed the Spire of the Building.

Millard, Iowa, Aug. 15.—While the First Methodist church was crowded with women and children viewing a moving-picture exhibition, lightning struck the edifice and tore off the spire. The women and children were panic-stricken and a stampede was started which might have had serious results if not for the prompt action of the pastor, who kept the organist with great presence of mind started to play "Jesus, Lover of My Soul."

As the tones of the organ pealed out frightened people paused for a moment, then as the choir took up the refrain and added their voices to the organ, the panic was averted. The audience joined their voices to the choir and the strains of the grand old hymn drowned the pealing of the thunder and the beating of the rain. The church was damaged about $1,000.

LAHADOR BOUNDARY.

St. Johns, N. F., Aug. 15.—The New Foundland and Canadian governments are now negotiating a modus vivendi respecting the Lahador boundary, which will enable the lumbering interests operating in Hamilton Inlet to continue work, pending a settlement delimiting the territory involved.

TWO SANATORIUMS TO BE BUILT IN ROCHESTER.

Rochester, Minn., Aug. 15.—Patients for St. Mary's hospital are coming here in such numbers that the capacity of the place is taxed beyond its ability to care for them. To relieve the congestion, two sanatoriums are now in course of construction. One is designed to accommodate the more well-to-do persons; the other those in less comfortable circumstances.

The first is under the control of a company with large capital in this city which purchased the large E. A. Knowlton residence for the purpose. A wing is being built on this place, with every modern convenience. The sum of $40,000 will be expended. Dr. J. E. Creve will be the physician in charge.

The second place, built by Mrs. Charles Chute, will contain about thirty-five rooms and involve an outlay of $10,000. Special care are coming here in such numbers with patients for the hospital that the North Western railroad company has just completed a sidetrack for their special accommodation. Grounds are being laid out around this spur to add to the attractiveness of the surroundings.

TOLEDO ICE CASE.

Investigation of Alleged Discriminations by Railroads.

Toledo, Ohio, Aug. 15.—The examination of witnesses was continued today before the interstate commerce commission in the investigation into the action of railroads and ice companies. Officers of the Toledo Car Service association were placed on the stand to answer questions regarding the assessing and collection of freight charges, but little of interest was disclosed. It now becomes a question if the present Ann Arbor railroad company can be held liable for the acts of the old company as managed by Wellington Burt. His associates as, so far there is no evidence that the present company has discriminated in favor of any ice company.

BOY DROWNS IN CHESTER CREEK

George McComber, Aged Eleven, Meets His Death
While Bathing.

While bathing in Chester creek, near Fifteenth avenue east and Sixth street, last evening, George McComber, the 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H.
McComber, 105 East Sixth street, lost his life.

The clothing was found on the bank by Patrolman Stewart, and shortly afterward the policeman succeeded in recovering the lifeless little body. The lad had evidently gone in bathing all alone, and there was no one at hand to hear his cry for help.

The boy had come about 6 o'clock for the home of his grandfather, Amasa McComber, 125 East Fifth street. When he left there after a short stay he must have gone directly to the swimming pool and to his death.

Dr. Robert Graham, assistant coroner, declared that death was purely accidental.
He made inquiry among the boys of the neighborhood, but none of them had seen young McComber go into the water.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

TUMOR PROVED FATAL.

Death of Miss Minnie Eberlein at Bemidji After Operation.

Be midji, Minn., Aug. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Minnie Eberlein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Eberlein of this city, died at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, after a severe illness of several weeks. About a month ago, an operation was performed at Rochester for the removal of a tumor with which the girl was afflicted, the result of which was a cure. The tumor was nearly as large as a grapefruit, and was found to be a cancerous growth.
She was brought home and has not rallied since the operation, although every possible means were done for her relief.
The body will be taken to the funeral parlor for viewing on Thursday evening, where the funeral will be held. It being the old home of the Eberleins.

TASTED THE STUFF.

Columbus, Kas., Aug. 15.—Twenty-five women of Columbus went to a "joint" yesterday and took possession.
They tasted the beer and whisky and sent one of their number back to town to lay the matter before the county attorney, intending to swear out a complaint. The county attorney could not be found, and the women had possession of the "joint" till night and expected to remain there until an officer could be induced to file proper papers for closing it as a nuisance.

BABY COVERED WITH SORES

Would Scratch and Tear the Flesh
Unless Hands Were Tied—Wasted to a Skeleton—Awful Suffering for Over a Year—Grew Worse Under Doctors—Skin Now Clear.

WOULD HAVE DIED
BUT FOR CUTICURA.

"My little son, when about a year and a half old, began to have sores come out on his face. I had a physician treat him, but the sores grew worse. Then they began to come on his arms, then on other parts of his body, and then one came on his chest, worse than the others. Then I called another physician. Still he grew worse. At the end of about a year and a half of suffering he grew so bad I had to tie his hands in cloths at night to keep him from scratching the sores and tearing the flesh.

"He got to be a mere skeleton, and was hardly able to walk. My Aunt advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. So great was her faith in it that she gave me a small piece of Soap to try and a little of the Ointment. I took it home without any faith, but to please her I tried it, and it seemed to dry up the sores a little.

"I sent to the drug store and got a cake of the Soap and a box of the Ointment and followed the directions, and at the end of about two months the sores were all well. He has never had any more of any kind since.

"He is now strong and healthy, and I am sincerely glad that only for your most wonderful remedies my precious child would have died from these terrible sores. I used only one cake of Soap and about three boxes of Ointment. (Signed) Mrs. Egbert Sheldon, R. F. D. No. 1, Woodville, Conn., April 22, 1905."

CHANNEL IS OPENED UP

Whitney Bros. Successfully Remove Fixed Span of Wrecked Bridge.

Boats Are Now Able to Reach the Upper Harbor.

Navigation between the upper and lower harbors was reopened at 5:30 p. m. yesterday, after eighty-nine hours of delay caused by the wreck of the interstate bridge, when Whitney Bros., the contractors, removed the fixed span of the bridge from its piers on the Wisconsin side to a temporary pile support near the Northern Pacific railway bridge.

The big 80-foot steel span was moved without an accident, and the successful removal of the span of the bridge was greeted with a joyful tooting of whistles from the boats tied up on either side of the bridge with owners either anxious to get out with loads or to get in for loads.

The bridge was scheduled to move yesterday morning, but minor delays in the way of a broken pump and other things, together with the precautionary measures taken by the contractors, held the actual operation off until the latter part of the afternoon.

The bridge rested on four of the Duluth Bridge & Dock company's large piers, the beams having been sunk previously, and a timber support built up to the bridge structure. When all was in readiness, the water was pumped out of the piers and the bridge was slowly lifted from its stone piers.

The tug Modina, Walton H. and Emmett towed it over to the place where it will rest pending the repair of the draw. The seams, it is claimed, had an aggregating carrying capacity of four times the weight of the bridge.

While the work accomplished by Whitney Bros. is by no means a remarkable feat, it is highly complimented because of their ability as an "emergency" firm. To assemble men and material, and to finally move an 80-ton structure over water, between two low bridges, and to finally settle it in its new position, is a feat which is considered a pretty good record by engineers and vesselmen.

With the fixed span out, there is a 170-foot gap between the two bridges, and the steamer Wells was the first boat through after the span was taken out.
She was followed by the tug Modina, and some twenty or thirty other boats. The new channel will be used during the time that the drawbridge is being rebuilt, when the fixed span will be removed and the boats will resume their passage of the two old channels. The only difference between the two old channels is the fact that only one boat can make the bridge passage at a time where they could now pass each other through the draw, on going either side of the center pier.

TO CONTROL THE MINING DISTRICT

Russian Government Takes Steps Looking to That End.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 15.—In view of the representations of the foreign mining interests in the Donets basin with regard to the seriousness of the situation at Uzkovka and elsewhere, the government has merged the whole coal and iron district affected into a special general government in order to enable it better able to control the situation, and has taken the unprecedented step of creating a special advisory committee of mining representatives to act in concert with the new official of the district. His jurisdiction encompasses the entire Donets basin, the southern part of Khar'kov and parts of the Don Cossack territory.

The step is comparable to the creation of the much abused "satrapate" to deal with the agrarian disorders in central Russia last autumn, of which the assassinated Gen. Sakharov was one of the governors, and indicates that the government considers the situation to be equally serious. Disorders and collisions with troops continued at Uzkovka a meeting was dispersed by Cossack whips.

On account of attempts to continue revolutionary agitation at Cronstadt, Commandant Alderberg yesterday published an order forbidding the use of the streets after midnight except on the occasion of restaurants and saloons at 10 o'clock, and forbidding altogether the sale of liquors on Sundays and holidays. Alderberg, who was promoted to a lieutenant generalship as a reward for the suppression of the mutiny, has issued an order quoting the emperor's personal telegram of commendation, and thanks from the royal family, and from general to privates by whose co-operation he was enabled to gain such a signal honor.

Women's Relief Union was opened in the house of Representatives' hall at the old capitol yesterday by an address of welcome delivered by Mrs. Marion W. Rose, this city. The response was given by Mrs. Villa Geor, of Ohio, chairman of the auditing committee.

The convention is one of the largest of its kind held in the city. Delegates being present, representing all but seven states of the union. The session was all executive and after the address by the president, Ella Kraft, of New York, the convention listened to the committee reports on the work done during the past year.

The following officers were elected and will be held. National President, Mrs. Marion W. Rose, of St. Paul; senior vice, Rhoda Ellis, Rock Island, Ill.; junior vice, Della H. Hill, Victoria, Kas.; chaplain, Emma W.
Buck, Washington, Pa.; conductor, Vivian Benson, Chicago, Iowa. All were elected unanimously.

The corps attended the parade in Minneapolis in a body this morning.

NEW PAPER FOR WASHINGTON.

Washington, Aug. 15.—An announcement was made yesterday by Scott C. Bone, formerly managing editor of the Washington Post, that the new morning paper to be known as the Washington Herald will be published. It will not begin about Oct. 1. Mr. Bone will be at the head of the enterprise.

NEGRO ASSAULTS WOMEN.

Greenwood, S. C., Aug. 15.—An attempt at criminal assault was made yesterday upon Miss Jennie Brooks, the 20-year-old daughter of J. J. Brooks, a merchant and farmer near this place by a negro named Bob Davis. The negro after making some purchases from a store, came to the home of Miss Brooks. With an iron bar the woman made an attempt to defend herself, whereupon the negro slashed her across the throat. A posse of 150 men is in pursuit of the negro and it is probably will be lynched. Davis' brother was lynched twelve years ago for assaulting a white woman.

TO EXTEND WATER SYSTEM.

Ten Blocks of Water Main to be Laid at Be midji.

Be midji, Minn., Aug. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city council voted to build ten more blocks of water mains to relieve the wants of the residents in the north, northeast and northwest portions of the city. The cost will be close to $3,000, and this will just about exhaust the fund for water extension.
The mains will be laid as follows: On Dewey avenue from Eighth to Tenth streets; on Belmont avenue from Eighth to Tenth streets; on Minnesota avenue from Eighth to Tenth streets; from the corner of Minnesota avenue and Eighth street west on Eighth street, three blocks to Mississippi avenue, and thence one block north on Mississippi.

TWO HARBORS WEDDING.

F. M. Woodfill and Miss Herma Holden the Contracting Parties.

Two Harbors, Minn., Aug. 15.—Two of the most popular young people in the village were quietly married at the Presbyterian parsonage at 10 o'clock yesterday morning by Rev. J. A. McCaughey, officiating. The contracting parties were F. M. Woodfill and Miss Herma Holden. Only the immediate friends and relatives of the bride and groom were present.

The young couple left for Duluth, from whence they will take the boat to Lake Royale and pass their honeymoon at Washington Harbor. On their return they will be at home in their residence on Fourth avenue, which has but recently been completed.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Holden, and has resided in the village since childhood. Her father is at present county treasurer. The room is employed by the Duluth & Iron Works railroad as bookkeeper in the office of the stockkeeper at Two Har-

SHIPMENTS CURTAILED

The Missabe Road Suffering Greatly From the Bridge Accident.

Unlikely to Ship Greatest Amount of Fare During July.

The accident to the interstate bridge which has so tied up navigation in the Duluth harbor since Saturday will make a difference in the total shipments of ore from the docks of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern road, this month. The Missabe usually leads both the Duluth & Iron Range and the Great Northern in the amount of ore shipped every thirty days or so, and for the season, for that matter, but there are excellent chances of the Duluth & Iron Range shipping more iron ore than the Missabe during August.

Five precious days have already been lost and five days certainly count where ore shipping is concerned. It means every hour in the twenty-four, lost, for that is the number during which the road's docks present a scene of strenuous activity during the season of navigation.

Not only have the five days just passed been lost, but the accident to the bridge has so tied up things that it will be some little time before they can be straightened out again. Several boats are waiting in the harbor now, ready to be loaded and it will be utterly impossible to load them all with the usual rapidity.

The loss of more than four days shipping from the West end docks, takes about 350,000 tons from the road's total for the month.

GIRL AND PUP GLAD

That Locket Was Found, But Medical Student Is Not.

Butler, E. D., Aug. 15.—Miss Pearl Richardson, the local telephone operator, has recovered her diamond-studded locket which her pet collie was supposed to have swallowed. The recovery of the locket has been somewhat upon the incident.

Miss Richardson was extremely fond of her pet and could not make up her mind to surrender it even for the sake of recovering the locket, which, aside from its intrinsic value, was a treasured keepsake of a former owner. The locket, which was worn by Miss Richardson at the end of a long, slender gold chain, in swinging backward and forward, the dog, in playful mood, had snatched at it, and before Miss Richardson could regain possession of it, it had disappeared, presumably down the pup's gullet.

After trying various means for its recovery, friends of Miss Richardson advised that the dog be killed in order that the bit of jewelry might be recovered. She refused at first to do this, but later a young man who is an undergraduate at a medical college at Chicago, and who is spending his vacation here, learned of her predicament and offered to perform a surgical operation for recovery of the locket. He assured Miss Richardson that the operation would be successful, but refused to say positively that the puppy would live. After much persuasion, Miss Richardson agreed to permit the proposed attempt to recover the jewel.

The embryo surgeon secured the dog and made an improvised operating room in one corner of the telephone room. He had the pup strapped to the operating table and was holding a cone of chloroform to his nose, preparatory to cutting into him, when Miss Richardson burst into the room and stopped the proceedings by holding aloft the missing locket.

A gentle woman had found it in a dark corner of the room, where it had evidently rolled during the struggle. Miss Richardson had led with the puppy. The latter had not swallowed it at all.

Miss Richardson and the pup are overjoyed, but the embryo surgeon thinks that the recovery of the jewel might have been postponed at least half an hour.

CRAZED MAN SLAIN.

Tries to Kill His Wife and is Shot Himself.

Kidnap, Mont., Aug. 15.—Louis Deschamps, a French half-breed, was shot and instantly killed at Brown Meadows, twenty miles south of here, by Ed West, a ranch hand. Deschamps is said to have been intoxicated and to have attacked J. J. Plume, owner of the ranch, with a knife.

The wife of the half-breed is a cook on the ranch. Deschamps had been filled up on bad liquor he started out to kill her with his knife. Plume, an old man of 75 years, intervened and prevented him from harming the woman. That night Deschamps again became intoxicated and once more attempted to cut his wife to pieces. The wife screamed and

Your Credit is Good--Make Your Own Terms.

No doubt the phrases quoted above have at some time attracted your attention and you have become interested. Perhaps you are one of the many who have taken advantage of this most liberal system of homefurnishing and been greatly benefited by having the use of the goods while paying for them.

Perhaps you are one of the vast army of rent-payers. Did you ever stop to think what value you receive in exchange for the money you pay in rent? None whatever, except the use of the house. Your landlord does not credit you with each payment as part payment on your house.

With us it is different. You are at liberty to secure whatever house furnishings you want. You really pay rent for them; but EVERY PAYMENT goes to YOUR credit. When your last payment is made you are the owner.

The Elwell KITCHEN CABINETS

IT USED TO BE that a woman would clutter up the whole kitchen in baking one batch of pies.

In bringing the material together and "clearing up" she took steps enough to send her to bed.

Now the cook stands in front of an Elwell Kitchen Cabinet simply puts her hands out to get the things she needs and doesn't take a single step.

The pies are just as good as they ever were, but work is lighter, spirits correspondingly brighter and the kitchen kept in spick and span order with little trouble.

The Elwell Kitchen Cabinet holds everything you need in cooking and is the most convenient place to work at ever devised.

A Universal Steel Range

$28.75

Think of it! A "Universal" at $28.75. Certainly a remarkable offering. The cut represents this splendid range.

Handsome, nickel-plated, it presents a fine appearance. The body of this range is made of extra heavy, refined blue steel, lined throughout with asbestos. Oven is 14x19 1/2. Well braced and riveted, and will not warp or buckle. Cast iron flue back, will not rust out.

Fire pot has duplex revolving grate, for coal or wood. The range is thoroughly well made, and fully warranted by us. Will give good lasting service.

HE SHOUTS FOR KANSAS

C. A. Alford of Corn Belt Visiting in Duluth.

Tells of Wonderful Growth of Western Part of State.

the Southwest. He is well acquainted with the country, and declares, as an authority, that there is no state in the union which is doing better by its people than the good old state of Kansas. Today, in speaking of the western part of Kansas, which has but recently opened up, he said:

"In the western part of our state we are not running as much to corn and hogs as other parts of the state. Corn has not become acclimated, but, of course, will be in time, and then if farmers want to enter that specialty, they may do so. But just now in the west the farmers are running to wheat and alfalfa, and there is a good profit in each."

"This year Kansas, I believe, will produce close to 100,000,000 bushels of wheat. The lowest estimates made so far give the yield at 90,000,000 bushels, and I believe the state will do better than that. I guess even you folks up here will consider that a bumper crop, won't you?"

Alfalfa is also in great abundance, and the farmers are making money out of it. Kansas will soon rival and surpass Minnesota as a bread and butter state.

"Dairying is getting to be quite the thing in Western Kansas, and now a train known as the Jersey Special is running through that part of the country for the benefit of the dairies. Western Kansas farmers are selling thousands of gallons of milk, and I would not like to say how much butter every day."

"In Western Kansas every bit of railroad land that is any good is taken up and being worked. It is making its holders rich, too, and each farmer has a good bank account. You don't find any poor farmers down our way. And besides that, they can get the money to carry on their business at 6 and 8 per cent. The old 25 per cent days and begging for it at that—have gone, and Kansas and her farmers are right beyond the dreams of avarice. The people who first went into the western part got wiped out; but that is the history of most new countries. Those who followed them are making good though. I shout for Kansas."

RETIRE MACARTHUR TO GIVE WOOD PLACE.

Washington, Aug. 15.—The war department order assigning Gen. Arthur MacArthur to command temporarily at Vancouver, in connection with departmental gossip about strained relations which have existed since the designation of Gen. Franklin Bell to be chief of staff, is followed with suggestions that it may be the policy of President Roosevelt to retire under the law. Only by doing this can President Roosevelt during his term in the presidency place his friend, Gen. Leonard Wood, at the head of the army. It is asserted.

Gen. MacArthur will reach the rank of lieutenant general on Sept. 14, on which date Gen. Corbin retires. An announcement already has been made that MacArthur will be named to succeed Corbin. Under the law MacArthur will not retire until June 2, 1908, a date after President Roosevelt's term expires.

The bill abolishing the rank of lieutenant general passed the house in the last session and it is to be pressed in the senate next winter. It is now intimated that so earnest is the desire of President Roosevelt that his former companion in arms shall reach the rank of lieutenant general that he has signified a purpose to veto the bill abolishing the grade if it shall pass.

The only way in which Wood could be advanced to command of the army during the president's term would be to have Gen. MacArthur retire a few weeks in advance of the date of his retirement by operation of law, and this program, it is said, has been determined upon.

President Roosevelt is not criticized for the naming of Gen. Bell as chief of staff. That action is attributed to Secretary Taft. It has produced friction among all the major generals, who rank Brig. Gen. Bell, and the military secretary, Maj. Gen. Alsworth, has declined the duty of signing orders from Bell's office.

C. D. TROTT No. 3 West Superior St.

lived in this city. Mrs. Stowe has two daughters, Mrs. N. K. Bennett of this city, and Mrs. Sarah Bruce of Goodhue, Minn. She also has five grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

A remarkable fact connected with Mrs. Stowe's advanced age is that she seems singularly to have become possessed of a second youth. Thirty years ago she was a frail woman and her death was considered a matter of only a short time. Suddenly she appeared to take on new life and vigor, and now is more healthy than she has ever been before. She retains all of her faculties, although her eyesight and hearing are impaired.

Mrs. Stowe does not live her life in the past. On the contrary, she is much interested in life today, and she is extremely thankful that she has been allowed to live and enjoy the pleasures of her long life. She follows no rules for longevity, and in this respect resembles Oatonna's other centenarians. She eats heartily and partakes of whatever most pleases her, paying little if any attention to the incorrect advice so freely offered as to what means are necessary to prolong life. She believes that right living and good sense are all that are necessary to attain longevity.

Why does the sun burn? Why does a mosquito sting? Why do we feel unhappy in the Good Old Summer Time? Answer: We don't. We use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and these little pills don't bother us. Learn to look for the name on the box and get the genuine. Sold by all druggists.

Owatonna, Minn., Aug. 15.—Probably not another city in the state of 500 people can boast of having two centenarians within its limits. That, however, is what Owatonna is able to do, although, strictly speaking, one of these should not be classed a centenarian until another year has passed.

Some time ago, Mrs. Maria Cross celebrated her one-hundredth birthday. Now Mrs. Roxalina Stowe has just celebrated her ninety-ninth birthday, and confidently expects to rank in the century class at this time next year. From present indications there seems no reason why she should not do so. She is much healthier than she was fifteen years ago, and even asserts that she feels much better than she did at the age of 50. Mrs. Stowe lives with her daughter, Mrs. N. K. Bennett, in this city.

Mrs. Stowe was born in the town of Wheelock, Caledonia county, Vermont, Aug. 10, 1807. She was married to J. Stowe in the town of Westfield, Vt., and enjoyed many years of happy wedded life. In 1855 the couple came to Minnesota, settling in Goodhue county, near Red Wing. Mr. Stowe died in 1885, and Mrs. Stowe went to West Concord, to join her daughter. Nine years ago she came to Owatonna, with her daughter, and since that time has

Awful Fate of Unknown Hermit is Investigated in Idaho.

Wallace, Idaho, Aug. 15.—Stricken with total blindness and starved to death appears to have been the fate of an unknown man whose dead body was found in a lonely cabin on the north fork of the Clearwater river about forty-five miles from Iron Mountain.

A diary was found beside the dead man, and in it he had made certain entries, noting the fact that he was gradually losing his eyesight, the last entry stating he was now almost blind. The diary was found in a small box which was placed in the cabin in order that it might be guided to the water.

A prospector left was found inside the cabin together with about $500 worth of furs, including a mink skin. In the diary, and nothing was found either on the person of the dead man or about the cabin, which would give a hint as to his identity.

As there was no food left in the cabin, the authorities believe that the blind man, unable to find his way to assistance, literally starved to death when his supply of provisions ran out.

DECLINE TO ACCEPT IT.
Kansas City, Aug. 15.—Kansas City's fight for cheap gas has been going on last night when the Chicago capitalists, who recently were granted a thirty years franchise to sell the city natural gas at 25 cents a thousand feet for domestic use and 10 cents for other purposes, notified Mr. Hendley that they could not accept the proposition. The franchise, they said, carried too many restrictions.

Wants First Chance if Clark Mine Belongs to Government.

Written in red ink across the Rogers entry for the 120 acres of land covered by the Clark iron mine, on the books of the local land office, are the words "held for cancellation. See commissioner's letter 'C,' August 25, '76."

It is on this notation that John Megins and his attorney, Joseph Reynolds, base their claim of a right to apply scrip to the land in question, which is now involved in litigation in the district court here.

The letter referred to in the entry is missing from the files of the office, having been stolen or mislaid since the land was known to be valuable, but records of certified copies of it are in existence. It states that the entry is "spurious" and "fraudulent."

The patent was issued on the land, in spite of this notation, on April 15, 1880.

Mr. Megins claims that the patent was fraudulent, and that the land therefore reverts to the government. "I don't want to rob anyone," said Mr. Megins, "and I don't intend to do anything dishonest, but if the title reverts back to the government because of a fraudulent entry, I want the first right to the land. I followed the evidence in the case before the district court pretty closely, and it struck me that the government still owned the land, if the patent was a fraudulent one, so I went to see my attorney. He told me he thought I was right in my belief, and I took some Santa Fe scrip up to the land office and asked to apply it on the land."

"If the law passed by congress which says that patents are incontestable after five years, holds in this case, will simply go to the land office and get my scrip back again. If it doesn't hold, it seems to me that I have a good chance to get the land."

Ruse of Farmer's Slayer
Does Not Hide Real Crime.

NORTH DAKOTA.
Bismarck.—The authorities here are puzzled over the death of John Bjornson, a farmer, living four miles northwest of Bismarck. They are unable to determine whether it is a case of suicide or murder.

His wife and daughter had come on a visit to a neighbor, the unknown time before finally discovering him in a lean-to of the barn. He was dead and there was a bullet hole in his heart. The body looked as if it had been placed in the position in which it was found. A revolver was found tucked under the leg and not near his hands. The wound indicated that it had been made by a shot fired at long range, and this further gave prominence to the mystery of the case. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of death from a gunshot wound at the hands of unknown parties, and the county officials are making a rigid investigation of the affair.

Wahpeton.—The thirteen-year-old son of J. J. Jicin was almost buried to death by a savage bull which attacked him while he was crossing the pasture. The boy was knocked down, buried and pitched about in the mud, and was not found until he was almost dead. He was taken to the hospital, where it was found that several ribs had been broken; his chest had been injured and he otherwise was terribly injured. The bull had been debauched or the boy might have been gored to death.

Anamosa.—Col. Kronzel and Vincent Beckmeyer have been arrested and are being held to await the outcome of the charges against them. Kronzel, a farmer living north of here, together with a son, were charged with the murder of a man who had been shot by several men and so badly beaten that it is thought he will die.

Williston.—Roy Conard, twenty-five years of age, was drowned in a slough at F. R. Ziegler's ranch, thirty miles in the country Sunday. He and others were on horseback. At the edge of the water his horse lunged into deep water and never came to the surface. The body was recovered by the use of crabs. The body was brought to Williston to be sent to Glyndon, Minn., his home.

Fargo.—North Dakota is likely to have some more oil excitement. Settlers in the hills of Stutsman county report traces of oil in the springs on the surface of that section. It is in the most recently settled part of that county, where many homesteaders have proved up. Some of these are hurrying to make final proof on their oil land developments. This is not the first oil boom in the state. A few years ago La Moore county settlers found the greasy stuff in quantity. It was just after the collapse of the boom in Texas and other places and the value of the oil wells was not so highly regarded as to cause a speculative boom. There appears to be no doubt that there is both oil and natural gas in the state, though it is doubtful whether it is in sufficient quantities to prove a source of profit.

The railroaders are in better shape to handle the big North Dakota wheat crop this year than last, according to Superintendent Burt of the Dakota division of the Northern Pacific. Mr. Burt anticipates that the crop will be a bumper one, and that the cars back more quickly. Some double-track work done. This will enable the company to run its trains and get the cars back more quickly.

Fargo wants home rule in Moorhead, and there are no railroads in Fargo, and there are plenty of them in Moorhead and many Fargoans get drunk and come across to this side of the river, creating more or less trouble.

SOUTH DAKOTA.
Yankton.—The report that F. W. Sallet, formerly of this city, had been married in Milwaukee to Miss Elizabeth Goetz has been confirmed in this city. A bit of romance, Mr. Sallet has been a resident of this city for about three years, during which time he has been the publisher of the Dakota Press. He came to this city with his family, consisting of his wife and four children, and lived happily until Mrs. Sallet was discovered in connection with the news of her marriage to Mr. Sallet. It was then learned that she was about to institute divorce proceedings. The divorce was granted, and now comes the news of his marriage to Miss Goetz, who is a young woman of twenty summers, a graduate of Yankton high school, which course she completed with her class in 1904. Upon the completion of the high school course, Miss Goetz entered the employ of Mr. Sallet as bookkeeper and stenographer. Mr. Sallet is about 50 years old, and is said to be worth about $5,000. Miss Goetz is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Goetz of this city.

Faulton.—An early morning fire of unknown origin entirely destroyed the Bryden block and an adjacent building, entailing a loss of between $30,000 and $40,000. A third building was only saved after a hard fight. The losses are as follows: Bryden block, loss $30,000; insurance $2,400; Kelley & Murray, general merchants, loss $17,000; insurance $2,200; W. B. Fancannon, loss $2,000; insurance $200; Burge's flour and feed store, loss $2,000; insurance $200; Rounds' photograph gallery, loss $2,000; Knuts Olson, hardware store, loss $1,000.

Mitchell.—No more saloon licenses will be granted in Mitchell. This decision was reached at a special meeting of the city council Saturday evening when the eleventh saloon was licensed to operate within the city. The license resolution was passed only after a most bitter fight between the council members, who were divided on the question of whether or not the members took occasion to pass some kindly and heated words between each other.

Pierre.—The supreme court, in an opinion by Haney, has handed down a decision in the case of the State of South Dakota ex rel. T. E. Andrews vs. O. L. Boyden and others, which is a case of the State of South Dakota vs. O. L. Boyden and others. The court's decision is that the State of South Dakota is entitled to a line of railroad at least four years more.

Emery.—John Emery, a farmer living near here, has been shot and killed by a 24-traction engine, to the rear of which he was attached, while he was working on a farm. He was shot and killed by a 24-traction engine, to the rear of which he was attached, while he was working on a farm.

The practical chuck who holds down third base for Winnipeg robbed the home team yesterday's game. He was aided by some backhand work on the part of Cummings, the ineffectiveness of Sister Hopkins, a couple of errors by Lynch and a tendency shown by McGraw to give the decisions.

The victory enabled the king's subjects to get away with an even break on the series, and they go home in first place in the league race.

Hopkins and Bond started out to oppose each other, and for just one inning they were effective.

In the second both teams began to warm up to the contest. With one double by Hopkins, hitting and errors by Lynch and Zeider filled the bases. A fast double play by Hopkins, hitting and errors by Lynch and Zeider filled the bases. A fast double play by Hopkins, hitting and errors by Lynch and Zeider filled the bases.

The Sox came back in their half with two home runs. Zeider got a grand slam hit and scored second. Bond hit to Zeider, who held Lynch at third and Leach at first. The Sox came back in their half with two home runs.

COL. HELLER RETURNS HOME

Sons of Veterans Will Meet in Duluth Next Year.

E. F. Heller returned to Duluth this morning after attending the state convention of the Sons of Veterans, where he was elected to the office of state commander, every vote of the fifty-four delegates being cast for the Duluth man.

The convention of the order was held in St. Paul at the same time as the grand encampment of the G. A. R., at Minneapolis.

The state headquarters have been established by Commander Heller at 215 West First street and W. W. Huntley has been appointed his adjutant, other appointments to be made later.

The next convention of the Sons of Veterans is to be held in Duluth, Minn., in the fall of 1907. The matter of the Colville monument was left in the hands of the committee in the near future to attend to it.

Gray Tallant Co.

Thursday Features!

New Suits and Skirts constantly arriving these days. Of course you are interested in them. You'll no doubt admire the new Prince Chap model in the suits with its mannish lines and materials—the coats are in different lengths—have the outer seams in back pressed in the masculine way, while the skirt is in most cases made with deep set pleats. The Norfolk styles have all the grace and case that you always admire so much.

In the skirts, circular and pleated styles get the preference—a lot of the very popular grays have just come in. Visit the suit room often these days. While the new things are arriving we are rushing the summer stuff out at ridiculously low prices like these:

THE MEN'S FURNISHINGS SALE
AN UNUSUAL BARGAIN EVENT.
Pole Carew, since 1903 commander of the Eighth division of the Third army corps, who distinguished himself in the East India and African campaigns, has been retired with the honor of major general. Pole Carew is 53 years old. His retirement is understood to be the outcome of ineffectual protests against his suppression in promotion. Gen. Pole Carew's own criticism during the operations in the Boer war was resented by many generals.

CONSIDERING THE RATE BILL
Railroads Conferring as to Provisions of the Measure.
Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 15.—More than sixty lawyers, representing all the larger railroads east of the Mississippi river, particularly those traversing the territory south of the Ohio river and the New England states, assembled here yesterday to make a study of the provisions of the railroad rate bill which goes into effect on Wednesday, Aug. 22. The members of the conference consist of the chief counsel, general solicitors and other members of the legal departments of the railroad corporations.

NEGRO TROUBLE IN TEXAS.
Brownsville, Tex., Aug. 15.—Because they had been refused the privilege of drinking at bars with white customers and several of them had been arrested for unbecomingly behavior on the streets, twenty negro soldiers, members of a company of the Twenty-fifth infantry, at midnight Monday went on a rampage, stealing away from the post and entering Brownsville, firing several volleys down Main street, Frank Natus, a bartender is dead, and Policeman Joseph Domingue, wounded, in arm and hand was shattered by a bullet, and his horse shot from under him. After their depredations the negroes returned to their barracks. Representations have been made to the governor and a request made that the negroes be removed, in order to avoid further trouble, but he has declined to send troops.

STRIKE HAMPER BUILDING.
Longshoremen at San Francisco Are Causing Much Trouble.
San Francisco, Aug. 15.—All the steam schooners now in port belonging to the Steamship association remained tied up yesterday as a result of the longshoremen's refusal to work with non-union sailors. More steam schooners are en route, lumber laden, and these, too, will be temporarily put out of commission. This city is now dependent on sailing vessels for its lumber supplies, and an early shortage of building material is looked for.

REFUSE TO GIVE NAME.
Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 15.—After a session that lasted all afternoon and half of the night, the Democratic state central committee decided on a candidate for lieutenant governor, but refused to give out his name, because it is not certain that he will run. Rush Crawford of Marquette, nominated at the recent Detroit convention, declined to run at the time.

"Watch a woman buy a veil if you want to study character," says the head of one of the largest veiling departments in New York city, "and since there has been a scarcity in them they have rushed at the counter and struggled with one another like untrained school boys whenever brown veils—the desired shade—were advertised for sale. I have seen well dressed women grilling this shade of veil out of the hands and off the hats of others who were admiring themselves prior to purchasing before a mirror and without even trying the filmy thing on put it into the hands of a clerk and pay for it, fearful that some one would get it away."

With brown veils the idea of having one with an exclusive design, whether dots, figures, or only meshes, has been abandoned, for the fair sex has been willing to pay double the original cost and take anything, so that it was in the popular shade. These veils with large spots, that give the eyes a peculiar appearance, as if they had been punched, are as readily taken as the fluff or plain mesh, though if the nose is noticeably irregular a checked or dotted style that will help hide the defect is asked for.

"Or if the eyes are considered to be too close together or far apart a flared net or chiffon is usually selected in which the design runs far enough down from the top to partly cover the bridge of the nose."

"It is rather pathetic the way some women attempt to cover up crowd feet and lines in their faces by wearing veils and the hours they spend in selecting them and trying first one style and then another in an effort to get a pattern that makes them look young."

"One woman who always wears a veil told me recently that she had not gone out on the street for years without one of these shields, and that she always gets the net variety with little black velvet dots placed close together, because they give to her skin a dazzling effect that makes it impossible for the casual observer to discover her wrinkles."

"If I didn't have this scar on my forehead I should never wear a veil," declared a woman who stood before a mirror the other day and called me over to look at her face. "I don't want to stand in a crowd and have my face looked at by a crowd of eyes, so I wear a veil to hide my face."

"I have never worn a veil, but my skin is so fair that I feel as if I should like to hide something, and this veil is just what I need to keep out of sight."

"I actually have people tell me that my complexion is beautiful," says one customer, "when really it is abominable, and if I didn't wear a veil I would be home, for my skin is muddied and the pores are large, but I take care never to be seen on the street without a light colored veil with diamond shaped meshes through which there are just enough spots of velvet or silk to deceive the eye of any one looking at me. I have never worn a veil, but my skin is so fair that I feel as if I should like to hide something, and this veil is just what I need to keep out of sight."

I have seen well dressed women grilling this shade of veil out of the hands and off the hats of others who were admiring themselves prior to purchasing before a mirror and without even trying the filmy thing on put it into the hands of a clerk and pay for it, fearful that some one would get it away."

With brown veils the idea of having one with an exclusive design, whether dots, figures, or only meshes, has been abandoned, for the fair sex has been willing to pay double the original cost and take anything, so that it was in the popular shade. These veils with large spots, that give the eyes a peculiar appearance, as if they had been punched, are as readily taken as the fluff or plain mesh, though if the nose is noticeably irregular a checked or dotted style that will help hide the defect is asked for.

"Or if the eyes are considered to be too close together or far apart a flared net or chiffon is usually selected in which the design runs far enough down from the top to partly cover the bridge of the nose."

"It is rather pathetic the way some women attempt to cover up crowd feet and lines in their faces by wearing veils and the hours they spend in selecting them and trying first one style and then another in an effort to get a pattern that makes them look young."

"One woman who always wears a veil told me recently that she had not gone out on the street for years without one of these shields, and that she always gets the net variety with little black velvet dots placed close together, because they give to her skin a dazzling effect that makes it impossible for the casual observer to discover her wrinkles."

"If I didn't have this scar on my forehead I should never wear a veil," declared a woman who stood before a mirror the other day and called me over to look at her face. "I don't want to stand in a crowd and have my face looked at by a crowd of eyes, so I wear a veil to hide my face."

"I have never worn a veil, but my skin is so fair that I feel as if I should like to hide something, and this veil is just what I need to keep out of sight."

"I have never worn a veil, but my skin is so fair that I feel as if I should like to hide something, and this veil is just what I need to keep out of sight."

LAUNCH THE GIANT BOAT

Six Hundred Foot Steamer Goes in Saturday at Superior.

First of Three Big Ones for Cambria Steel Company.

The new 600-foot steamer Edward Y. Townsend, building at the Superior yards for the Cambria Steel company, will be launched into the water and given her initial bath sharp at noon next Saturday. The name of the christener of the big ship has not yet been given out, but will be in a few days. The event will probably be made a gala one, as this is the first boat of such dimensions to be launched in this part of the country and third on all of the Great Lakes. She is one of three 600-footers building for the same company. The second one of the trio will be launched in Bay City on Aug. 22, and will be named the Daniel J. Morrell. Each of these steamers is 600 feet long over all, 50 feet on the keel, 18 feet beam and 32 feet deep. They are 1200-ton ships and it is expected will rival the 600-footers of the Pittsburgh Steamship company in carrying capacity.

New Coal Carrying Record.
All previous records for heavy tonnage of coal carried from a lower lake port to the head of the lakes, were smashed this morning with the arrival of the big steamer Henry B. Smith, with 1020 tons on board. This beats the previous record by nearly 50 tons. She went to Superior to unload.

To Launch Beam.
Chicago, Aug. 15.—The steamer Norman B. Ryan, named in honor of the Chicago capitalist, will be launched at the yard of the American Ship Building company on the Calumet next Saturday. The Ryan is the third of a fleet of four ships of the same size ordered last winter by the United States Steel corporation.

Name Is Chosen.
Buffalo, Aug. 15.—The first of the 600-foot freighters building at the Lorain yards of the American Ship Building company will be named the Henry B. Smith, in honor of the late Senator from Illinois. The ship will be launched on Saturday.

MUTINY ON NORTH WEST

Captain Said to Have Used Guns Quieting Disturbance.

Firemen, Spanish Steward and French Cooks Were Involved.

Guns and knives are said to have played a part in what was almost an old-fashioned mutiny on board the steamer North West.

According to one of the passengers, the captain quelled the disturbance by firing his revolver over the heads of some of the crew.

The affair grew out of a disagreement between the firemen and the house steward, the former claiming that they were not being fed in a proper manner.

The steward was a Spaniard, with the exception of his name, and when the firemen refused to work, he threatened to do so.

The Spaniard flew into a rage and pulled a revolver, threatening to do all sorts of mischief to the person of the coal slinger.

It appears the other firemen had a poor opinion of the steward for they rallied to the support of their friend, and two or three of them drew knives.

The captain, who was a Frenchman, was brought into actual use if the battle ensued, and the weapons might have been brought into actual use if the captain had not appeared on the scene with a gun of his own.

He succeeded in restoring order for the time being, and the men went back to their quarters.

When the boat arrived in Duluth last evening with 25 passengers, the firemen asserted that they would quit work unless the steward was discharged.

To further complicate the situation, the French cook sided with the Spaniard, and said that if he were compelled to leave, they would go with him.

Then one of the waiters tried to prevail upon his brother workers to join in a sympathetic strike.

Successful. He was a diminutive sort of fellow, and his actions caused a lot of amusement among the passengers.

Standing on the top of a barrel, he gesticulated until his arms nearly flew from their sockets, and harangued the crew until he was hoarse.

The steward finally quit of his own accord, and the trouble ended by all the men involved going back to work. The North West pulled away from the dock.

Itch cured in 30 minutes by Woolford's Sanitary Lotion. Never fails. Sold by all druggists.

NEW QUARTERS FOR "JEAN"

Duluth's Popular Shine Artist Secured by the Glass Block Store.

"Have Jean shine your shoes." Those words of Duluth people have read these words on the windows of the Phillips shoe store during the past year, and nearly everybody knows "Jean," the shoe artist—know him as just "Jean," nothing else—probably never heard his other name; but "Jean" is enough.
A deal has just been closed whereby this clever manipulator of the shoe brush and shine rag goes to the Phillips company, and, beginning next Monday morning, Jean will be found at the "Mc-Donnell" shoe store, recently purchased by Pantan & White company, just one door east of the Glass Block store.
It goes almost without saying that Jean's customers think that he puts on shoes as no one else and they may be quite correct in their belief.

EVIDENCES OF TRAGEDY

Two Young Men May Have Been Drowned in River.

Battered Boat With Fishing Lines and Lunch Is Found.

Did the St. Louis river claim two victims yesterday by drowning?
Yesterday afternoon, about 4 o'clock, a yawl-built rowboat floated up near the dock of the camp of L. A. Marvin, near the ice house at Spirit Lake, and The boat was white, painted brown inside, and in the boat were a package of lunch, slipped under the seat, and a young man's soft felt hat, with the initials, P. M., worked in red on a linen slip sewed inside. A couple of trailing lines were fastened to a birch strip, which had been fixed inside the boat, and both were badly tangled and still in the water. The oars had been pulled in, but were still in the oarlocks, and several of the ribs of the craft had been slightly displaced, as if kicked. All these evidences would naturally point to a tragedy, but what was still more suggestive was a bamboo fish pole, the hook caught in the gunwale of the boat, the line passing around beneath it, and the pole floating in the water on the other side. Were it not for this last condition it might have been the boat of a fisherman, but the presence of the hat and the package of lunch camouflaged along the riverbank, who had allowed it to drift away from the pier, but what was still more suggestive was a bamboo fish pole, the hook caught in the gunwale of the boat, the line passing around beneath it, and the pole floating in the water on the other side. Were it not for this

An attempt was made today by Attorney Archibald Cattell to have Judge Patten of the circuit court set aside the side judgment on which the receivership proceedings before Judge Gibbons against the Milwaukee Avenue State bank were based. In presenting his motion Cattell was not authorized to enter the appearance of the bank, and for that reason the judge declined to hear the motion, stating that he was busy with other matters.

Attorney Cattell then verbally notified

Jacob Newman and S. O. Levinson, attorneys for Elde, that he would present the motion again late in the day before some other judge.

Suit for $50,000 damages has been filed in the superior court against the Milwaukee Avenue State bank by the Polish

National alliance. The suit is for the recovery of the amount of the deposit to credit of the defendant bank. The action was taken to conserve the rights of the alliance in the adjustment of the bank's affairs. Judge Patten in the United States disposed the case today before Judge company, receiver of the Milwaukee Ave-stock of which is owned by President Stanislawski of the Milwaukee

Avenue State bank. The bond of the re-

ST. PAUL IS SIZZLING HOT

Temperature on Streets

100 and Very Little Air Stirring.

St. Paul, Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—At noon today the United States weather observer reported the official temperature at St. Paul at 100 degrees. This is the hottest day of the year.

The temperature on the street is about 10 degrees warmer, with very little air stirring. There is no cooler weather in St. Paul in the North-west, according to the forecast officials.

WOMEN FIRST VICTIMS OF KENOSHA'S CRUSADE.

Kenosha, Wis., Aug. 16.—The first victims of the sleuths of the Kenosha Civic Force were women, and more than a week ago, were women. Officials of the federation went to Anderson's park Tuesday night and found four women playing the wheel of fortune with the aid of cracked gamblers. It is said they will be called as witnesses against the operators of the games.

TO THE PUBLIC!

I have arranged to operate a steam

DEMOCRATS IN THE GAME

Will Probably Place Full County Ticket in the Field.

Democratic County Primaries Next Wednesday—Convention Aug. 25

While the Democrats are rather late in getting into the game, it is expected that they will place a full county ticket in the field immediately after the holding of the county convention next Saturday,
Aug. 25.

Immediate action in the matter will be necessary because of the fact that the last day on which filings for nominations may be made is Aug. 23, or the Wednesday following the county convention.

Leading Democrats are of the opinion that a full ticket should be named. If any office is skipped, it will not be that of the party, but of the shrewdly nominated candidate. Charles J. Brady appears to have been given the earliest consideration.

Charles Miller and Walter Johnson have also been prominently mentioned.

Early action is of the opinion that the Democratic nominee for sheriff stands very excellent chance of election this year, much better than usual.

They also hope to land some of the other county offices.

The primaries for the purpose of electing delegates to the county convention will be held in the council chambers of city hall, Aug. 23, from 7 to 9 p. m., in all the precincts of the county. About 100 delegates will be elected.

The county convention, which will be held at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, will elect thirty-eight delegates to the Democratic state convention, to be held at Duluth on Monday, Aug. 27.

It is said that nothing will be done in the way of electing delegates until the holding of the county convention.

Primary election day is on Sept. 18.

It isn't known as yet who will be recommended for the county offices. The members at present are Bert

Feiler, Fred Ryan and C. J. Dauter-man. The latter is the son of H. B.

Hibbing. It is said that nothing will be done in the way of electing delegates until the holding of the county

KEPT ON TAKING PE-RU-NA RESTORED TO PERFECT HEALTH.

How Mrs. Hortense Burns, Whose Health Was All Run-Down From Pelvic Trouble, Obtained Relief. In a Few Weeks' Use of Pe-ru-na She Was Changed From a Semi-Invalid So As to Be Able to Attend to Her Household Duties.

Thousands of Women in the United States Will Read Mrs. Burns' Testimonial to Pe-ru-na With Eager Interest.

Denver, Col.—In a letter to The Pe-ru-na Drug Co., Mrs. Burns says: "My health was all run down from pelvic trouble and I was not able to do anything until I began using Pe-ru-na. In a few weeks I began to feel better, and in a few more weeks I was able to attend to my household duties, and life looked different to me."

"I kept taking Pe-ru-na until I was restored to perfect health and strength. I shall always keep a bottle on hand and take a dose or two when I am exhausted. I shall always be glad to give it my endorsement, as it did so much for me." (Call Wm. 7th Ave.)

The Calamity of Sickness.

A gloom is cast over the household when the wife and mother is sick. No amount of love or prosperity, culture or self-denial, can restore to the home perfect tranquility and order so long as the mother suffers from ill health. The restoration of one such case has a greater influence than can be pictured.

The Blessing of Health.

Pe-ru-na has entered many a house in times of darkness and despair, and by its use has given, brought courage and happiness. After a woman has dragged her weary body out of bed, after weeks of vainly trying to attend to her duties, the joy which she experiences in discovering a remedy for her ailments can scarcely be imagined.

Disseminating the intellect, weakens the courage and converts happy, healthy people into discouraged, listless, and despairing. No man can measure the far-reaching influences for good which flow directly from the restoration of the housewife to her rightful place in the home.

EXCITEMENT IN IRON MARKET

Iron Age Finds Possibilities For Harm in Situation.

New York, Aug. 16.—The Iron Age today said: In view of the tide of buying as well as of values continues to rise. Such a movement in August it is safe to say is without parallel. Whether appreciation of its possibilities for harm is general enough to really avert the danger remains to be seen. That there is some excitement and that excitement is to be deprecated is undeniable.

Heavy purchases of Bessemer and foundry irons for delivery in the first quarter and the first half of next year, the significant development of the week. Practically all the steel making pig iron that can be produced is being sold. In the remainder of the year has been swept up. What the foundry iron is available for this year's delivery can only be had at advancing prices and usually in connection with contracts for 1907 iron. Steel manufacturers in the Central West, in view of the shortage in Bessemer iron for 1906, have come into the market for 1907 requirements and sales of 100,000 tons at $17.75 at valley furnaces have been made for delivery in the first half of next year. The United States Steel corporation has not yet participated in the buying for 1907. In common with other steel manufacturers it will find it necessary to limit its steel production in the remainder of this year because of inability to get pig iron.

Sellers of foundry iron have put up their prices about five cents a ton in the week and the market is still rising. The minimum for southern No. 2 is now $14.30 at furnace and sales at $16 have reached a respectable aggregate. In the Cleveland district smelters of iron are going far ahead

USE NEW ORE DOCK SOON

The Missabe Road's New Structure Rapidly Nearing Completion.

Two Hundred Pockets Ready by First of the Month.

By the first of September, the Duluth, Missabe & Northern Pacific will be able to make use of 200 pockets on the new dock in the West end, which has been in the course of construction for some time.

"This represents about half the capacity of the dock," said W. A. McDonough, vice president of the road, today. "We will be able to get good use out of the new dock before the season of navigation closes."

Mr. McDonough stated that the entire structure will be in readiness for use in a comparatively short time. It is estimated that it will be possible to load boats with 200 pockets by the first of next month.

He declares that the Missabe will not build another new dock during the coming winter. The rumor that such a move was contemplated by the road was quite without foundation, he said. Without the dock now nearing completion, the road would have been unable to handle the large amount of business this season and with the addition of the new structure in a couple of months, the officials of the line feel that shipping problems will have been disposed of for the time being.

MAY HAVE BEEN RESPONSIBLE

Greeks Said to Have Precipitated Trouble With Bulgarians.

Sofia, Aug. 16.—It is alleged that the primary cause of the fighting at Aidin, Aug. 12, was the conduct of Greeks in trying forcibly to prevent a Bulgarian meeting there, previous to the meeting being received with rifle shots from the Greeks. The Bulgarians returned to their villages, procured arms and attacked the Greeks, who were forced to withdraw and barricade themselves within the churches. Fighting continued around the church the whole day. The police vainly appealing to the Greeks to cease firing, while they dispersed the peasants. A Greek priest in command at the church, it is alleged, incited the Greeks to continue hostilities.

Troops summoned from a distance of twenty-three miles, arrived too late, the fires which had been started having already spread all over the town. Five hundred houses were destroyed. Eight charred bodies have been found and altogether eleven persons perished, five of the victims being Bulgarians. The Greek bishop who was supposed to have been incited, was found hiding and was arrested and principally responsible for the outbreak.

Minister of the Interior Petkoff has gone to Aidin to try to stop the anti-Greek movement. He will issue a circular to local administrators holding the Greeks for any violence against Greeks.

London, Aug. 16.—Mr. Metaxas, the Greek minister to Great Britain, in the course of an interview here yesterday, said that the minister of the interior for the Ahlu disturbances are absolutely untrue. "I am in a position to declare," the minister said, "that on July 29, the Greek diplomatic agent at Sofia was informed that the minister of the interior for the Ahlu disturbances are absolutely untrue. BUSINESS SESSIONS OF GRAND ARMY BEGIN AT MINNEAPOLIS.

been beneficial not only to our comrades but to the nation which we served in its hour of peril."

The commander-in-chief bitterly arraigned those who, posing as the most eminent men of the nation, had proven false to their trust in various ways, but declared that among all such the name of no Civil war veteran could be found. On this subject he said:

"Repeatedly in the past various public occasions I have defiantly, and perhaps arrogantly, called attention to the fact that while the public conscience has been shocked and outraged by the exposure of moral turpitude on the part of many of those who stood among the ranks of volunteers, the cause of the nation, eminent in financial and religious circles, trusted guardians of the honor of our country, and men of whom loved ones dead and gone had thought they had made careful safeguard to cover the necessities for comrades in the line of duty, yet when their real characters were exposed, were exhibited in such poverty of soul and honor as compared to them, Lazarus in his lowest state might justly be considered a multi-millionaire. In the last searchlight from top to bottom, the name of not one veteran of the Civil war can be found."

The principles of the Grand Army of the Republic stands for, he declared, and he urged the celebration of the anniversary of the Civil war by the bringing in of new members.

The commander-in-chief reiterated his views expressed in general orders regarding a proper observance of Memorial day, and said that the real test of the sincerity of the members of the Grand Army of the Republic is in the way they observe the graves of Confederates buried on Northern soil, he had received a number of touching messages from mothers of the South whose sons are buried on Northern soil, pouring out their appeals for aid in the restoration of the graves of their sons.

These, he said, were too tender and sacred to be heralded publicly, and in sympathy with the cause of the South, he would have felt amply justified for the recommendations he made for games and amusements, may be checked.

He expressed gratification at the general observance of Flag day, following its official recognition by the Thirty-ninth anniversary. While the observance of Flag day, he said, is a thing of the past, the G. A. R. has its value for those who had reached maturity, he said, its primary object is to return the young men to their country.

After urging upon members to all-Americanize, he said: "The 'National Anthem,' Commander-in-Chief Tanner dwelt at length on the subject of patriotism, and the duty of the G. A. R. to the country. He said: 'The time is coming, it is not already here, when we must be able to think about the property of the Grand Army of the Republic now belonging to posterity. It is well known that the G. A. MAY LAND THE CONVENTIONW. E. McManus Invites the National Fraternal Congress to Duluth.

A telegram received last evening from W. E. McManus of this city, who, with George H. Laybourn, is a delegate to the National Fraternal congress at Montreal, announces that the prospects are good for Duluth landing the convention in 1907.

Mr. McManus says he is getting much encouragement and there seems to be no other point seriously competing. He asks that the Duluth interests help all they can to get the convention.

W. E. Hugo of the public affairs committee of the Duluth Commercial club was gratified over the prospect of getting the congress to meet here next year and he stated that the Commercial club committee would do everything possible to secure it.

TERRORISTS BEGIN ATTACKSInaugurate Carnival of Murder Apparently on Agreed Signal.

S. Petersburg, Aug. 16.—Acting apparently with a definite plan and at a signal the terrorists and revolutionaries yesterday inaugurated a carnival of murderous attacks with bombs and revolvers on the police and troops in various cities in Poland, echoes of which are heard from Samarra, Yalta, Kiova and even far away Chita, where acting Chief of Police Gordinchuk was slain on his own doorstep.

The revolutionist campaign flames out with especial violence at Warsaw, where over a score were slain in the streets and many wounded. Among the killed, according to the latest official advices, were two sergeants of police, eight patrolmen, three gendarmes, five soldiers, a Hebrew merchant and a woman. The returns are not all in. Policemen and soldiers were shot down like rabbits. Their assailants who traveled in small bands almost all escaped among the terrorized and sympathetic population. The only considerable capture was a band of ten men who had invaded a grog shop and killed a soldier. These were taken by a passing patrol.

Honors were employed in an attack on the police station in Warsaw, where two patrolmen and a soldier were wounded.

Other Polish cities singled out by the terrorists were the Lodz where six soldiers, three patrolmen and the wife of a police captain were wounded by the explosion of bombs in the police station and two soldiers and two terrorists killed in the streets. Ruda, where a bomb thrown into the police station, killed the wife and child of a captain; Vlotissk, where the chief of police was slain and a patrolman, where a given signal the policemen on all the posts were simultaneously attacked and several of them wounded.

On account of the agrarian disorders and especially several attacks on post trains, the railways between Samarra and Zintoust, which already was carrying guards on all trains, was today placed under martial law. Two of those attacks occurred today near Ufa, revolutionists in each case flagging a train, bursting open the doors of the mail cars with bombs and riving the registered pouches. The booty in one case amounted to $15,000 and in the other case the amount is not known.

The Imperial Messenger announces that owing to a serious revolutionary outbreak the whole of the Caucasus with the exception of a few districts is under martial law. In the district of Shusha and Sangsur, armed bands openly attacked detachments of troops. The authorities have sufficient military forces at their disposal to suppress the disorders.

With reference to racial conflicts in Eastern Caucasus the Imperial Messenger says a tendency to brigandage is noticeable among a section of the Mohammedan population, but that this can hardly be attributed to Pan-Islamism or a call to a holy war against Christians.

The unrest among the workmen of the Bakou and Tiflis districts has increased, but the contingency of a general railway strike is regarded as out of the question.

The Imperial Messenger adds that while the secret revolutionary propaganda has been successful among the Armenians it has met with no success among the Tatars and that the mountain tribes remain loyal. The troops in the Caucasus continue true to their duty, reports of disorders in individual regiments in most cases being exaggerated. The committee of conciliation also, the publication adds, have done good work in maintaining order.

The efforts of the authorities are directed to the peaceful solution of the agrarian question. It is asserted by the Imperial Messenger that a bill already has been submitted to the cabinet to readjust the relations between the peasants and the land owners, but that the carrying out of the project has been postponed owing to the present disturbed situation.

The administration of the Caucasus is intent on carrying out reforms, but perfect tranquility can only be secured when disorders in the rest of the empire cease.

WELLMAN MAY QUIT.Lateness of Season May Delay Dash to the Pole.

London, Aug. 16.—A dispatch from Christiania to the Daily Mail says that private letters received there from Spitzbergen state that owing to the lateness of the season, Walter Wellman, the chief of the Chicago-Record Herald Arctic expedition, has abandoned the project of ballooning to the North pole this year.

INAUGURATES ITS SERVICE. Chicago, Aug. 16.—The Illinois Tunnel company inaugurated its freight service yesterday after five years of preparation and construction. Record runs in the handling of freight were made from many of the forty big business houses and the four railroads connected with the tunnel. Six cars laden with merchandise each made the run from the Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul freight house, a distance of two and one-half miles, in seven minutes. Consignments from a big department store's warehouse on the west side of the city reached the distributing station in twelve minutes. The company has about forty-five miles of tunnels under the streets of Chicago.

SELECT OFFICERS.

Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 16.—The Society of the Army of the Philippines late yesterday afternoon elected the following officers: Commander-in-chief, Maj. Gen. Arthur MacArthur, Jr., U. S. A.; first senior vice commander, Capt. H. A. Crow, Pennsylvania; first junior vice commander, L. Hamilton, Michigan; second junior vice commander, Earl G. Smith, Kansas; third junior vice commander, Maj. Gen. J. Franklin Bell, U. S. A.; fourth junior vice commander, J. A. Beebe, Des Moines; quartermaster general, Lieut. C. B. Lewis, Colorado; judge advocate, J. O'Donnell, Kansas City; chaplain, Rev. J. A. Beebe, Des Moines. Next year's meeting will be at Kansas City.

WORKMEN HOLD ANNUAL PICNICThe Duluth and Superior Lodges Enjoy Outing at Lincoln Park.

Fully 3,000 persons attended the annual picnic of the Ancient Order of United Workmen of Duluth and Superior, held yesterday at Lincoln park.

The day was threatening and sultry, but the planners minded it not at all. They forgot everything but to have a good time. The picnic was a success and the outing began early yesterday morning and continued unabated all day, concluding with speeches in the evening.

The speakers included Past Grand Master Workman W. H. White, Grand Master Workman F. H. White, and Deputy Grand Master Workman Charles Fox Davis.

There were the usual holiday sports and a game of ball between the married and single workmen, which resulted in a victory for the bachelors. Most of the arrangements were in charge of J. A. Schumacher, T. Pinto, S. M. Smith, William Burdick and T. J. St. Germain.

WORKS SMOOTH GAME.Crook Gets Number of Forged Checks Cashed by Merchants.

A smooth individual of good appearance is said to have cleaned up about $100 on Saturday in Duluth by presenting forged checks to merchants in payment for articles purchased and receiving the change therefor. The principal work was done on Saturday afternoon after the banks had closed.

The game was to go into some store, order something for a well known resident, coolly present the check in payment, and receive the balance in cash. The check never aroused much suspicion for the time.

Victor Huot was victimized, the worker ordering a gallon of ice cream to the home of A. L. Ordean. He got the difference between its price and $15 in cash. The check was signed "J. B. Sellwood," apparently intending to represent the signature of Capt. Joseph W. Sellwood. In another place a safety razor was purchased and a similar check presented.

There were a number of such cases and apparently the forger was not refused in any place. It is believed that he got away with his gains. The cases were not reported until Monday when it was found that the checks were no good. By that time the stranger had disappeared.

CONDITIONS FAVORABLEFine Weather Enables Contractors to Rush Paving Work.*Second Street is Last Big Tear-Up for Several Years.

Weather conditions for the past three weeks have been ideal from a contractor's standpoint and the work of laying the tar macadam paving on Second street from Sixth avenue west to Seventh avenue east has been proceeding rapidly. The work is all complete from Sixth to First avenues west and the street has been opened to traffic. From First avenue west to Second avenue east, one side of the road has been finished and is ready for use, while the other side is all ready for the last layer of tar and the rock.

If the weather conditions continue favorable and nothing happens to the mixing plant, the contractors expect to have one-half of the roadway completed some distance past the Presbyterian church on Third avenue east by Saturday night and will then commence work on the remaining half of the road which they hope to finish up to the same point next week.

The reason for completing half the roadway at a time was on account of a special request received from those interested in the Cleland-Norton wedding which is to be held next Wednesday at the Presbyterian church, that at least half of the street be ready for use at that time. It is probable that the whole width will be paved by that time, but in order to make certain the contractors obligingly confined their efforts to rushing one side of the street. When the whole job, from Sixth avenue west to Seventh avenue east, will be completed depends so much on weather conditions, and on the operation of the mixer, that nothing definite can be said.

CLAIMS TO HAVE SEEN STENSLANDPittsburg Engineer Declares He Met Him on Train.

Pittsburg, Aug. 16.—The Chronicle Telegraph last night was authorized for the statement that Paul O. Stensland, the defaulting president of the Seven Mile Avenue State bank of Chicago, was in this city yesterday and is now thought to be in the East. According to this report Stensland was seen aboard a train at the union station by Oscar Holmer, a mechanical engineer, who had been a friend of Stensland, but had not seen him for two years. Holmer had gone to the city to get a friend and was on his way East and while talking in the Pullman car his attention was unexplainably attracted to a man seated next to him.

"I walked up to him and said, 'Hello Stensland, what are you doing here?'"

"For God's sake," he said, "is it you? Don't give a friend away."

"I told him that he and his affairs were none of mine, and then he declared that he was almost out of his mind with worry. He did not say where he had been. He told me that he was going to move and I had to jump off."

"My friend, who came from Rochester via Buffalo told me that he had been on the train from that city, and that night said he had heard nothing of Stensland passing through here and was indignant that Holmer had not declared that he was almost out of his mind with worry."

The police have taken no action in the matter. Holmer's name does not appear in the city directory.

Buenos Ayres, Aug. 16.—The entertainment of Secretary of State Root, yesterday, comprised a visit to the national primary schools, attendance at the races, to which he was accompanied by President Alcora in the state carriage, and several minor events. Mrs. Root held a reception at the residence of Mrs. Scherich in the avenue Alvear, to which a large number of American ladies were invited. Last night there was a gala performance at the opera house. The streets in all parts of the city were covered with flowers.

THE DRIEST IN HISTORYPast Six Weeks Are Without Parallel in Duluth Records.*Lawns and Shade Trees Dying From Want of Moisture.

Weather Forecaster Richardson says this morning that the dry spell which has been on now for about two months, breaks all records in the history of the weather office. He said that it was no use to look up comparative statements and report them, for the reason that the present spell in Duluth stands out by itself and cannot be well compared with any other period in the history of the weather office here, and the records extend back thirty-six years.

During the present month up to date, with a day more than half the month gone, only 10.10 of an inch of rain has fallen. This is not only unusual, but is, as Mr. Richardson puts it, "extremely unusual." All of last month only 32.00 of an inch of rain fell, so that in the last six weeks and over, only 1.61 inches of rain have fallen, and much more rain is simply dew, which is counted as moisture in the same class as rain.

One result of this condition is that the city water department is profiting. Lawns, shade trees and shrubbery are suffering from the want of moisture, and owners of them are attempting to overcome the deficiency by turning the hose on them. This, however, under the hot sun which has been the rule all of these weeks, has not availed much. Grass is burning up and trees are wilting. The condition of these usually green things is deplorable, but nothing can be done but hope.

Duluth people who usually kick because of much rain in the summer months are now hoping each morning when they wake up that they will find the rain falling.

FINE FLOW OF WATERSecured at Kelliher, and Waterworks Plant to be Secured.

Kelliher, Minn., Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—M. D. Stoner of Bemidji and C. W. Jewett of Blackduck, who are the engineers for the village of Kelliher, have completed the test well for Kelliher, which was made for the purpose of determining what kind of a waterworks plant could be installed there. They struck a fine flow of water at a depth of ninety-six feet, and will now prepare the plans for a system that will be installed. Mr. Stoner states that everything will be in readiness within a few days for the awarding of the contract and beginning of the actual work of putting in the mains, etc.

THREE YOUNG WOMEN DROWNED.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 16.—Fannie King, aged 11, and Misses Nellie and Lena Jordahl, aged 20 and 18, all of Lake Park, Minn., were drowned in a small boat yesterday. They were on a raft with several other boys and girls, drifting into deep water and sank. All were saved but these three. The bodies were soon recovered.

DIES OF HIS WOUNDS.

Sparta, Wis., Aug. 16.—Elmer Feltz of Milwaukee, the man who assaulted and wounded seven people on the Milwaukee train here, Monday afternoon, died at the county jail yesterday.

OFFICERS OUSTEDBy Portion of Stockholders of Homestead Extension Company.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—After holding the property of the Homestead Extension Mining company at Deadwood, S. D., for a month with an armed force, Thomas McHugh, a discharged manager, appeared in Elgin, Tuesday, called a snap meeting of the 500 stockholders in that city, and induced them to pass a resolution ousting all the officers of the company. The company is capitalized for $5,000,000 and the officers are New York and Chicago capitalists. More than $600,000 of the stock is held in Elgin.

HEIRESS TO MILLIONSPOOR MAN'S FIANCEE.

Bridgeport, Conn., Aug. 16.—The ardent and dauntless love of Johannes Schlott, a fine young Norwegian sailor man, has won a splendid prize. The engagement of Miss May Esther Bedford, daughter of Edward T. Bedford of Brooklyn, N. Y., to ex-Lieut. Schlott has been announced. They will be married in October.

Miss Bedford is a blonde, very pretty, about 22 years old. Her father, whose wealth is estimated at $15,000,000, is high in the councils of the Standard Oil company.

Johannes Schlott was first lieutenant in the Norwegian navy for a few years. Very recently he was compelled to take the position of chauffeur here, for he has no fortune. For a time Mr. Bedford regarded the match with disfavor. But the determined Norwegian cut out his prize from under the guns of her father's displeasure.

We Will Cure You

We want all afflicted people to feel that they can come to our office freely for examination and explanation of their condition without being bound by any obligation to take treatment unless they so desire. We will make a thorough and scientific EXAMINATION of your ailments FREE OF CHARGE—an examination that will disclose your true physical condition, without a knowledge of which you are groping in the dark. If you have taken treatment elsewhere without success, we will show you why it failed. Every person should take advantage of this opportunity to learn their true condition, as we will advise them how to best regain their health and strength, and preserve them unto ripe old age. WE MAKE NO MISLEADING STATEMENTS or deceptive propositions to the afflicted, neither do we promise to cure them in a few days in order to secure their patronage (an honest doctor of recognized ability does not resort to such methods). We guarantee A SAFE AND LASTING CURE IN THE QUICKEST POSSIBLE TIME without leaving injurious after effects in the system, and at the lowest cost possible for HONEST SKILLFUL AND SUCCESSFUL TREATMENT. We cure KIDNEY AND URINARY DISEASES, SMALL WEAK ORGANS, SEMINAL EMISSIONS, STRICTURE, DISCHARGES, VARICOCELE, NERVOUSNESS, DEBILITY, CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON and all diseases and weaknesses due to habits, dissipation, or the result of special diseases. Pabst Blue Ribbon beer is made from Pabst exclusive eight-day malt and choicest hops with purest water. The barley from which the Pabst exclusive eight-day malt is made is a special carefully selected barley and developed in the natural way; in eight days it produces a malt rich in the food value of the grain. One eminent scientist says: "Pabst retains all the nourishment of the grain in his exclusive eight-day process of making malt and therefore Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer is the richest as well as the cleanest beer in the world." Only the choicest hops are used in the brewing of Pabst beer—thus, in addition to being the cleanest and richest beer in the world, Pabst Blue Ribbon is also the most healthful.

LECTURES CONTINUED

Second Day's Session of Superior Assembly
Proves Interesting.

Professor Blaisdell and Charles Payne are the Speakers.

Yesterday's session of the Superior assembly was opened at 8:45 a. m. with devotional exercises conducted by Rev. Harry Milford.

At 9 o'clock Professor Blaisdell delivered the second of his lectures on "Consecutive Old Testament History." At the outset he endeavored to make clear that Christianity did not depend upon a knowledge of the historical facts of the Bible, but upon a man's willingness to follow God's leading. A knowledge of how God led the Hebrews into a higher and better conception of God would help the Christian to understand how God leads individual lives," he said. He took up the history of the Israelites from the time of their bondage in Egypt until the time they had established a kingdom.

Interesting discoveries, he said, had been made in recent years, which point to the time of the Jewish bondage. Pythom and Roames, two ancient treasure cities, supposed to have been built by the Israelites, have been unearthed, and a curious fact is that the lower stories of their walls were made of bricks without straw, indicating that they were probably the work of the Israelites, done at the time when the Egyptian king commanded the people to make bricks without straw.

Following the story of the departure of Israel from Egypt and the giving of the law to Moses upon Mt. Sinai, Professor Blaisdell spoke of an old stone engraving which pictured a God handing a law to a king who ruled a thousand years before the time of Moses. The old engraving showed that the conception of God as the author of the law was a very early one and subsequent religious history has shown how this conception has grown.

After the Israelites had been led into the promised land, they were not in a condition to unite as one people, but being of different tribes and languages, each fought its battles alone. The men who were strongest in a military way became the leaders of the tribes, and thus are found in the books of Joshua, Judges and First Samuel, the accounts of many local heroes, like Sampson and Gideon.

Following the example of the nations about them, and for the purpose of better protection, they united later, under their first king, Saul.

At this point Prof. Blaisdell will take up the story in his next lecture. The course which he is giving should be especially helpful to Sunday school teachers and workers, as it connects the whole Hebrew history, and forms an excellent background for Bible study.

Charles A. Payne's lecture on "Nature's Story of Creation" proved very interesting and instructive. He is a great lover of nature, and pictured, in a vivid way, the processes by which the glaciers of the ice age had hollowed out the lakes of Wisconsin, and how the streams had for millions of years been cutting the canyons of the Rockies.

Prof. Blaisdell's lecture in the evening on "A Trip Through Palestine," was well illustrated with stereoscopic views, and showed the audience scenes in Jordan and Jerusalem.

THE BUSTY STORK.

Cleveland, Aug. 16.—The stork first located the home of Mr. and Mrs. Yates in Blaine avenue thirty-five years ago. Since then he has paid twenty-three visits. "Yes, it's a big family," said Mr. Yates. "We have seventeen boys and eight girls—no that would make twenty-five, wouldn't it? Sixteen boys. It's hard to keep track of them."

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

George Manning, 7 years old, his brother, Herbert, aged 5, and George Watson, 16 years old, were drowned in the Monongahela river near McKeesport, Pa., yesterday. The Manning boys were fishing when the younger fell in and George was dragged under the surface trying to save his brother. The Watson boy was bathing and was seized with cramps. Forty persons were poisoned by impure ice cream at Salisbury Beach, Mass., last evening and six of the victims are in a serious condition.

Oliver P. Farr was arrested at Livingston, Mont., yesterday upon charges from McKee, Ga., where Farr was cashier of the Citizens bank. He is charged with the name of W. W. Williams, claiming to be a detective in the employ of the Georgia bank in a hunt for the missing cashier.

The Socialist party of Nebraska held its state convention at Lincoln yesterday with an attendance of seventy-five delegates. A state ticket was nominated, headed by Ezra Taylor of Broken Bow, Neb., for governor. Among the resolutions was one denouncing the prosecution in Idaho of Meyer, Haywood and Pettibone.

Cal Stewart, a prominent stockman, was arrested at Marietta, I. T., charged with the killing of his brother, Bonham, Tuesday afternoon. It is alleged that the men quarreled while driving from Marietta and that Cal shot his brother. The Stewart boys were under $10,000 bonds to answer a charge of murder a few months ago.

The Bank of Smithville, Ritchie county, W. Va., was closed yesterday by a state order.

Cumberland Presbyterians who recognize the Presbyterian church, applied to the Johnson county circuit court at Warrenton, Mo., yesterday for an injunction to restrain the Cumberland Presbyterians of Warrenton congregation from interfering with the unionists in the exclusive possession of the house of worship and from using the name Cumberland Presbyterians as part of their organization. After hearing arguments from attorneys for fifteen hours, Judge Bradley granted the injunction.

The twenty-five women at Columbus, Miss., yesterday, who were charged with the murder of a man, were held in jail until midnight, when they secured a nuptial certificate and were released. The sheriff took out the fixtures of the jail and had the sheriff take charge. The Seventeenth, Ohio district Republican met in convention yesterday at Newark, and renominated Martin L. Smyser of Wooster for congress.

The sixteenth annual meeting of the Ohio Brokers' association convened yesterday at Put-in-Bay, Ohio, with about 400 bankers and business men in attendance. President Stevens of Toledo, in his opening address, attacked the present monetary system, saying that as matters stand, the government is neither definitely in the banking business nor out of it.

A court-martial convened yesterday at Mare Island, Cal., to try Edward B. Dunn, executive officer of the receiving ship Independence, on the charge of conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman. Admiral Miller is president. A motion that the trial be held behind closed doors was overruled by the court.

Protests against the alleged violation of the 8-hour law and the employment of Chinese coolie labor on Panama canal work were filed with the isthmian canal commission yesterday at Washington by representatives of District Assembly No. 66, Knights of Labor.

A. Harry Cowley faced Justice Batdorf at Battle Creek, Mich., yesterday on the charge of attempting to sue fraudulent Union Pacific railway stock valued at $10,000 as collateral for a loan with the Central National bank of this city. Cowley asked for an examination, but hinted that unless his attorney objects he will waive it later. He asked that his bond be reduced, but the court held it at $3,000. Cowley could find no bondsmen and will remain in the county jail until April next.

The damages to the battleship Illinois in a recent collision with the Alabama amounts to $50,000.

A mixed southbound train on the Franklin and Pennsylvania line, leased by the Southern railway, was derailed at Redwood, Va., early yesterday, and the conductor, mail agent and three passengers were injured, none fatally. Two cars left the track.

The trial of Hill Gooch, one of the alleged mob leaders under arrest at Springfield, Mo., has been set for Sept. 8. The case was to have been opened yesterday, but the delay in securing a jury to try Gooch and another alleged lyncher, made it necessary to continue the Gooch case.

MRS. KEY BREAKS DOWN.

Woman Whose Name is Linked With Stensland's Needs Rest.

Baraboo, Wis., Aug. 16.—The excitement and strain of the last few days have been too great for Mrs. Leone Langdon Key, and she is on the verge of physical collapse. For a week she has been besieged with reporters, detectives and others, and all kinds of sensational stories have appeared in the Chicago newspapers. Yesterday she was taken ill and physicians who were called pronounced her case not serious, but recommended perfect rest.

Chicago detectives and Wisconsin police, who have been in this vicinity and Madison for a week looking for Stensland, have given up the chase. The last clue that he was seen near Madison as late as last Friday, and positively identified by several persons, proved to be another false alarm.

This little exhibition was nearly as exciting as a game of checkers at the home for destitute old nuns.

The old microbe, which the fans hoped had been rid of, was back at the old stand and working overtime.

Only three errors of commission were checked up against the Sox, but the errors of omission were numerous, and the afternoon session frequent.

Sister Hopkins essayed the role of pitcher again, and Sis had about as much license to pitch as the groundkeeper.

The Irishman tried the hint game on him, and they had the lucky southerner on the ragged edge of nervous prostration. After he had passed Fitzgerald, the first man up, Foster and Rose both bunt and filled the bases. Hotten also bunted, but Fitzgerald was caught at the plate.

Harlan followed with another bunt hit and Foster scored. Stewart and Denevan were retired.

They came right after Sis again in the second, Grogan getting a single, and Foster beating out a bunt. After then decided that it was time to get serious, and they started after him in the third. Rose got his base on a bunt, and went to second and third on sacrifice hits. Stewart followed with a bunt, and Grogan hit for three bases, netting three runs.

That was enough until the seventh, when a double by Rose, a single by Hotten, and O'Dea's error put in two more runs.

In the eighth, O'Dea let Grogan reach first and Fitzgerald followed with a home run, adding two more useless runs to the score of the visitors.

Meanwhile the Sox were hitting Fargo pretty freely, but the only run they pitched them was in the fourth, when O'Dea boosted one over the fence to start with. McGraw followed with a two-bagger and scored on Leighty's single.

In the seventh with two down, Stevens got hit, and O'Dea bounded one off the top boards of the clubhouse. He fell, but a kick and a foot of going over, but in spite of the fact that this was the first time, Stevens missed the first bag, and only got to second on it, whereas he might easily have made third and perhaps scored. McCormick, the next man up, flew out.

One rather remarkable feature was the fact that not a man on either team struck out.

GIANTS WIN FIRST.

Three Costly Errors Lose the Game for the Maroons.

Winnipeg, Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.) The Maroons' defeat decided the game yesterday. Though Becker for the Giants was more severely panned than Bushelman, three costly errors lost the game for the Chicagoans, the final score being 3 to 2. The score: R. H. E. Houghton.....1 0 0 0 2 3 7 2 0 Winnipeg.....0 1 1 0 0 0 0 2 3 0 Batteries—Baker, Smith; St. Clair, and Leach. Umpire—Hastings and Voss. Attendance, 1,500.

FOURTEEN INNINGS.

Calumet Wins Long and Exciting Game From Lake Linden.

Lake Linden, Mich., Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fourteen innings were necessary to decide the Calumet-Lake Linden game yesterday, a batting streak in the last inning resulting in a sensational crossing the plate for the winning tally. While both Rogers and Newcome were in the game, they performed in great style when there were men on bases and their support was snappy and spirited. Becker and Leighty, lately sold to big league clubs, gave a farewell performance. Becker's work which was good, and Kaiser and Cox distinguished themselves in the field. R. H. E. Calumet.....0 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 1 2 1 0

DOPE OF THE DAY

The Sox lost ground yesterday.

Nothing but a phenomenal spurt can land the team in the race now.

Duluth has four more games on the home grounds with Fargo.

The heat seemed to affect the players yesterday, and they were slow and dopey.

Treadway may be back in time to pitch today's game. His arm should be in shape by this time.

Leighty, Wotell and Becker have played last game with Lake Linden, and are scheduled to leave today for the big leagues.

Houghton is pressing the leaders hard in the pennant race, and the Giants will doubtless be in it this fall.

The Sox have eighteen more games to be played, and of these, all but six are on the home grounds.

McGraw's decision on an outfield fly yesterday, caused a howl from the fans, but the umpire was probably correct. Hanrahan held the ball as long as he was required to, and dropped it when he started to throw.

The record of the Chicago teams in the big leagues is nothing short of phenomenal. The White Sox have come up with a rush, defeating all the leading teams, and they are now clinching their hold on first place by taking games from the weaker sides.

Columbus apparently has a clinch on the American association pennant, barring accidents. The Senators are playing great ball, and the other teams seem unable to stop them.

CINCINNATI, 3; PHILADELPHIA, 1. Cincinnati, Aug. 16.—The feature of yesterday's game between Cincinnati and Philadelphia was "tagging" during a steal of second base. MAY MANAGE WHITE SOX Spike Anderson May Take Charge of Team Next Year.

More Changes in Lineup ---Winnipeg Exceeds Salary Limit.

"Spike" Anderson, he of the cotton top and the "How do you do?" man manage the Duluth baseball team next year, according to a rumor current in fandom.

It is understood that O'Dea is not personally, but everyone admits that the Duluth team, and twice in the last year, and while in Duluth Spike contended to a close friend here that he did not like Winnipeg and did not intend to remain there another year. He said that he would like to come to Duluth and take charge of the Duluth team.

The feeling of his spikelets is reinterpreted by the Duluth fans. Some of the faithful do not feel kindly toward Spike, but everyone admits that the little center fielder knows the fine points of the game, and is an aggressive, hard worker, and will always get the best there is in his players.

Spike will be carried over by this year's club, and make a pennant winning team next year.

Some changes are to be made in the Duluth team before the end of the week. Sis is a good man in the box when he chooses to pitch ball, but for some reason he has not been working right since losing the Duluth team, and twice in the last two days he has been taken out.

Yesterday afternoon he remarked that it would be the last chance Duluth would have to take him out, and the fans rather hope it will be.

A new third baseman is also due to arrive from Ned Egan of the Burlington club, and comes highly recommended.

The manner in which some of the clubs are openly exceeding the salary limit is becoming a joke in league circles.

The Winnipeg club is carrying thirteen men at the present time, on a supposed salary list of $100,000. Men like Anderson, Zeider, Bond, Menasco and Sporer, are not working for $10 a month, and some of them not for $15. The club has four pitchers and two catchers, and there probably isn't a man on the payroll who is paid for less than $10 to $15 a month. If the Winnipeg club gets off with $1,500 a month for its payroll, the fans will miss their guess by a wide margin.

Brazen It Out.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—The New York National league club has brought a civil suit in the New York supreme court against the Chicago National league club for $2,500, alleging damages to that extent on account of the forfeited game of Aug. 7 between the two clubs when Milwaukee was refused entrance to the Polo grounds and gave the game to Chicago.

Draw Fight at Denver.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 16.—Mike (Twin) Sullivan and Tuba Smith fought a twenty-round draw here last night for the white welterweight championship.

Decision Not Popular.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 16.—Abe Attell, featherweight champion, got a decision over Frank Carney of Buffalo, N. Y., here last night for the title of the fifteenth round. The two boys were battling fiercely at the end and the decision of referee Siler was hardly popular.

STREAMS VERY LOW

Sportsmen Complain of Conditions Due to Lack of Rain.

Poor Fishing is Expected During Remainder of Season.

The trout streams about Duluth, in fact all through Northern Minnesota and Wisconsin are at their lowest ebb, due to the continued dry weather and the fishing prospects are about as bad as can be imagined.

Duluth sportsmen have been out recently to try the neighboring streams report that it is useless to attempt to catch any trout with the water as low as at the present time.

Sucker river is said to have dwindled down to a mere creek and the water is so low in Lester river every person can wade the river bed dry shod for a great many miles.

Places in the river bed that have been under water the season around in the past are said to show rocky and dry with now and then a shallow pool.

The trout, it is claimed have disappeared, either to seek the deeper waters of Lake Superior or the waters of the feeding lakes.

The neighboring rivers were not nearly so high this spring as last, but after the first of July last there has been little rain of any consequence over the entire district drained by the northern flowing streams, while in some parts of the district there is almost a drought and the smaller streams have practically dried up.

Local fishermen are feeling rather discouraged over the outlook, as they were planning on at least one more trip before the trout season closes Sept. 1. According to the present indications there will be no more trout fishing this year, at least no legal fishing for even the rarer to raise the stream and the fish begin to come down again it would be several weeks, it is claimed, before the fishing would be any good, as the high water would be full of food for trout.

One peculiar instance involving a trout catch is said to have taken place at Smithville, within the last few days. Several small boys were playing along a small creek which is not even of a size to designate by a name, and in which there is scarcely enough water at present to float a chip, when they espied a big trout that had practically been stranded when the water went Open Tournament of Tennis Club Will Begin Friday.

Winner Will Challenge for Head of Lakes Championship.

Tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock, play in the open tournament of the Duluth Tennis club will be commenced, Blomquist playing Latham, Graff meeting Hopkins, and Culmer trying conclusions with Grady.

The drawing for the various rounds was made last evening, and it is planned to have the first round completed by Saturday night. The second round will be played Monday and Tuesday, and the third round Wednesday; the semi-finals Thursday; the finals Friday, and the challenge match between Loren Kennedy, the Superior man who at present holds the cup, and the winner of the tournament, on Saturday. Play in the doubles will be started Thursday and finished by Monday or Tuesday of the following week.

The schedule is so arranged as to carry this program, and the first round will have to be played as outdoor weather permitting, or contestants will forfeit. In the other rounds matches may be postponed by mutual agreement of the players, provided they are played thus for the winner to commence play in the succeeding round.

Saturday's schedule is as follows: 3:00, Rhin, vs. Gail; 5:00, Finch vs. Cheney, and McLeod vs. W. E. Kennedy, which completes the first round. W. H. Rhin is a Wisconsin player, and is the only man entered who is not a resident of the Head of the Lakes.

The drawing for the first and second rounds is as follows: FIRST ROUND. SECOND ROUND.

W. H. Rhin, T. A. Gail, D. Blomquist, D. E. Latham, C. Graff, L. J. Hopkins, W. C. Culmer, R. Grady, J. E. Finch, E. L. Cheney, K. N. McLeod, W. E. Kennedy, Mather, E. S. Ingalls, R. St. Clair, J. Norman, W. Drinkwater.

AGENT FAILED TO APPEAR. San Francisco, Aug. 16.—A bench warrant was issued yesterday for the arrest of H. C. Quinby, agent of the Eagle Fire Insurance company. Quinby had recently been brought before the grand jury on examination as to his methods of settling claims. He refused to answer questions and was cited to appear before Judge Graham next week, cause why he should not be punished for contempt. He did not appear and it was stated that his whereabouts is unknown.

GIVES STORY OF THE RAIDS

Department Official Tells of Killing of Japanese Poachers.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 16.—E. W. Sims, solicitor for the department of commerce and labor, sent to the St. Paul rookeries to investigate conditions there and who arrived two days after the killing of the five Japanese poachers, returned here yesterday on the steamer Jefferson. Telling of the situation in the rookeries, he said:

"There were two days of active raiding by the Japanese who had four schooners and possibly five. Monday, July 16, during a dense fog, the guards heard firing at various points around the island, indicating that the raiders were shooting seals in the water. Government Agent Lembecky investigated and captured six Japs in a boat as they failed to kill seals with clubs. These surrendered without a fight. Later in the afternoon continuous firing was heard around the islands.

"Tuesday two native guards found three Japanese landing in a boat. Two of the raiders were armed. The naval guards ordered the Japanese to surrender, but instead they jumped into their boat and started to pull away. One shout of warning was fired, but the Japanese continued to row. Then the guards fired to kill, two of the Japanese also being killed outright and one wounded. The boat drifted to shore and the wounded man was cared for. The same afternoon Lembecky and fifteen guards surprised a boat filled with raiders. The men started to row away, carrying their plunder with them, when the guards fired, killing two others. One was dead in the boat, another was seen to float away in the surf and a third was thrown overboard from the schooner. Twelve were captured. The schooner then weighed anchor and got away.

"I will make a full report to the secretary of the department. The twelve captured were bound over to the grand jury and imprisoned at Juneau. They may be indicted for piracy."

SULLIVAN DECLINES.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—Democratic National Committee Chairman R. C. Sullivan gave out yesterday a statement which he prepared and mailed broadcast throughout Illinois in reply to William J. Bryan's demand that he resign from the national committee, and his subsequent assertion that his opposition to Mr. Sullivan was prompted solely by the belief that "Roger Sullivan and John P. Hopkins had deliberately robbed the Democrats of Illinois of their political rights." Mr. Sullivan declines to concede to Mr. Bryan the right to question his Democracy, or his membership in the national committee.

"Judgment as to my Democracy," he says, "rests with the Democrats of the district in which I live. My title to membership in the national

WANTS TO TAX PULLMAN CARS

Chicago Corporation Counsel Claim Their Home is There.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—That Chicago is the home of all Pullman cars, and that they should be taxed here was the claim made yesterday by Corporation Counsel Lewis, when he attacked the valuation of the Pullman company, before the board of review. He contended that the fact that a car journeyed from state to state on regular or irregular trips did not exempt it from taxation in Chicago.

In addition to demanding the taxation of the cars, Lewis insisted that the company pay taxes on $25,000,000 of capital stock, $20,000,000 surplus and back taxes of $1,500,000. He also took up the company's real estate, some of which is held by the Pullman association. When the Pullman case was called by President Upham of the board of review, counsel for the company were unable to answer questions put to them by Lewis, and the matter was therefore continued until Friday.

AMPLE TIME FOR CONSIDERATION

French Recall That Separation is Not Effective Till December.

Paris, Aug. 16.—The pope's encyclical letter to the French archbishops and bishops regarding the separation law continues a topic of absorbing interest here, but the discussion is largely polemical, since the law does not take effect until December and this gives ample time for reflection. Moreover, the absence of all high personages, official or parliamentary, defers an exact determination of the government's course. Nothing similar to the inventory riots has occurred or is expected to occur either in Paris or the provinces, although the actual publication of the law in December will probably accentuate the situation. M. Briand, minister of public worship, is absent from Paris, but the Temps yesterday gathered the views of several high officials who point out that the encyclical is merely negative, condemning the cultural associations provided by the law, but giving no real instructions relative to the bishops' future course.

The pope's intention is regarded in government circles as leaving the bishops free to act in the way which to them seems best, without exciting a violent conflict between the civil and religious powers. The pope, they contend, by his refusal to recognize the constitution of the church, the rejection of the associations, entertained the afterthought that the government might assist the Catholics in their efforts to form a new association, while carrying out the spirit of the law, would recognize the divine constitution of the church, the unchangeable rights of the pontiff and the hierarchy's complete control of sacred edifices.

However, this hypothesis, if true, has not, according to the semi-official view, any great chance of realization, such a project being considered acceptable by the government, which regards the law as incapable of modification. Negotiations evidently are not out of the question, but how they may be entered upon remains problematical.

The Assumption day services at the churches yesterday were attended by great crowds. The day was observed as a national holiday, all of the government offices, the banks and the bourse being closed. The government observance of a church holiday is commented upon as an anomaly in connection with the controversy with the Vatican.

WANTS HIGH BAIL.

Government Asks It in Case of Convicted Silk Examiner.

New York, Aug. 16.—Charles C. Browne, the convicted silk examiner who was ordered released from the state prison at Sing Sing on Tuesday upon a writ of habeas corpus issued by Judge F. T. M. of the United States circuit court, was re-arrested as he stepped from the prison yesterday and arraigned before fore Judge Hough. Bail for his trial upon another indictment pending against him was fixed at $30,000. He was temporarily committed to the Tombs.

Assistant United States District Attorney Byrne told the court that he had been consulted previously on similar evidence and sentenced to two years' imprisonment, whereupon he fled to Canada, forfeiting a bond of $12,500. He asked that bail be now fixed at $100,000 on the ground that if Browne should again forfeit his bail and should not be tried the government could not be recompensed by any amount of money. Browne's counsel argued for a reduction of bail.

Judge Hough intimated that the government believed Browne a member of or a tool of a syndicate, and he thought that the bail should be high.

TEXAS REPUBLICANS

Go Through Form of Nominating Candidate for Governor.

El Paso, Texas, Aug. 16.—The Republican state convention completed its work by re-electing Cecil Lyon of Sherman state chairman and nominating the following ticket:

Governor, Dr. Carey A. Grey, Fanny county; Lieutenant-governor, Frederick H. H. of Guadalupe county; attorney-general, Charles W. Ogden, San Antonio; controller, Wentworth Manning, Van Sant county; treasurer, George Booth, Williams county; commissioner-general of land office, Harry C. Harbison, Amarillo; railroad commissioner, W. F. Connor, Dallas; superintendent of public instruction, F.

Vandervoort, Carrizozo Springs; justice of court of criminal appeals, A. G. Foster, El Paso.

The resolutions condemn the wasteful extravagance of the state Democratic administration; commend the Roosevelt administration; and condemn the Texas congressmen for opposing the Republican national administration "from whom aid comes to Texas."

TO CONSIDER CANDIDATES.

New York, Aug. 16.—A conference was held in this city yesterday between a sub-committee representing the international policyholders' committee and the representatives of the Mutual Life policyholders' association. The purpose of the conference is said to be to consider candidates for trustees on the Mutual policyholders' ticket. It was reported that those committees had practically agreed on a ticket.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear, there is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

RACE WAR IN MISSOURI.

Whiteside, Mo., Aug. 16.—Following a series of whippings, which has precipitated a race war, the negroes of Silex, six miles from here, are selling their property and fleeing. Any negro found in the place Saturday night is to be flogged, it is said.

The trouble is the outgrowth of a severe whipping which negroes gave a white 9-year-old son, last week. Last Saturday a party of whites, in retaliation, seized a negro boy and whipped him. Later the boy's mother was whipped in a warehouse.

PRESERVATION NECESSARY.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—Unless precautions are taken for the preservation and cultivation of our forests, the United States will be compelled to buy lumber from foreign countries, according to H. M. Hale of Washington, special representative of the department of forestry of the United States, who delivered an address yesterday before the members of the National Coopers' association. Mr. Hale quoted statistics showing the great

HE LIKED THE GAME.

Hobart News-Republican: A seedy-looking individual, apparently from the rural, entered Fockler's barber shop one day last week. He got in the second chair and told Charley he wanted the "whole works."

After Charley had trimmed him up till he would have passed for Leslie Nicklaek, he woke him up.

"Hair cut," says the sleeper, drowsily.

"Hair's cut," says Charley.

"Shave," says he, still half-asleep.

"Done shaved you."

"Shampoo."

"You've got 'er."

"Shine."

"Been shined."

"Neck shaved."

"Already been there."

"Shine hair."

"I've burned it."

The customer settled down in the chair until he was sitting on his neck, and says, "Pull a tooth."

Rheumatism Cured in 24 Hours.

T. J. Blackmore, of Haller & Blackmore, Pittsburgh, Pa., says: "A short time since I procured a bottle of Myoatic Cure. It got me out of the house in 24 hours. I took to my bed with rheumatism nine months ago and the Myoatic Cure is the only medicine that did me any good. I had five of the best physicians in the city, but I received very little relief from them. I know the Myoatic Cure well, it is represented and take pleasure in recommending it to other poor sufferers." Sold by all druggists.

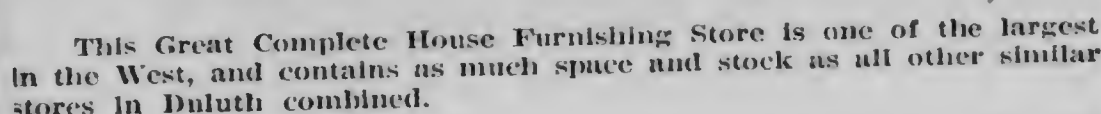

Baby Mine

Every mother feels a great dread of the pain and danger attendant upon the most critical period of her life. Becoming a mother should be a source of joy to all, but the suffering and danger incident to the ordeal makes its anticipation one of misery. Mother's Friend is the only remedy which relieves women of the great pain and danger of maternity; this hour, which is dreaded as woman's severest trial, is not only made painless, but all the danger is avoided by its use. Those who use this remedy are no longer despondent or gloomy; nervousness, nausea and other distressing conditions are overcome, the system is made ready for the coming event, and the serious accidents so common to the critical hour are obviated by the use of Mother's Friend. "It is worth its weight in gold," say many who have used it. $1.00 per bottle at drug stores. DEMANDS ENFORCEMENT OF PROPOSED REDUCTION

Governor Johnson Says
Railroads Should Reduce Grain Rates.

Commission Should Force Reduction Named in Compromise Proposal.

St. Paul, Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Governor Johnson today asked Attorney General Young for his opinion as to the constitutionality of the law providing for the election of members of the railway and warehouse commission. The governor says that within the past few days the St. Paul Dispatch, in an editorial, charged that the commissioners are restrained from performing the functions of their office by reason of being not constitutionally in office, and because of fear that the railroad corporations might institute proceedings to test the constitutionality of their election to office.

The governor also sent a letter to the state railroad and warehouse commission, in which he practically demands that the commission compel the railroads of the state to make a material reduction in grain rates, such as was offered by the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Soo roads in their "compromise" proposition made a few days ago. After referring to that proposition and its rejection, and in commending its rejection, he says: "By their own statement the three companies can afford to make a material reduction in grain rates, and they should be compelled to do it without delay. The demand that the present inquiry into rates be suspended, could not, of course, be entertained, inasmuch as the proceeding is in accordance with the instructions given you by the last legislature in joint resolution, chapter 359, laws of 1905. There is no reason for presuming that the inquiry being conducted before you will result in any injustice to the railroad companies concerned; if it should the courts are open to them for the purpose of having such corrected, and they should be willing to abide by the decision of the same tribunal which passed not only upon every conceivable property right of the individual citizen, but upon questions of life and death. "It is a startling and audacious proposition that your board should forbear continuing an inquiry which you had commenced pursuant to legislative instructions, and of the suggestion made on behalf of railroads other than the three making the proposal, that such a reduction would disturb their rates, is equally preposterous. The people of one portion of the state should not continue to pay excessive rates in order that the symmetry of the rates in force upon some other road, in some other portion of the state, or in other states, should be maintained. "I request, therefore, that you take such means as may be available, and may advise you are efficient, for the purpose of securing to the people of this state the reduction in rates upon coarse grains by the three roads I have mentioned, pending the decision of the board upon the question of merchandise rates; nor should such reduction be limited to shipments originating more than 100 miles from the terminals; or if you should be advised that such action is not feasible, that the scope of the present inquiry be so enlarged as to include not only the propriety of the present rates on merchandise, but also commodity rates in this state generally."

10 a. m.	80	2 p. m.	82

This is the second hottest day of the year. The hottest was July 21 and that had only one degree advantage of today.

The highest point reached today was 88 degrees at 1 o'clock. The day started out hot, and many who were up at the outrageous hour of 5 o'clock this morning declare that it was much hotter then than later in the day. This is explained as being an overhanging of the humid weather of yesterday together with the actually hot conditions of today and being before the time a breeze started.

The government thermometer, while registering the actual heat, probably does not do justice to the heat as it is felt down in the city, where the high buildings and the reflected heat from walls and sidewalks increase the temperature. It is believed that the heat downtown was from five to ten degrees so it is safe to say, it is thought, that the thermometers down in the city showing as high as 82 or 84 were about right.

The government thermometer performed a rather peculiar contortion about 2 o'clock this afternoon. It registered 88 degrees at 1 o'clock and held that temperature during almost the entire hour. Then a lake wind struck it and shoved the mercury down suddenly to 75. A moment or so later the heat took effect again and the thermometer was shoved up to 82 degrees which was the register at 2 o'clock. These changes took place within fifteen minutes.

BOYS HAVING HILARIOUS TIME

Are Enjoying Themselves Hugely at the Deer-wood Camp.

The first news from the seventy-five boys who went out to the Y. M. C. A. camp at Deerwood, Monday, was received here today. They found everything ready for them when they arrived at Serpentine lake, Monday noon and took dinner in the camp. Since then they have been having the greatest time imaginable, the fishing being fine, and the beach near the camp being ideal for bathing.

There has not been a narrow escape to say nothing of any real accidents so far, and with the elaborate precautions which the men in charge are taking to prevent any mishap there seems but little chance that there will be any. Many of the boys have been too busy to write home as yet but the "correspondence corner" which is fitted out in the big headquarters tent, has been pretty well patronized and most of the parents have been kept well informed as to their boys' welfare by daily postal.

A swimming contest was scheduled for yesterday afternoon which the boys were looking forward to with the keenest pleasure, and the evening entertainments around the campfires have been among the most pleasant daily features of the camp life.

HAD THE FLOOR.

Boston Herald: The late John Eastburn was a well known printer in Boston. He was very stout, and had quite a reputation as a wit, but hated to have the laugh turned on himself. Being invited to dine with the late ex-Mayor Seaver, at the Bowers house, with a company of ladies and gentlemen, he happened to arrive a little late, and a waiter pulled out his chair for him to be seated. Mr. Eastburn, in his anxiety not to attract too much attention to his late coming, sat down before the chair had been placed under him, and landed on the floor.

His equanimity was decidedly upset for a moment, and those present were disturbed as to how he would take this accident, but he quickly cleared the atmosphere by saying, with a smile: "Ladies and Gentlemen, Mr. Eastburn has the floor."

UNCLE BILLY'S RESOLUTION.
Boston Herald: In the center of the town of Mansfield there lived in a one-room cottage, built by himself, a man known as Uncle Billy. He earned a living by chopping wood and doing chores. It was his custom to go every night to the north end of the town, where he could get a "nip," as he called it. He would often get very tipsy before starting home.

One cold night he went home by a short cut which took him across a deep canal. As the only means for crossing it was a narrow bridge without a railing, Billy, who was quite intoxicated, fell in. A Mr. Brown, who lived near by, heard his shouts for help, and, with the aid of another man succeeded in getting him out.

They carried him home, rubbed him well and got him into bed, after which Mr. Brown proceeded to give him a lecture, and finished by saying: "Now, Billy, after so narrow an escape I hope you will make new resolutions for the future."

Billy replied: "Yes, Mr. Brown, you bet I'll never try to go over that d-d bridge again when I'm drunk."

HOW HE LOOKED.

Boston Herald: Not long ago ex-Senator William A. Morse found it necessary to go into the public library to get some books. Being unfamiliar with the ways of the library, he wrote on a piece of paper the names of the books he wanted, approached what looked to be one of the attendants, and asked him if he would kindly get the books for him. This man, who was evidently one of the high officials of the library, said:

"Do I look like a messenger boy?"

"No," replied Mr. Morse, "you look like the man who wrote all the books there are in the library."

CHANDLER AND TILLMAN
One of the strangest friendships in Washington is that existing between Senator Chandler of South Carolina, and ex-Senator Tillman of South Carolina.
It is especially curious considering that the two men represent almost wholly opposite views on topics that have made more enemies than friends.
Tillman represents all that is disreputable and hateful to the South on the race issue. On the other hand, ex-Senator Chandler has been one of the most persistent opponents of the force bill, believes in restricting the South's representation in congress and doesn't hesitate to say that the negroes of the South should be treated as equals to the whites, and they have numerous bitter forensic battles. On one occasion Chandler kept firing questions at Tillman while the latter was answering the chamber. The thereafter at length became exasperated and roared, saying his words, "Is the grasshopper of this body?" Up shot the frugal form of Chandler. "Maybe he is," he retorted, "but you'll find that a pitchfork can't stick a grasshopper."

Suggestion for office man who has to work on hot days

Washington, Aug. 17.—The weather bureau today issued the following earthquake bulletin: A very heavy, distant earthquake was recorded on the seismographs at the weather bureau in Washington at 10:05 a. m. beginning at 5 minutes and 22 seconds past 7 p. m., seventy-fifth meridian. The earthquake was recorded on the seismographs at both the north and south and the east and west movement of the earth at Washington were of comparatively slow and deliberate motion, each complete cycle of motion continuing for 10 seconds of time. The earthquake lasted continuously for several hours and finally subsided at 11:00 p. m. The most violent shock occurred at 10:05 a. m. It is shown in the fact that the earthquake was felt in the city of 20,600 bushels of grain in Germany for Russian delivery, the first time in the history of the country that grain was so heavily damaged. It is explained that owing to the enhancement of the price of grain, it is cheaper to ship grain from the Northwest than from the interior. Matters are aggravated by transportation companies, who are not to be blamed by a soldier. The minister of railways permitted for the first time the loading of grain and coal in the same cars.

KILLED ON TRAIN.
Boone, Iowa, Aug. 17.—Frank Smith of New Haven, Conn., was killed by a train on the Northwestern at 10:00 p. m. Wednesday evening.

the village priest was removed confined in the monastery. The district doctor and another official of the province of Penza led an encounter between the peasants and Cossacks, in which one peasant was killed and several wounded. The effect of the continued agrarian disorders on the Russian grain market is shown in the fact that the total export of grain for the first half of 1906, 30,600 bushels of grain in Germany for Russian delivery, the first time in the history of the bourse that such a small quantity of grain was sold, and that owing to the enhancement of the price of grain, it is cheaper at coast ports to buy abroad than in the interior. The effect of the disorders on transportation conditions, the use of which is shown by an order of the minister of railways permitting the free loading of grain in the open air at night.

Washington, Aug. 17.—The weather bureau today issued the following earthquake bulletin: A very heavy distant earthquake was recorded on the seismographs at the weather bureau in Washington yesterday afternoon, beginning at 5 minutes and 20 seconds past 7 p. m., and continuing for about 1 minute. Complete and perfect records were obtained of both the north and south and the east and west movement of the earth. The earthquake tremors at Washington were characterized by a slow and deliberate motion, each complete movement covering from 18 to 40 seconds of time. The earthquake lasted about 1 minute and finally ceased at about midnight. The most violent shock occurred at 7:20 p. m.

HAPPENINGS IN THE DAKOTAS

Maj. Murphy to be Tried Again on Forgery Charge.

NORTH DAKOTA.

Fargo—Maj. Murphy will have to stand a second trial on the forgery charge. Judge Pollock has set Nov. 7 and Fargo is the place for the trial. Maj. Murphy was a political power in Ward county. He was charged with the forgery of four warrants and brought to trial in Ward county, where he asked for a change of venue and the case was transferred across the state to Fargo for trial. The result was a split verdict, the jury stating six to six that the warrants were forged. Recently the Ward county commissioners passed a resolution asking that the case be dropped, partially on account of the heavy expense to which the county has already been put, and because they alleged the case was as much persecution as prosecution. Prior to their action the court here and already taken up the matter, and he later fixed the date, ignoring the resolution.

Do North Dakotans approve of the state prohibition? That is the question that reached Judge Pollock of this city, known as the "father of the prohibition law," from Oklahoma, where the friends of cold water as a beverage are endeavoring to have prohibition embodied in the state constitution, as was done when North Dakota was admitted. Some years ago, on receipt of queries from Mississippi, Judge Pollock published a statement in which he stated that the state constitution was the property of the state judges in the state. This year he will go into the matter more deeply and has sent a list of queries to the state's attorneys. He asks how the law is enforced, what steps are taken as to enforcement, what is the general sentiment, do the people favor the law or a license system, is sentiment changing, the effect on the youth, the effect on crime, do the people favor resubmitting the plan to the voters and other questions that will give a comprehensive review. All the answers will be embodied in a reply to be sent the Oklahoma legislature. "I will make no effort to enforce the state drug law," is a statement by Judge Pollock in a statement to this state. "The national law, which becomes effective in 1909, is so much more stringent, I will wait till it becomes operative," he continued. Gamblers would have noticed the drugists' what to expect and for them to be ready to comply with the national law right on the date. He has recently made a trip over the state to observe the workings of the state police law and found the observance general.

Despite all the efforts of the government officials, Sam Davis, convicted and sentenced to six years for the Cavalier postoffice robbery, declines to make any statement regarding the robbery. It is felt that he had an accomplice and he was expected to weaken and tell the story of the affair. He still asserts the conviction was a mistake, and while admitting some minor crimes he declares he never tackled a job so important.

The residence of O. W. Kerr was looted and Gordon Kerr, a brother, assaulted by burglars. The owner and his family were at the lake and the young Kerr was sleeping in the house. He was aroused by people in the house and took a shotgun along to investigate. He saw one of the men climbing through a window and fired, just then another man stepped from behind a door and struck him with such force that he was unconscious for some time. When he revived the men had gone and several hundred dollars' worth of silverware and other articles were missing.

The drainage problem is a real live issue in the state.

RAILROADS

EXCURSION TO DULUTH

One Will be Run From Taylors Falls August 25.

Special Train Will Remain Here Only Half a Day.

The Northern Pacific will run an excursion to Duluth from Taylors Falls, Minn., on Saturday, Aug. 25. Evidently the cold breezes from off Lake Superior are too much for the constitutions of the people from the interior town, for those coming in on the special train will remain only from shortly before noon until 7:15 o'clock in the evening, returning the same day on which they arrive.

Criticism of the road say that this arrangement was made to suit the ideas of the people most directly interested. Agents at Taylors Falls and points between Duluth and that place are said to have canvassed the field and found the majority of would-be patrons of a special train stay at the head of the lakes. The train will be made from Taylors Falls at 6 o'clock in the morning, and the excursionists will be home in time to get a good night's sleep and go to church the next morning. There are several good towns between Duluth and the starting point, and a large crowd is expected on the special.

This will be one of the best seasons in the history of Duluth from an excursion standpoint. Several excursions have been run into the city from almost all directions from one point or another. It has been so agreeable that they will be glad to come again.

THE NEW RATE LAW.

Railroads Figuring Out What Steps Are Necessary to Obey It.

The Transcontinental Passenger association met in Chicago this week to discuss what course the railways shall take in reference to the new rate law. The roads were inclined for awhile to think that they would have to quit leaving their rates to newspapers, but the view now seems to be that the law will not prevent them from making contracts to give definite amounts of transportation for advertising of equal value to the regular rates.

One of the questions which has been troubling the railways is the regular army. When the government transfers an officer from one post to another, it pays his railway fare. Most army officers have families, however, and if they move from one post to another, the cost of the family is not paid. This has been the custom in the past for special parties, but it is now being questioned, and this custom may be continued in the future.

Railroad Personal.

G. M. Smith, general agent of the Omaha in Duluth, has returned from Iowa.

C. H. Smith, traveling freight agent of the Chicago, Indiana & Southern road, is in the city.

J. H. Whitteley, traveling freight agent of the Pere Marquette, is in the city today.

W. F. Pich, president of the Duluth, St. Paul & Atlantic road, arrived in the city this morning from Marquette, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Pich, and Miss Emily Pich, granddaughter of Mr. Pich, who will christen the big boat to be launched at the Superior shipyard tomorrow.

H. E. Heckenroth, commercial agent in Milwaukee for the Chicago, Cincinnati & Louisville, is in the city today.

FUNERAL OF W. H. HOLLENBECK

Attended by Nearly Every Resident of Fond du Lac.

Practically the entire population of Fond du Lac, and many people from Duluth, this noon attended the funeral services over the remains of W. H. Hollenbeck, who died Tuesday afternoon at his Fond du Lac home.

Very respectfully,
D. R. STEVENS.

NOT WOMAN KNOWN HERE.

Identity of Woman Maltreated in Russia Is Established.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 17.—The young woman who, after being arrested for making a sarcastic remark upon the bearing of the Chevalier guards, while they were marching along the Nevsky prospect, Aug. 14, was subjected to gross indignities in the presence of officers of the regiment, is Anna Smirnova.

Washington, Aug. 17.—It was thought in this country at first that possibly Miss Smirnova referred to in yesterday's dispatches was Miss. Nelka Smirnova, a relative of Representative James W. Wadsworth and Speaker Wadsworth of the New York assembly and prominent socially in Washington and other middle cities. Miss. Nelka Smirnova left here for Russia last September, which gave rise to the fear that it was she who suffered at the hands of the Russian Chevalier guards and the state department in Washington had been asked by her relatives to make inquiries relative to the affair.

Day by day people realize the importance of caring for their digestion; realize the need of a reliable, effective, corrective, like Kodol For Dyspepsia. It digests what you eat, and by all druggists.

TO TRY A NEW FORM.

London, Aug. 17.—A dispatch from Shanghai to the Morning Post says: "I am convinced that Yuan Shai Kai commander of the Chinese forces, intends as a next step to introduce constitutional government in the province of Chihli."

after thirty-four years spent in the service of the Northern Pacific at the head of the lakes.

Railroad men were much in evidence at the funeral, the capacity of station agent, Mr. Hollenbeck became known to many of them, and he was popular among the Chinese forces, the other railroad employees. As a token of this esteem, and in appreciation of his long and useful life, Superintendent Blanchard of the Northern

Great Clearance Sale of Men's Fine Clothes and Furnishings

Absolutely Regardless of Cost

Your attention is called to the fact that our autumn lines of men's suits and overcoats are now arriving daily. Some of them are now on display and others are coming as rapidly as the trains can bring them. Many people are buying now, knowing full well that first selections are always to be desired.

This sale demands the keenest attention. We propose to get rid of all the clothes we have on our tables before our fall merchandise is here, regardless of previous price—regardless of cost—regardless of everything. It matters little to us how far below cost we are compelled to go—the merchandise will be sold just the same. It's a big thing for you, and we don't give it grudgingly. It is always good business at this period of the year to stand losses if by doing so you can rid your store of what you have on hand. That's what we are doing.

Tomorrow we offer all our handsome suits which were formerly sold at $14, $16 and $18—at $9.50 the very low price of.

(Sizes may be broken in some lines, but if you find your size in any of them you will save half and get six weeks' wear.)

Our very finest suits, made of fancy worsteds, chevots, and cassimeres, and blue serges—made by Hart, Schaffner & Marx and Ely Meyer—the best of American tailors and sold throughout the season at $22, $25 and $28—now all marked $14.50

Great Clearance sale of Trousers—richest patterns of the season, in outing and business styles—your choice. $3.00

Pacific furnished a special train for bringing the body to Duluth at 1 o'clock. Interment was at Forest Hill cemetery.

For years Mr. Hollenbeck had been a leading citizen of Fond du Lac. He was very active politically, having been a staunch Republican all his life. He held various minor political offices while a resident of the St. Louis river town. In his younger days he was considered one of the speediest and most accurate and expert telegraphers in the country.

In 1882 he was married to Miss Theresa Krause. He was one of the first men to appreciate the possibilities of the great water power at Thomson, and often remarked before his death that he had lived to see it harnessed.

Men who knew Mr. Hollenbeck intimately, considered him as possessing marked intellect, and his opinion was often sought on different matters, particularly those pertaining to politics. He was of an amiable disposition, and immediately made friends of all those with whom he came in contact, either in a business or a social way.

Washington, Aug. 17.—The following dispatch was received by Gen. Ainsworth, the military secretary from Maj. Penrose at Fort Brown, Tex., and gives the official information concerning the disturbance at Brownsville which was alleged to have been caused by the presence of negro soldiers. Maj. Penrose was not in possession of all the facts when he sent the dispatch which follows:

Reference to your dispatch yesterday, a shooting occurred in Brownsville about 12 o'clock on the morning of Aug. 14, in which one civilian was killed and the chief of police wounded in right arm, which had to be amputated. Believe shooting was done by enlisted men of the post, but have not as yet been able to detect guilty party.

Am conducting most thorough investigation possible and working in perfect harmony with citizens' committee and mayor of Brownsville. Guard of one-third of garrison, one company constantly on duty. All enlisted men confined strictly to post and no one allowed to enter but mayor, members of citizens' committee and those having official business.

ADMIRE LOCAL CITY CHARTER

Member of St. Paul Charter Commission Here
Looking for Ideas.

J. J. Ermatinger, a member of the charter commission of the city of St. Paul, is in the city today conferring with the city officials over the Duluth charter. He will also confer with Henry F. Greene, United States civil service commissioner of Washington, D. C., who is visiting the city just now. Mr. Greene was the father of the Duluth city charter and Mr. Ermatinger will endeavor to get some of his ideas on what would fit the needs in St. Paul.

Mr. Ermatinger says that he has carefully perused the Duluth charter and believes it to be the best in the state and also one of the best in the country, generally speaking. He says that the St. Paul charter is merely a re-enactment of the old Bell law and that the city is governed by boards, which he asserts is the most absurd style of government that could be devised. With others of the same opinion, he has been endeavoring to have a revision of the charter submitted, but others have old-fashioned ideas or for some other cause, have blocked the move.

Mr. Ermatinger says he believes some improvements can be made on the Duluth charter, but rather than continue under the present charter of St. Paul, he would be willing to adopt the Duluth charter in toto.

JOKER GETS IN HIS WORK

Has Candidate for County Attorney Opposing Counsel in Case.

Adams Prosecutes and Norton Defends Prisoner in Police Court.

The two candidates for the Republican nomination for county attorney were opposing lawyers in police court this morning and it looks as though this fact is the result of a "joke" put up on one or the other of them. Of course everybody knows that the two men mentioned are Charles E. Adams and John H. Norton.

The case was the preliminary hearing of Oliver Williams, the colored porter who is accused of burglarizing Pantton & White's store last Friday night. The trial itself amounted to nothing as it was waived by the defense and Williams was bound over to the next term of the grand jury.

It happened that County Attorney McClintock was suddenly called out of town and asked Mr. Adams to appear in the case in his stead. Mr. Adams did so on the understanding that he was merely "subbing" as the printers say, and would not be identified with it further than the preliminary examination. When the case was called for hearing Williams had no attorney, but told the court that some of his friends had promised to have one on hand for him, but that he did not know who it was.

As no attorney appeared, the hearing proceeded and Mr. Macdonald, manager of the Glass block was put on the stand. He had begun his testimony when John H. Norton, who is opposing Mr. Adams for the nomination for county attorney, hustled into the court room and announced himself as attorney for Williams. He asked that the case be continued until 1:30 this afternoon, but added that possibly after consulting the defendant, examination might be waived. The court granted leave for Mr. Norton and Williams to confer and they did so. The result was the examination was waived. But the point of the story is that some joker or others hearing that Mr. Adams was to take the place of the prosecuting attorney, put up the job to have Mr. Norton defend and thus make it appear if possible that there is a conflict over the colored vote. Mr. Norton denies this and says that the colored people have given him a large part of their clientele for a long time and that there is nothing new. Mr. Adams does not say much about it, but is apparently undecided as to whom the joke is on.

WEST DULUTH

BACK FROM TOUR.

West Duluth Motorists Made Fast Time in From Eveleth.

Henry Gifford and Arthur Jacoby, the West Duluth young men who have been touring the ranges in their 16-horse power Ford, returned last evening, after making the sixty-eight mile run from Eveleth to Duluth in six hours, the best time ever made over the same road. In many places where the machine went they were the first to get through in an auto though several parties had started and turned back. They struck some bad corduroy but for the most part, the roads were good, though dusty. They encountered some difficult hills but their machine proved its ability as a hill climber and, though they carried five people most of the time on the range, they were forced to use the low gear very seldom. They are pretty well tired out today and have been putting in the time resting since their return.

BODY NOT FOUND.

Philip McCreary, the young man who is believed to have been drowned Wednesday by falling out of a boat while fishing, was well known about West Duluth. Several searching parties have started up the river to see if any further evidences of the drowning can be found but with no results so far as can be learned. As the boat was found drifting and quite close to shore it is very uncertain where the accident might have happened and with the whole bay to search there is very little likelihood of finding the body before it rises to the surface at least.

BACK FROM ENCAMPMENT.

The West Duluth members of the G. A. R. who attended the encampment at Minneapolis have all returned. Judge Flack, L. C. Smith, J. W. Wallace and family and M. M. Clark coming up last evening and S. M. Sherman arriving today. They all report a most successful and enjoyable encampment, by far the best which the old soldiers have ever held. There were about 23,000 old soldiers in line though there were seventy-five thousand veterans in the city. The remainder were too feeble to endure the strain of the long march. Many of them wished to march, but were prevented by the Red Cross society, the temptation to fall into line when the procession started being too great to resist. Mr. Robinson, formerly of West Duluth was one of those forbidden to march, and in spite of being dragged out of line once he went back and fell in at another part of the procession only to be removed a second time.

Hay Rack Ride.

The Young People's society of the West Duluth Baptist church has issued invitations to a hay rack ride this evening. All are to come dressed as haymakers, subject to fine if not so attired, and three hay racks have been engaged as conveyances. The party will stop at Smithville for refreshments.

Open Meeting.

The West Duluth Commercial club has opened its meeting this evening to all who may wish to attend, the subject to be discussed being the proposed Wrenshall road. It is expected that a number of the Wrenshall and Carlton people, and the large stock farmers in that district, will be on hand to address the meeting, and as the matter is of vital interest to the western end of the city, it is hoped that the affair will be well attended.

West Duluth Briefs.

B. J. Ross, who has been in charge of a sawmill in Mississippi is visiting his family in West Duluth. This is the first time that Mr. Ross has been in the city since he left it five years ago for the South. He said that he found the heat here yesterday as oppressive as any they had had in Mississippi.

Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Trethaway of Michigan arrived in town yesterday for a visit.

William McCullum of 5625 Grand avenue left town Wednesday on a two-weeks vacation.

Mrs. Elmer Doane returned this week from a fifteen-days' visit in Oscoda and Ithaca, Mich.

Misses Jonnie and Agnes Ashley of New York were visiting their cousin, Frank Ashley, of Sixteenth avenue yesterday. They left today for Frazee, Minn.

Arthur Bishop, who has been employed in the West Duluth station of the Northern Pacific, is at present taking the place of Mr. Hollenbeck, the Fond du Lac agent, who died this week. He is expected to be transferred permanently to that place in the near future.

E. Brown, who has been in the employ of a Seattle lumber company, has returned to West Duluth.

Thomas Graydon of Chicago, who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. H. C. Brown, of Seventy-first avenue, returned today. He will stop for a few days in Minneapolis on business.

Mrs. Robert B. Newsome returned today from a trip down the lakes.

W. L. Kelly of St. Paul is in the city on business.

Charles L. Curtis of Washington, D. C., is in the city on a short business trip.

C. Daugnard has returned from the Twin Cities, where he went to take in the G. A. R. encampment.

S. S. McDonald returned from Mount Clemens, Mich., last Monday. Mr. McDonald left for Mount Clemens five weeks ago for his health, which is much improved.

Frederick Hall and Jay Reading of Elk River are visiting friends in West Duluth.

Mrs. R. McKeever left for Minneapolis yesterday.

The West Duluth Baptist Sunday school held its second Sunday school picnic of the year yesterday at Lincoln Park. A program of sports and games was held in the afternoon, and a most enjoyable time is reported.

J. H. Schuler, who has been visiting Jack Schuler of Eighteenth avenue west, returned today to his home in Monroe, Wis.

Sure Bug Death, 25c bottle, Nygren's.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dornedy and daughter of St. Paul, are visiting Mrs. J. H. Schuler.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; if it stands the water is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to urinate, or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, cures every ailment in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It cures the highest and the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle Swamp-Root, this great kidney remedy, and a book that tells all about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer, Swamp-Root, P. O. Box 589, Binghamton, N. Y. When writing be sure to mention that you read this generous offer in the Duluth Evening Herald. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

MOTHER TAKES BRIBE.

Swaneworth, N. H., Aug. 17.—Bribed with $5 to say that her living child was that of Bertha Tracy, who is accused of killing her baby, a woman perjured herself at the trial and then, when the court suggested that the child be sent away from the supposed mother, she could not stand the strain, and the mother or love asserting itself, confessed to the part in the deception. The woman's application of King Solomon's solution of the problem was very effective. Miss Tracy was charged with having made away with her baby, born Palm Sunday. She said that the child was boarding in South Binghamton with a woman named Mills, and the police gave her thirty days in which to produce the infant.

A woman entered the courtroom bearing a baby. She swore that the baby was Miss Tracy's, and stuck to her story. Finally a decision was reached. The child will be taken by the court and placed in an institution. Instantly the witness's manner changed. She became frightened, then incoherent. "No, no," she finally cried. "I will not let you take my child from me!"

"But it is not your child," she heard the judge say. "It is the child of Bertha Tracy," he said. The woman again confessed. Upon being restored to consciousness she confessed that she had been paid $5 to bring her child to court and place it in the hands of the judge. She had never thought of the attempt to take it away from her.

A warrant was prepared charging Miss Tracy with murdering her child. She pleaded not guilty, and Attorney William E. Russell was retained by the court to defend her. Judge Wells found her probably guilty and held her for the court to try.

She was taken away screaming. "Oh, papa, papa!"

GARBAGE IS SENT BACK MARKED AS "FRUIT."

New York, Aug. 17.—Residents of Brooklyn Beach, one of the fashionable resorts on the Jersey coast, have adopted a novel method of abating the evil of having their bathing suits awash with New York City's garbage. The residents of the town, who are not alone in the movement, have decided to send their bathing suits to the city of New York, where they will be sent to the city's garbage dump. The suits are sent to the city of New York, where they will be sent to the city's garbage dump. The suits are sent to the city of New York, where they will be sent to the city's garbage dump.

How Good Food may Turn to Poison.

DECAY is not digestion, you know, even when it takes place in the stomach.

Food decayed in the body after being eaten is as dangerous to health as food decayed before being eaten.

Food nourishes or poisons, just according to how long it remains in the bowels undigested.

Most of the Digestion occurs in the thirty feet of intestine.

They are lined with a set of little mouths, these squeeze Digestive Juices into the Food eaten.

The intestines are also lined with millions of little suction pumps, that draw the Nutrition from Food, as it passes them in going through.

But, when the Bowel-Muscles are weak, the Food moves too slowly to stimulate the little Gastric Mouths and there is no flow or too little flow of Digestive Juice, to change the food into nourishment.

Then, the food decays in the Bowels, and the little suction pumps draw Poison from the decayed Food, into the blood, instead of the Nutrition they should have drawn.

Now, Cascarets contain the only combination of drugs that stimulates these Muscles of the Bowels and Intestines just as a Cold Bath, or open-air Exercise, stimulates a Lazy Man.

Cascarets therefore act like Exercise. They produce the same sort of Natural result that a Six Mile walk in the country would produce without any injurious Chemical effect.

The Vest Pocket Cascaret Box is sold by all Druggists at Ten Cents.

Be sure you get the genuine, made only by the Sterling Remedy Company, and never sold in bulk. Every tablet stamped "CCC."

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 17.—Successful competition with the alleged school furniture trust, and the promotion of sales of orders with satisfactory goods, constitute the record of the state board of prison industries since the so-called anti-trust convict-labor law went into effect, according to the board's first report.

Selling school furniture at its own prices, leaving school officials at the mercy of a few dealers and manufacturers, was the condition which the alleged trust is said to have imposed upon the public, according to the state board's report. When the manufacture of school furniture was established as one of the industries at the Illinois state penitentiary, the board realized that it would be compelled to meet stubborn competition and no small degree of prejudice.

By the adoption of a modern and approved pattern of desks and by establishing a moderate price, the state board believes it has more than met the competition of the trust.

The furniture combination is accused of having endeavored to foster prejudice against the new prison labor law, regardless of the fact, says the state board, that the statute was enacted by the Illinois legislature as a result of the efforts of a moderate labor in the state, and that of a similar reform in several of the neighboring states. Official Reports Show That Ostrich Farming Is Growing.

Big Eggs Now Coming Into Use as Table Dainty.

Washington, Aug. 17.—A new infant industry regarding which there is little popular information, but which has been making great strides in development is that of ostrich farming. Official reports coming to Washington show that the unfortunate experience of pioneer breeders, who had to pay heavily for their lack of knowledge, has been avoided by those who have taken up the breeding in more recent years.

On the first American ostrich farm, started twenty-three years ago, results were not encouraging, and it has been found that more than half the number of ostriches in this country at present are the progeny of a single pair obtained to start a farm in Arizona in 1883. That territory has ever since been considered the best section of America for ostrich farming, although some experiments have been made in California, Arkansas and Florida.

In the salt river valley of Arizona climatic conditions are favorable to the health of the birds and this in turn improves the quantity and yield of feathers which is the aim of the industry. Nature has looked out for an all-the-year-round production of alfalfa there, so that one of the prime requisites in breeding, that of continuous green feed, is thus readily met.

It is doubtful whether there is any bird or animal which can be bred in the United States which will command a higher price than the ostrich. Heretofore this huge bird has been considered valuable only for the feathers it produces. As there are a luxury which may be enjoyed only by those with money to spare, and who demand the finest quality obtainable, the ostrich specimens have commanded the highest price and have forestalled the native-grown plumes.

In the last few years, however, with the steady increase in ostrich farming in the far Southwest, other uses have been discovered. One of these is the use of ostrich eggs for making omelets and such other culinary productions that usually require hen's eggs.

It has been found that two and one-half dozen of the latter are required to make as much omelet as a single ostrich egg. If people acquire the taste for such a diet it is a fact of some importance to them to know that an ostrich has been known to produce more than thirty pounds of egg food in a single year. Further than this the flesh of the domestic ostrich is relished by those who have eaten it.

It is only a preliminary source of profit, however, because there still remains the value of the ostrich itself, and thus keeps on increasing with every year of growth. It may be surprising to poultry raisers to learn that while they are dealing in small flocks with their broods of spring chickens for a metropolitan market the ostrich chick, 6 months old, commands a price of $100. Each year of age makes the ostrich worth probably $100 more, on the average, until at the age of 4 years, the period at which they pair, they are worth in excess of $800 a pair.

Such a high valuation is considered all the more interesting from the fact that the ostrich is able to take care of itself, find its own food if once liberated in an alfalfa pasture, and give its owner rest, as it is the extreme longevity of the ostrich, but it has been claimed that it will live 100 years.

It is entirely well authenticated that specimens have been kept in captivity for forty years, and are still breeding and producing feathers. Then, too, there is the noteworthy consideration that it possesses exceptional hardness, and that few have been known to die except through accident in the quarter century they have been bred in this country.

PRISON FACTORY A BIG SUCCESS

Illinois Penal Institution Competes With the Furniture Trust.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 17.—Successful competition with the alleged school furniture trust, and the promotion of sales of orders with satisfactory goods, constitute the record of the state board of prison industries since the so-called anti-trust convict-labor law went into

HIS APPEAL IS IN VAIN

Governor Heyward of South Carolina Cannot Prevent Lynching.

Mob Hears Him Respectfully But Disregards
His Plea.

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 17.—Within the shadow of the home of his victim, Miss Jennie Brooks, after having been identified by her, and after Governor Heyward, who went to the scene of the trouble, had addressed the mob in vain, Bob Davis, the negro who, on Monday, murderously attacked Miss Brooks with intent to commit assault, and who afterwards outraged a negro girl, 14 years old, was lynched at Greenwood, about 7:30 o'clock, last evening.

Governor Heyward reached the scene shortly after the negro had been captured. A platform was erected in a fence corner, on the premises of the victim's father, from which platform Governor Heyward addressed the mob in an effort to prevent the lynching. The governor beseeched the mob not to lynch Davis, but in vain. At the conclusion of his speech the governor was vociferously cheered. The mob then rushed the prisoner from the view of the governor, and within a short distance of the home of his victim the negro was riddled with bullets.

The negro was captured in a creek, tied hand and foot and brought to the home of his victim for identification. When they arrived at the gate of the Brooks home, a great crowd gathered there. Four men were delegated to escort him to the house. The young lady, lying on her back, turned her eyes toward the negro as he stood there between his captors, his hands tightly bound with a rope. "That's the scoundrel," she said. "I know him by his eyes." The negro was removed outside the house.

"Hear the governor," said one, and he began in his clear voice a most impassioned appeal. "That nothing could take place that could keep you from hearing the governor of South Carolina. The crowd applauded. 'I come here alone,' he continued, 'not bringing any troops; only two newspaper men came with me, and they are well as I am, with like feelings. But it is my duty to enforce the laws of South Carolina. Don't cheer, men. This is a solemn occasion, and I am very much in earnest, and besides I understand it excites the ladies, and this is a consideration that appeals to all South Carolinians. (The residence was only forty feet away.) I come to appeal to your manhood. The question is, shall the people be allowed to be ruled by their passions and prejudices, or shall the supremacy of the law be upheld? I promise you, on my law, that as soon as I can, I will not object to cutting the rope to hang that scoundrel, provided the law says so."

A few yards away stood the dazed prisoner, and men stood close about him with rifles and shotguns in their hands. "I am here alone," went on the governor; "but I represent the majesty of the law; I represent the state of South Carolina, your state and mine, and I say to you, I beg you, I implore you, in God's name, don't put another stain upon our fair state. I plead with you to let the law take its course."

Here the men came up to the stand and said: "We appreciate what you say, but we are not going to follow you. We have stood this thing long enough."

Many shouted for the governor to go on, and he concluded his fruitless appeal to prevent the lynching.

M. O. AS CHEAP GAS HOPE.

Kansas City's Mayor Sees Way to Win for Municipality.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 17.—Other efforts to get cheap gas apparently having failed, Mayor Boardley, it is said, will make an effort to bring about municipal ownership of the plan here, in case the council refuses to modify the ordinance granting a franchise to a Chicago syndicate to furnish natural gas at twenty-five cents a thousand feet. The syndicate has present franchise, as a condition of the grant, under the terms of the ordinance under which the present gas company is operating, to take possession of the plant at any time on payment of its past value. The company manufactures its gas and charges $1.

ROOSEVELT AGAIN, IS BELMONT'S OPINION.

Paris, Aug. 17.—Perry Belmont, who has just arrived in Paris, expressed himself as certain that President Roosevelt would oppose Bryan in the next presidential race, Belmont said. "Political power is not easily obtained nor willingly relinquished. During the last session of congress Roosevelt did not only energetically exercising the functions of his great office, but was acting senator from New York during the disabilities of the New York senate. Roosevelt certainly will be a candidate again for the presidency, and he will endeavor to bring about the nomination of some western Republican of his own selection. "Everyone familiar with New York state politics is aware that he is trying plans already to capture the New York senate should he not be a candidate for president. His new role would then be United States senator from New York and acting president. Belmont said. "Roosevelt's candidature from New York alone out of a total of little more than 100,000 votes, and his present activity in behalf of the New York congressional candidates in the approaching election, are proofs of the president's desire to retain control of the machine in his state."

COMMUNION WINE FROM SPOONS. Mason City, Iowa, Aug. 17.—A "spoon" communion present at the First Methodist church Sunday. W. W. Carlton, pastor, will introduce an innovation. There has been such a war waged in Iowa against the use of general communion cups as a means of spreading disease, that Dr. Carlton has informed his congregation that on next Sunday all who partake of the sacrament are to bring spoons, and the wine will be dipped from the cup, instead of sipped, as heretofore.

GROWING?

We dislike to have it appear that we believe in bragging, but every store is and should be proud of a strong, clean, honest record such as this institution has made during the recent past. We take a certain amount of just pride in knowing that we can so ably serve a growing, thriving community and its many needs—that this store is looked to as the source of supply for a large and constantly increasing territory. Here are some of the things we have done during only the past 4 or 5 months:

Masonic Temple, Virginia, Minn., complete furnishings.
Public library, Virginia, Minn., books and furniture.
Steamer Edward Y. Townsend, complete furnishings.

Bray hospital, Biwabik, Minn., complete furnishings.

Mitchell hotel, Hibbing, Minn., furnished complete.

Washington restaurant, Duluth, furnished complete.

White City, Duluth, seats, fittings and furnishings.

Esmond hotel, West Duluth, partial furnishings.

Pittsburg Steamship company, supplies for lake vessels.

Fond du Lac line, supplies for steamships.

A. Booth & Co., supplies for steamships.

And hundreds of other contracts of lesser importance. Our contract department can take care of your needs, no matter how great or far-reaching, and save you money on house, hotel, church, lodge room, hall, steamboat, restaurant, or other furnishings—complete or in part.

Rubber Tiling

We recently put into the L. W. Whatever other plans you've made 'twill pay you to change them now and prepare to share the dozens of splendid opportunities offered here tomorrow. Everything is so "seasonable"—just the things so appropriate and needful at the present time. Prices that make such savings that he or she who would be economical and wise can not fail to see the importance of visiting the Glass Block store tomorrow: NOTE: You'll find the early hours of the day best suited to satisfactory shopping. It's not so warm, you get better service, and thus avoid the crowds of the afternoon and evening.

All Trimmed Hats Saturday---Only two Prices

Every trimmed hat in the house must be sold quickly—regardless of cost—that has nothing to do with it. We'll offer the entire balance of this season's swellest hats in just two lots, and at such prices they ought not to last the day out.

We'll not say much about them, either—we'd have to use too much space in a vain effort to do them justice. A mere mention ought to bring a crowd waiting for the doors to open Saturday morning. Here are the prices:—

Lot 1—89c each

89c for all hats worth up to $4.00—seems ridiculous. It's a fact. Actually less than One-quarter price.

Lot 2—$1.89 each

$1.89 for your choice of the finest trimmed hats—formerly our regular $6, $7 and $8.50 values—Enough said.

Here are Some Minor Bargains

39c—Waists and Blouses—sample lot boys' fine Waists and Blouses, some a little soiled—priced down for Saturday to 39c.

Who is It Doesn't Know

"JEAN?"

Duluth's best shine artist. He'll be at the Glass Block's new shoe store after Sunday. Remember it. First door east—the "McDonnell" store. Tell your friends that "Jean" will move—but tell them where he goes.

Have Your Feet Fitted

This problem of shoe buying isn't merely a matter of buying a lot of bargain shoes. What good are shoes if they don't fit you right? Our shoe salesmen are not of the "any-sort-will-do" class—they're experienced men—know how to fit shoes.

AT THE SAME TIME—Our shoe offers are bargains—no mistaking that—Come Saturday to the Glass Block's new shoe store and see how much better those feet feel when you go away with your new shoes.

There are 19 in all—regular prices from $10.50 to $22.50—and to close them out Saturday we will give you your choice of the lot

For $8.75 Each

(Fancy Goods Dept. east center aisle.)

A "Clean-Up" Sale of White Shirt Waists Five Lots

Figure it up and you can easily see that you couldn't buy the material used in these waists for the prices that are made for Saturday. The reason is this: We've readjusted all lots and prices after an extremely heavy season of waist selling, and Saturday finds some of the greatest waist bargains on our tables women anywhere have ever seen.

REMEMBER THIS:—There are all kinds, all styles—it's the whole stock—not a few lots—but all our waists. Now read!

TABLE No. 1—Offers you choice of all waists, whose former prices went as high as 79c $2.00 each—the new price is.....98c

C. O. NELSON
VERY SICKFormer Duluthian Said to Have Acute Bright's Disease.Rev. C. G. Olson Coming for Sunday and Next Week.

Word has been received at the West end that C. O. Nelson, formerly engaged in the house-furnishing business at Nineteenth avenue west and Superior street, is in a very critical condition, with Bright's disease, near Los Angeles, Cal.

Mr. Nelson sold out his business here in the spring and with his family went to California, having been in ill health, principally from nervousness, for some time. It is said that since reaching there, Bright's disease has developed and the former Duluthian is not expected to live.

He was well-known in Duluth and was one of the city's most successful business men. Two years ago he was one of the leading candidates for the Republican nomination for the legislature in the Forty-ninth district, and at times has been urged to run for various offices because of his popularity here.

REV. OLSON COMING.

Prospective Pastor of Bethany Congregation Will Preach Sunday.

The congregation of Bethany Lutheran church will have an opportunity to judge the man whom they have called to be pastor of the congregation and to be judged by him. He will be here to preach on Sunday. This is Rev. C. G. Olson, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church at Wausau, Neb. He was called a short time ago and has now notified the officers of the church that he will attend next Sunday and preach and will spend the following week here.

He has, of course, given no intimation as to whether or not he is likely to accept, but it is expected that he will have reached a decision before he leaves Duluth on his visit here. Mr. Olson is said to be a very able man and a fluent talker in both Swedish and English.

THE M. W. A. PICNIC.

Arrangements Being Made for Big Event at Two Harbors.

Arrangements are being perfected for the annual picnic of Duluth camp, Modern Woodmen of America, which will be held at Two Harbors, on Tuesday, Aug. 28. This will be one of the largest picnics, it is believed, ever held in this section of the state. All of the Woodmen camps of the city will take part, and the camps from the various parts of the range have been invited to attend, and probably will do so in large numbers.

The Duluth camp, which is giving the affair, is the largest camp in the state, and will give a picnic in keeping with its size. A meeting was held last evening in the camp's hall, at which preliminary steps toward the rapid completion of a program were taken. A. W. Olson was made chairman of the general committee, and Chief Forester McQuade was named as chairman of the committee on grounds. The picnic will leave Duluth at 7 o'clock in the morning, going in special coaches to Two Harbors, where they will be met by the Woodmen camp of that bustling center, and will be first shown the points of interest. The afternoon will open up with a ball game between teams of the Two Harbors and Duluth lodges. Following that will be a tug-of-war, a number of races and other sports. Good prizes will be offered the winner of each. A general good time is fully expected.

Moves the School.

St. Clement's school building has been moved from its former position on Twentieth avenue west, between Second and Third streets, to Third street, between the parochial residence and the orphanage. Its former site is owned by the orphanage, and will be used as a playground for the children of that institution. The heating plant of the parochial residence will be used to heat the school, which was one object for the moving of it.

Presented With Loving Cup.

A pretty little event which so far has escaped public notice took place at Thirty-second avenue east last Sunday. It was a picnic given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wallen of 2013 West Superior street, who are soon to leave the city for Minneapolis. A large number of their friends attended the picnic and Mr. and Mrs. Wallen were completely surprised when a handsome silver loving-cup was presented to them.

Hot Weather Fatal.

The long dry and hot spell of weather through which the city has been suffering for the past six weeks has been disastrous to children, and a good many of the weaker, small ones have died as a result of it. Heat prostration has not been the cause, but the extreme heat has a very evident effect upon them. At one time within a week five bodies of little children have been sent out together at the rooms of a West end undertaker.

To Have Annual Picnic.

The annual picnic of St. Luke's and Holy Apostles of Episcopal churches Sunday school will take place next Thursday at Fond du Lac. The picnicers will go up the river on the steamer Neely which will stop at Fifth avenue west, Twenty-first avenue west and West Duluth for passengers. A good program is being prepared and it is hoped that favorable weather will result.

West End Shortfalls.

Florence Hathaway, the 14-year-old daughter of Mrs. Butler of 2230 West Superior street, is very sick in St. Luke's hospital, following an operation for appendicitis.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Forward are in Minneapolis attending the national convention of the G. A. R.

Mr. and Mrs. Orange Cleveland of Webster City, Iowa, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Forward.

Mrs. P. T. Gorman entertained a few friends at supper in Lincoln Park on Wednesday evening. A delightful time resulted.

Walter Crandall of the Northern Pacific office is visiting his parents near Waterloo, Iowa.

Mrs. Ed Gray of 2507 West First street, left last night for points in the state of Washington, accompanied by her two sons. They will be absent about six or eight weeks.

In need of medicine you need the best. Go to the Lion Drug store. The firm of L. H. Burnett, J. Farrington, John Molt and others, who have been camping near Lakewood for some weeks, have returned to their homes.

Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Erickson and John Oscar Peterson, which will take place a week from next Saturday. A large reception will take place in the evening at Mrs. Sloan's hall.

Miss Anna Anderson left to of 2314 West Eighth street, left today for Minneapolis where she will visit friends for a time.

Dr. Emerson of Minneapolis and Dr. Suedenberg of Eau Claire, Wis., visited with Dr. O. A. Oredson for a few days this week. Dr. Emerson will probably move to the West end to practice his profession.

Rev. J. Anderson of the First Swedish M. E. church, is entertaining Mr. Edlin and daughter, Miss Jeron Edlin of Chicago.

The Christian Endeavor society of the Second Presbyterian church will give a "daisy" social this evening.

The Charles Mork ball team is without a game for next Sunday. Their prowess has evidently scared out rival teams.

Your prescriptions are compounded, true to your doctor's formula at the Lion Drug store.

A party of West end young people will leave today for Spirit Lake for a week's camping. They will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Magnusson of Twentieth avenue.

Misses Edna and Rena Fischer have returned from points in the East, having been absent for two months.

Mrs. K. Irving and daughter have gone to Ashland on a visit to friends.

Miss Irene Waite of Twentieth avenue is visiting in Sioux City, Iowa.

The Swedish Mission church gave an excursion to Two Harbors last night. It was well attended.

LANGUAGEFormer Colombian Minister Mendoza Attacks
President Reyes.

New York, Aug. 17.—The Tribune today says: There has just been made public an open letter, written by Diego Mendoza, recently minister of Colombia at Washington, to a friend in Bogota, who is a member of the national assembly in which, in unmistakable language the diplomat denounces President Reyes of Colombia as a traitor to his country, and accuses him of extreme bad faith. Never, perhaps, has there been poured such a remarkable and scathing denunciation of the head of a government by a diplomat, nominated by the man he attacked.

Senor Mendoza, who has but recently returned here from London, declared in his letter that President Reyes has, for financial reasons, entered into a secret agreement with President Amador of Panama, under which the former department of Colombia assumes a part of the Colombian debt, thereby practically abandoning Colombia's rights on the isthmus, and this, he says, stamps Reyes as a traitor. He tells, also, of President Reyes' supposed financial interest in the light-house at Colon, and asserts that the president sent to Washington an agent authorized to sell the light-house to the United States for $100,000, for which service he promised the agent a commission of 10 per cent.

After explaining at some length, and in the most vigorous Castilian, how the secret negotiations of President Reyes made impossible the success of his own mission at Washington which, he says, was the honorable solution of the secession of Panama from Colombia, Senor Mendoza makes the following statement in proof of his assertion that there exists in the United States a widespread sympathy with his country over the loss of Panama.

TRANSFERS ITS HOLDINGS.

New Haven Railroad Drops Street Railway Properties.

Boston, Aug. 17.—Details of the transfer by the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company of street car systems valued at many millions of dollars linked out in this city yesterday, and it was learned that the railroad company had taken steps to divest itself of practically all of its street railway holdings in Southern New England. The transfer, which follows closely on the announced intention of the Massachusetts authorities to retain in this state control of the street railway system, has been made to an association known as the New England Security Investment Company.

According to information obtained here, the transfer is supposed to involve the street lines owned by the New Haven road in both Massachusetts and Connecticut, including the street car company in Providence and New York.

For the past three years the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company has been acquiring street railways in various parts of the country, and recently the holdings of the company reached such a proportion that the matter was made the subject of a special message by Governor Guild to the legislature.

Information from President Melton through Chairman Jackson of the state railroad commission, and the attorney general yesterday and almost simultaneously the fact that the railroad company had transferred its holdings became known.

ANOTHER BANK GOES.

Small One in Chicago, Affected by Stensland Failure, Closes.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—The Garfield Park bank, a small institution located at 221 West Madison street, was placed in the hands of a receiver late yesterday afternoon by Judge Phelps in the United States district court. Three creditors with claims amounting to several thousand dollars filed a petition asking that the bank be closed, and that the assets of the bank be sold to pay the debts.

fact, and the court's action followed. President Drake declared last night that he was solvent and if given time to dispose of certain securities, he would be able to pay all of the creditors in full. He attributed the run on his bank to the failure of the Milwaukee Avenue State bank.

Attorneys for the creditors say that they had been unable to ascertain the amount of the bank's liabilities, but it is not believed they are very large.

FINNISH LEADER DROWNED.

London, Aug. 17.—The correspondent at Stockholm of the Morning Post telegraphs that Kock, the leader of the Redguard of Finland, has been drowned. He was on board a small sailing vessel bound for Sweden which was run down by a Swedish vessel. His body has been recovered.

BOY WHO LIVED ON MILK DIET FOR SIX YEARS.

Glasgow, Aug. 17.—The discussion concerning milk as a health food has been given a new turn here. A case has just come under the observation of the local physicians, and it is said there is only one similar case on record—that of a 6-year-old girl living in Monticello, Va. The case is that of a boy living at Penarth, who has existed entirely on milk since his birth, six years ago.

He has his name, Arthur Keene. He lives with his mother and father, and he is one of four children. He will not take anything but milk. The choicest foods have been offered him, but he has refused to eat anything away from his milk diet. On one occasion his mother forced food down his throat, but it made him ill at once and he asked for milk. His diet each week consists of thirty pints of milk mixed with sugar and water, which is by no means an excessive quantity for even a 12-month-old infant.

Yet, in spite of this scanty and monotonous diet, the boy is fully developed, of normal size and of good weight. He is inclined to be a bit rickety, but is not nervous. He attends Penarth council school, and is of a most cheerful disposition. He has puzzled the doctors of Penarth, who have carefully examined him, and they confess that the case baffles them completely.

DROUTH IS GOOD TEST

Gives Northern Power Company Engineers No Uneasiness Whatever.

Water Now Wasted Over Dam Represents 60,000 Horse Power.

Although the St. Louis river is at the lowest stage of water that has been known for some years, owing to the long dry spell over the country that it drains, it is estimated by officials of the Great Northern Power company that water representing fully 60,000 horse power is wasting over the dam at Thomson daily.

The present low stage of water is said to be a pretty good test of what the great Northern Power company may expect in a dry season and it is figured that if from 50,000 to 60,000 horse power is wasted over the dam at the present time the company could easily stand a longer and more severe drouth and still have enough water to operate with.

The flowage in the St. Louis river has been carefully worked out by the power company's engineers for a period covering six years and while the figures are not yet available it is understood that the water is now at the lowest stage of any time during the six years, but that the present flowage represents and available 60,000 horse power.

As to the reports of persons that there are times when the river can be crossed "dry shod" one of the officials connected with the power company remarked that it might be true that one could get across the river on the boulders without getting wet, but that no consideration was given to the water that seeped through between the boulders and which, although seemingly insignificant in quantity, might represent from 50,000 to 60,000 horse power when under a 375 feet head as provided by the power company.

Not the least uneasiness is felt by the power company on account of the drouth. In making its plans and in the construction of its immense reservoirs, and dams, the engineers have taken into consideration all possibilities of a drouth longer than this part of the country is ever likely to endure, and plenty of water and power is assured at all times.

There has been more or less speculation by the people generally as to when the company expected to have power at its station above Fond du Lac. The date will not be definitely known for several days, yet, until certain elements of the big plant are all assembled, but it is hoped that all will be in readiness somewhere about Oct. 1. In the meantime the construction work is progressing steadily all along the line from Duluth to Thomson. The distributing station which has been under construction all the year will very soon be enclosed and ready for the installation of the machinery.

TIRED OF DELAYS.

Water Board Cancels Roberts' Contract for Duluth Heights' System.

The board of water and light commissioners has relieved Contractor Roberts of his contract to sink three six-inch wells on Duluth Heights for the auxiliary system. This action was taken because the board believes the contractor's failure to carry out his agreement after six months, is enough to warrant a canceling of the contract. Mr. Roberts, it is claimed, has been called before the board repeatedly to explain why he has failed to complete his work, but no satisfactory explanation has been given.

The other work under the contract is said to have been completed some time ago, and the board has been waiting for the contractor to get action on the wells. The board asserts that the promises to hurry up the work have not been kept, and the board has been taken away from Roberts and will be given to a Minneapolis firm.

The manager reported that John Wansless, the diver, has raised the broken water main in the canal and that it is possible the pipe will be replaced and the water turned into the Park Point system by Sept. 1.

It's a Bit Of a Job to order around and boss free Americans and bullyrag them if they don't obey "orders" without question.

Quite a little chore. The labor trust leaders tried by threats and coercion to bully members of Congress into passing some laws for the benefit of the labor trust but not in the interests of the people at large.

They were told they didn't represent all the people. There happen to be 78 millions anti-trust Americans and about 2 millions labor trust members, many of them held by force.

Naturally every gain of either money or advantage for the members of any trust must be absorbed from the "common" persons outside the trust. Every trust must feed by feeding off "outsiders."

Think it over a moment and see if that's right.

The beef trust raises the price of meat.

Who pays the raise? The labor trust raises the price of labor and we don't object to that in reason, but who pays the raise? The oil trust tries to freeze out a citizen who starts in an independent oil business. Why? So it can rule and have its own way and make the people outside the oil trust "obey" and pay toll.

The labor trust tries to force an anti-injunction bill through Congress to prevent courts from issuing restraining orders or injunctions, so it can be free to attack property or independent men when the protection of the courts is withdrawn and thus terrorize the people and make them "obey" the trust leaders and prevent every independent American from selling his labor at all even though his family may be starving.

You are ordered to refuse any labor but that sold by the labor trust, and not to buy an article of merchandise unless it bears the "union label" the trade-mark of the trust.

Some of the most irksome tyrannies and outrages are put upon citizens who believe in the old doctrine that America is for freemen and a "square deal" for everybody.

But the biggest of all trusts, the labor trust, assumes to itself the right to rule the balance of the people and make them pay tribute to it, for the further fattening, principally of the leaders and incidentally of the humbler members.

They, having been restrained by Congress, the labor leaders now propose to go into politics and elect labor trust members to rule the balance of the people at large.

Such massing of class or trust power in the hands of a few men is exceedingly dangerous for the safety of the people at large.

There is but one safe procedure. Elect men who do not represent any trust but stand steadfast for the citizens, the 100 per cent. whole people and not the few trust members who seek to feed off the many.

What could be expected of a labor trust jury council, legislature or Congress but to enact strict labor trust laws.

We need anti-trust representatives in this country to protect the people at large.

Don't fail to question your candidates.

"Do you stand for the trusts, either of labor or capital or will you represent the best interests of the people?"

Don't permit any cowardly excuses but demand to know.

This is a trust-burdened age, but the people's prosecuting officers are trying to protect the people and will no doubt soon turn their attention to prosecution of the labor trust leaders for their many conspiracies and overt acts against the citizens.

Think over this trust question and "let the Light of Reason burn" give the public a clear analysis of facts and they will do the rest.

C. W. POST.

OHIO GETS THE CHIEF

R. B. Brown of Zanesville Chosen to Command G. A. R.

Archbishop John Ireland of St. Paul Unanimously Elected Chaplain.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 17.—Commander-in-chief, R. B. Brown, Zanesville, Ohio.

Senior vice commander, William H. Armstrong, Indianapolis.

Junior vice commander, E. B. Fenton, Detroit.

Chaplain-in-chief, Archbishop John Ireland, St. Paul.

Surgeon-general, W. H. Johnson, Lincoln, Neb.

The above officers were elected yesterday at the annual meeting of the Grand Army of the Republic.

All other officers are staff appointments and will be announced later by the new commander-in-chief.

The strongest opponents of Mr. Brown for the honor of being commander-in-chief were C. G. Burton of Missouri, and Capt. P. H. Conney of Kansas. Both of these withdrew when it was seen that the election of Mr. Brown was a certain one.

The friends of the newly-elected commander-in-chief declared Wednesday night that there was no possibility of beating their man for the position, inasmuch as he had received the promise of support from the four strongest delegations at the convention, Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York. The followers of Burton and Conney, however, refused to accept the situation as outlined by the Brown adherents, but when the convention yesterday came to elect a commander-in-chief, it was seen that the election of Brown could not be prevented, and so both men declined the nomination and asked their friends to vote for Brown, who was chosen by acclamation.

Several candidates were nominated for senior and junior vice command, but at the last instant all withdrew in favor of Armstrong for the senior position, and Fenton for the junior place. Both men were chosen unanimously. Archbishop Ireland had no rivals for the position of chaplain-in-chief.

After the selections, the place of holding the next encampment was taken up, and the New York delegation presented Saratoga. An adjournment was taken before a vote was reached and other cities that desire the encampment will have an opportunity to present their claims this morning.

The sentiment is strongly in favor of Saratoga. It is expected that the debate on the Witz proposition will also come up early in the morning session. The present probability is that some amended discussion will follow the introduction of any resolution on the matter. Despite the fact that Commander-in-chief Tanner so strongly urged in his message that a protest be made against the election of a monument to the memory of Witz, there is a pronounced feeling among the delegates that the matter is not one of which the Grand Army at this time should take official notice.

The new commander-in-chief of the Grand Army, R. B. Brown, was born in 1845 and has always lived in Ohio. He enlisted in the Fourteenth army corps in the army of the Cumberland and he was mustered out in 1864. He then re-enlisted as a veteran soldier and served as such until the end of the war. He was a private throughout the first years of his service and then became a non-commissioned officer. He has always been active and prominent in the work of the Grand Army. Mr. Brown is now editor of the Zanesville Courier.

Mrs. Carrie Sparkling of St. Louis was last night elected national president of the Woman's Relief Corps. Her principal rival was Mrs. Kate Jones of New York. Mrs. Sparkling has previously held the position of high officer in the organization.

MAY BRING THE DESIRED PEACE

Compact Made by Central American Republic for Arbitration.

New York, Aug. 17.—Lodillo Combs, the American minister to Guatemala and Honduras, arrived here last night by the steamer Alianza from Colon.

Mr. Combs, with William L. Merly, the American minister to Costa Rica, Nicaragua and Salvador, represented this country at the recent conference held at the United States warship Maribhead, at San Jose, Costa Rica, when peace was re-established between Guatemala on the one side and the allies, Honduras and Salvador, on the other.

Mr. Combs said he felt some embarrassment in discussing the situation prior to reporting to the state department.

"There can be no impropriety, however," he said, "in saying that the conference on the Maribhead not only resulted in a prompt and satisfactory settlement of all pending questions, including the immediate disbandment of the armed forces of the countries, but there were provisions in the compact that I am quite sure will result in a peaceful situation in Central America for years to come."

He considered the agreement whereby any of the countries can refer to the president of the United States and to the president of Mexico for the settlement of any concrete case than may arise, by arbitration, will effect this. I am sure it will create a moral pressure that will eliminate the revolutionary tendencies with which these countries have been afflicted, since these are usually conflicts in which the revolutionists are simply used to cover what is really

Our Mid-Summer Blanket Sale Means Big Savings to You.

Supposing you were offered government bonds at 20 per cent below par. Wouldn't you find the money somewhere to get them? Then supposing you needed some blankets for this winter and could buy them 20 per cent cheaper now than you could then, wouldn't it be the wisest kind of prudence to make the saving. It would be just like earning that much extra money.

We plan for these Mid-Summer Blanket Sales a long time in advance. The blankets for this sale were contracted for several months ago and were bought on a basis of last year's prices, which you know is 10 per cent lower than today's quotations. Then still to make it more attractive we lop off 10 to 15 per cent of the prices that the same goods sold for last year. Ours are all standard makes and nothing but strictly sanitary yarns go into their construction. If you need blankets you can't afford to let the opportunity pass. Just figure the saving you would make. We mention a few numbers.

FEARFUL TIMES IN FAIR POLAND

Bomb Throwing and Shooting of Innocent People Continues.

Warsaw, Aug. 17.—A boy threw a bomb at 9 o'clock last evening into a procession which was passing through Chlodulna street on its return from a pilgrimage to the shrine of the holy Virgin at Rokietnik, near Warsaw, wounding two of the processionalists. The explosion attracted a patrol of infantry, who without warning fired a volley, wounding thirty persons. A band of revolutionists yesterday attacked a government alcohol store and shot and killed a clerk and wounded two other persons. The band tried to rob the cash drawer. A patrol of infantry surrounded the house and the revolutionists fired from the windows, but all of them were arrested.

London, Aug. 17.—The Tribune's Warsaw correspondent telegraphs a description of the pitiful scenes witnessed by him after the disturbances Wednesday. "The hospital surgeons, fatigued by their labors," he says, "were unable to attend to cases, and wounds diagnosed as fatal were left to take their course. The scenes in the morgues were horrible. In one I counted thirty-two civilian bodies, all dirty and dressed as they fell. The people have grown callous with too much bloodshed. I was shocked to hear a young girl laugh heartily at the sight of a woman whose brain pan had been torn off by a bomb. In one hospital I saw a youth who when bayoneted Wednesday feigned death. The soldiers trod over him and their heavy boots crushed his fingers to pulp; but he successfully stood the ordeal. He was carried to the morgue, when it was discovered that he was alive. He is now progressing favorably. Last night resulted in an orgy of blood in the Jewish quarter. The number of persons clubbed or bayoneted exceeded 300."

PRISONERS VAINLY PROTEST. Moscow, Aug. 17.—An outbreak occurred yesterday in the central prison among the political offenders confined there owing to the hospital conditions. The wardens of the prison being unable to cope with the disturbances, were forced to call in half a company of the Perno regiment, who subdued the outbreak by a volley, which killed two men and wounded ten of the prisoners.

ARE NOT ALARMED. Vienna, Aug. 17.—Politicians here do not apprehend dangerous complications from the Balkan situation. It is expected that the powers will present a collective note to the governments at Sofia and at Athens and that this will have the effect of bringing Bulgaria and Greece to reason. Austrian diplomats declare that the Greek government holds the key to the situation by having the means to prevent Greek bands invading Macedonia and persecuting Bulgarians.

LONGWORTH CHOSEN Secretary of International Policyholders' Committee of Insurance Companies.

New York, Aug. 17.—Representative Nicholas Longworth of Cincinnati, yesterday was elected secretary of the International Policyholders' committee of the New York and the Mutual Life Insurance companies to succeed Seymour Eaton, who recently resigned. This action was taken at a meeting of the executive committee at which Mr. Longworth was present, the others in attendance being former Judge Alton B. Parker, Governor Roberts of Connecticut; J. C. Hemphill, of South Carolina; Col. Shock of Nashville, Tenn.; Harlow N. Higginbotham, of Chicago; and Samuel Untermyer, general counsel. A clerk will be employed to perform the current duties in connection with the secretary's office as Mr. Longworth is leaving for his home in Ohio, in a few days, to look after his political interests.

After the election of a secretary, the international committee spent the day discussing candidates for trustees for both the New York and Mutual companies. It is understood that considerable headway was made. Late in the day there was a conference with the sub-committee of the Mutual Life Policyholders' association, at which further progress was made in the selection of a joint ticket for Mutual trustees.

NEWSPAPER MAN WAS THE VICTIM Philip McCreary Occupied Boat Found at Spirit Lake.

It has been pretty well established that the boat found yesterday at Spirit Lake by L. A. Marvin was occupied by Philip McCreary, one of the advertising solicitors of the News Tribune, and it is believed that he has been drowned. He was twenty-four years of age, and has been employed on the morning paper for almost four years. He was well known in Duluth, having come here from Milwaukee four years ago. He was married to

CONCERNING WOMEN

The dancing party given last evening at the Spaulding by the members of the Delta Sigma Nu fraternity in session in this city, was one of the most delightful affairs of the summer season to the members of the young society set. Broad streamers of crepe paper in the fraternal colors, red and green, were draped about the sides of the hall and the balcony, and before the low mirror panels at the sides of the room, green bowls filled with red sweet peas were placed, making a most pleasing decoration. La Brosse played a delightful program of dance music and the chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Trauberg, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ball, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Stocking, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Plunket, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Goodman, Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Park, Mrs. E. L. Schmidt and Mrs. Millie Bunnell. Among the dancers were:

Washburn, Mildred Washburn, Elizabeth Morris, Watterworth, Leta Phelps, Florence Bradley, Harriet Shannon, Elmer Rothman, Jessie Campbell, Lillian Gowen, Claudia Gowen, Edna Curran, Minnie, Sharkey, Julia Morrow, Clara Murray, Emma Vaughn, Carolyn Swift, Black, Schmal, Colman, Russell, Gilbert, Gilbert, Superior, Helen Swanson of St. Paul, Harriet Stryker, Currie Dury of Superior, Lucille Dury of Superior, Barbara Patrick, Messers, C. Mrs. C. J. Chapman and Miss Anna Sutter, of 316 East Sixth street.

CARD RECEPTION.

Mrs. E. C. Blanchard Hostess at Charming Affair.
Mrs. E. C. Blanchard was hostess at a beautiful card reception yesterday afternoon at her home in the Belvidere of Fifteenth avenue east, receiving in honor of Mrs. George C. Howe, Mrs. A. D. McGee of Winnipeg and Mrs. Pascal Ward of Omaha. The entrance hall was banked in palms and in the hall of Mrs. Blanchard's apartment, pink and white sweet peas were used and the dining room was a glow of color with decorations of nasturtiums and golden glow. Assisting the hostess was Mrs. Miller McDougall and Misses Darden, Wain and Effie Smith. Bridge was played and the favors were won by Mrs. Sarah Ketchum, Mrs. A. R. Wolvin, Mrs. C. W. JEALOUSY AND GERMS

By I. L. Hill, M. D.

(Copyright, 1906, by Joseph B. Howles.)
"This is the widow test. You saw under the other microscope how actively the bacilli were moving. Now, you will see when I add this drop of blood from the typhoid patient, how the bacilli will cluster and clump and lose their motion." Dr. Young deftly adjusted the slide and with delicate manipulation completed the test.

"How interesting!" said the charming young girl who was being initiated into some of the more striking phenomena of the laboratory. If indeed she was not sincere in her profession of interest for these somewhat unattractive technicalities, she certainly did not fail to find attraction in the handsome young physician who was demonstrating them. Her eyes followed him in every movement and beamed with admiration and sympathy.

"And these are real live germs, the kind that cause all the mischief?" she inquired.
"There are enough bacilli in that tube of bouillon to give typhoid to an entire city." She gave a playful little scream and stepped back. "Oh, how dreadful!"

"You needn't fear. See how they are foolish, floppy, hen, that nobody likes except dead and cooked, appeals to even a limited sense of bearing this reaction to the alluring glimmer of what woman thinks is the kitchen cleverness of her irresistible ally, the watermelon. They are roasted for Sunday dinner.

The watermelons continue to cost too much to make eating them in unlimited quantities the pleasure it would otherwise be. The exclusive thing offered in the market tomorrow and dull, home grown and in five cent bunches may be obtained.

eatly stowed away in the incubator, and here go my hands into the antiseptics. What a funny business! You see, tomorrow you will hear the scientists talking of the Young test just as they now do of the Widal test. It's a reaction I have discovered to establish the identity of the cholera germ, and there is a test-tube culture of cholera in that incubator that may make my name famous. I've grown them under certain new conditions. At the medical meeting tomorrow night they will be the ill-fated paper. But, please! This isn't interesting to you. I'm bore when I get on my hobby. You'll excuse me."

"Why, Jack! you know I'm terribly interested in science, and especially what you accomplish. Oh, I know we're all going to be proud of you."

There were two other occupants of the laboratory. The doctor and his fair visitor had not been unconscious of their presence—merely oblivious to it. Perhaps they might have been less self-sufficiently comfortable had they observed the attention with which their dialogue had been followed.

Penton, a junior house physician, was the first to speak. "Conceded fool, that now Young. It's more luck than sense that has given him his advancement. He never did anything wonderful at college when I was in his class. Humph! I never had to give way to him then. But he had the cash and could go right on and I had to drop out a year and work. Now, I'm taking orders from him!"

He certainly did not fail to find attraction in the handsome young physician who was demonstrating them. Her eyes followed him in every movement and beamed with admiration and sympathy.

"And these are real live germs, the kind that cause all the mischief?" she inquired.
"There are enough bacilli in that tube of bouillon to give typhoid to an entire city." She gave a playful little scream and stepped back. "Oh, how dreadful!"

"You needn't fear. See how they are reassured by a quick glance up and down the hall. Heller, the pharmacist, entered the door, which had not been locked. He made his way quickly to the incubator and lit a match with trembling fingers and removed a tube from its stand. "Cholera culture, Dec. 2," he read the label. "Day before yesterday—fresh." He left the laboratory without daring to look behind him.

"A letter for you, Dr. Young." The orderly handed an envelope to the young doctor, just as he was glancing over his notes the reading of which was next on the program that night. Young opened the letter. As he read his face grew white; he tottered and sank back in his chair. "It's too late, too late!" he moaned. "Oh, Alice! Alice!"

The physician who was reading an article to the meeting stopped at this interruption. Several of the physicians rushed to Young's side. "What is it?" asked old Dr. Jarden, chief of the visiting staff.

"Young gasped, pointing to the sheet on the floor." Dr. Jarden seized the letter and read it in an undertone to the physician at his side.

"For God's sake save yourself if you can! I am now on my way to the sea, but if I am to continue in the torture of conscience that I am now enduring I shall put myself into the ocean rather than on it. Be quick when you get this. Early this morning I took a drachm of pure cholera culture from the laboratory and put it in your drinking glass! I was drunk when I did it. For heaven's sake save yourself."

Distracted, HELLER, "Who is Heller?" inquired the doctor of Penton, who was in the group that listened to the letter. "But first attend to this paper with my antiseptic solution. You know my formula. But I fear we are too late." "Dr. Jarden, may I speak with you in private?" Penton asked like one about to be whipped. "It was contemptible, doctor," he said, when they had stepped aside. "Just pure envy, but it is true, nevertheless, that last night, in order to spoil Young's experiment before the meeting, took his culture tubes of cholera and typhoid and subjected them to heat enough to kill all the germs."

WATER MAIN
IS HELD UPDiver Wanless and Water Board Have a Disagreement.Estimate Turned Down and Contractor Quits
Work at Canal.

J. B. Wanless, the diver who has the city contract to lay gas and water mains across the canal to Park Point, has quit work, and unless the disagreement between him and the water and light board is settled, the probability is that no water main will be completed to Park Point this year.

The trouble between Mr. Wanless and the members of the board came to a head when an estimate for $1,000 on the work by Mr. Wanless was presented to the board for passage yesterday. The board did not pass it, and Mr. Wanless decided that he would quit until they do.

It appears that there has been friction between Mr. Wanless and the board for some time. A number of the members of the board have expressed it as their opinion that the work was not being done fast enough.
City Engineer McGilvray, under whose supervision the work is being done, claims that Mr. Wanless has been doing the work just as fast as it could be done, and that nobody could do it any quicker. A short time ago Mr.
Wanless appeared before the board to explain why the work could not be done any quicker. He pointed out that the rough weather and the tides in the canal frequently prevent work altogether, and at almost any time make work slow. This did not seem to be satisfactory to the board, and Mr. Wanless declared he would do no more work. However, that was smoothed over, and within the past two days Mr. Wanless brought up the broken flange of the pipe, which is all that remains to be put in to complete the submarine system. He was waiting for calm weather, so that the broken flange could be replaced, which was but a slight job.

Some days ago the estimate of $1,000 was recommended by the city engineer to the board for passage, but the board laid it on the table. Mr. Wanless saw President H. H. Phelps, it is understood, and explained the situation to him, asking that the estimate be passed. It was brought up again yesterday and again the board tabled it.
So now Mr. Wanless has "tabled" the work and it is understood will leave it tabled until the water and light board decides to act. Mr. Wanless refused to talk about the matter for publication and even demanded that nothing be said about it and City Engineer McGilvray is no the city today and therefore could not be seen.

It is understood that until the board grants the estimate Mr. Wanless will do no more work on the pipe under the canal. The gas main has been completed and accepted and only one flange remains to be put in the water pipe. It is claimed that in case the $1,000 were paid there would be still $1,500 more to be paid by the city.
On the other hand, President
Phelps of the water and light board said today that Mr. Wanless has nothing coming under the terms of the contract. Said he:

"Under the contract Mr. Wanless is to get estimated up to 90 per cent of the amount certified by the city engineer. He has received this much and therefore has nothing further coming until the job is completed. It was for

ONLY ONE ISSUE LEFT IN BOARD OF TRADE CASE

Attorney General Young Argues That Board is Illegal Combine.

State Abandons Charges of Conspiracy Made in Complaint.

Oral arguments together with briefs were submitted to Judge Dibel this morning in the closing of the case brought by the state of Minnesota against the Minnesota Farmers' Exchange against the Duluth board of trade.

The action is one in which the state, at the instance of the farmers' exchange, brought suit against the local institution charging it with conspiracy to restrain the grain trade and with permitting its members to discriminate against persons in the trade outside of the board. The object sought was the annulment of the franchise of the board of trade and the punishment of the members if they were found to have violated the state anti-trust law.

The trial was held several weeks ago, about three days being taken for the testimony.

The trial came to a close sooner than had been expected owing, it is claimed, to the fact that the character of some of the testimony relative to the charges of conspiracy was not, it is understood, just what the state had expected.

Attorney General E. T. Young, who argued for the state, avoided any discussion on the point of a conspiracy or attempt to keep members of the farmer's exchange from the board. He stated his reasons for so doing as follows:

"The evidence was very conflicting as to the conspiracy charge. It is before the court for his consideration and I believe it wiser for me and courteous to all concerned to refrain from discussing it."

The attorney general declared that the welfare of all the people of the state demands that the state see to it that the rules under which boards of trade and other institutions operate, do not permit the members thereof to exercise undue advantage over others in trade who are not members. He argued that Rule 26 of the by-laws of the Duluth board fixes absolutely the commission which must be charged by every member before the rate of interest as arbitrarily fixed the rate of interest that must be charged for members for money advanced the shippers who are not members.

Mr. Young claimed that the board has thus fixed a minimum rate of profits below which a member cannot go without paying a penalty to the other members. He claimed there is no difference between such an operation and that of several banks if they should get together and fix a rate of interest that should be paid by customers loaning money. The principle Mr. Young declared, is just the same in both cases.

He claimed that the grain raising people of Minnesota are incapable of organization; that they are too scattered; and that they must deal with the exchanges which constitute the avenues by which the producer reaches the market. Mr. Young argued that it is very important to the producers that there be no combination on the part of those who handle the grain whereby an absolute tax is levied on the producer for the benefit of the middleman.

It was argued by Mr. Young that the court does not concern itself with the personal integrity of the men constituting the membership of the board, but that it should concern itself with the principles under which the board operates, not only as to whether it is doing wrong, but as to whether it has the power to do wrong.

Mr. Young claimed that each member of the board should be permitted to make his own commission rate and rate of interest on money advanced the shipper, and that "it is the arbitrary nature of the proposition that is obvious, so far as the legal question is involved."

He argued that the statutes relative to boards of trade do not authorize specific rules, but give general powers to the boards to secure uniformity of business. These rules, he claimed, must be consistent with the law.

Mr. Young also argued that the rules of the Duluth board absolutely discriminate by declaring on their face that the minimum rate of profit must be enforced against non-members. He claimed this to be an interference with trade.

It was argued that under the existing conditions there is nothing to prevent the board raising its commission from 1 to as high as 6 or 7 per cent, and that the producers have absolutely no protection.

As to the question of the similar rules existing in other boards and exchanges throughout the country, Mr. Young declared that all testimony to that effect was not admissible in evidence, and that the court had no means of taking judicial notice of the anti-trust laws of other states. More specifically, and so far as the similarity of the rules of the local board with those of the Minneapolis board is concerned, Mr. Young claimed that if the rules are found to be wrong here, they will have to be abrogated by the Minneapolis board.

The attorney general quoted several authorities in support of his various contentions, and submitted the case for the state with his brief.

Mr. Severance of the firm of Davis, Kellogg & Severance, who, with the local firm of Sullivan & Grant, has been conducting the defense, argued, in behalf of the board of trade.

He took the position that it is a serious matter for a board of trade, comprised of the men making up the membership of the local organization, to have charges of conspiracy brought against it by a man of the standing of the attorney general of the state. To put it in plain English, Mr. Severance declared that it was equivalent to a charge of felony against the 200 men who comprise the local board. Mr. Severance claimed that it is not only for the court to decide whether the Duluth board of trade shall continue its business, but whether the men comprising it are violating the laws and are punishable for a felony.

As to the argument advanced by the attorney general, Mr. Severance claimed that the only novelty about it was his going outside the state for decisions criticizing the decisions of the Minnesota supreme court.

Commenting on the position taken by the attorney general as to the character of the testimony on the conspiracy charge, Mr. Severance said it was only fair to presume that the state had abandoned that, and has only argued on the question as to whether the Duluth board of trade is or is not an illegal body.

Mr. Severance claimed there was only one bit of evidence on the charge of a combination of the members and that was the denial of every one of the 200 members of any agreement for implied agreement whereby any member was to be prohibited from doing business with a member of the Minnesota Farmers' exchange under penalty of a boycott.

Mr. Severance presumed there is only one really left and that is the matter which involves the continuance of the Duluth board of trade in business with any success.

He argued that the evidence as to the similarity of the rules in the boards and exchanges throughout the country was admissible and that it has a strong bearing on the case as going to show that it was generally understood that the operations of such institutions are not in violation of the provisions of this anti-trust law.

Mr. Severance discussed the statutes that have been enacted since 1868 conferring powers on the boards of trade and claimed that the revised laws of 1905 have not detracted but rather emphasized the large powers that have been conferred in the past.

Reduced to its ultimate analysis, Mr. Severance argued, it will be found the only matter in issue in the complaint is from certain allegations with reference to the treatment of the Minnesota Farmers' exchange, is that a rule relative to commissions is enforced by the board, and that the effects of that rule is to restrain trade and commerce or to produce a monopoly by concentrating business in the hands of the members of the board, thereby destroying open and free competition in Duluth, and claiming that the fact that the anti-trust law does not attempt to prohibit agreements between two or more persons with reference to the charges they may make for personal services rendered and that in this respect the Minnesota law differs materially from the statutes of other states.

Conceding, for the purposes of argument, that under some circumstances the members of the board of trade might, by the enactment of improper laws for their government or by acting in unison in illicit practices, bring themselves within the condemnation of the law, Mr. Severance claimed that the facts as disclosed in the record of the case show the acts of the members of the Duluth board and of the board itself to have been entirely lawful, that the rules complained of are entirely reasonable and enacted for the fair protection of the members in their business and not wantonly for the purpose of injuring anyone else. He claimed they are not within the prohibition of the statute, however, it may be construed.

Mr. Severance claimed that under Judge Sanborn's decision in the Whitwell case, it is perfectly clear that the rules of the Duluth board of trade, as set forth in the complaint, and claimed to constitute an unlawful restraint on commerce, are perfectly innocent for the reason that they do promote competition, and that the main purpose and chief effect is to foster trade and increase the business of the members.

Mr. Severance argued that the board of trade itself transacts no business. It is owner of the building and provides all the facilities for its members to do business. Every member is interested in enlarging the business of the board as much as possible, in preserving the integrity of the membership, and in maintaining the highest possible competition in the purchase and sale of commodities on the board. At the same time, Mr. Severance argued, the board is interested in the fierce competition that often takes place on the floor of the exchange when there is a carload of grain for sale and the broker is fighting for the very last fraction of a cent per bushel.

Mr. Severance argued that for the board to produce uniformity it was necessary for it to have a uniform rate of commissions. That is the only way in which a demoralization of business can be prevented.

Commenting on the position of the state in consigning a car of grain to a Duluth broker knows from the published rules exactly what charge the broker can exact for his services and knows that he cannot charge him a higher rate per bushel than he charges anybody else; that he cannot claim the right to do a wholesale business at a cheaper rate than he does a retail; that the farmer who raises one car of grain and ships it to Duluth can have his business transacted as efficiently, as honestly, and as cheaply as any great elevator company having a line of elevators across the state and whose shipments amount to thousands of cars annually. Not only that, Mr. Severance said, but this producer of grain knows he has an immediate remedy for any grievance against his broker without expense. He does not have to hire a lawyer, bring suit and await the result of litigation, but he can bring the broker up before a committee of the board and compel him to adjust the grievance under penalty of expulsion from the board.

In this way, it was claimed, the business of the board is transacted and it is essential that no man be permitted to retain a membership whose honesty may be elected to a membership on successfully passing the requirements. Mr. Severance claimed that rates of commission charged do not affect the price received for the commodities dealt in. Their effect on the transaction is only incidental and not direct, and therefore, these rules relative to commissions are not within the terms of the statute. In order to be within the prohibitions of any anti-trust law, either the local law in this state or the federal law, it is essential that the effect on commerce or on prices must be direct and certain.

Mr. Severance argued that it was not a restraint on trade for a member to decline to do business with a non-member, nor is the exclusion of persons from the floor, for the law presumes that such exclusion is for the benefit of the members and no other person can question it.

Mr. Severance quoted from a large number of authorities in the support of his argument and gave a number of references covering other points.

The case was argued right through the noon hour in order that the Twin City attorneys might get the afternoon train for their homes.

HO! FOR THE LAUNCHING AT SUPERIOR SHIP YARDS.
Of the Steamer Townsend, Saturday, Aug. 18. You should not fail to witness the launching of the largest boat built for fresh water transportation. This is the greatest vessel built for the Great Lakes trade, being 602 feet long, 88 feet beam and 32 feet depth. On account of the launching, but one trip will be made to Fond du Lac, leaving at 2 p. m., returning at 8 p. m. Steamer Newberry leaves foot of Fifth avenue west at 11:45 o'clock, taking a location where the view is unobstructed, thus gaining a better view than would be obtained from shore. A fine boat ride and view of launching all for 25c round trip.

A VIOLENT STORM
Did Considerable Damage to the Crops at Argyle.

Crookston, Minn., Aug. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Wednesday at Argyle a storm of unusual violence did considerable damage to the crops, the exact amount being hard to determine until it develops whether or not the grain, which was flattened to the earth, will rise again so that it can be harvested.

The storm was the same one that passed over this city, but no damage was done in this section aside from what was done by the lightning, several buildings having been damaged and the telephone system crippled for some time. At Argyle the wind blew a gale and the rain fell in torrents, the wheat fields afterwards being flattened like a floor. Of our horses and seven cows were also killed by the lightning near Argyle.

RESPONDS TO HIS REQUEST
Railroad Commission Take Action on Governor Johnson's Letter.

St. Paul, Aug. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—In response to a letter sent to the state railway and warehouse commission by Governor Johnson yesterday, the commission today sent notices to all railroads operating in the state to show cause why rates on coal and farm products should not be reduced. The hearings will be begun at once. The governor's letter stated that the hearings heretofore held had demonstrated that railroad rates were too high and that the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and the Soo railroads, by offering to lower their rates on grain as a compromise to avoid further rate hearings, had shown that they could afford to reduce freight rates.

Drew a Big Crowd.
Every available space of the Eagle Clothing and Shoe house was crowded today with eager purchasers, attracted by the numerous bargains in men's clothing and furnishings. The advertisements in the Wednesday and Thursday Herald led them to expect many surprising values and they were not disappointed. The firm has always enjoyed a reputation of doing what it promised, and as the present stock was bought at a very low rate on the dollar it is being disposed of accordingly. A further list of the good things appear on another page.

THEY WANT HUGHES.
New York, Aug. 17.—The Evening Post yesterday said the friends of State Chairman B. H. Odell of the Republican state committee have sent notice to the friends of President Roosevelt that they are in favor of the nomination of Charles E. Hughes for governor on the Republican ticket. The Post also says that Mr. Odell's friends will consent to his retirement as state chairman, provided that his successor is not an anti-Odell man.

and eighteen policemen and about a hundred citizens were wounded.

Gidding's Farewell Sales of Summer
Are attracting unusual attention because of the reduction prices the Gidding firm is putting on the line of the stocks of summer apparel. Since Duluth is but just tasting a bit of real warm weather the sale now comes at a boom to those who still need something to finish out the season with. Indeed many of the items offered are very suitable for autumn wear, such for instance as black broadcloth and convent jackets, which they are now selling at $5 and $6.75 and which formerly brought $12.50 and $15. Short smart Polo coats at $2.50 which formerly brought $10. Skirts at $4.50 and $6.75 which formerly sold for $10 to $15 and the tailored suits at $7.50 and $12.50, formerly $22.50 to $32.50, and dozens of other items which seem equally attractive. The Gidding firm is being rewarded for offering such values by the large crowds which are attending the sale.

SOX! SOX!

About 150 dozen unmatched pairs of hose, mostly of the finer fifty-cent and better grades—in the show window today and

On Sale Tomorrow at 10 o'clock For 10c a Pair.

Explaining the above, will say that we purchased about 150 dozen of unmatched sample Hosiery as carried by traveling salesmen. Of these we have been able to match up perfectly about 15 dozen and about 35 dozen are near-matched so that a very slight difference in shading or design would not be noticeable on the feet.

This lot goes at 10c a pair.

All the rest of the big lot we have mated as best we could, and have tied three pairs in one bundle to be sold exactly as they are—three pairs for one dime.

Of these three pair go at 10c.

Limit to one customer: Three pair of lot 1, or two bundles of lot 2.

SAY MARRIAGES WERE FAILURES

Three Disappointed People Start Actions for Decrees of Divorce.

Three divorce actions were begun in the district court this morning, two on charges of desertion and one on the ground of infidelity.

Daniel McIntyre has petitioned for a legal separation from Ellen A. McIntyre of Wilkesport, Conn., after about twenty years of wedded life, on the ground that the wife has proven unfaithful, caused a bad scandal in the neighborhood where they resided, broke up the family, and has continued to live in a way that has brought great shame and disgrace on her people.

The complaint alleges that McIntyre is 41, and his wife 40 years old. They have five children, some of whom are grown up, and who are said to have deserted their mother after the alleged infidelity. James Sturdevant, an old-time neighbor of the family, is named as the co-respondent. McIntyre claims that once after he left his wife, she sent for him to come back to her and see if matters could be fixed up between them, but he found conditions so bad that they could not become reconciled. He claims that after four years he again attempted to see if they could be reconciled, but the conditions were so scandalous and bad as ever, and he finally gave up and came to this country to make his permanent residence. He asks a decree and the custody of such of his children as may come into the United States.

Mary Boucher asks a divorce from C. Boucher, on the ground of desertion. They were married at Minneapolis, Aug. 29, 1903, and have a child 2 years old.

Clara Inez Anderson asks a legal separation from William Anderson, on the charge of abandonment. They were married at Woodstock, Ill., July 28, 1902. Mrs. Anderson desires to resume her maiden name of Ellis.

Theatrical Men Here.

The theatrical season at Duluth was opened today in good shape, when it was discovered that there were a number of theatrical managers and agents in the city, including R. X. Hope, manager for Adelaide Thurston; B. F. Joy, manager for Laura Frankendorf; W. H. Wright, representing Chauncey O'Leary, and E. Q. Clendenning, representing "The Brigadiers." These gentlemen assembled at the Lyceum theater this noon and marched in a body, accompanied by C. A. Marshall, manager of the Lyceum, to the Union depot to welcome to Duluth Sanford H. Rensby and his West's Minstrels, which open the season at the Lyceum tonight.

"MET" SEASON TO OPEN.
The regular season of the Metropolitan opera house will open Sunday, Aug. 26, with "The Brigadiers" as the attraction. This company has already opened its season in Chicago and its production will be running smoothly by the time the company reaches Duluth, with the usual Sunday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday matinees.

WEST'S MINSTRELS.
William H. West's big jubilee minstrels will appear at the Lyceum this evening and tomorrow night. While the chief aim has always been to furnish a diversified entertainment of the highest possible note, Manager Rensby has never lost sight of the picturesque interest with which this famous attraction is identified, and the first part settings are planned on a massive scale.

JUDGE IS SEVERE.

Hands Culprit All He Can Get for Disorderly Conduct.

In police court this morning, Frank Busky was arraigned for being drunk and disorderly. Judge Cutting was informed in an undertone of the real offense of the man, which is unprintable, and without much preliminary sent Busky to pay a fine of $77 or take sixty days in the county jail. Busky went up, and for a time at least will behave.

Gust Davis was charged with assault on Lawrence Keeler, a fellow worker on the Pittsburg Coal company's docks. It was charged that the assault was committed last night, near Lincoln Park, and in the melee three of Keeler's ribs were broken.

Davis tells a peculiar story about the matter. He declared that about two weeks ago, as they were quitting work one day, Keeler said to him: "I will kill you before fall." Davis looked on the matter as a joke for the time, but Keeler repeated the threat, and refused any explanation. Since that time Davis has been in fear of the other. Last night, Davis told the police, that while he was on his way from work he saw Keeler and another man ahead of him. He crossed the street to get away from them, but they followed and caught up to him, and Keeler attempted to strike him. Davis dodged, and Keeler made a second attempt. Then Davis, getting desperate, knocked Keeler down and kicked him. Keeler's companion all the time trying to get hold of Davis, but failing. Keeler then walked to a nearby store, and had to be attended by a physician. This morning Davis' hearing was continued until Aug. 27, at 10 a. m., and he was released on $25 bail.

Joseph Brodsky, arrested some time ago, charged with non-support, was brought into court today, but no case of the kind could be established against him, as it was shown that he has been paying his wife's board and giving her sufficient money. He told the court that he could not live with her, and would not try. He was discharged.

PRIEST FOR LEGISLATURE.
Mahoning City, Pa., Aug. 17.—The Democrats and the Lincoln Republicans are urging the Rev. Hugh J. McGeehan, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic church at Ashland, to accept the nomination for the legislature in the Second district.

The Rev. A. Labach, pastor of St. John's Reformed church of Tamaqua, is a candidate for the legislature in the Third district on the Democratic ticket.

STORM CLOUD DISPELLED

Resolution Endorsing Hearst Stirs the Typo- graphical Meeting.

Colorado Springs, Aug. 17.—What for a time had the appearance of a dangerous storm-cloud over the proceedings of the International Typographical union convention was dispelled today by agreement among the delegates upon a compromise substitute for a resolution endorsing and commending William R. Hearst.

The Hearst resolution was offered by Delegate Roberts of Washington, and commended the New York congressman for his efforts and achievements in behalf of organized labor. Opposition to the resolution was headed by Delegate McCulloch of Omaha, who declared the measure a political one, and announced his unswerving opposition to having the International Typographical union made a tail to any man's political kite.

The compromise substitute, which is to be offered during the session today, and which is expected to pass without a dissent, commends all editors who have exerted themselves in behalf of union labor, making incidental mention of the fight conducted by Mr. Hearst, with specific mention of the Los Angeles field.

The report of the committee on politics, which recommends that the printers join with all other branches of organized labor in supporting the men and political organizations that have manifested a friendship for labor and the favorable attitude toward legislation that it solicited, was received by the delegates with enthusiasm. Mr. McCulloch of Omaha, being outspoken in his endorsement of the movement. He urged the delegates to remember their good intentions upon returning to their homes, and go to primaries and elections, determined to put in office men from the rank of alderman to that of senator, who can be relied upon to vote for labor legislation as well as talk for labor votes.

Do you believe in patronizing home industry? Of course you do. That's why every loyal Minnesotan feels kindly toward Hunt's Perfect Baking Powder.

ST. PAUL PIONEER DIES.
St. Paul, Aug. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—James McMillan, aged 70 years, a pioneer resident as well as a pioneer in the meat packing industry of St. Paul, died at his home here early today after a long illness from liver trouble.

TREMPER IS HURT.

Well Known Marine Man is Injured on Aerial Bridge.

Joseph L. Tremper, the well known grain trimmer and marine man, has returned from a trip down the lakes to Buffalo and other points. He came back in time to get hurt on the aerial bridge when it stepped out from the Park point landing on Elbe day. He was one of the men who fell through the opening. He almost broke his leg and as a result is confined to his house with the injuries received. His body was bruised in various places and one shin was cut to the bone.

NOTICE

Freight Handlers' union No. 64, special meeting Sunday afternoon at 6 o'clock. All members requested to attend.

JAMES KIMCKEY, President.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

The examiners appointed by Judge Pardee at Akron, Ohio, to make an examination of the county treasury, filed their report yesterday. It charges former county treasurer Smith with a shortage of $55,883. This amount was found missing from the vaults. Prosecuting Attorney Hagglarger says that a demand will be made on Smith for the amount.

Suit brought by the city of Chicago against the Chicago Union Traction company for the recovery of the cost of street cars owned by that company was yesterday decided in favor of the city. A penalty of $100 was mentioned in the verdict of the jury. Thirty or more similar cases are pending against the street car company.

Word was received in Chicago yesterday of the death in London of James Dredge, well known in Chicago and other large cities in the United States. Mr. Dredge was editor of Engineering, a weekly London publication. In 1885 he was royal commissioner to the world's fair in Chicago and in 1876 to the centennial exposition at Philadelphia. Pietro Algonoso, aged 23 years, and Michael J. Moriarty, aged 33 years, employed in the packing room of the Union Carbide company at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., were instantly killed last night by an explosion of gas in the company's plant, caused by water coming in contact with carbide. Several employees had narrow escapes from death.

Judge J. F. Boyd, of Neligh, was nominated for congress on the first ballot by the third district Republican convention at Fremont, Neb., yesterday afternoon, defeating Congressman McCarthy.

Frequent disturbances caused by striking shirtmakers who were employed at the factory of Tuttleman Bros. & Faggen, at Philadelphia, culminated last night in a serious riot during which a score of persons were injured, one seriously. The rioting occurred in a congested section of the city and so great was the mob that a detail of mounted police was summoned and it was three hours before the crowd was finally dispersed. Eight of the ringleaders were arrested.

A dispatch to a London news agency from Tangier, Morocco, says that serious fighting occurred today between Ratsul's men and the Angherite tribesmen at Oudersokoa, near the border. The latter were routed and fled toward Anghera, losing several men killed and wounded. Ratsul's force also sustained several casualties.

Attorney General Moody arrived at Oyster Bay yesterday afternoon. It was said he came to talk with the president about filling several vacancies on the federal bench and that his call had nothing to do with the Standard Oil prosecutions.

Mrs. Ida May Morse, a St. Louis actress, who came to Washington for the alleged purpose of getting President Roosevelt to surrender to her the $5,000 voted by him to congress to pay his traveling expenses, was yesterday given into the custody of officers who promised to care for her in St. Louis.

Physicians yesterday testified before the police board which is investigating the death last Saturday of H. P. Totten, a contractor from Springfield, W. Va., that alcoholism is a disease and should be treated as such. Totten died in a cell at one of the precinct police stations on a charge of drunkenness. Privates Hanley and Potter are being tried on charges of neglecting the care of the prisoner.

Coming out of a cover bridge on an unprotected crossing of the Lehigh Valley railroad last night at Allentown, Pa., the delivery wagon of a local brewery was struck by a train. Edward Brick, the driver, and John Brick, his brother, were instantly killed, and Jeremiah McCauley was fatally injured.

Edward H. Sanderson, secretary of the California Truck company of Los Angeles, Cal., late yesterday afternoon killed his wife and committed suicide in their home in West Lake avenue. The double crime was committed with a razor. Mr. Sanderson, according to a statement made by his son, was mentally unbalanced.

State Senator F. O. Butt was convicted by a jury in the circuit court at Perryville, Ark., shortly after midnight last night on a charge of offering a bribe to another state senator. He was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $200.

There is a possibility that the warring factions at Zion City may become reconciled. General Overseer Wilbur Glen Voliva visited Dowie yesterday at Shioh house for the purpose. It is believed, of bringing about a compromise. Neither Dowie nor Voliva would discuss the meeting.

Rev. Dr. Richard Eddy, one of the most prominent Universalist clergymen in New England, and well known as an author and historian, dropped dead at Gloucester, Mass., yesterday of heart disease. He was 74 years old.

Fred O. Murray, collector of customs at Buffalo, N. Y., was acquitted yesterday of the charge of grand larceny in connection with the "grave yard" scandal by which the county was mulcted of many thousands of dollars.

Russian Bank Robber
Makes Daring Escape From Guards.

Was Being Brought From Switzerland on Extradition Papers.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 17.—Belozoff, the leader of the band which pillaged the Credit Mutual bank of Moscow, daringly escaped while on his way to Moscow from Switzerland whence he had been extradited. He was on board a train heavily guarded but he dived through a window, gained the forest and eluded pursuit.
Belozoff left Warsaw in a special car, attached to a fast train in charge of a captain of gendarmes, four gendarmes and six soldiers, two of whom were always sitting on the same seat as Belozoff and carried loaded rifles. Suddenly as the train slackened speed at an upgrade Belozoff rose and hurled himself bodily through the glass of a window, rolled down the embankment and disappeared in the woods. The train was immediately stopped and the guards followed Belozoff's bloody trail for some distance, but finally it was lost in a swamp.

Extraordinary precautions had been taken throughout Poland owing to fear of a forcible rescue of Belozoff. The platforms at all the places where the train stopped were cleared.
Belozoff's attorneys fought his extradition on the ground that a bank robbery in Russia was a political crime. Even after the Russian government had produced evidence showing that the revolutionary congress held in Finland was opposed to such methods the attorneys for the prisoner maintained that an organized minority of the party had not acquiesced to this action and they were granted a stay of several weeks by the courts so as to enable counsel to produce evidence to support their claims.

GOVERNOR JOHNSON HAS THROWN DOWN GAUNTLET TO REPUBLICAN LEADERS

Demand Upon Railroad Commission for Reduced Grain Rates.

Complaint on File With the Commission for Years.

Is the Law Making the Commission Elective Constitutional?

St. Paul, Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Governor Johnson has thrown down the gauntlet to the Republican leaders of the state, and quite taken the wind out of their sails. It is now up to Mr. Cole, many think, to follow him up with one better. Allied as he is, it is feared that Cole must remain silent on the question of rate reduction, which is now fast taking the state from one end to the other.

The various attacks made on Governor Johnson that he was dodging the question of railroad rates in Minnesota, and that he had never interested himself in the matter, now fade into insignificance beside the vigorous protest which he sent this week to the state chamber session of the railroad and warehouse commission, whose members—two, at least, Judge Mills and Commissioner Staples—were preparing to thrust aside the advantages gained by the state during several weeks of tedious inquiry by accepting a compromise which, on the face of the facts, should have been demanded in addition to lower rates on merchandise.

Governor Johnson has demanded for the farmer of this state the 10 per

NINE YACHTS TO BE IN RACE

Large Fleet Entered in Lipton Cup Contest
at Chicago.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—Nine yachts are expected to start in the first race of the 1906 Lipton cup series here this afternoon. The list of entries includes an unusual fleet of racers and close contests are anticipated. The boats will carry the pennants of the Hamilton Yacht club, Hamilton, Ont.; the Toledo Yacht club; the Milwaukee Yacht club; the Chicago Yacht association; the Illinois Athletic club; and the Columbia Yacht association. Visitors are here from Toledo, Cleveland, and other yachting centers and so great is the interest in the contest that many steamers have been chartered to witness the contest.

Today's contest will be triangular, two miles to a leg, twice around. The second race will be three miles to windward or leeward and return, twice around and the third will be sailed over an equilateral course of three miles to the log. The second and third races are scheduled for Monday and Tuesday.

The entries are as follows: Raven, Royal Hamilton Yacht club; J. H. Farnside, skipper; Toledo Yacht club; E. H. Frey, skipper; Milwaukee, Milwaukee Yacht club; R. B. Brown, skipper; Hamilton, Hamilton Yacht club; E. F. Sanger, skipper; Cherry Circle, Chicago Athletic association; C. A. Penrose, skipper; New Illinois, New Illinois Athletic club; W. H. Thompson, skipper; Ill. Poster, Columbia Yacht club; J. J. Hermann, skipper; Quin Sabre, Columbia Yacht club; J. R. Brunelle, skipper; Yo San, Columbia Yacht club; E. W. Holmes, skipper.

THE REPORT ON DULUTH HARBOR

By the Board of Army Engineers is Nearly Ready.

Washington, Aug. 18.—The board of army engineers appointed to investigate conditions at Duluth and Superior harbor, with a view to devising means of protecting shipping within the harbor entrance from wave action during certain periods, has completed its work and its report will be presented to the chief of engineers in a short time.

The question at issue was whether it would be better to build a breakwater a short distance outside of the harbor entrance or cut a new channel through Minnesota Point.

Under the practice of the war department the report will not be made public until it is sent to congress next December and those who expected that some work on the project would be done this season will be disappointed. The report is for the guidance of the committee on rivers and harbors in making appropriations for future work.

If the house leaders should decide that a river and harbor bill is to be passed at the next session some provision will undoubtedly be made for carrying out whatever recommendation the board makes.

CLAIM TO HAVE WON

Printers Assert That Eight-Hour Day Fight Is Theirs.

Make Plans for Continuance—Action in Idaho Matter.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Aug. 18.—With the declaration that the fight for the 8-hour day is practically won, the fifty-second annual convention of the Typographical union yesterday voted to reduce the strike assessment from 10 per cent to 8 per cent on the wages of employed printers. At this time, 2,556 are under a nine-hour contract and 4,709 are on strike. The expense of the strike to date has been approximately $1,600,000, all of which with the exception of $47,715.94 has been contributed by members working under undisturbed conditions.

It was decided that the union allowed members on the strike roll be not in excess of $7 for single men and $10 for married men and that where men refuse to work because the amount earned does not equal the strike benefit, that they be cut off from the benefit list entirely. It being evident that the disposition as shown is not in accordance with the spirit of unionism and a desire to advance the out-of-work settlement.

TIDAL WAVE IN HAWAII

Chilean Earthquake Causes It—Height Was Five Feet.

Honolulu, Aug. 18.—Wireless reports at 10 p. m. last night, from the islands of Hawaii, Maui and Hilo reports a tidal wave, the general height of which was five feet. In the enclosed bay of Maunaloa on the island of Maui its height was estimated to be twelve feet. The phenomenon was manifested by an unusually heavy surf. The tidal wave is attributed to the earthquake at Valparaiso. Thirty years ago an earthquake in South America produced similar effects here.

WILD SCENES ON STOCK EXCHANGE

Furious Buying and Sensational Fluctuations From Opening.

New York, Aug. 18.—Yesterday's wild scenes on the stock exchange were repeated today. The galleries were crowded with spectators, attracted by the reports of yesterday's excitement, due to the electrifying effect of the unexpected amount of the dividend declared on Union Pacific and Southern Pacific. These two stocks continued to make sensational fluctuations. The whole market was affected in sympathy. Prices advanced buoyantly from 1 to 3 points on a buying demand such as has not been witnessed in the stock market since the bull period of April, 1901.

Brokers apparently had orders to buy unlimited amounts of Union Pacific and Southern Pacific, and even of tens of thousands of shares were taken at the market. An effervescent bidding up of prices in those two stocks resulted. Running sales of 20,000 shares of Union Pacific were made at once at 181 to 185, and 35,000 shares of Southern Pacific at 99 to 101. High prices for these stocks yesterday were 194 for Union Pacific and 89 for Southern Pacific.

The fury of buying continued after the opening, prices ran off from time to time, while room traders were taking their quick profits, but the uplift was resumed. Pennsylvania was secured and only to the Pacific in activity and buoyancy. During the second hour leading came into prominence and was rushed up over 4 points on an almost unlimited buying movement.

The house was brilliantly decorated, covers were provided for seven hundred and the boxes and all the tiers of the galleries were filled with ladies. The guests at the banquet included the cabinet ministers, the high government officials, and the leading business men of Buenos Ayres.

HOT WEATHER IS GOOD FOR CROPS

Wheat Harvest in Red River Valley is Now On.

Trookston, Minn., Aug. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The hot weather of the past week has resulted in bringing the wheat harvest on several days sooner than expected and as a result practically every farmer in the valley is busy gathering the crop. While the crop is poor in this immediate vicinity, the yield, taking the entire valley into consideration, will be slightly better than average. If the later wheat fills as good as the early wheat has. In the counties of Marshall, Kittson, Roseau and Red Lake, together with Northern Polk, the crop is better than average and in some of the other sections it is not as good. In the eastern section of Polk county, where the soil is sandy, the wheat and other crops are also better than average and on the whole, if the weather continues as it has for the past week and the grain saved, the business conditions in this section will be most healthy for at least another year.

Revival of Terrorism in Russia Brings New Crisis.

Replacement of Police by Troops May Become Necessary.

Punishment of Officers Assaulting Anna Smir-moff is Demanded.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 18.—Since the acute revival of terrorism the ministry of the interior has been flooded with complaints forwarded by chiefs of police in all parts of the empire, to the effect that the police are resigning by wholesale, and it is evident that if this state of affairs continues, it may compel a practical replacement of the police by troops.

The cabinet has given serious attention to the situation in Poland, and the question of dispatching considerable reinforcements of troops there, and sending out punitive expeditions, has been discussed, but no decision has been reached.

The monarchist organizations, most of which are classed by the Liberals as black hundreds, are trying to arrange a national congress at Klet, with the view to placing the Liberals in the field for the parliamentary elections, which, it is now believed, will be held in November.

Both Premier Stolypin and War Minister Rudiger are receiving many letters demanding the punishment of the officers and soldiers of the Chevalier guards, concerned in the whipping of Anna Smirnov, and the newspapers continue to be filled with indignant articles on the subject. M. Stolypin has ordered an investigation of the affair, but so far as known the war authorities have made no move. The girl is in a hospital, and her condition is reported serious.

GERMANS PLEASED

Are 'Delighted With Results of Meeting of the Monarchs.'

Diplomats Look for Improvement in Relations With England.

Berlin, Aug. 18.—Great satisfaction prevails at the foreign office over the results of the meeting at Frederickshof between King Edward and Emperor William. The latter has expressed himself as in the highest satisfaction over the results. The discussions between the monarchs in the presence of their diplomatic representatives covered many political questions of interest to both countries, without aiming at reaching specific arrangements but with the view to coming to a satisfactory understanding respecting the policies pursued by the two countries.

This was accomplished in the main, and the foreign office expects to see the improvement in the relations between them continue. The recent friendly demonstrations, originating among the British and German peoples from dissatisfaction with the political hostilities attributed to the two governments, facilitated the Frederickshof meeting, since King Edward had no desire to see German antipathies continually attributed to him. So far as the report of a personal arrangement between the two monarchs is concerned, this has been wholly dispelled by the talks at Frederickshof and their relations have grown cordial.

HOT COFFEE EXPLOSION.

Freeborn County Woman Seriously Burned on Face and Arms.

Albert Lea, Minn., Aug. 18.—Mrs. Nelson, who lives in Hancock township, about seven miles from this city, came near losing her life in a peculiar manner. She was cooking coffee and working over the stove when the coffee pot exploded and the contents flew in various directions, much of the boiling fluid striking her, some on her breast and arms and some in the face. Her suffering has been terrible, but while her wounds are serious, it is believed she will recover.

Match Heads and Carbolic Acid is Drink of Suicide.

Danaldson, Minn., Aug. 18.—Mrs. Axel Schuchman, wife of one of the wealthiest farmers in this part of the state, committed suicide by drinking a decoction of match heads and carbolic acid and throwing herself in a swamp near by.

She had been in poor health for some time, and a short time ago her physician decided that a surgical operation would be necessary. This seemed to prey upon the woman's mind until she became mentally unbalanced.

She had been acting queerly for some time and had been closely watched by her husband. On the night of the suicide she managed to elude his vigilance.

NEWS FROM VALPARAISO OF CONFLICTING NATURE

Cable Service Still Interrupted and Reports Meager.

More Hopeful Feeling as to Fate of the Metropolis.

London Reports Conflict---New York Gets Serious News.

London, Aug. 18.—Private telegrams received here from South America today add little to what has already been cabled about the earthquake in Chile. The manager of the Tarapaca-Argentina bank informed the press that from the advice he had received he had reason to believe that the damage done at Valparaiso was not so serious as supposed. The staff of the bank was safe and the building had been only slightly damaged.

The Pacific Steam Navigation company has received the following cablegram from Valparaiso: "Violent earthquake. Heavy loss of property and lives. The company's office partially destroyed. Floating property undamaged."

The Eastern Cable company reports that direct cable communication with Valparaiso has not yet been re-established. The Chilean legation has not received any news.

Cable dispatches received by two firms here say that only two squares at Valparaiso and the surrounding avenues have been destroyed. On the other hand the Chilean Trading company's advice says that a great amount of damage, accompanied by severe loss of life, has resulted from the earthquake.

Private cables show that the reports that the nitrate grounds in Chile suffered seriously are unfounded. Copiapo, capital of the province of Atacama, apparently was the most northerly point where the disturbance was seriously felt. Iquique, Antofagasta and other towns in the nitrate region, were not damaged.

Hamburg, Aug. 18.—The North German bank today received from its correspondent, the Banco de Chile y Alemania at Valparaiso, the following dispatch: "The earthquake has caused considerable damage. Banks closed."

All well. Bank building only slightly damaged. Many houses destroyed by fire. We are unable to state extent of damage. Banks closed."

Bremen, Aug. 18.—A private telegram received here from Iquique, Chile, states that the city was unharmed by the earthquake. This is the first news received from Iquique since the earthquake.

New York, Aug. 18.—Wessel Duval & Company, which does a large business in South America, especially Chile, has just received the following dispatch from Valparaiso: "Town nearly destroyed. Particulars later when shakes cease." This dispatch was timed 3:55 a. m., but it is not known whether it was filed yesterday morning or this morning.

New York, Aug. 18.—The Central and South American Telegraph company reports that the situation in Valparaiso is similar to that

WOMAN FATALLY BEATEN BY FARMER NEAR TWIG

Assaulted His Wife While She Was in Delicate Condition.

Woman Was Kicked and Pounded in a Brutal Manner.

One of the most brutal crimes ever committed in St. Louis county was perpetrated Thursday evening near Twig postoffice in the town of Grand Lake, when William Wright, a farmer, beat and kicked his wife into a condition that is expected to result fatally, and then fled to the woods in that neighborhood. He has not yet been apprehended although a warrant is out charging him with assault in the first degree, and the authorities have made some search for him.

As near as can be learned Wright had returned recently from a several weeks' absence on a surveying crew. Trouble of some nature was stated with his wife, who is in a delicate condition, and it finally resulted in his brutal assault, in which he is claimed to have beat her, knocked her down, kicked her a number of times, and then to have chased her with a butcher knife. Mrs. Wright is said to have run half a mile to the house of the nearest neighbor where she collapsed, and at last reports was not expected to live. Her condition is all the more serious from the fact that she was about to give birth to a child.

Word was dispatched to the sheriff's office of the assault and steps were taken immediately to secure a warrant charging insanity against Wright, the idea being to get him in custody as quickly as possible. It is understood, however, that he could have been apprehended without a warrant.

When the authorities reached the Wright homestead, Wright had disappeared and there is no definite clue as to his whereabouts, although it is rumored that he was seen yesterday in vicinity of Pike Lake. It is understood that county authorities will send out a force of deputies, in addition to the telephone dispatches to the neighboring towns, and that every effort will be made to apprehend the wife beater.

Great indignation has been aroused at Twig by the brutal assault. Wright's neighbors, if they could get their hands on him, would probably take summary action.

If the woman dies a murder charge will be made against Wright.

Mrs. Wright has made a statement in which she charges her husband with being responsible for her terrible injuries.

WEST DULUTH

FERRY IS ADVOCATED.

Would Have Expense of Bridge on the Wrenshall Road.

A change in the plans regarding the proposed Wrenshall road was brought out at the meeting of the West Duluth Commercial club last night by a delegation from Wrenshall town board, consisting of T. O. Saulty and Charles Slickman. These gentlemen advocated a ferry at Fond du Lac instead of a bridge, which has taken an important place in all consideration of the proposed improvement here to Fond du Lac. The cost of the bridge, which would be about $2,000, of this the speakers assured the club could be counted on from the farmers and merchants of Fond du Lac and Wrenshall, so that $300 from Duluth would be sufficient to complete the work.

Charles Goodell of Barnum and John Brigham of Fond du Lac also advocated the immediate installment of the road, and said that the farmers were as anxious as the people of West Duluth to have the road opened into Duluth instead of Superior, not only on account of the being a considerable distance nearer but because they thought it would provide a better market for their goods.

The club appointed a committee, consisting of A. A. Barnes, B. J. Getchell, J. B. Foubister, E. R. Patterson and Alfred Jaques, to canvass for the amount and they are confident of raising it within a short time.

After the discussion of the road, Rev. Roderick J. Mooney, rector of the Holy Apostles Episcopal church, addressed the club and spoke of the commercial advantages of West Duluth and the Wrenshall road, which the Northern Power company are about to introduce.

Birthday Party.

A birthday party was held last evening in honor of Miss Mildred Wicklund's fifteenth birthday and a very enjoyable time was reported by all. The evening was spent playing games, after which refreshments were served.

Those present were: Misses: Ethel Larson, Hulihah Peterson, Cora Borgstrom, Annie Larson, Minnie Nelson, Edna Johnson, Agnes Wiley, Selma Peterson, Clara Wines, Lily Johnson, Annie Thorsell, Clara Wicklund, Lydia Wicklund, Mildred Wicklund, Messrs: Arthur Carlson, Ed Wicklund, Walter Carlson, Edwin Peterson, Edward Clans.

St. James' Bazaar.

It has been decided to hold the annual St. James' bazaar in the hall of the church on Sept. 23 to 25. The affair was postponed from the original date, Aug. 27, on account of the departure of Father Reedy in order to allow time for the affairs of the parish to adjust themselves to the new pastor.

The young people of the West Duluth Baptist church and their friends to the number of about sixty, spent a most enjoyable evening on a hay ride to Southville and back. Attired in costumes which were presumably rural, but which were not, they went to a dog fight, they drove through Central avenue in two horse wagons piled high with hay, they stopped near the bay at Southville, built a huge bonfire and roasted corn and marshmallows until nearly midnight.

West Duluth Churches.

At the West Duluth Baptist church, Rev. Arthur J. Hong will speak at 10:30 on the theme "Where to Find Christ," and at 8 p. m. on "The Light of the World." Sunday school will meet at noon and B. Y. P. U. at 7 p. m.

At the Westminster Presbyterian church at 10:30 a. m., Rev. W. J. Lavett will preach on the theme "Christian Living." Christian Endeavor will meet at 6:30 and Sunday school at noon.

At the Holy Apostles Episcopal church, Sunday school will meet at 10:30 a. m. and at 8 p. m. the rector, Rev. R. J. Mooney, will speak on "The Recognition of Obligation."

At St. Stephen's Evangelical Lutheran church, sixty-seventh services will be held at 7:30 in the evening. The pastor, H. C. Hinz, will deliver a sermon on the gospel of the day.

At the Assure M. E. church, Rev. Thomas Price will speak in the morning at 10:30 on the topic "Praise of the Lord."

WORKING ON HIS FENCES

Congressman Bede in the City Looking Over the Situation.

Says He is Willing to Stand Upon His Record.

Looking a little thin and somewhat browned from the hot sun at Washington, but happy and smiling as usual, Congressman J. Adam Bede is doing a little work on his fences in Duluth today, and moving around among his friends to get a grasp on the political situation as it exists since E. L. Miller got into the ring.

Mr. Bede was requested for an interview on local conditions, and gave out the following statement:

"Since the adjournment of congress, I have traveled all of the Middle States and have never seen more beautiful crops or a happier people. The present conditions mean much for the prosperity of Duluth, and with the early utilization of the St. Louis river water power, I predict a very material increase in population and business at the Head of the Lakes.

"Regarding the congressional campaign in this district, I have only one thing to say: I have worked diligently in Washington to secure everything that the people have asked for, from fish for harbor improvements, and an unwilling to rest my case on my record there, I cannot recall a single thing asked for that has not been secured except a special mail carrier for Hunter's Park, and that is likely to come about in a little time.

"For there are not offices enough to go around, which fact makes some disappointments, and then, too, the amount of the money that is being raised absolutely perfect men to fill the few offices there are, which causes some disappointment. I am not at all worried about the world as it is and with conditions as I find them, trusting for better things in the by and by.

"Mr. Miller, who was himself one of the applicants for the Duluth postmaster's office, with certain fine following among the disappointed here and elsewhere throughout the district, but I can not think the general public will feel a very deep interest in an issue of that sort.

"I have striven diligently and with malice aforethought to become acquainted with the members of both houses, particularly with those who are permanent residents, and can say that I have gotten next to everybody in official life in Washington who does things, from the president in the White House to the boot-blacks in the capitol, and have their good will, so that whenever this district makes any reasonable request it is quite sure to be granted. Your money, however, would not permit me to give an itemized list of my banquet engagements here and elsewhere, as some candidates are doing, but if any interested constituent will call on me with a draft, I shall be glad to furnish him with the menu card.

"It is not an easy matter to make the personal acquaintance of 416 members of the two houses and the many influential department people, and impress one's personality upon them, but this is quite essential if one is to do things in Washington, and when once acquainted is an asset to the district and to the principles for which it stands.

"If a district has a fairly good representative with experience, and the acquaintance and confidence of the powers that be, it is generally wise to retain him. But if the district has a poor stick or a fellow who can't change too soon, and should select some candidate capable of enduring a decade or two of strenuous life for the good of the district, he will have to go to it.

"I have been invited into the Maine campaign which closes Sept. 8, and have planned to go, as such service for the good of the order helps me at Washington, but of course shall cancel this engagement and get busy among the boys until the primaries are over, but none to find time for a short trip with

ARE HELD TO GRAND JURY

Two Alleged Sneak Thieves Brought Back to Face Trial.

Other Minor Cases of Morning Grist in Police Court.

Walter Madden, accused of stealing clothes from a guest Engholm at the West hotel on Aug. 4, and John Jacobson, accused of stealing clothes from James Bird, night clerk at the Metropolitan hotel on Aug. 6, were arraigned in police court this morning charged with grand larceny in the second degree.

They were brought over to the next grand jury and bail for each was fixed at $250.

They were arrested in Minneapolis yesterday at the request of the Duluth police. Jacobson is a printer, aged 21 and Madden is a tailor, aged 22. Two suits of clothes, several shirts, and the night clerk of the Metropolitan hotel and two suits of clothes and other articles were taken from the West hotel. It is alleged that Jacobson was wearing one of the stolen suits when arrested in Minneapolis. The two were together.

Christian Strom was arraigned in police court this morning charged with grand larceny in the second degree and his preliminary hearing was set for next Thursday. Bail was fixed at $250. Strom, who is 35 years old, is married and lives with his family at 619 East Third street. He is accused of stealing knives, measures, etc., to the value of $25.72 from Marshall-Weiss Hardware company, for whom he worked until a few days ago. It is claimed that a search of his premises revealed some of the alleged stolen property, which Strom asserts was given him by other employees.

Eugene Le Page was arrested this morning charged with assault in the third degree on Lars P. Juvik in a saloon at 612 West Superior street. He pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for next Wednesday. Bail was fixed at $15.

A number of drunks got the usual sentence. Arthur Rogers was arraigned for drunkenness and was given fifteen days on the hill. Rogers was arrested at 5:30 p. m. Wednesday but when the morning arrangements were held, was so drunk that he could not appear in court. He was taken to the city jail and held until he was sober.

At that time he pleaded with the judge to let him go. He told the judge that that was the first time he had been in jail and that if the court would let him go that time it would never occur again. He agreed that if he was ever brought in for drunkenness again to make no kick if the court would send him up for sixty days.

This morning he did not have much to say about the matter, but took his medicine.

Another thing which can be brought up, and probably will be, is the bid of P. McDunnell for grading and improving Toga street. The first bid was rejected because it was too high. Mr. McDunnell bidding was over $9,000. Re-advertisement took place and on the second bid, Mr. McDunnell bid $1,000 more than the first time. His is the only bid in on the work and it was held up in council meeting last week at the request of Alderman Wilson.

The matter of neglected sewer connections may come up in a way which will interest a number of people. From time to time the health commissioner of the city recommends that sewer connections be made in certain instances. The city engineer will report to the council on Monday night that the council's instructions to have sewer connections made in many instances have not been obeyed. It is now up to the council to instruct the city attorney to take proceedings against these property owners.

The Westrum matter may come up with the probability that the city engineer will report to the council on Monday night that the council's instructions to have sewer connections made in many instances have not been obeyed. A summer in Duluth would hardly be complete without a visit from a medicine show. Anyway, this summer is complete, for the medicine show "has come."

The fakirs who have elected to play a date in the town have not as elaborate a production as have some others, but there is probably just as large a profit in the goods they sell. The medicine showman is an interesting and picturesque person, and he usually surrounds himself with some of the same kind. Most likely he has a history that would make many others look like the contents of the fashion magazines. The chances are that he is an "office worker" in winter, and in the medicine show business in the summer time. An office worker is a fakir, who sets himself up somewhere as a specialist in everything pertaining to medicine. If the real quick is not impressive looking enough, he employs an assistant to put on the "front" and "make the talk" to the patients.

Some times the "office worker" makes a very great thing of it during the winter, and occasionally a summer season is productive of great profit. The fakirs make a living at all times.

They are in reality showmen of the poorer class, and what they don't know about medicine would often fill volumes. Some of the men have a smattering of learning, and all of them are very rich in stilted, high-sounding conversation, calculated to impress the ignorant.

To organize a medicine show is rather a simple matter. The fakir puts an advertisement in some New York theatrical paper, which reads much as follows:

"Wanted: Comedian, who can do Dutch, Irish and E. P. Must be good dancers and be able to yamp piano. Boozers and chasers, save stamps. Show small, but salaries sure every Tuesday. Address—"

While to the layman this advertisement may be pretty much of a puzzle, the men whom the medicine fakir wants to employ understand its wording all right enough, and if, as he says, he does pay salaries with real money, he is no difficulty in getting versatile artists, who entertain his audiences with old songs, and sell his combined toothpowder and consumption cure after he has made the big speech about it.

But for the uninitiated who care to know, it might be said that "E. P." means black face, and stipulates that the successful applicant for the post that is vacant must be able to do, after a fashion, "larger ministrations." One is said to "ramp piano" when one plays any tune desired, whether one knows anything of it or not.

"Come right up."

The less pretentious medicine shows, however, do not use pianos. They are the ones which set up their stands on street corners, and the comedians must provide their music with mandolins, guitars and banjos.

As for his medicine, the showman can secure them by answering advertisements in the same paper wherein he sought the service of a comedian. There are several houses throughout the country which make a specialty of manufacturing goods for quacks who travel.

One can secure panaceas for all the ills human flesh is subject to, all in one bottle, for so much per gross at any of these houses. Usually, the showman-physician gives the impression that the recipe for his healing fluids is his exclusive property and that he it was, who discovered the wonderful cure. He intimates that he is disposing of it via the entertainment route merely to introduce it. The fakir who is able to put the "big front" is usually the one who sells his own "discoveries."

On the particular evening on which the highways and byways man formed a part of the audience, the fakir had many persons to talk to and the noise made by his two colored entertainers drew more to the corner every few minutes.

After the negroes had obliged with a duet, the medicine man himself stepped to the front of the little platform. He tried to look impressive.

"Before I have the entertainers give you more music, I want to call your attention to this little box I hold in my right hand," he said.

Ah, it was about time for him to say something about catarrh, consumption, stomach ache and rheumatism. "I bet I can stand on my head and point out somebody who at this very minute is suffering from catarrh." No one seemed disposed to refute this statement, so he continued: "It is a well known fact that nine of every ten people suffer from catarrh and from my experience, I should say that ten out of every ten people have it. Do you know what follows catarrh? What it always leads up to? Consumption! And if you have consumption, I can tell you it is the disease that will put you in your grave!"

Might here, the fakir injected some big words, to impress his hearers. He did, all right. Some of them were mighty good words.

"Now I want some one to step on the platform a minute. I wish to make a point to illustrate the truth of my remarks and there is nothing to be afraid of so no one need hesitate about coming up."

But the crowd was backward. Some people stepped farther from the sputtering gasoline lights.

"You, brother, you are suffering from catarrh. Come up!" said the fakir, pointing his finger at an honest workman in the crowd who had surrounded his little stand.

"Come right up," commanded the man of medicine. And the worker, looking very uncomfortable, did so. The entertainer helped him up the steps and stood by him, as if to prevent his escape. The medicine man had him gargle a little and essayed to show the effect of the great cure for catarrh and preventative of consumption on the catarrh germs. Then he and his gentlemanly agents pass among the onlookers and dispose of the wonderful drops to all who could be induced to give up 25 cents.

To the poor man whom he had lured to the platform the showman gave a package of the medicine "free of charge."

The "gentlemanly agents" took only one box apiece (this medicine was sold up in little pasteboard affairs) and by this method, the number of sales made was impressed upon the audience in the play and stand in the year and start the crowd to buying by purchasing the first package of the wonderful drops.

After the honest workman—a healthy fellow who looked as if he might live a century—had rejoined his comrades in the audience, one of them said to him:

"Say, Bill, I didn't know you had this here catarrh?"

"I didn't know as I have, but it seems to me I've had them symptoms he was talkin' about, and it don't do no hurt to take something for 'em," said Bill.

Impressed by this logic and the number of sales being made by the "gentlemanly agents," the comrades bought some cure-all. They will take it, as per directions, for two days and then throw the stuff away.

Yes, the fellow that said "there's a sucker born every minute" knew what he was talking about, and Duluth has its full quota of suckers.

AERIAL BRIDGE TO SUPERIOR

City Engineer McGilvray Suggests an Aerial Bridge to Replace the Interstate Bridge Now Out of Commission.

City Engineer Thomas F. McGilvray has come out with a suggestion that aerial bridges be used to replace the draw bridge knocked down last week by the steamer Troy at the interstate crossing. Mr. McGilvray is broaching the matter seriously and advances several reasons to show why such bridges will be more advantageous than the draw bridge just put out of commission.

Instead of one aerial bridge, he suggests two in order that there should be no delay for teams or cars. The reasons he offers in support of his statement that they will serve the bridge purposes better than a draw are these:

The service will be quicker than that of a draw bridge because when a ship is passing, the bridges can be worked up to the time the boat is within 500 feet thus avoiding the delay necessary for swinging the bridge such as caused immeasurable delay with the draw-bridge. The instant a vessel passes, traffic can be resumed without having to wait until the draw swings back. Where one vessel is following another only a short distance behind, a draw-bridge keeps open until all such following vessels will have passed, lengthening the delay in traffic, while a bridge of the aerial type can be temporarily resumed while the following boats were approaching.

As to the practicability of aerial bridges at the point named Mr. McGilvray says there is no doubt. The aerial bridge across the Duluth canal is just as practicable, he points out, but a first class bridge for the purpose for which it is required. It is built with the object in view of carrying street cars if necessary and the bridges which he suggests for the space between the cities, he figures should be specially designed for street cars and vehicles.

It was suggested to him that there has been general talk that the Great Northern road intends running trains across the bridge as the bridge is not used at that purpose. He admitted that it could be used for that purpose, but he pointed out that the bridge was narrow enough for vessels to pass through and the space between Commercial and Rice's Points was narrow enough as it is without being further hampered by a pier in the middle to lessen the passage of the boats.

It is understood that the type of bridge to be used.

some bridge not requiring a pier there, if possible.

The city engineer points out that the aerial bridge across the ship canal crosses that space of 400 feet in from a minute and a half to a minute and three-quarters, and the space between the cities could be crossed in a very few more seconds. He would suggest that the spans, one of which has just been removed, be left as approaches to such a bridge.

This would leave a space of just 400 feet to be covered by the bridges, that being the length of the draw just knocked out. Two bridges of the aerial type across this space, he estimates without figuring out closely, would cost not to exceed two and a half or three times as much as the existing bridge, which cost a total of $100,000. The present spans of the interstate bridge together with the draw just broken, cost $200,000, the draw costing more than half of that amount.

The aerial bridge crossing the canal took 700 tons of steel construction. The interstate bridge had in it 3,000 tons of steel, and the city engineer estimates roughly that 1,200 tons of steel in each suggested bridge would amply cover the space and to spare. That he gives as a very liberal estimate, he points out. As to the building of such aerial bridges, Mr. McGilvray points out that their construction would be simplified by using the center pier on which the draw rested for false work, whereas the bridges would be supported by the canal bridge structure, the center pier could be removed, the bottom on which it rests and the channel there and the ships passing that point not being bothered by any such obstruction.

The street railway company furnished the electric power for the interstate bridge and it is not given out what horse power was used in its operation. However, the Duluth aerial bridge is operated by a small horse power which is a very cheap motive power.

There seems to be no question but that a strong effort will be made to have a change when the construction of the new bridge is being considered. Many of the vessel captains are against a single draw and if a draw form of bridges is to be used that there are two draws instead of one. In order that no more obstruction will be likely at any time. It is quite likely that this bridge will have the sanctioning of the type of bridge to be used.

FUGITIVE'S RUSE WAS HIS UNDOING

Defaulter Took Role of Detective to Catch Himself.

Livingston, Mont., Aug. 17.—Sheriff A. S. Robinson made an important capture Wednesday in the person of Olin P. Farr, who is said to be a defaulting cashier of the Citizens' bank of Melroe, Ga.

Farr had assumed the name of W. W. Wilson and he claimed to be a detective sent out to apprehend Olin P. Farr, and under this name gave a detailed description of the man. In the meantime a close watch was kept on Wilson, who showed signs of being a defaulter, and he was arrested in the city and walked in upon Wilson at his room at the hotel and identified him as being Olin P. Farr, cashier of the Citizens' bank of Melroe, Ga. Farr was arrested in the city and walked in upon Wilson at his room at the hotel and identified him as being Olin P. Guilty!

He who tears down for the joy of it, or for the attention he may draw toward himself, should himself be torn down. But he who points out the evils of the time and indicates how they may be remedied; he who points to the good that is being done, and the good that may be done—he, we believe, has a place in our progressive, active, strenuous, earnest American life—whether "he" be a man or a magazine.

LATE DOINGS IN UPPER MICHIGAN

Valve Gates for Great Northern Power Company Inspected.

Marquette—Inspectors of the Great Northern Power company at Duluth are here this week to check up on the work on four big valve gates under construction at the plant of the Lake Shore Engine works. The contract is one of the most important ever handled by the Marquette concern, and work on it has been in progress the past several months. The date for delivery is past, but it is only lately that the Great Northern Power company has needed the valves. Now, however, it wants the earliest possible delivery, and every effort is being made at the engine works to turn them out as soon as possible. Two are assembled and are ready for the tests. It will be necessary to get these two valves out of the way before the other pair can be set up. The valves are built on designs furnished by the engine works. In practice, they will be opened and closed by power. They are massive in construction, weighing fifteen tons each, and standing on end, are about twenty feet high. Their construction has called for a lot of nice work, as all the connections and fittings must be exact, to provide against leakage. It is expected that the delivery of all four of the valves will be completed within a few weeks. Along with this contract, the engine works have been carrying on much other large work. This week a large mine hoist was placed on the cars for shipment. It was ordered by Joseph Schaefer of Duluth, and will be used at a new property being opened under his management, to which a railroad spur has just been laid. Two other large hoists for the Mesaba range will be assembled for shipment as early as the work is able to turn them out.

Congressman H. O. Young of Marquette county, now serving his second term, was renominated yesterday at Iron Mountain by the Republican convention for the Twelfth district, which embraces the entire upper peninsula. The convention was a love feast. There was no opposition to Young and he was named by acclamation. Gad Smith of Marquette was chairman, and Robert H. Shields of Houghton, president of the state tax commission, was secretary. The administration of President Roosevelt and Governor Wirtz.

Isaiah—John L. Bradford, who has a summer camp at Lake Laurie, has been compelled to construct sawmills to keep the beavers away. Recently he found that the water in the lake was rising without any perceptible cause. In a few days it was three feet above the normal and had covered the platform of his boathouse. Investigation disclosed a neatly constructed dam upon which the beavers had been at work. This was destroyed.

The date for delivery is past, but it is only lately that the Great Northern Power company has needed the valves. Now, however, it wants the earliest possible delivery, and every effort is being made at the engine works to turn them out as soon as possible. Two are assembled and are ready for the tests. It will be necessary to get these two valves out of the way before the other pair can be set up. The valves are built on designs furnished by the engine works. In practice, they will be opened and closed by power. They are massive in construction, weighing fifteen tons each, and standing on end, are about twenty feet high. Their construction has called for a lot of nice work, as all the connections and fittings must be exact, to provide against leakage. It is expected that the delivery of all four of the valves will be completed within a few weeks. Along with this contract, the engine works have been carrying on much other large work. This week a large mine hoist was placed on the cars for shipment. It was ordered by Joseph Schaefer of Duluth, and will be used at a new property being opened under his management, to which a railroad spur has just been laid. Two other large hoists for the Mesaba range will be assembled for shipment as early as the work is able to turn them out.

Congressman H. O. Young of Marquette county, now serving his second term, was renominated yesterday at Iron Mountain by the Republican convention for the Twelfth district, which embraces the entire upper peninsula. The convention was a love feast. There was no opposition to Young and he was named by acclamation. Gad Smith of Marquette was chairman, and Robert H. Shields of Houghton, president of the state tax commission, was secretary. The administration of President Roosevelt and Governor Wirtz.

Recently he found that the water in the lake was rising without any perceptible cause. In a few days it was three feet above the normal and had covered the platform of his boathouse. Investigation disclosed a neatly constructed dam upon which the beavers had been at work. This was destroyed.

Valve Gates for Great Northern Power Company Inspected.

Marquette—Inspectors of the Great Northern Power company at Duluth are here this week to check up on the work on four big valve gates under construction at the plant of the Lake Shore Engine works. The contract is one of the most important ever handled by the Marquette concern, and work on it has been in progress the past several months. The date for delivery is past, but it is only lately that the Great Northern Power company has needed the valves. BRYN MAWR WANTS GAME

Duluth Golfers Have Received Challenge From Minneapolis Club.

Duluth Team is Now Being Chosen for the Match.

Secretary E. P. Alexander of the Northland Golf club yesterday received a letter from the Bryn Mawr club of Minneapolis asking him if it would be possible for a team from that place to arrange a date with the Northland players for a match either in Duluth or Minneapolis, and suggesting Saturday, August 25, as a week for the match, as convenient for them if suitable for the Duluth men. Mr. Alexander at once replied asking them to come to Duluth to match on the local links on that date, and is awaiting a reply.

This afternoon the qualifying round for the local championship is in progress and the men making the lowest scores today will make up the team to meet the Minneapolis men next Saturday. Just how many will play in the match will be determined by the reply received from the Bryn Mawr club.

The ladies' tournament for the president's cup is now in progress and a handsome trophy has been donated to the club by George C. Stone for the runner up in the championship series.

On Monday, Sept. 3, Labor Day, there will be a shortstop tournament on the local links, to which the members are looking forward with a great deal of interest.

The body will be taken to Marquette for burial, probably being sent tomorrow evening. Surviving Mrs. Jacques, besides her children and Mrs. Irish, are her father, who lived with her in Proctor; her brothers William and John Smith of Marquette; and another brother, Fred Smith of Duluth.

Although William H. West is dead, the William H. West minstrels live, and for several seasons they have made triumphant tours of the country under the efficient chaperonage of Sanford B. Rice. The West minstrels opened an engagement of two nights and a matinee at the Lyceum last evening, before an audience which enjoyed every minute of the entertainment.

REPORTS GREAT DAMAGE.

Despatch from Peru Confirms News of Great Disaster.

New York, Aug. 18.—A cable despatch to a morning paper from Lima, Peru, says: About 8 o'clock on Thursday evening there was a tremendous earthquake at Valparaiso. As at San Francisco, the shock was followed by the striding of many fires. The flames, extending from the Plaza Orden toward the north, have not yet been extinguished. Many houses have been destroyed and nearly all of those in the city are more or less damaged, either by the earthquake or the fire. Business is at a complete standstill. The banks are closed. The gas supply is unavailable and the electric lighting system is completely knocked out. The greatest panic prevailed among the inhabitants. Many families are fleeing from the city. The weather is fair and the sea is calm.

Communication with Santiago de Chile is interrupted and it is impossible to learn what has happened there. Many persons were killed and injured in Valparaiso. The shocks continue but are milder. The shipping in the port was not injured. The streets, which suffered most were Calles Blanco, Condell and Esmeralda, and those in the Delicias district, where the best residences are.

CONSUL GENERAL SANGUINE

Chilean Official in New York Takes Hopeful View.

New York, Aug. 18.—Consul General Adolfo Orzuegar for Chile in this city made this statement regarding the earthquake which occurred in the city of Valparaiso, Chile, on Thursday, August 16, 1906. The failure of communication was due to the fact that the telegraphic lines which unite Chile and Argentina have been cut in the Cordillera of the Andes and this is the reason why we have no news. My personal opinion is that the disaster has not reached the proportions which has been credited to it. Special cables received by the house of H. Grace & Co., by way of Lima, Peru state that their building at Valparaiso is safe and has not suffered the least shock. This building is situated in the most central part of the city and besides it is an old one, which makes me suppose that the shock, although grave, has not had the terrible consequences which have been announced. The central police station in Argentina have been situated in the suburbs of Ushvialay, from where Valparaiso in Chile and Mendoza in Argentina have received strong concussion but not of as great proportions as have been reported. Grace & Co., have 150 employees in Valparaiso and up to the present time, according to their telegrams, every one of them is safe.

COMMISSIONER HOPEFUL.

Chilean Count Believes First Reports of Disaster Exaggerated.

Pittsburgh, Aug. 18.—Count Julian Segundo De Ovies, commissioner of commerce from the republic of Chile to Pittsburgh is inclined to believe the earthquake at Valparaiso was not as disastrous as reported. The count left Chile April 22 last, and spent the winter in Valparaiso. He has been there a number of shocks had occurred.

The business portion of the city, he said, faced the mountains and he feared in the event of a heavy shock, the mountain would disintegrate and huge rocks and boulders fall upon the business houses beneath.

He said he thought there could be little danger from fires as most of the buildings are constructed of adobe and Spanish tile. Frame buildings are the exception and steel is used more than wood.

The count was much worried and said that the disaster was as serious as reported, the most beautiful portion of the city was now in ruins and countless lives lost. It was his belief that a heavy earthquake would also cause great damage to the shipping along the coast.

NO FURTHER DISTURBANCES

Are Reflected on Seismographic Records at Washington.

Washington, Aug. 18.—The records of the seismograph at the weather bureau, taken from the instruments this morning, show that there have been no earth movements here since that Thursday afternoon when evening with undoubted earthquakes. The fact that the earthquake at Valparaiso, Chile, on Thursday, August 16, 1906, was the heaviest east and west movement was at 44 minutes and 45 seconds P. M. and the strongest north and south movement did not occur until 8 minutes later. The north and south movement was the heavier, the earth movement being over a quarter of an inch.

At 10:30 o'clock this morning neither the state department nor the Chilean legation had received any report of the earthquake in Chile. The Chilean minister to Washington, Mr. Valter Martinez, is attending the Pan-American conference in Rio de Janeiro and in his absence, Manuel Vega, who was formerly attached to the Chilean mission in the city of Mexico, is in charge of the Washington legation. Manuel Vega, the Chilean charge here, has been unable to get into communication with his government and he is dependent entirely upon the newspapers for reports of the disaster. Because of the admirable construction of buildings in Valparaiso, Mr. Vega is not inclined to believe that the loss of life has been heavy. The city is one of the most modern in South America and lacks the narrow streets and frail buildings which are common to so many cities in Latin America.

Mr. Root, when he arose to reply, was accorded a great ovation and as he delivered sentence after sentence a speech more telling and more eloquent than any he had previously delivered during his visit to South America. He was frequently interrupted by applause. He said the United States would always be loyal to America. He was an advocate of arbitration and mediation and all other elements that made for peace.

These matters were in the hands of the people who should be incited with a spirit of humanity and just consideration for others, so that neither governments, presidents, nor congresses could enter upon a war policy, which was destructive of all the higher qualities of mankind.

The secretary referred to the late president, Sarmiento of Argentina, the intimate friend of Horace Mann, the pioneer in American educational reform, from whom the present system of instruction in the Argentine schools was derived, and spoke of the phenomenal progress of the Argentine republic, adding that what he had seen during his brief stay here had rendered all his previous knowledge of the country, obtained from books, magazines and newspapers, of little value as indications of the present greatness of Argentina.

Mr. Root concluded with an eloquent tribute to Buenos Ayres, its people, institutions, hospitality and splendor and resumed his seat amidst the greatest enthusiasm, flowers being showered on him from all parts of the house. The banquet will long be remembered by the Argentine people and may be considered to be the inauguration of a new era in the relations between the United States and Argentina.

"The American Rugby" An old and successful school with entire new equipment. New bar racks, steam heated, electric lighted and vacuum cleaned. Central heating and hot water in building. Finest track in America.

The School

Thousands of Young People are being educated to ambition by the Inspiring Results Obtained by our graduates.

The ideas tested by long experience, and put into practice by expert teachers at the New Era business college, together with an equipment modern and up-to-date, and our employment department, with facilities for placing hundreds of graduates in positions of honor and responsibility, have combined to make thousands of enthusiastic friends for the institution.

Don't compare our school with cheap business colleges or business departments of colleges and universities. Our work is not in that class. The business men, bankers and railroad companies, who look to us for help, demand those who can "make good"—the ones really prepared. The cheap business colleges and business departments are not equipped to give the most practical and best instruction to fit one for a good position or a business career.

Our Home

The home of the New Era Business College is situated in the main part of the city of Superior, Wis., in the retail district of the city. The location is near enough to business to have all its advantages, and not close enough to be disturbed by the noise and confusion of the city. Situated on Tower avenue and Eleventh street, and in the heart of the city, it is one of the best locations in any town of its size—and on the main thoroughfare of the city, the wisest of selection could not have been made. The building is a better, healthier, more pleasant, or accessible place.

It admits also of giving it that quiet so highly necessary for school work, and the added advantage of ventilation and light from all four sides of the building. The location is just one block from the postoffice, Twenty-five churches within a reasonable radius of the school, and all desirable dining and boarding houses in the city are within easy reach.

Two Things We Guarantee

First—A first-class business training, the result of the best methods, competent teachers and complete equipment.

Second—A first-class position in the business world, to all full course graduates; the result of a thorough training, together with our established reputation and up-to-date Employment Department.

These two important features of the New Era Business College have earned for it the title, "The School of Results."

The Advantages of a Commercial Center for Education

It must be apparent to everyone who gives the subject any consideration that a college situated in a great commercial center like Superior has many advantages over those of smaller towns.

The city school unquestionably offers better educational facilities. The State Normal school likewise offers the best normal training. The more liberal salaries it can afford to pay insure a higher grade of teachers, and the larger attendance makes each one a specialist in his particular line. This insures directly to the benefit of students not only by enabling them to learn under the best obtainable direction, but in the atmosphere of higher efficiency. No one living near New York would think of sending a son to a country medical college, with Bellevue close at hand, and the rule applies with equal force to a business education.

The country boy needs above all things for his educational development contact with city life. It heightens and invigorates his mentality, broadens his ideas and gives him a better knowledge of men and affairs. It brings him in sympathy with modern methods and progress, while, when he has finished his course in a country town, there has been nothing but a gain in book knowledge, without a single advance in the many other directions necessary for a successful career. Two-thirds of our country boys drift to the city and mingle with its population. The city will be the field of their active duties, and it is in it that a knowledge of those duties should be obtained.

The city Business College fits its students for business life at the place of their future energies. Surrounded by the mart and exchange, the temples of commerce and the thrumming arteries of traffic, it naturally reproduces in the mind and manner of necessity be actual and practical. The pulse of the city beats in its class rooms; the business habits of a city are repeated in its methods; the quickened movement of the city is perceptible everywhere. The boy who attends a country Business College cannot feel the impetus that these things give.

The actualities of business are before him. His realities are agricultural, not commercial. He can, therefore, never enter into the life of business. It is to him only a variety, and when he eventually comes to the city, he finds himself a stranger and unprepared. Superior will always offer educational advantages surpassing any other place in the Northwest. Its business men and banks carry on a large proportion of the enterprise outside of the city. Every village and town, every country merchant and store keeper, every farmer and cattle raiser, is tributary to them. Thus, Superior is the true educational center for business students, and parents make a great mistake if they do not recognize this.

With Experienced Manager in charge—Positions Guaranteed.

We guarantee positions within 30 days of graduating from our courses or return tuition money. We think it the duty of every reliable and honorable Business College to do so. Not miscellaneous, but to all who give satisfactory evidence of good character and who have fulfilled all the requirements of their courses of study.

The demand for first-class bookkeepers and stenographers and for teachers of commercial branches has been much greater than the supply for several years, owing to the rapid advancement of the commercial interests of the West. Every full course graduate of our school who has conducted himself or herself as a gentleman or lady while here, is entitled to a position where the training received may be put into practice just as soon as they are qualified and at a good salary.

IN POLITICS.

Political interest in Duluth just now is centered on the campaign of J. Adam Bede and E. L. Miller for congress, and N. P. Hugo and C. B. Miller for reelection to the city of Duluth. In both instances promise to be warm ones, with interesting features.

A few months ago the average voter would have laughed at the suggestion that Congressman Bede might be defeated for reelection in this district. Recently, however, opposition seems to have grown up against him in certain quarters of the city. The fact that he is in a position to be so sure of his chances as he was a while ago.

It had gotten so late before Mr. Miller announced his candidacy that people were beginning to believe that he would have no opposition, although the Duluth man had been mentioned for the place quite prominently. Now that he has entered the field, the promises to make up for lost time by putting an extra amount of energy into his efforts, and the nomination. He is starting the ball rolling in the western end of the district, and intends making a personal canvass of all the counties in the district. Next week a Miller club is to be formed in Alden county, and it is expected a like organization will be started in Duluth.

Congressman Bede, apparently confident of reelection and election, has let his political fences get sadly out of repair. He has paid no attention to his home district since congress adjourned, but has been off lecturing in distant parts of the country, letting things go home to take care of themselves. Mr. Miller's announcement will probably change his plans, for Bede's friends in Duluth realize that a determined fight is to be made against him, and are beginning work in his behalf.

Mr. Miller and his friends appear well aware that Congressman Bede is very popular and a hard man to beat, but they point to the fact that the new candidate is also well-known in the district, particularly in St. Louis county, where his services as speaker of the assembly and public events are greatly in demand. There is no doubt that opposition has developed against Mr. Bede, but the question is whether this opposition is strong enough, coupled with the vote-getting qualities of Mr. Miller himself, to defeat the present congressman at the primaries. In any event, Mr. Miller's candidacy will mean an interesting fight, and for the present affords plenty of food for political speculation and gossip.

Some are saying that since C. B. Miller has decided to make the run for reelection in the Fifth district, H. S. Bryan of Two Harbors will not allow himself to be considered as a candidate. It doesn't appear as if Mr. Bryan has expressed himself in regard to the matter as yet, however.

N. F. Hugo, candidate for reelection from his district, returned yesterday from Harbor Beach, Mich., where his firm has a large dock contract. He says he has no time to get into the political situation, and that he is not prepared to say just what he thinks of the effect Mr. Miller's candidacy on his own chances. The general opinion appears to be that the fight will be between Mr. Hugo and Mr. Miller, and that Two Harbors, or the upper end of the district, will be given one of the representatives, following out the campaign.

Whether Mr. Bryan consents to make the run or not, there will be a contest in the Fifth district, and of the district, and it is said that if he does allow the use of his name in the race, it will be a heavy one.

It will be the fifth man. He is to make the run on the Socialist ticket, and with Two Harbors as strongly as possible. It seems to me that the nomination of both Duluth men would be altogether likely," said a Duluth man who has been watching the fight for with three candidates in the Two Harbors end of the district. I should think it likely that the fight would be a heavy one, and would receive enough votes each to land them. It is not the wish of Duluth in general to have a heavy fight, but the other end of the district should be slighted. I understand that both the candidates are making a personal canvass of the district, and that the fight will be between Miller and Hugo, and that has been the intention all along. If the voters up there can agree, he will be elected. When the Duluth voter casts his ballot, on Sept. 18, he will place a cross after the name of one candidate from the upper end of the district. Both Hugo and Miller will not be nominated, and there is no doubt on that point in my mind."

Friends of Mr. Miller are much put out over the fact that the report has gone abroad that he is being considered for the office within a few days. It is understood. The chances for a Democratic victory so far as the Duluth end of the district is concerned, are considered better this year than for a long time past. Charles Miller and others may also file for the place.

The Democratic primary election for the purpose of electing delegates to the Democratic county convention will be held next Wednesday, between the hours of 7 and 8 p. m. About one hundred delegates will be elected to the county convention, which will be called to order next Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the city hall. The latter convention will select thirty-eight delegates to the Democratic state convention, and will also select now until the primaries this time will be spent in Duluth and vicinity most of the time, but that he is not prepared to say much about the contest for the Republican nomination for congress in this district. He speaks highly of Mr. Miller, and says the office of the district, and that whatever they say will be agreeable to him.

I may add, however, that I intend to remain in congress until I have become the floor leader on the Republican side," he said, "and I have spoken in every Republican district in the Union, and all for the good of the Eighty-first district of Minnesota."

According to Mr. Bede, the last congress did more in big things than any since the Civil war, placing the Republican party in the strongest light before the country. In his opinion, this, with the great and widespread popularity of President Roosevelt, makes the party a sure winner at the next presidential election, and gives him the greatest satisfaction. The congressman has been making speeches in various parts of the country, and he is in position to know what he is talking about.

"There is a general feeling," he said, "that the individual is more than the party, and as a result we see Democrats voting for Cummins in Iowa and La Follette in Wisconsin, and Republicans voting for Taft in Missouri. As a result, party lines run lightly on the voters, and much depends on the personality of the candidate before them for consideration. To a certain extent this is a good thing. It brings out the best men, but may bring out demagogues occasionally. If carried to extremes it will do harm."

Mr. Bede looks on President Roosevelt as one of the boldest and ablest presidents the United States has ever had, and he is sure that he would be a candidate for re-election, but that he may be impressed into service by the people, even against his own will.

Mr. Bede speaks highly of Taft, and says he would make a good president, but that he desires to go to the United States supreme bench. He also has a good word for Vice President Fairbanks, saying there is nothing to the report that he is an iceberg. Nothing is farther from the truth, he says. Mr. Bede also has a host for Speaker Cannon for president. In answer to objections that have been voiced because he has been speaking at Chattanooga, Mr. Bede says he has been doing so because it brought him in contact with the American people, and is the best education he could secure in preparing himself for congressional duties. He has been in about one hundred congressional districts of the United States at the invitation of members of the house and senate, and has thus gained a wide acquaintance that he says will prove a valuable asset in his congressional duties.

It is now known for a certainty that John Brady will be a candidate for sheriff on the Democratic ticket. He will file for the office within a few days. It is understood. The chances for a Democratic victory so far as the Duluth end of the district is concerned, are considered better this year than for a long time past. Charles Miller and others may also file for the place.

About one hundred delegates will be elected to the county convention, which will be called to order next Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the city hall. The latter convention will select thirty-eight delegates to the Democratic state convention, and will also select

Duluth is showing a good deal of interest in the fight of Congressman Buckman for re-nomination in his district, a close neighbor of the Eighth. The contest between C. A. Lindbergh of Little Falls and Congressman Buckman is one of the most interesting of the state. The St. Cloud Daily Times a few days ago had the following to say concerning the situation:

"It may all be a coincidence, but nevertheless things look as though there might be something doing in the anti-Buckman camp in St. Cloud today. C. A. Lindbergh of Little Falls, is here. He had not been in town long before Frank Eddy of Sauk Center, an out and out Lindbergh man, showed up. Then Capt. E. B. Wood, of Long Prairie, arrived. It is not known whether these gentlemen have had a conference with J. A. Martin today or not, but it is quite likely they will. In the face of the turn of events during the past two or three weeks, they certainly could find nothing to talk about with 'Jim.' Capt. Wood was tendered the position of register of the land office by Buckman, and as a result, he is now considered one of the captains in the fight against Buckman."

In the fight against the congressional fight today, Editor Eddy of Sauk Center said to the Times: "Buckman is as sure as beaten as there is a sun in heaven, at least, that is my opinion. You know I seldom ever give out anything as being positive unless I am quite sure. Lindbergh is as good as nominated today. I have traveled the district over and I know."

Boise, Idaho, on a charge of murdering former Governor Steunenberg of that state. The following resolutions says:

"Whereas, the state administrations of Colorado and Idaho, evidently in collusion with the all-powerful mine owners' organization, have, by a new process of law unknown to the common American citizen, kidnapped in the dead of night and incarcerated the leading officers of that steadfast organization, the Western Federation of Miners, under the charge of murder, and."

"Whereas, they are denied either immediate trial or release on bonds under various subterfuges, evidently in accord with prearranged plans to put these men to death and their organization out of business, be it."

"Resolved, That Typographical union, Number 16, at its regular meeting demands of the state administration of the state of Idaho that these men, in compliance with their request, be given an immediate trial in the courts, or, be, according to the process of the law, released on bonds."

During the session last night there was an animated discussion as to whether the right of these men being violated in the government—printing office and a resolution was passed that whenever positive evidence was gained that this law was being violated it should be placed in the hands of President Lynch of the International Typographical union, who should present the evidence to the president of the United States.

Despite arguments of several delegates that one man should not be singled as an object of praise for supporting this principle, a resolution was adopted which says that the Typographical union in its efforts to secure the eight hour day has no better friend to aid in the struggle than that able, true and peerless champion of the rights of the American working man through the medium of his several publications, William R. Hearst, of New York, and that by this token the International Typographical union expresses its sincere thanks for his noble, generous and persistent effort to secure for the members a universal eight hour work day.

When delegate T. W. McCullough of Omaha, said that W. J. Bryan had made an earnest plea for the eight hour day even before the fight was commenced by the International Typographical union, he was loudly cheered.

FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY

J. H. Norton Making Vigorous Campaign for Republican Nomination.

Standing on the platform of a "square deal" for all, and on his record of twenty-five years as a party man, John H. Norton is making a persistent and aggressive campaign for the Republican nomination for county attorney.

His long residence in the city and county, his natural ability, with a man of his energetic disposition, made him a host of acquaintances, and his sound principles and good fellowship has caused many of these to ripen into warm friends, all of whom are lining up for John Norton.

His record as a party man is admitted, even by those who are not pledged to him, to be above reproach. He has never held political office, but when defeated for the nomination for county attorney two years ago, he did not complain or sulk in his tent, but politically speaking, removed his coat and helped pump the car of his party on to victory. He has practiced law for sixteen years in Duluth and has been admitted to the United States supreme court, the United States circuit and district courts, and the state courts of Minnesota and Michigan. His record for fair dealing and squareness is unimpeachable and he is a strong character. He is asking the support of all Republicans on Sept. 18 at the polls for the nomination for county attorney.

Country's Trade Outlook Excellent, Says R. G. Dun & Co.

New York, Aug. 18.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade today says: Abundant crops and an oversold steel industry engender sentiments of confidence that mark the outlook bright for a continuance of present prosperous business conditions. Each week brings a new high water mark in some department and the net result is uniformly better than the corresponding week in any previous year. The weather has favored both crops and the distribution of merchandise, while the latter is increased by seasonable bargain sales. Despite unprecedented precautions for business by liberal purchase of rolling stock, the railways are facing serious traffic blockades that cannot be avoided when the crops begin to move freely. Earnings thus far for August are well above last year's, and are larger than last year. Some damage by storm was reported but of local effect only. A more significant factor was the further voluntary advance in wages at textile mills. No relief appears as to the supply of labor, production being reduced in some cases where customers are most urgent. Fall city goods jobbing trade broadens in connection with a lantern show at Lima, Ohio, caused a runaway in partnership and the result was the injury of seven persons, two of whom will probably be seriously injured. Mrs. Mary Mankeski, the wife of a far-seeing man, was strangled to death in the dining room of her home in East William, L. I., yesterday. Her body was found by her maid, who was called to the room by her apron bound around her neck. The rooms were ransacked and it is believed that $1,000 which was in the house was stolen. Peter Levy, a negro, escaped yesterday, was arrested yesterday. He denied any knowledge of the crime.

In a proclamation issued yesterday, Governor Johnson set apart Monday, Sept. 3, as a public holiday, to be observed as Labor day.

By the explosion of a gasoline tank used in connection with a lantern show at Pekin, China, a general of the army and another official were killed yesterday, and several persons were wounded. The occurrence caused great alarm and gave rise to many rumors, one being to the effect that an attempt has been made to assassinate Wu Ting Fang, former Chinese minister to the United States, by a bomb, thrown by the emperor.

While the members of the Christian church of Crawfordsville, Ind., were rehearsing for an entertainment yesterday afternoon, a bolt of lightning struck the church and instantly killed Mrs. John Hollis, Misses Bessie and Una Shoer, were also seriously injured. The church building was badly damaged.

Thirty pirates, disguised as passengers, attacked the British steamer Kwai-ping on Aug. 15, off Kwaichu. The pirates escaped. There is an unconfirmed report that twenty of the passengers and crew of the steamer were wounded and that the pirates secured booty to the amount of $600 tons.

GOOD FEELING PREVAILS.

Washington, Aug. 18.—Reports from naval vessels that have been cruising along the north Atlantic coast all summer and from communities there where they have been, have leave indications that there has been the best feeling between the sailors in uniform and the people. Considerable liberty has been allowed the sailors on the different ships and squads of them have gone from place to place visiting for the reports that they are conferring with the law, I am, of course, wholly in favor of the reports, but I would not assume any such purpose as that simply because they are conferring, which for the reason stated would be perfectly reasonable and natural.

It must be apparent to all, including even those railway men who, in the past have been inclined to regard the railways as a place of private property to be dealt with by the owners as they choose, that the time has come when what they do in their business which involves the rights and interests of the public, must be an open book, so that they themselves may have the means of knowing whether or not they are protected, and I do not believe the well advised railroad lawyers of the country will waste their time in attempting resistance to this well settled public purpose or the future."

DEDICATION OF THE FIRST SWEDISH EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH

Sunday Will be Red-Letter Day in Church's History.

Dedication Services Will be Held in the Afternoon.

Sunday, Aug. 19, 1906, will be a red letter day in the history of the First Swedish Evangelical Lutheran church, for while they have been holding services in the building since early in June, tomorrow will mark the formal dedication of the new church erected at the corner of Third street and Sixth avenue east.

The regular church services will be held tomorrow morning at 10:30, under the direction of Rev. Carl Salomonson, the pastor, and the dedication service will commence in the afternoon at 2:30. Rev. J. E. Krantz, pastor of the church from 1894 to 1902, and now pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church in West Duluth, will deliver the dedicatory sermon, and, with the assistance of the visiting pastors, will perform the dedicatory service. A solo by Mrs. Louise Ragnarsen of Brooklyn, N. Y., will be a feature of the program. Mrs. Ragnarsen was formerly Miss Louise Hall of Duluth, and a member of the church while a resident here.

The complete program of the exercises is as follows:

Hymn
Dedicatory sermon
Rev. J. E. Krantz
Song, dedicatory hymn
Chorus Choir, fifty voices

Rev. J. E. Krantz
In the evening, at 7:45, there will be communion service, and Rev. C. J.

REV. CARL SOLOMONSON, Present Pastor.

Collin, pastor of the church for twelve years, from 1882 to 1894, will deliver a sermon. He is at present pastor of the church at Stockholm, Wis.

The new structure is built of Lake Superior brown stone and Twin City, buff colored, pressed brick. The style of architecture is purely gothic, and the effect is massive and imposing. The interior is finished in oak, and the seating is by circular rows, the capacity being about 600. In the basement of the church is a large lecture hall and Sunday school room, a dining room and a kitchen.

The members are especially proud of the windows of the building, which are as fine as any now in the city. The large transept window, on the east side of the church, was placed there by Dr. Becklund, in memory of his wife, and the design, entitled, "Holy Innocence," represents the Virgin carrying the babe and a lamb in her arms. The west transept window was donated by C. J. Eriksen in memory of his mother, Augusta, and is a remarkably beautiful copy of Hoffmann's "Christ in Gethsemane." The third street window, under the choir loft, bears a picture of Martin Luther. The sanctuary and the altar are placed in front of the church, and at the side, facing the altar, is the pulpit. The altar and railing are finished in white enamel and gold, and David Eriksen is at work on an altar piece. He has not announced his subject definitely as yet but it is thought that it will be the Ascension.

Though it has been over a hard and thorny path, the church has at last reached this happy point in its career.

Missionary Who Founded Church in 1870.

NEW SWEDISH LUTHERAN CHURCH AND PARSONAGE.

and it has been in existence for nearly two score years. Some Swedish people came up the lakes from Chicago as early as 1869, and in 1870 Rev. C. A. Cederstam, a traveling missionary sent out by the Swedish Lutheran church, came here and held services. The first meeting place was in a little schoolhouse on Third avenue east, and the church organization was begun in the fall of 1870, but not completed until March of the next year. Rev. Cederstam was called to be the first pastor, and he visited the city once a month and held meetings here. John Brandt was the first secretary of the church, and Svan Johnson, Nels Hall, and A. P. Krantz, father of Rev. E. J. Krantz who afterwards became pastor, composed the first board of deacons. The first trustees were E. G. Swanson, Ludwig Hagard, and J. Brandt.

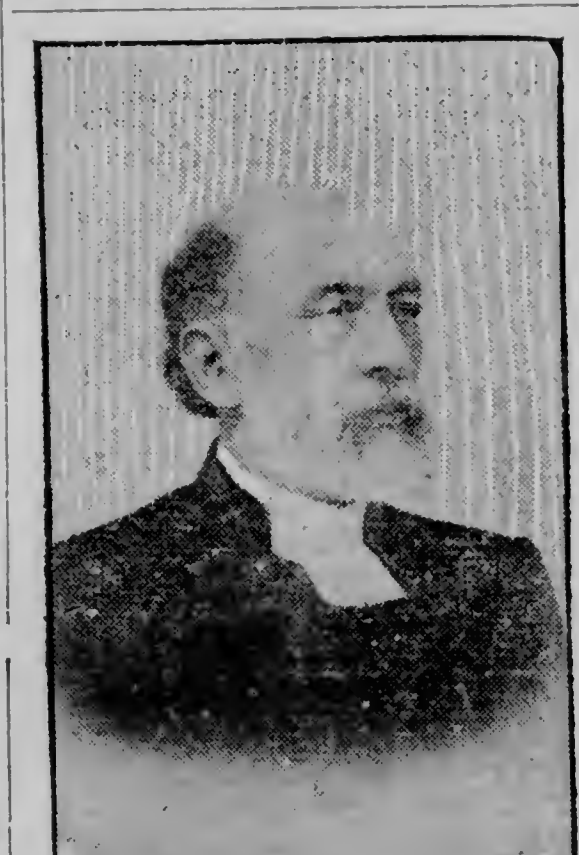

Rev. E. N. Gorlander was the second man to take charge of the struggling new church, and as he was the first minister to make his residence here he may be really be considered the first regular pastor. It was during his pastorate, 1872-3, that the old church, which the congregation occupied up to last June was built at the corner of second street and Second avenue west. It was a frame building, with a seating capacity of 200 and cost about $1,500 when built.

The building was scarcely completed when the great panic which swept the country in 1873 had a tremendous effect on the city, and in 1875 there were but few left of the former congregation. In 1875 things began to take on a better hue and for the two years following Rev. Brink conducted services in the church.

In 1876 however, another period of depression was felt and for six years from 1876 to 1882 the church was vacant.

In 1882 Rev. C. J. Collin commenced his ministry in this district, serving not only the local church, but also visiting Thomson, the ranges, and Northern Wisconsin. His was the longest pastorate, lasting twelve years. In 1889 the new church was talked of and lots were purchased on Fourth avenue east and Fifth street for building purposes. The church became involved in financial troubles in the summer of '92, and when everything was cleared up they found themselves in debt to the amount of $1,400, all hope of building was abandoned.

In 1894 Rev. J. E. Krantz undertook the work, and it was his untiring effort and wise administration that made it possible to get the organization clear of debt once more. In 1892 Rev. Carl Salomonson, the present pastor, took charge and at the annual business meeting in 1905 a committee was appointed to select a site for the new church building.

The location at Sixth avenue east and Third street was selected and 100 feet on Third street purchased for $6,000. The disposal of the old church for $3,000 more than paid for this, and the building committee composed of Pastor Salomonson, William Thiderquist, C. A. Eriksen and E. A. Berg at once considered plans for the new edifice. The plans accepted were drawn by C. E. Nyström and he also superintended the work of construction. The contract was let to F. A. Johnson and the ground was broken Sept. 1, 1905. The cornerstone was laid Nov. 26, and the building was entirely completed the first of last July.

The entire structure cost nearly $21,000 and the parsonage which was erected on the back end of the lot cost $4,000 more, making a total expense, with the lots, of about $25,000. Of this all but $8,000 has been paid, and the balance is being paid in installments of $2,000 of this before next winter. A five year mortgage for the balance has been secured and it is not thought that the whole amount will be paid until the expiration of this time.

The various church societies helped beautifully in furnishing the new building. The Ladies' Aid gave $250 toward the lot, and the Ladies' Aid gave $250 toward the lot, and the Ladies' Aid gave $250 toward the lot.

John Parris of the Ebenezer Baptist church will occupy the pulpit in the morning at 11 o'clock and J. Hurling in the evening. Sunday school will be held at 10 a. m. The Women's Foreign Mission society will have its monthly meeting at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

There is no labor trouble in Duluth outside of the job printers' strike, which lacks but a month and a half of being a year old. Every day or two in the building trades some dispute arises, but it is as quickly settled, and the men are at work all of the time.

At St. John's Episcopal church, Lakeland, Sunday services will be as follows: 10 a. m. Sunday school; 11 a. m. morning prayer; 7:30 p. m. evening prayer with a sermon by the rector.

At Bethesda Norwegian Lutheran church, Sixth avenue west and Third street, there will be no services, owing to the dedication of the Swedish Lutheran church. The big shop in the field, and the big shop in the field, and the big shop in the field.

At the Swedish Baptist church, Ninth avenue east and Third street, there will be no services in the morning, but in the evening service will be held at 7:30 o'clock, as usual. Rev. C. A. Alden of West Duluth will speak and the following musical program has been prepared:

Prælude—"Meditation" Morrison

LABOR

READY FOR LABOR DAY

Committees and Unions Preparing for Official Frolic Next Month.

Spurious Advertising Solicitors Puzzling Union Men as to Motive.

UNION MEETINGS:

Tonight—Bakers and Confectioners, Kalamazoo hall; Boltermakers, Axa hall.
Monday—Building Structural Alliance, Labor World hall; Barbers, Labor World hall; Stone Masons, Axa hall.
Tuesday—Carpenters, Rowley hall; Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers, Labor World hall; Stationary Firemen, Labor World hall.
Wednesday—Meat Cutters, Labor World hall; Steamfitters, Labor World hall; Plasterers, Kalamazoo hall; Freight Handlers, Kalamazoo hall.
Thursday—Builders' Laborers, Axa hall; Plumbers, Labor World hall; Cords and Wipers, Labor World hall.
Friday—The Layers and Helpers, Labor World hall; Lathers, Labor World hall; Iron Molders, Sloan hall; Trades Assembly, Labor World hall; Bricklayers, Axa hall; Ship Carpenters, Sloan hall.

The news of the labor circle this week is scarce. All of the unions are too busy making money. The principal interest among men is centered on the participation for Labor day, which is near at hand now and almost every thing done by union men these days has a bearing on that official day of unionism. The committees of the local unions, are hard at work and are acting in unison in the matter. The work on the program is going along well.

The matter of grounds will probably come up this week. It is quite possible that the deal for grounds for the city have an option will be closed in time to permit of these grounds to be taken up by the city. The grounds are right close to Fairmont Park and take up half a block of land. In such case it is quite likely that a rough structure for pavilion purposes will be erected as a temporary affair and a better structure for which plans have already been made will be put up later.

The labor day committee and labor union men in general are a little anxious about some attempts at soliciting for a labor day program. In the name of the trades assembly, by unauthorized solicitors. The motive and "grat" are puzzling the union men. It seems that these alleged unauthorized solicitors are not asking for pay in advance, or anything of that kind, so the object of the spurious solicitation cannot be figured out definitely. About the only reason for it that can be assigned is that somebody wishes to "quer" the business for the official program by putting other solicitors in the field, and thus create suspicion among merchants and other advertisers, and get them so disgusted that they will turn down all solicitors, official and otherwise. If such be the case, the union men are wondering who would make himself or themselves so busy over such a trifling matter, and what good it would do the perpetrators. Yet that is the only reason that can be assigned so far for this evident effort at mixing things.

The spurious solicitors had some little effect at first, but when it was found that such were in the field, so active a campaign was started by the union men to clear the matter with the advertiser, and what good it would do the perpetrators. Yet that is the only reason that can be assigned so far for this evident effort at mixing things.

There is no labor trouble in Duluth outside of the job printers' strike, which lacks but a month and a half of being a year old. Every day or two in the building trades some dispute arises, but it is as quickly settled, and the men are at work all of the time.

INCREASED PURCHASES

Trade With Non-Contiguous Territories Shows Good Growth.

Shipments to Them Increase But Receipts Fall Off Somewhat.

Washington, Aug. 18.—Trade of the United States with its non-contiguous territories amounted in the fiscal year just ended to $18,904,431. A bulletin issued today by the department of commerce and labor says: The shipments to the non-contiguous territories amounted to $18,904,431, against $15,500,000 in the preceding year, and of foreign goods, $7,500,000, against $10,750,000, this "foreign" goods being the product of many of the adjacent British territory shipped to the United States through Alaska.

The shipments to the non-contiguous territories were principally manufactures and foodstuffs, a proportion of partially prepared state. The merchandise shipped from the tropical countries was chiefly sugar, hemp and tobacco.

The merchandise shipped from the non-contiguous territories to the United States amounted to $7,500,000, against $5,500,000 in the preceding year, this being due to a decrease in the shipments from the Hawaiian islands and being due chiefly to the decrease in the value of sugar, which formed the bulk of the $7,500,000 worth of merchandise from that year from those islands to the United States. The quantity of raw sugar sent from Hawaii to the United States in 1905-1906, against $11,000,000 in the preceding year, but the value was $2,000,000 against $4,000,000 in the preceding year, the average value per pound in 1905 being 42 cents and in 1906 33 cents.

The figures show an increase in shipments to all of the non-contiguous territories except the Philippine islands.

HUGHES MAY NOT WANT IT.

May Not be a Party to the Odell Program.

New York, Aug. 18.—The Evening Post yesterday quoted Timothy L. Woodruff of Brooklyn as saying that if Governor Higgins is a candidate for renomination for governor of New York, Charles E. Hughes will not enter a contest for the nomination. Mr. Woodruff said that Mr. Hughes would not be a party to any factional strife. His proposed nomination by former Governor Odell is merely an expedient of the opponents of Governor Higgins. Mr. Woodruff continued: "I think that the president is as friendly to Mr. Higgins as to anyone. He would not be in favor of Hughes, if Governor Higgins were a candidate for the renomination, I feel sure."

It dissolves the Stricture completely and removes every obstruction from the urinary passage, stops every inflammation, stops every discharge, reduces the prostate gland to its normal size, cleanses and restores the bladder and kidneys, invigorates the organs and restores health and soundness to every part of the body affected by the disease.

Contagious Blood Poison. My special form of treatment for specific or contagious blood poison is practically the result of my life work, and is endorsed by the best medical authorities of this and foreign countries.

It contains no dangerous drugs or injurious medicine of any kind. It goes to the very bottom of the disease and forces out every particle of impurity.

Soon every sign and symptom disappear completely and forever. The blood, the tissue, the flesh, the bones and the whole system are cleansed, purified and restored to perfect health and the patient prepared again for the duties and pleasures of life.

Nerve-Sexual Debility. My cure for weak men does not stimulate temporarily, but restores permanently. It soon drives away all those distressing symptoms which so constantly remind one of his former folly.

It stops every drain of vigor and builds up the muscular and nervous system, purifies and enriches the blood, cleanses and heals the bladder and kidneys, and invigorates the liver, revives the spirits, brightens the intellect, and above all, restores the wasted power of manhood.

Reflex Diseases. Many ailments are reflex, originating from other diseases. For instance, many cases of Stricture, innumerable blood and venereal diseases often result from blood poison taint in the system or physical or mental decline frequently follow loss of manhood.

In treating diseases of any kind I always cure the effect as well as the cause.

INCREASING ACTIVITY IN REAL ESTATE MARKET

Several Good Residence Sales Have Been Made This Week in Addition to Business Property Transfers—Chester Park Lots on the Market.

During the past week the local real estate market has shown more activity than for the several preceding weeks. Not only was there closed up a deal for some East Superior street property in the business section, but there have been a large number of residence sales, some of which are yet under cover. Another important deal involving some business property is practically closed up, but the parties to the transaction are withholding the particulars until the papers are passed.

Inquiry has been even stronger than during the first week of the month. The fact that some of the landlords or their agents are giving the rents a boost, effective No. 1, where the property is not already under lease to May 1, 1907, is forcing a number of people to look elsewhere and influencing some of them to talk purchase instead of rent. In one East and locality the rent is said to have been increased $10 per month for each tenant in a row of houses and wholesale preparations are being made for moving out.

The largest deal in local realty this week was the sale of the southeast corner of Third avenue east and Superior street, from G. C. Howe, B. D. Craft and Barbara Hibbing to the Gregory company, for a consideration said to be in the neighborhood of $25,000. The property is occupied by several small buildings and shops. It has a frontage of 100 feet on Superior

It is understood that the new owners are likely to make some substantial building improvements there in the near future. The sale was made through the office of J. A. Stephenson.

Three good residence deals and some acreage sales were closed this week through the office of N. J. Upham & Co. The firm has sold the residence at 814 East First street from John A. Johnson to Dr. L. A. Sutherland, for $8,750; M. J. Kasim's home at 105 First avenue east, to F. W. Rayburn, for $7,000; and a residence at 295 West Fifth street from John Paulson to Patrick Murphy, for $3,500. The firm has the earnest money on an acreage sale in section 24-50-15 to Charles Stahlberg.

Another real estate event that is attracting a great deal of interest is the big sale of Chester Park division lots under the management of Moore & Bushnell of 410 West Superior street. The same realty firm that last year disposed of several blocks of Oneida property on easy terms. Chester Park division is a beautiful plateau lying on Eighth, Ninth, Tenth and Eleventh streets. The lots are splendidly located for building purposes and are all 140 feet deep. Moore & Bushnell began showing the lots to-day. They have put them on the market at the easiest imaginable terms, namely $1 down and $1 per week until the lot is paid for. The purchaser has no taxes to pay until 1908 and no payments are required when the purchaser is sick or injured. The lots are to be sold at from $50 to $350 each, depending on location. They are within a very short distance of churches, schools, city water and gas and electricity. It is expected that the 135 lots to be placed on the market will find ready sale.

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance company has sold a property at the southeast corner of Sixth street and Third avenue east to George B. McLaughlin for $5,500. The property has a frontage of 100 feet on Sixth street, and contains a double house and two single houses. It is described as lots 50 and 52, East Sixth street, Duluth proper, First division.

A. Stoltz, the East Fourth street tailor, has sold his flat building on Ninth avenue east, between Third and Fourth streets, to C. E. Glines for $5,000. The property is described as lots 1 to 3, block 754, Auditor's rearrangement of Portland.

H. F. Douglas has sold a Jefferson street lot, near Twenty-second avenue east, to O. L. Mather for $1,950. The property is known as lot 11, block 48, Endion.

J. H. Barnes has purchased from G. M. Abbott lot 13, block 20, Harrison's division, for $1,100.

August Linden has purchased from the Academy of Natural Sciences a lot on the lower side of Fifth street, near First avenue east, for $2,500. The property is described as lot 14, East Fifth street.

O. K. Weinman has sold George Martin the west half of a lot on First street, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets, for $1,400.

John LaPointe of West Duluth has purchased from F. A. Sawyer for $1,700 a residence property on the east side of Fifty-sixth avenue west, between Raleigh and Hedrauth streets, for $1,500.

J. J. Wangerstein, the architect, has plans for a school building at Nashua on which bids are to be taken until Aug. 31.

George H. Lounsbury has been awarded the contract for the second story, to be erected on the office part of the Omaha road's freight house, on Fifth avenue west. Mr. Lounsbury also has the contract for the 300-foot addition the warehouse, which is nearly ready for the roof.

F. L. Young & Co., the architects, are taking bids at Aurora for a frame school house.

Architect John DeWaard has plans for a two-story brick store building, costing about $10,000, to be erected by George Heiser of Minneapolis, on Superior street, near First avenue east.

Henry Pearson of this city has been awarded the contract for the town hall at Missabe Mountain, to cost about $5,800. Bray & Nyström were the architects.

Following were the transfers during the week:
J. A. Hornet, administrator to A. H. Herick, section 22-45-15; lot 14, block 4, West end addition.

G. W. Norton et al, executors to George Maginnis; lots 11 and 12, block 7, West Duluth, Sixth Division.

BUSINESS CHANCES.

COBALT.
Cobalt is the richest silver field in the world; experts say so and smelter returns prove it. Cobalt stocks have never paid immense dividends. The ore runs as high as $100.00 to the ton load. These are facts—cold facts and the field yet in its infancy. Investigate—then invest before time has lessened the best opportunities for big profits. You will need up-to-date information, maps, geological reports, etc. They can be secured free of charge by addressing Secretary Cobalt Mining Exchange, Cobalt, Canada.

WANTED TO BORROW—$1,000, 8 per cent. for one year; first-class security. Address N 2. Herald.

IF YOU ARE EARNING LESS THAN $50 weekly, we will show you how to double your income or salary; no investment required. Address Supt., Vertical Builder, Philadelphia, Pa.

GOLD MINING IN NEVADA

Searchlight Mutual Buys the Confidence Claims-- Two Thousand Men Are Now on the Company Payrolls in Goldfield.

of the previous summer, and the high price of trading in Southern Nevada has been a factor in the pouring in from the East, North and West, and every one seems intent upon acquiring holdings in the great mining and prospects of the great mineral zone.

Along with the upward movement in stocks has developed a more pronounced activity in mining operations. In this particular, all the Nevada mining districts, especially Nevada are affected. This is especially true at Manhattan, where all of the great bodies of ore, the great moists and going down to explore the great ore bodies that have been found in the great bodies of ore nearer the surface. The Stray Dog, Indian Camp, Jumping Jack, and others in the great bodies of ore, and others on Gold Hill are proving up tremendous bodies of ore, and the great bodies of ore on Mustang and Chipmunk Hills, mining operations are producing a great deal of ore, and this illustrates the confidence operators have in the performance of the great bodies of ore in the East, the Consolidated, Pine Nut, Consolidated Extension, and others.

Polka-Dotted Gowns Are A Popular Season's Mode

To be quite smart this summer a woman should possess at least one polka dotted gown. Not the small dotted fabric of several seasons past, but that which shows a dot as large as a ten cent piece at least, scattered thickly over its surface. And is must be a white China silk dotted with black to be real modish.

For a long time conservative women have looked askance at the startling size of the figure displayed and for a time would have none of it, but with the persistence of some fashions to make a way for themselves, polka dotted silks have gradually come into favor, until now for a woman who has a slender figure there is nothing quite so stunning and at the same time practical, for such a gown can be worn upon almost any occasion with the certainty that it looks smart and stylish. Such a costume requires very little trimming, the material itself obviating this necessity. Lace or net undersleeves and a yoke and vest of the same material are quite sufficient decoration.

Appetizing Luncheon For a Railway Journey

By EMMA PADDOCK TELFORD.

In these days of the great American shuffle, when the dwellers in Oz are rushing over into Mesopotamia and Uris and Rius are changing denizens, the question of how we shall be fed en route is one that requires consideration.

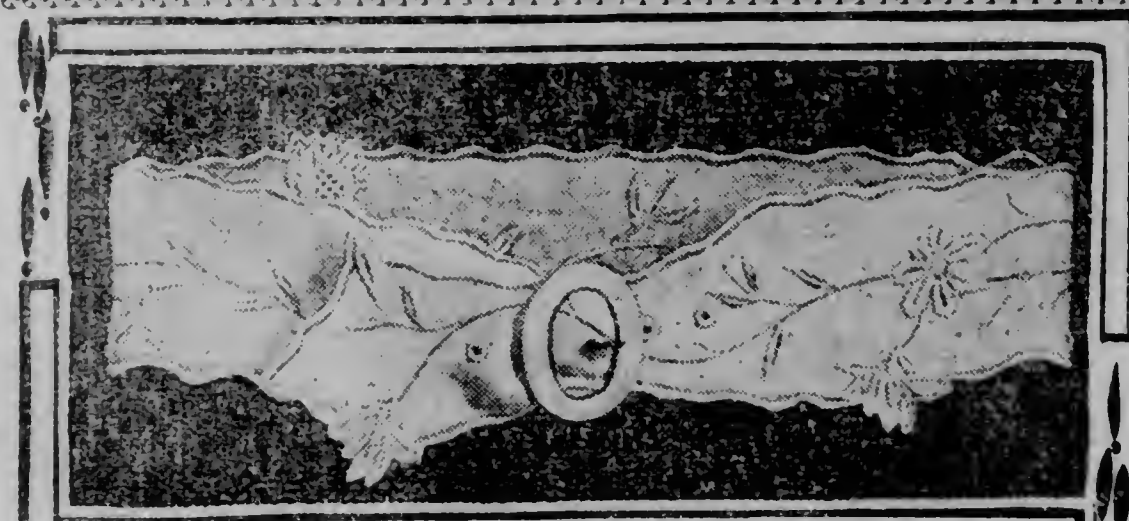

Even with a good fat pocketbook there are apt to be vexatious delays between the cup of dining car or eating house and the lip of appetite, so that the traveler who carries her own sinews of war has usually the best of the game. This is especially true where there is an invalid or children in the party.

For a short trip only a light lunch will be required, but it must be delicately packed and wisely selected, for inelegant car sickness develops rapidly into well defined nausea when the opened lunch box offends either eye or nostril.

Let me tell you of an ideal luncheon put up for me not long ago when returning to the city from a trip "up the state." I thought in the morning before starting that I couldn't take a

Popular Belt for White Duck Suit

A Favorite Belt for White Gowns

To wear with white duck, pique or linen suits the embroidered belt of the same material is by all odds the favorite this summer. A mother of pearl buckle fastens the belt in many instances, or if one is the fortunate possessor of a buckle of gold in some ornate design, then so much the better. White cheap editions of these belt can be procured in the department stores, the smarter shops devoted strictly to women's dress accessories have them and they are quite elaborate and costly. But expense need not enter into the possession of one if a woman understands embroidery. In that event the work of decorating a belt is a matter of small moment and minor expense.

Vacation School Children Gardening on John D. Rockefeller's Land

Digging A Frog Pond

Hoing In Corn

Clearing Away Stones From Garden

A vacation school garden, where girls and boys raise vegetables, as many of them call it. They are put to work by the instructor, Mr. Siegel, who assigns them to certain rows where they dig out weeds, hoe, mulch the earth with a rake, or do whatever he considers is necessary for the growth and strength of the vegetables or plants. When this work is completed to his entire satisfaction he explains why it was essential that the ground around the corn should be mulched, or why the beans needed weeding.

The children are encouraged to ask questions about their own garden plots, and then are led around the other beds and the growth and care of the corn-flower, morning-glories, or a lesson on maple seedlings is given, so that they are kept interested in the farm work for at least two hours, and in this way not only learn about the vegetable and plants they are raising, but all work that the other classes are doing, and what relation it has to the studies they are pursuing in the regulation branches.

The children—usually about sixty in a class—arrive at nine o'clock in the morning to do their "farming," as many of them call it. They are put to work by the instructor, Mr. Siegel, who assigns them to certain rows where they dig out weeds, hoe, mulch the earth with a rake, or do whatever he considers is necessary for the growth and strength of the vegetables or plants. boys and girls of the nature study class. The water in it is secured from a nearby hydrant and the frogs, tadpoles, catfish and silver fish afford the children a great amount of pleasure and give the teachers many opportunities for explaining the life of fish and other details that would be difficult to interest the little folks in if the objects were not swimming around before them in the water. Watercress is being grown, too, for the benefit of the cooking class, for the girls are anxious to have it to garnish and trim the dishes with.

For the benefit of the pupils in the Vacation iron class, where out of small pieces of metal match boxes, flower stands, holders for books are created, there is a mound of iron and brass ore, ocher and ore sulphides for the children to examine and discuss. The little ones are encouraged to bring stones and any bits of ore they can secure for the class to inspect and talk about so that they will become familiar with the various metals in the crude states as they are taken from the earth.

That the garden has been a success is shown by the interest the pupils take in it, for on the days that the work is out of doors the classes are always unusually large, and some of the little folk stay after they have been dismissed to walk around the beds, or if they see that a certain plot needs hoeing, do the work of another department. Test something might go wrong before the class arrived to care for its plants or vegetables.

Many of the children in the neighborhood who do not go to the vacation school have become so interested in the garden that they spend most of their time around the plots and have really organized themselves into a guard to keep off dogs, cats, and to prevent any one walking across the plots and injuring the plants.

Though the garden has been in the ground but three weeks it is growing splendidly, and the cooking class hopes soon to have beans and peas from its own plot to use during its lesson. All the work in the garden except the ploughing of the grounds has been done by the three hundred pupils who attend every week. They planted the seeds and flowers furnished by the department of education, and have hoed, raked, mulched and watered the plots, and in fact taken complete charge of them ever since.

savory, put up at home in this fashion:

Take mild, creamy cheese, grate and beat soft with a fork. Season with mustard and cayenne and reduce to a paste with a little brandy or vinegar. This may be spread on crackers or bread as preferred. Other desirable things for the long journey are a little jar of anchovy paste, a bottle of gherkins, a package of cube sugar and a few drawings of tea, each one done up in a little cheesecloth bag.

Put into a little cheesecloth bag or square a half teaspoonful of tea. Make as many of these drawings as you expect to use on your trip. When ready for a refreshing cup of tea ask the porter to bring you a pot of hot water.

Drop your tea bag into bottom of your cup and pour the hot water over. Let it infuse three or four minutes, remove the bag and drink. After using these little bags throw out, and you have no untidy mess of tea leaves to reckon with. A basket of fruit that is not easily perishable, a little tin box of preserved ginger, a glass of jam if you will, and with occasional supplying of bread or fruit at places where you make long stops, you can achieve even a long journey comfortably and economically.

Only the simplest model should be chosen for the purpose, preferably a short plaited or circular skirt and three-quarter length semi-fitted coat with long leg or mutton sleeves.

For a yachting suit serge is always preferred, and in white with navy blue collar, cuffs and belt, the effect is unquestionably charming. The suit should, of course, be short, and here again a severe style of coat is infinitely best. The short loose "pony" coat is seldom becoming and the style never stays long in favor. Reefer jackets seem to have come to stay for another season at least. If the reefer coat fits well it is very becoming to a tall, slender figure, but the woman who is short and stout should have a three-quarter fitted jacket with every suit save the most elaborate reception costume.

Volle is never worn so much in the autumn as earlier in the year, as the material itself, in spite of being always made up in silks, looks cold, and for some reason rather poor as soon as the thermometer begins to go down. Corduroy, although it makes a most attractive costume and is one of the few of the heavier materials to be pure white, does not seem to be particularly popular just at present. In spite of this there is a great deal to recommend the white corduroy suit, as it does not necessarily require a lining and the material can be washed instead of being constantly cleaned and growing more yellow each time.

TOO MUCH TO ASK OF HIM.

New York World: "During the last national campaign," said Secretary Shaw, "an eloquent orator was urging the people in one of the Southern cities to support the Democratic ticket. Henry Cassavady, Davis, who was over 80 years old, was considered a poor candidate, and many of the spellbinders believed that the presence of Davis on the ticket weakened it. The orator was trying to overcome the defect in the ticket by urging the young men to support Davis, who, although an octogenarian, was still a man of ability and would live out his term, with good luck."

"One of the auditors, who had drunk more than his allowance of red eye, almost broke down at meeting by exclaiming: 'I am a pretty good Democrat, but I can't vote for an octogenarian, as no member of my family has yet voted for a man with nigger blood in his veins, and I'm not going to do it now.'"

White Mohair Suit Saves Laundry Bill

By A. T. ASHMORE.

For late summer and autumn no dress is worn so much as a light weight cloth or mohair suit. It is most necessary that this costume be of a smart cut and attractive material, for it is worn very much as the linen suit is used earlier in the season. A white mohair suit, for example, that is worn only occasionally during the summer months is later on pressed into hard service until the return to town.

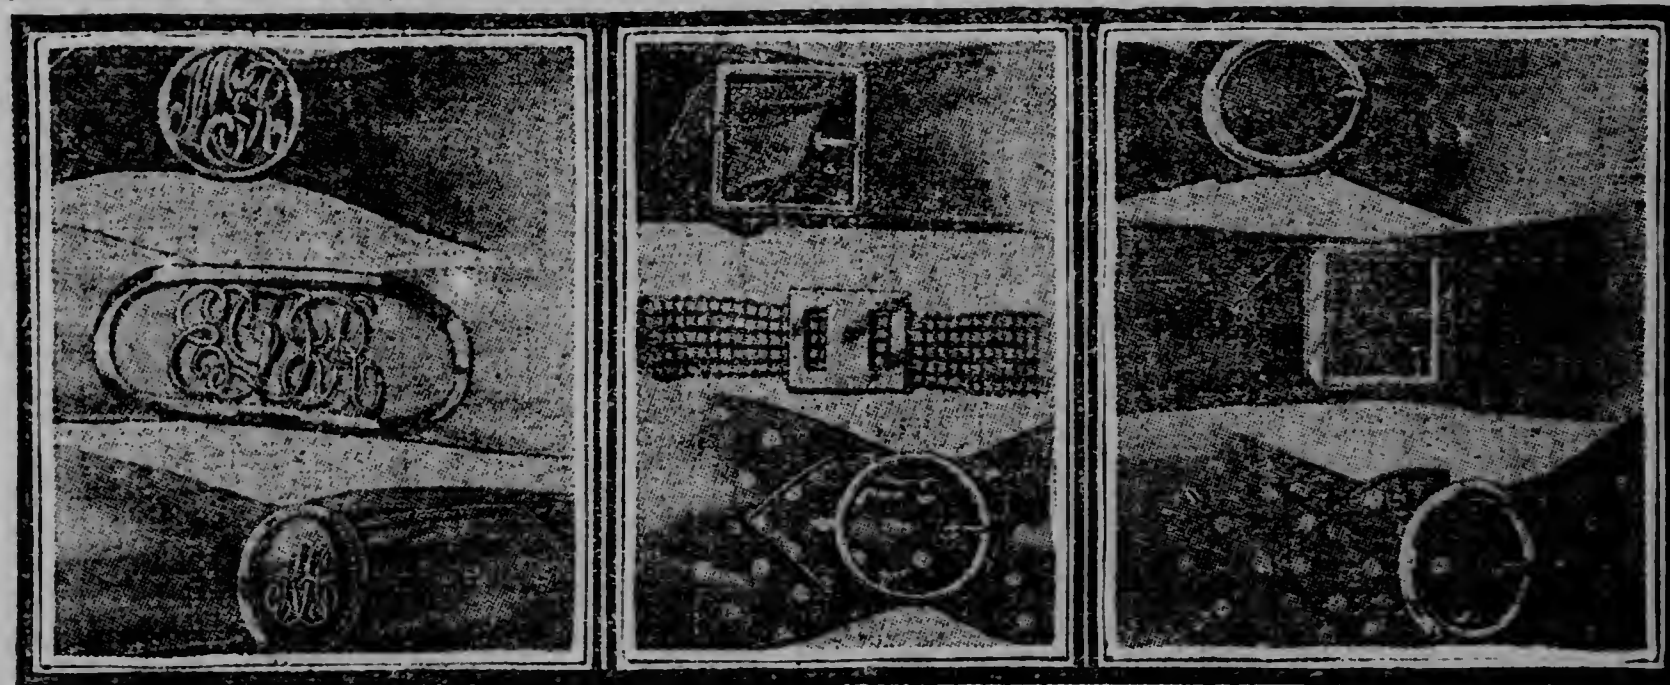

It is not at all too late to acquire a white or light colored cloth costume, for until now there will have been but few occasions when it would have been worn, while during August and more especially through September and October it will receive constant wear. Certainly no one should dream of going far away from the city without a white suit of cloth serge, homespun or mohair.

Mohair is the pleasantest material to wear at this time of year, for it possesses just enough warmth to be comfortable on a cool day, while it is never too heavy. A good fitting white mohair skirt may frequently be worn instead of a white wash skirt, thus saving the laundry bill, for a heavy white duck skirt is no inconsiderable item. This year figured mohairs are preferred to the plain finish, but the check or stripe must be all in white, although, of course, the short trimmed bolero or Blon coat is one of the features of the present season.

For a rough and ready style of dress homespun makes an excellent suit. In white the material has been made up in exceedingly smart suits and the material cleans well and is also said to wash without pulling

Monogram Belt Buckles For Shirt Waist Suits

Monogram belt buckles for shirt waist suits are particular favorites with summer girls just now, for they are wearing them not only to fasten the belts in front, but also in the back as a decoration. There seems to be no definite style of monogram, either. So long as the young women have at least two of their initials on the buckle, the plainness or elaborateness of the letters apparently makes no difference.

Some buckles are large, with three edges, these buckles with initials are letters, the initial of the surname being the most prominent, while others, smaller in dimensions, have but two, and these cut in such a curious Chinese-like fashion that it is difficult to distinguish what the monogram is. The cut out buckles are popular, however, for few of those with a solid background on which the initials are embossed are worn this season.

Round, oval, oblong, diamond shaped, and made with scalloped worn on silk, leather, pique, etc., belts for street use. The plain metal buckles, without initials, are not so much in demand and are used more for dress occasions. They are made in the same shapes as those decorated with monograms.

These plain buckles are all in the dull finish, whether they are of brass, plated gold, or in real gold. The majority of the monogram buckles are also finished dull, though a few of the small ones are bright.

Cape Collar in Hedebo Work

Cape Collar in Hedebo and Eyelet Work

Working Detail of Cape

Two Methods of Doing Hedebo

Hedebo embroidery, now so popular, can be done either with the looped buttonhole stitch or with the common buttonhole stitch. The first is the original Hedebo, and can be done without a frame. Open parts must be twice outlined, then cut out and the edges finished with the looped buttonhole stitch. Finally lace stitches are inserted, being caught to the loops of the buttonholing.

In the event of using the common buttonhole stitch the work is more quickly done, being stretched on a frame or enameled cloth, the principal figures outlined, the stitches executed with a blunt point needle to the buttonhole edge worked last. Only after the work is removed from the frame or enameled cloth may the linen in the open figures be cut away from the back.

To Cook Swiss Chards And Other Greens

By MARIA PARLOA.

Swiss chards is a variety of beet in which the leaf stalk and midrib have been developed instead of the root. It is cultivated like spinach, and the green, tender leaves are prepared exactly like this vegetable. The midrib of the full grown leaves may be cooked like celery.

To Cook Beets.

Beets of late have been attacked by insects; therefore they must be examined leaf by leaf, and all which are infested rejected. Do not separate the roots from the leaves. Wash thoroughly in many waters. Put into a saucepan and cover generously with boiling water. Add a teaspoonful of salt for every two quarts of greens. Boil rapidly until tender. This will be about thirty minutes. Drain off the water, chop rather coarse, season with butter and salt.

Preparing Asparagus.

Asparagus should be treated very simply, yet carefully. Cut off the woody part, scrape the lower part of the stalks, wash well and tie in bunches. Put into a deep stew with the cut ends resting on the bottom of the steamer. Pour in boiling water to come up to the tender heads, but not to cover them. Add a teaspoonful of salt for each quart of water. Place where the water will boil. Cook until tender, having the cover partially off the steamer. This will be from fifteen to thirty minutes, depending upon the freshness and tenderness of the vegetable. Have some slices of well buttered toast on a platter, season with butter and a little salt and serve at once. Save the water in which asparagus was boiled to use in making vegetable soup.

Another Method of Cooking Asparagus.

Another method of cooking asparagus is to cut all the tender part into short pieces. Add boiling water enough to just cover the vegetable and place where the water will boil. Cook until tender, about fifteen minutes, season with salt and butter and serve in the greater part of the juice.

Chicken Broth Frappe for Summer

Take the breast from a large tender fowl and cut into pieces, removing all fat and breaking the bones. Cover with cold water, or better still, two quarts clear white veal stock. Bring very slowly to a boil, skim and add the white part of one small leek, a couple stalks of celery and a half onion sliced. Simmer gently three hours, strain through a napkin into a stone pot and stand in a cool place over night. In the morning remove the cake of fat that will have formed over the top, and clarify the soup with the raw breasts of a fowl. Chop them fine and pound to a paste. Moisten this paste with a little of the soup. Put the rest of the soup over the fire, and when melted, but before reaching the boiling point, pour in the moistened breast.

Let the contents of the pot come slowly to the boiling point, stirring gently until it boils. Cover and simmer slowly ten minutes, skim again, then strain and season to taste with salt and pepper. Have ready a quart or box of gelatine that has been soaked half an hour in half a cup cold water. Pour a cup of the boiling broth over it to dissolve it thoroughly, then add the rest of the broth, which should measure three pints in all. Cool, and pour into the freezer, pack with ice and salt in equal quantities and freeze to a mush like consistency. Serve in a pretty cup with a spoonful of whipped cream on top.

For an invalid, a small amount may be frozen at a time by pouring in a baking powder can, setting in a dish and packing with ice and salt in equal proportions. The mixture will freeze in about half an hour, and should be stirred once or twice during the freezing.

Ways in Which Globe Artichokes Are Eaten.

Globe artichokes must be used before the flower opens. The edible portion consists of the thickened part at the base of the scales and the receptacle to which the leaf-like scales are attached. In cookery books the receptacles are always spoken of as the "bottoms." The parts of the flower in the center of the bud are called the "choke" and must always be removed.

When the artichoke is very young and tender, the edible portions may be eaten raw as a salad. When it becomes hard, as it does very quickly, it must be cooked. When boiled it may be eaten as a salad or with a sauce. The scales are pulled with the fingers from the cooked head, the base of each leaf in the sauce and then eaten. The bottoms (receptacles), which many consider the most delicate part of the artichoke, may be cut up and served as a salad or they may be stewed and served with a sauce. To prepare the artichokes, remove all the hard outer leaves. Cut off the stem close to the leaves. Cut off the top of the bud. Drop the artichoke into boiling water and cook until tender, which will take from thirty to fifty minutes, then take up and remove the choke. Serve a dish of French salad dressing with the artichokes, which may be eaten either hot or cold. Melted butter also makes a delicious sauce for the artichokes if they are eaten hot.

Other Delicious Greens.

Spinach and kale, or German winter greens, make delicious greens, also refreshing salads. Young shoots of the milkweed are almost as delicious as asparagus, when cooked according to the second method of cooking asparagus. In fact, the milkweed and asparagus may be cut up and cooked together. The cultivated dandelion, the marsh marigold or cowslip and purslane are all used as greens.

Practical Shirt Waist Gowns a Woman Needs

By A. T. ASHMORE.

The woman who remains in town late in the season has a hard struggle to be always attractively gowned. Light colors sell in a distressingly short while, but the darker shades seem to look unbecomingly on the woman who is not particularly well dressed. In regard to material also-silk cannot be laundered, and constant cleaning is considerable. Item but linen must be continually pressed or it has no style and smart. Rajah cloth and the many Japanese silks are comparatively cool, as comfortable as anything of the description can be in the city in mid-summer and stand an astonishing amount of wear and tear.

It is really not possible to get along without two sets of gowns, the one of silk, foulard or rajah that is very simply made so that it can be worn day in and day out, with fresh linen collars and cuffs, the other for rather nicer wear, and for special occasions. The first of these gowns must be made with short skirt and long sleeves. It is all very well for Dame Fashion to decree elbow sleeves for all occasions, but long white gloves made a very considerable item in the wardrobe when they must be cleaned daily, and there is nothing uglier than blue cotton silk or linen. Then, too, long gloves are far better than the same length of lace embroidery and if on special occasions it is desired to make the gown to match, long gloves can be built up to the elbow. The second set of gowns that was especially smart had long leg-of-mutton sleeves with only narrow embroidered linen cuff to match the collar and tiny yoke. The bodice was tucked simply and the skirt consisted of three separate pieces or flounces, each added beneath one cross tuck.

As the season advances foulards are seen to no little extent. The favorite design seems to be either in blue of black with a large white dot. Accordion plaited foulard gowns seem to be particularly popular, the gown either made princess with a wide band of shirring or rucking about the waist, or else in two pieces with a stitched or crushed silk sash.

For a very inexpensive dress, check gingham is good, as the material launders well and does not become mussed as soon as linen. Black and white check is wonderfully popular still, but brown and white and different shades of blue and white are also employed a great deal. A gingham dress should have very little trimming, as it is only intended for the simplest sort of wear, and it should be finished so that it can easily be made up. The great advantage in a silk or linen dress is that it requires no lining, save for a stout figure. A silk or linen dress, on the other hand, can be made up on the thinnest silk foundation and make exceedingly attractive gowns. One dress that was most serviceable and extremely smart at the same time was of dark blue silk voile and over a lining of bright plaid silk. The plaid was black and white, a decided red line, which colors showed but dimly through the voile. There was a blue silk girdle, some strappings of silk on the bodice and skirt, with a little round yoke of cream lace over the small lace cuff at the elbow. With this gown to be worn when desired was a little sleeveless bolero of dark blue tulle, lined with white net and lace.

Handkerchief Waists With Borders New

By ELIZABETH LEE.

The idea of making handkerchiefs into pretty waists is not particularly new, but some late materials shown for developing along these lines are exceedingly attractive, and so simple are the designs that almost any amateur sewer might safely attempt the construction of one of these smart waists.

Fashioned from five handkerchiefs, thirty-two inches square, of soft silk in solid centers and various colored borders, these blouses will be just the thing for cool days at mountain and seashore, worn with an odd tweed skirt, and, so little sewing is involved, the handkerchiefs could be packed in the trunk and the waist made up as a piazza work. The fronts suggest a surplice, or V, rather, to wear with chemise, and require two handkerchiefs the border edging the V and continuing to the waistline.

The plain part is then pleated on the shoulders, and a cut off border is set into the shoulder seam and brought tapering to the waist line. In a kind of Gibson-effect, as the waist is closed at the armhole seam. Under the arms is seen the plain silk. The back requires one handkerchief, and the armholes are made of two opposite sides have been removed. These remaining are placed on the front and are brought tapering to the waist line back. In a similar manner, the back of the skirt is placed, straight across the back from sleeve to sleeve, forming a short yoke, and more border, and a cut off border.

For the sleeves the borders are caught together, and the puff sleeves arranged so that they are "run" lengthwise or around the arm as most becoming to the wearer to be, then confined with cuffs of the border. Just a strip crushed, similar to the belt, and finished as fancy dictates. Navy blue or black, and looking borders are very stylish, and the wood browns, with pretty creamy borders, black and white, and smart. Some of the pretty greens, too, will doubtless appeal to the blonde.

Each handkerchief costs forty-nine cents, so that such a waist will be by no means expensive. Again, even this cost may be reduced if there are any short lengths of silk left on hand, the pretty printed ribbons and gold and silver now taking the place of the borders, and so being the only expense.

Another exceedingly dainty way of utilizing remnants of silk net and ribbon is in the making of a matinee set. If one has a discarded evening frock of thin silk so much the better, if not, a length of four yards of china or rayon silk will be sufficient. With this, cut a good skirt, jacket, ending about the waist line, and also bell sleeves reaching the elbow. The skirt is completed by a straight ruffle—just a continuation of the skirt—of net, plain Brussels, point de spirle, net dotted or what not and then trimmed with ribbon. The color of the silk, say this is pink, the net will be white or cream and the ribbons pink. This can be applied in rows or as little pointed straps, in motifs, or any way that the quantity at disposal will allow. The jacket is adorned with a similar flounce, which extends below the hips, the sleeves coming in for the same treatment. Lace about the neck and down the front is the finish to an especially handsome boudoir toilet. Such a set bought ready to wear would certainly cost twenty dollars. Yet for five or six home, and provided with paper patterns, very little skill will be required, as the fitting is next to nothing at all, and the making all fair sailing.

LIKES PIGEON RACING.

It may not be generally known that King Edward is fond of pigeon-racing. He has participated actively in it, says the Kansas City Journal. His majesty has a big lot of pigeons at Sandringham, where they are regularly and specially trained for long distance races. Some years ago one of his birds won the black race of the year, the "Pigeon Derby." In a magnificent flight home from Leamington.

Fish can produce sound by means of special vocal powers. Some part of the bony skeleton is movable and it is

Early Fall Wraps From Paris

As the season advances there are noticeable many new and altogether charming models in wraps and jackets for wear with afternoon gowns of lace or lawn. A short fitted jacket is quite as correct as a long loose wrap, and, in fact, the two are used to answer the same purpose.

A cloth wrap must be of delicate shade and of finest quality to be appropriate for afternoon, but cloth is now to be had of such exceeding light weight as to be none too warm, even in midsummer. The cloth jacket must naturally be rather elaborately made or else the cut must be so smart as to be a very distinctive style of its own.

The longer wraps are generally extremely long and hang loose from the shoulders, the cloth being either braided or embroidered all over. The accompanying illustrations, which are taken from L'Art et la Mode, show two afternoon wraps that are quite unlike and yet each one is exceedingly smart. Figures 1 and 2 show the back and front of the same jacket. This model is of biscuit colored cloth, trimmed with bias braids of taffeta silk of the same shade as the cloth. The cloth is laid over an undercoat of pompadour silk, the flowers being against a pale blue ground. This silk forms a vest in the front of the jacket and is visible also in back. In front the bias bands of silk form a little bolero which is caught down by cloth covered buttons. The jacket and sleeve ruffles are of lace and help considerably to give a softening effect to the hard lines formed by the cloth and silk. The skirt shown in the model is of fine handkerchief linen, trimmed with deep flounces of Valenciennes lace; the jacket, however, is intended to be worn with any light gown.

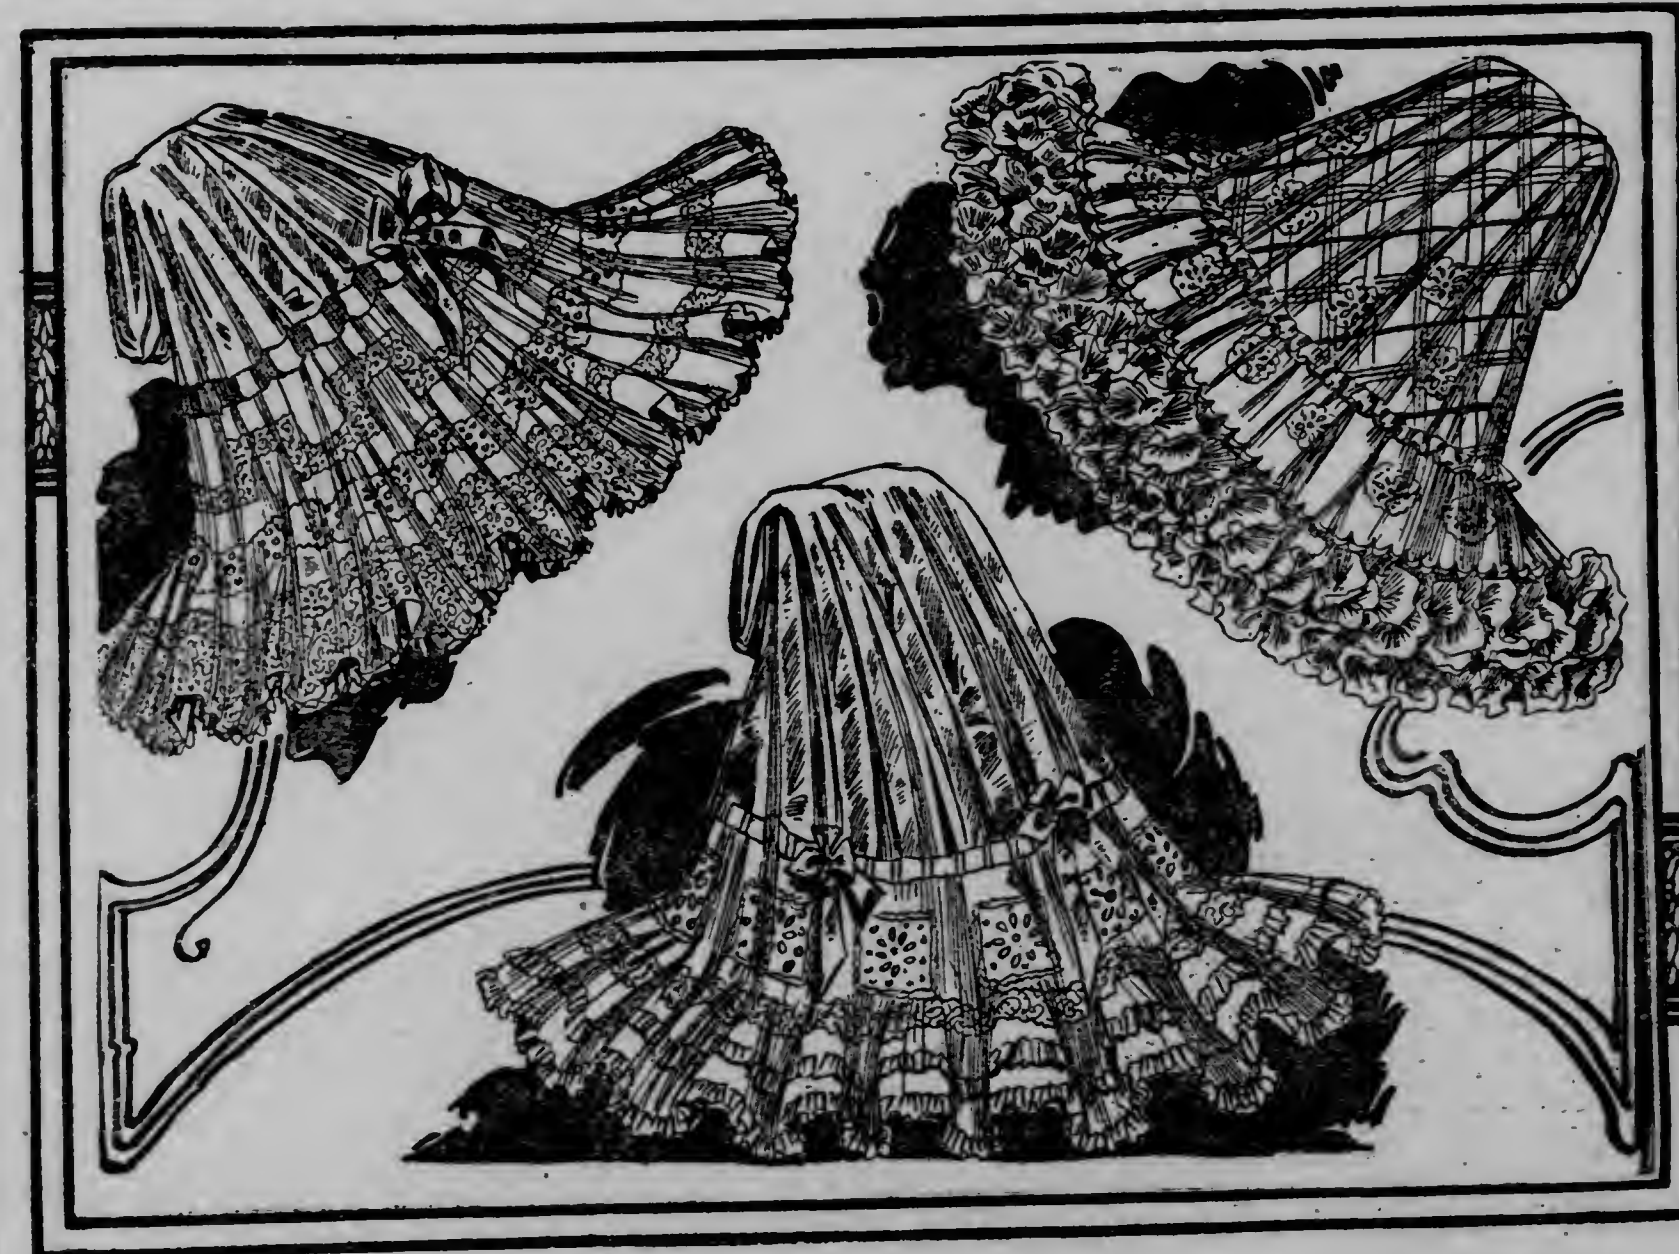

Figure 2 shows a cloak of the loose long model that is designed primarily as a protection for the delicate lace and lingerie frock. This wrap is of pale pink ladies' cloth literally covered with a heavy passementerie of the same shade as the cloth. The little revers are of the plain cloth fastened back with large fancy buttons. The sleeves are short, but if desired may be lengthened by full lace puffs. This style of cloak should be lined with a fine quality of satin or figured silk.

While lightweight cloth wraps of all descriptions are unquestionably the most in vogue this season, still there are many charmingly effective silk wraps also to be seen. For afternoon, the silk wrap may be either fitted or loose, as desired. The first model described above would be perhaps equally good in an attractive silk. The long silk wraps are generally seen in dark shades, so that they may not be mistaken for an evening wrap made to serve a double purpose. All afternoon cloaks are quite open at the throat and the sleeves are half or three-quarter length and unusually full—not conspicuously large, of course, for there is nothing graceful about the width of the present fashionable sleeve.

The empire wrap still prevails and is seen in all materials, from heaviest cloth to chiffon. It is always a good model for a cloak because of its long loose lines and is therefore destined to continue in favor for some little time yet.

Petticoats One Mass of Embroidery, Ribbon and Lace

Petticoats for dressy wear are growing in elaborateness and fineness as the summer goes, so that now these garments to wear beneath light gowns are one mass of lace, ribbon and embroidery. Materials for the foundation are not all plain, for dainty plaids in delicate colors are used, and soft tulle and meshing in the plain or solid colors. Rows of insertion headed by inch wide ribbon run throughout fine beading finish the ruffles, while innumerable little duffings which in some cases cover the flounces are a favorable form of decoration.

Jottings from Paris.

Doings in Fashion Land - French Styles Contrasted With American - Economies Cleverly Masked by Seeming Extravagances.

The wearing of natural flowers, chiefly in small bouquets upon the coat or corsage is a fad that came north from the Riviera in the late spring and early summer months. Fragrant flowers have been most in favor, and of those the yellow tea rose has easily held first place in the esteem of the fastidious. For one thing, this same yellow tea rose is not too common. It is somewhat expensive—compared with other blossoms—and then yellow in all its tints and nuances is the fashionable color, par excellence, this year in Paris. It is a blossom that will harmonize well with every toilette, a point that does not belong to other, and, perhaps, more favored blossoms; and its delicate odor is not too insistent.

The wearing of a large bunch of lavender or of purple sweet peas with a mourning or a half mourning costume is in high favor. The use of violets in this connection has been much overdone; and its deathknell was sounded when the wearing of artificial violets began to spread apace. The sweet peas, in either the light or the darker tint, accords well with either black, lavender or gray; white upon all white gowns they present a little splash of color contrast that cannot fail to be appreciated.

The white sweet pea, too, is not overlooked; and whether worn with or without a spray or two of green maidenhair fern, it is most often the choice of the younger section of society. There is an amount of simplicity to this dainty blossom that serves to commend it to those who dislike any display that savors even in the slightest of ostentation.

At the race meets—where one goes to see the very latest thing in gowns, wraps and accessories, displayed either by the haute monde, the demi-monde, or by the shop assistants of some of the best houses who have new ideas that they wish to exploit—a half blown peony was frequently seen as a corsage bouquet. Just why, one could not well figure out, for the flower itself is ungainly as to size, trying as to color, and absolutely lacking as to perfume. However, like so many other fads of fashion, it caught on to some extent; one well known woman going so far as to wear a Leghorn chapeau wreathed with peonies, a large one—a half blown—on the corsage, and a bunch of the artificial blossoms tied on the top and the handle of her parasol.

Gray has been tremendously overdone, both in the tailormade and the dressy type of gown; and there is a strong reaction—all the more apparent since the arrival of the summer visiting American contingent—against its use in almost any connection. One well known house that has sponsored perhaps more innovations in fashion than any other has had all of its gray stock—cloth, chiffon, gauze, silk and velvet and trimmings of countless kinds—dyed to other tones.

The hydrangea shades are in the very first flight of fashion! Hydrangea is the pretty name that the French bestow upon this delicately shaded flower; and the blues, pinks, and the indefinite minglings of the two shades that the blossom so characteristically displays are cleverly handled in a great majority of the gowns for lawn, luncheon, dinner and garden party uses.

There seems to be no indication of the wane of transparent or semi-transparent materials for dress purposes. The various novel weaves of voile—known under many names, but, substantially, all about the same—are well to the forefront of things fashionable, but chiefly in silken weavings. Exquisitely soft and lustrous silks—chiffon double of a season or two ago, but with a more lustrous finish—are light in the very first flight; and to their trimming all the ingenuity that the designer can devise is brought. The material itself is of such sheer quality that rather heavy trimming is best posed upon it.

There seems to be no strenuous and devotedly pushed the cause of the American short skirt for Parisian wear. True enough it is that the Parisienne has accepted this mode—but under protest and for a very limited acceptance. Only for the roughest wear it is donned, and it is always doffed with a sigh of thankfulness. Too well does she know and appreciate the fact that the long and trailing skirts become her best; and since long walks are indulged in only under doctor's orders, why make of herself a fright when there is no necessity and substantially nothing to be gained by no doing? That is about the spirit in which the short skirt is received, and the horde of visiting Americans who so well display its many advantages are gazed at, and its use at all hours of the day put down to a national idiosyncrasy.

The corselet skirt seems to have made its parting bow to the fashion world. At its best it required a degree of skill and cutting, and a still greater one in fitting (this would readily be commanded by the average purse). Then, too, unless it reached just the proportionate point between the bust and the waistline, which made the best of its wearer's possibilities the result was anything but a happy one. The all too stout woman—she is largely well-nigh nonexistent in France, at least among the natives—and the painfully slender woman both seemed to do away with this mode to suit their special peculiarities of build and figure, and with what effect the speedy recognition of this mode to the ill-fated things forgotten would seem to indicate.

The latter part of August usually introduces the first of the felt chapeaux; the initial display of those fascinating shapes which the world feminine will sport a few weeks later on. Those who are wise in their day and generation when the time comes to discard the faded headgear of the brilliant summer time, will adopt those later manifestations in felt rather than renew hats which grieved the burning days of June and July. For use with the shirtwaist suit or with the tailor-made the model that forms the subject of illustration is one that will commend itself to the fastidious dresser. Of a shape that will prove at Novel Shapes and Smart Trimmings Greet the Eye - Large and Small Chapeaux Equally Well Thought Of - Feathers in Many Kinds and Construction - Colors and Trimming Schemes.

A trip to town in these latter days of the waning summer season is sure to result in the purchase of one or more chapeaux.

Compared with the new and novel examples that are freely displayed in the windows of one's favorite shops, the headgear of the summertime looks woefully faded and out of place. Indeed, a 20-minute stroll along the avenue and a passing glance into the shop windows is sure to put any woman out of countenance with her own appearance, and it is only by resolutely shutting her eyes to the shops and turning her glance upon her fellow-creatures in the crowd that one can be at all consoled for the general worn and faded look which even the best of summer costumes are wont to assume at just this juncture.

The large hats are, if possible, more than a trifle larger than before, while the same is positively true, in inverse ratio, of the small shapes. Large, larger, largest and smaller, smaller, smallest, congregate the millinery situation at this moment; and it is the superlative degree in each that is most favored.

Thus spake a famous milliner, just back with her cherished "pattern hats" from Paris. Wise in her day and generation, she put in the earlier part of the season in visiting the different resorts along the coast, and so got to be thoroughly posted as to what the great ones of Paris had made up for favored customers late in the summer season. With those well defined in her mind's eye, there was no fear that she could be taken in with duplicates of such, made up in autumn and oftentimes in winter materials, and shown to the visiting trade of America as "the dernier cri," the very latest thing that has been conceived and created for the American woman! Not at all! She knew her ground, and could tell the difference at a glance.

In the small hats there are some charming subjects that clearly approach the character of Cordy models of a few seasons ago. Of course, as might be expected, while it is transparently reminiscent of this design, it is in the difference that its chic is to be found. The same soft and sprightly crown and the down-turned brim are manipulated after a new design, so that it is only to those who keep close track of the vagaries of fashion that the resemblance presents itself strongly.

Of the large hats, it is the size, shape and position of the bandeau that largely determine their genre. A front brim that projects becomingly, a side that is sharply lifted and a back that sets closely to the head—in marked contradistinction to the shapes of the summertime, in which an altogether superfluous width of black brim made the hat seem posed wrong side front, distinguishes the later shapes from their predecessors. The so-called picture shapes—overworked and altogether hackneyed description, but none other so expressive seems to present itself—are making themselves quite conspicuous, especially in bridesmaids' hats for the ceremonial occasion of the wedding. Outright feathers and mallas relays anpreme for those occasions, while velvet, in some one or another of its many novel manifestations, is relied upon to cover the wire frame that seems to be the sine qua non of the milliner's workroom.

The tailored hats, designed to be the logical accompaniment of the vociferous tailor-made gown, are very much to the front just now. Indeed, they seem to fill in better than any other that between and betwixt time known in France as the demaison, or half season, to give it a literal interpretation. Those that reigned in the summertime were most of them models of inspired ugliness, hard enough for the radiant beauty to carry off successfully, and utterly impossible for the girl with but an average amount of good looks to command her. The effort to produce something at once distinctive, original and altogether at variance with the current models and yet within the limits prescribed at the moment by Dame Fashion, usually resulted in something that was neither fish, "fish nor do not" nor herring, so far as becomingness was concerned.

The new arrivals, however, are far more rational in shape and appearance than might have been expected from those offered by the same designers in the early summer. The sailor hat is undeniably the source and fount of inspiration, and the changes are rung on the flat-brimmed, the saucer-brimmed, high crown, low crown, bandeau and no bandeau, until there is at least a goodly variety to the line.

Smart little turbans, whose greatest proportions are from front to back and as narrow as the saucer-brimmed, are back again. Caroline Reboux introduced this model some three or four seasons ago under the title of the Gleanery turban—it is not at all unlike a Gleanery cap done in straw—but somehow it did not seem to take. Just at that period the overhanging pompadour was rampant on this side of the Atlantic—the Parisienne has never adopted the extreme in this culture that we over here have not only countenanced, but even adopted—and the very small hat did assuredly look silly topped a headress that was made to stand out for several inches all around the face. Now, however, that the mode in culture has been materially lessened, there seems to be a wide field for acceptance in this smart or pert little chapeau.

And apropos of feathers, the attention of the Audubon society—banded together to prevent the slaughter of birds for millinery purposes—is not required to this season's models. No bird that ever drew bare wings, breasts and feathers as arranged in the milliner's showcases at present. That they are all of baryard origin is stated for a fact—with the almost inappreciable exception of those game birds that are served at table, pheasant, grouse, partridge, partridge, etc.—and it is a further fact that there are more "hands" than ever employed in the feather factories, to dye, bleach, mount and paste those effective things that are sold as wings, quills, breasts, birds, etc. Audubon himself would be nightly puzzled to classify most of the pieces sold today either as to color, size, breed or habitation. So the tender-hearted woman may order chapeaux trimmed with feathers and feathered effects galore without in the least fearing that any creature has been robbed that she may make herself smart to the eye. It is the promise and chicken of the baryard—and afterwards the dining table—that has shed feathers enough to make up those extremely smart and becoming pieces that the milliner uses so effectively.

covered with closely crushed loops of the same ribbon and a stiff buckram buckie shape is covered with the black and white striped bandeau that is so effectively used for collar and cuffs upon the tailor-made that accompanies the hat.

The air of the French that dominated the chapeaux of the summer time is delightfully lacking in those that are to be worn in the autumn months, and a much more rational, if less romantic appearance is promised for the fashionable follower in the coming months. The bandeau is assuming less strenuous proportions, the angle at which the hat is tilted is less tipsy, and the culture demanded by the later modes prove not to demand all of the extraneous aids which the hat of the season earlier passed proved so unbecomingly without.

Modern Millinery Marvels

The Extreme in Large and Small Styles - Velvet Particularly in Evidence and Woven Braid Attains Prominence.

Velvet With Wings.

The attention of the Audubon Society, with its worthy object of discouraging the slaughter of birds for millinery purposes, may be relaxed this season; at any rate, so far as the fashion of wearing feathers in many sorts and shapes upon the new hats is concerned. Shapes and sizes of wings such as never grew upon any bird that flew are what the designers are using mostly, and that in colors which Audubon himself would fail to classify as belonging in even the remotest connection to the featherly tribes. The feathers and feather effects most in use today find their origin in the baryard, and the number of "hands" required to make up the pieces that figure in millinery catalogues is much on the increase. Examination will prove that most of the so-called wings, birds, breasts, etc., are all of them pasted upon a net or muslin foundation, well wired, so that they may be bent to any shape or angle that caprice may suggest or fashion dictate.

The pretty and becoming shape illustrated is in a medium shade of brown, with the side smartly turned up and a set of those artificial "wings" cleverly disposed for trimming effect. One large piece is so managed that it covers the low drum-shaped crown and almost the entire brim in front, the pin feathers extending well toward the back. The upturned side is faced with a similar effect, while the bandeau is rifled with a mass of filmy white maline, this making for the combination of brown and white that is so effective and so fashionable this season.

The Round Turban Is Modish.

Those fancy mixed braids of which the modern milliner makes such effective and so many uses are turned to good account in this novel little shape, one which displays well the recent tendency of fashionable hats to maintain even smaller lines than the summer models introduced. A large crown that sets comfortably to the shape of the head and a narrow rolling brim that strongly suggests a sailor shape are the component features. A moderately sized bandeau— that is, it is moderate compared with some of those noted recently—is tucked at the back to give the chapeau that smart and becoming tilt over the forehead which proves so welcome to those of regular features. The outer edge of the brim is bound with a bias velvet band, under which the shaping wire is concealed; and this same velvet reappears in the cravat of ribbon that encircles the crown, making an edging to it both top and bottom. The ribbon displays two shades of hyacinth blue, making a pretty contrast to the dark green of the velvet and felt brim, while the trimming feathers are of a soft grayish shade of fawn, with marabout in white, tipped in gray, applied on each feather. Quite a little marabout is tucked in among the ribbon loops that trim the back bandeau, and lend a light and airy effect to an otherwise plain trimming scheme.

In Dressier Style.

For some of the prettiest and the most original styles in the coming autumn millinery, the chief dependence will be placed on the wire frame, the part that is not seen, but which it is that determines the chic and allure of the chapeau. Such is the case with the extremely pretty example pictured. From outward appearances it seems as though the round plateau of oyster white felt had been pushed into shape with a couple of hat pins, and the fluffy ostrich tips applied at random. Far otherwise is it in reality, as the milliner's apprentice could eloquently tell. The wire frame is made after the usual fashion, the crown being edged with just the straight strips that will best support the flexible felt that covers the shape. A bandeau is run in all around, steeped at the left side, where the flat felt plateau is planted into an upstanding flare. Projecting about equally far back and front, the shape sets closely to the coiffure at those points, being wired to turn down slightly. Four ostrich tips in brown are posed at the left side, those in the back a trifle longer than the others, so that they rest prettily on the hair. A bunch of brown velvet roses, with shaded foliage, likewise in velvet, balances the shape at the right side and adds a pretty touch of color to the whole.

The New Phizop Turban.

The small turban is slated for a most successful inning in the things that are scheduled for autumn happenings. The pictured model is one that will undoubtedly receive acceptance at the hands of the fastidious as being conspicuously original and yet well within the limits of the mode. Here, as elsewhere, the limits of the felt shape have to be assisted with wiring. The crown is flat, but of sufficient size to accommodate the coiffure generously. The brim is bent downwards after the mushroom style all around; the back lifting quite a little to display the bandeau trimming of velvet. A brilliantly finished mirror chiffon veil is used for trimming, carefully folded around the crown and shirred and folded into innumerable crushed loops all across the back of the hat. A striped round buckle is posed at the left side, and seems to tie the group of shaded velvet roses that dangle their length over the back of the chapeau. Those velvet roses are logical successors to the peacock plumes that held sway during the earlier part of the season.

ern manager's office the other day. The player under discussion was Wilton Lackaye. The Englishman observed that Lackaye was clever, "but," he added, "he's very unfair and unjust. I think, on us, English actors."

Hardly unfair, hardly unjust, protested Dixey. "Why do you say that?"

"Why?" echoed the Englishman. "Did you ever hear him say a good word about an American actor?"

"No-o-o," Dixey confessed, guardedly. "I never did. But then that's no proof of unfairness or injustice. Did you ever hear him say a good word about an American actor?"

The four mortals have shared for five years with Col. John Flaherty, the theatrical manager, who has also annexed the season manager's office. For this season Flaherty will present the comedy, "Breaking Into Society." Wonder what would happen to a Swede that might apply to Flaherty or Sam Morton for a place in the troupe.

Harry Askin, who will break into comedy management again this season, has been voted the favorite of many Chicago audiences, has caught the habit early. Even before the season opens he thinks so well of the show he is ready to take a No. 1 and No. 2 company to tell an expectant public just what the Empire stands for. It is emphatically denied that Fred Tommy and his troupe are to play the titular roles in their two companies.

According to announcements made last week, the Columbia Amusement people are not to lose their foothold in New York for their burlesque productions. The curly decision in the litigation with Kraus, who went over into the Empire camp, has been favorable to the latter. The Columbia people claim that these are but skirmishes, however, and that they intend to make a further legal battle against the New York burlesque manager. Meanwhile they have clinched with the theater, which they will make over into a burlesque house. The old part of this row is that Kraus has heretofore been allied with the Empire people, who have booked the Alcazar theater in Brooklyn, which is under his management.

Though the work of rebuilding San Francisco is not as rapid as it was thought might prove the case, several theatrical sites have been announced, and the new Colonial theater there is rapidly reaching completion. It will be the home of a permanent stock company, unless some change in plans is decided upon later. The Shuberts, meanwhile, have secured a foothold in Oakland, and will have a house there by the time the companies head for the Pacific coast this winter.

Anna Held sailed from Cherbourg last week, and is due to arrive in New York in a few days, preparatory to making her debut. The Columbia people claim that she is a "Parisian Model." Miss Held is bringing over with her twenty-four specially selected beauties, including eight girls from the Wintergarten, Berlin; eight from the Victoria Theater, Vienna; and eight from the Victoria Theater, Vienna. The department of the production, which is calculated to create a furor, Harry Askin has completed the design of a new piece, and Max Hoffman is putting the finishing touches to the music.

WAGNER NOT EASY BOSS

Trials of the Men Who First Staged the Trilogy—Extracts From Diary of Fricke, Stage Manager at Bayreuth.

The first three persons to sit in the swiveling machine in "Das Rheingold" were Anton Seidl, Herman Fischer of Munich and Felix Mottl. Seidl was Wagner, Mottl Flosshilde, and Fischer Wotan. These three young men, destined later to become noted Wagner conductors, were put into the machine in order to give to the stage hands the music cues which should set the swiveling box in motion.

Lilli and Marie Lehmann and Fraulein Lammer were the three women who were expected to climb. Three young men were in it swimming in the water, but that did not seem to calm the feelings of the three women.

"No," cried one of them. "I would never trust myself in that thing, who ever the man may be that invented it. I will get into it under no circumstances. I have just got out of a sick bed and—"

The other two women said: "What? You are so courageous and get into the carriage, Mlle. Marie!" asked Richard Fricke, who had been brought by Richard Wagner to Bayreuth to put into practical shape some of the scenes of the trilogy. "I will let that after a few minutes you will lose all fear and that the sensation of pleasure, the same that the sensation of swimming, will get the upper hand."

With a few dead-end shrieking and trembling, Marie Lehmann allowed herself to be tied in the wagon. Gradually she lost her look of terror and finally admitted that the motion was pleasant. Then Lilli acquired the courage to make the trial.

Fraulein Lammer followed her and the three swiveling machines began swimming happily, each in its own way. They then sang the music, and the three swimmers, having learned from the distinguished trio, the machine came in accordance with the notes and sang first rehearsal a complete success.

All this happened thirty years ago. When the "Nibelungen Ring" was rehearsed for the first time, in view of his thirtieth anniversary of the opening of Bayreuth, which occurs this summer, the family of Fricke, who directed the rehearsals, published his diary, which is to be full of information about the preparations for the first performance of the "Nibelungen Ring" at Bayreuth a year ago.

"I do not need a stage manager," Wagner wrote to Fricke. "I will be the stage manager, do as I please and make as you wish clear to the performers by carrying them out precisely. You are the stage manager in general appeals to me, and I am the stage manager in the details. You will come to Bayreuth and attend some of the piano rehearsals in order to familiarize yourself with the situation."

When Fricke got to Bayreuth in 1876 many of the rehearsals were in progress. He had not yet been put to practical test and some had eventually to be abandoned. Some of the stage business was designed for Alberich was so difficult to carry out that he was abandoned. He himself wanted to play the role himself and have the music. He decided to eliminate some of the more difficult incidents of the work.

"It is very difficult to work with Wagner," wrote Fricke in the diary he kept at Bayreuth. "For he is not a man of much thing. He jumps from one to another, he is never willing to keep at one thing long enough to make it his own. He is his own stage manager, but lacks the necessary business sense."

"His mind fixed on the general scheme, ignores details, and tomorrow will have forgotten everything that he has arranged and settled for today. It is very difficult to understand him when he talks, as he always speaks as one who is talking with and for himself only. Then he breaks out with something the meaning of which can only be approximately understood."

At this time all the managers of Germany and Austria were making it as difficult as possible for Wagner to get the singers he wanted. Director Jauner, who had promised the services of Hoff and Richter, Amalia Materna and Scarla of the chorus singers, refused to let these singers go unless Wagner would allow him to give "Die Walkure" if he wanted to perform it at the Imperial opera house at Vienna without royalties. It is a matter of history that Wagner would consent to no such arrangement.

What the original performers of the "Nibelungen Ring" had to undergo from Wagner is indicated in one anecdote that Fricke tells of Amalia Materna, who was the first of all the Brunhildes.

"The paroxysms of Wagner continued," wrote Fricke during the rehearsals, "and now to him or her who happens to be on the stage. Yesterday at the piano rehearsal it was the Materna who was the victim, a single note of 'Götterdämmerung' which she sang and who feels everything she sings and prevents it so dramatically as to satisfy anybody."

Yesterday when Materna was singing in a way that made us all shiver, Wagner interrupted her not at all mildly and called her aside. He was standing just at the moment when she was singing with the greatest ease and enthusiasm.

"It was naturally impossible for her to begin again with the same feeling, so intensely and she made mistakes. Hans Richter cried out that she should have learned the music before she came to the rehearsal, although she had been perfect at the piano rehearsal."

"The result was that she went home in tears. We could not comfort her."

Another fact recorded by Herr Fricke is concerned with the scene of the "Norms," which precedes the first act of "Götterdämmerung." This prelude is sung in New York only in the so-called vocal versions of the trilogy.

The three Fricke sat on a rock weaving the thread of destiny as which they throw from one to another. It does not always happen that the one who when the thread is thrown is good enough catcher to prevent it from fall-

The forty-seventh annual Minnesota state fair, whatever may be its success in matters of exhibits, amusement and financial results, cannot but be the most significant and important yet held in the state. And this means much in a state which has developed such a fair as that held midway between St. Paul and Minneapolis. For some years it has been the largest fair in the United States and has so far eclipsed all others as to equal the aggregate of several neighboring fairs in matters of attendance, exhibits, premiums and purses paid, etc.

THE MINNESOTA STATE FAIR

Finest Livestock Amphitheater on Any Fair Grounds in the Country to be Dedicated—Great Amusements for Visitors When Tired of Viewing the Exhibits.

The forty-seventh annual Minnesota state fair, whatever may be its success in matters of exhibits, amusement and financial results, cannot but be the most significant and important yet held in the state. And this means much in a state which has developed such a fair as that held midway between St. Paul and Minneapolis. For some years it has been the largest fair in the United States and has so far eclipsed all others as to equal the aggregate of several neighboring fairs in matters of attendance, exhibits, premiums and purses paid, etc.

SOME OF THE FAMOUS PLUNGERS AND SPENDTHRIFTS

The World Has No Spendthrift Today of the Fame of Max Lebaudy, "Jubilee Juggins," or "Coal Oil Johnny"—The Count de Castellane Comes Nearest, But He's Out of it Now.

By DEXTER MARSHALL.

There are spendthrifts today and there are plungers today, but it does seem to the old-timer that they are not to be classed with some of those whose money burnings and plungings used to occupy most space in the newspapers.

"Winey" Langdon, who, after a dozen years of bad luck, won a fortune in a minute, lost it, but got it back again last year at Belmont Park. "Bob" Davis and Frank England, who started with nickels and won $100,000 in 1895, "Davey" Johnson, who only recently "went broke" again—these are all plungers of sufficient importance to warrant being mentioned in other parts of the paper than the sporting page every once in a while. And there are John W. Gates and his partner, "Plunger" Walters and the Riley Grannans? Not to be found on the turf today.

Pittsburg Phil died last year. Riley Grannan is rarely heard of now, neither is "Plunger" Walton. Davey, a paralytic, will never get on his feet again. Each of these men differed markedly from all the others, yet they all had something which the plungers of today do not seem to possess, and their likes will not soon be seen again.

Their "Killing" Nerve.

All racetrack plungers have one stop your continual self-repression. Wave your arms and shout once in a while when you win a pot of money. Say things out loud when you lose. Let yourself go and you'll get well.

Neither Dwyer nor Smith heeded the advice that was offered to them. Smith lasted a short time only, after discarding the advice to "be natural," and Dwyer is "out of it" for all time. Riley Grannan was like Dwyer, Smith in his impetuosity, and he, too, broke down, though possibly not from the same cause. None of the three was ever a dissipated man; Grannan and Smith refrained from using tobacco as well as drink.

It would be hard to say which of the three men was most picturesque. More money passed through Dwyer's hands in the form of winnings and losses than has passed through the hands of any other betting man in the history of the American turf. It has been estimated that the aggregate was not less than $10,000,000 in the twenty-seven or twenty-eight years that he was a prominent racing figure. Dwyer, perhaps, that while they were always looking for "long shots," Dwyer often took the short end.

It has been published repeatedly that he once bet $50,000 against $10,000 on Joe Cotton. A variation of the story placed the figures at $40,000 to $8,000. The real figures were $40,000 to $8,000. On that day he had lost more money than he fancied, and so gave orders to his commissioners to bet enough to win $3,000 at least. Working independently they accomplished double the result he anticipated, but such odds as made his friends gasp.

It is thirty years since Michael F.

buggy in which his father sat and watched the race to clasp the older man's hand.

In his day Michael F. Dwyer, either singly or in partnership with his brother, owned Hamover, Luke, Runy-mede, Miss Woodford and many other racers whose names were long household words in the racing world, but their splendid qualities were finally more than offset by his fatal short odds policy.

This Plunger Quit a Winner.

The most enthusiastic even of anecdotes that a plunging bettor, "Pittsburg Phil"—George F. Smith—took the palm, for he died last year. He won by following a policy exactly the opposite of Dwyer's.

The Dwyers began their racing life throughout the whole country, probably, than Dwyer. The latter undoubtedly handled larger sums than the former. In his whole racing career Dwyer never was a figure on the West-coast tracks, but "Pittsburg Phil" spent eight years in the West before his Eastern career of fifteen years began.

The Dwyers were small all his life, the yestered Rhadamantus, and even when they made their first bet, "Pittsburg Phil" was cutting a cork when, at 16, he made his first bet and it was years after that before he owned his first racing horse.

The Dwyers began their racing life as a business, not a hobby, because there was more fun in it than there was in the butcher business. "Pittsburg Phil's" sole motive in going into racing, apparently, was the making of money. He never seemed to take any pleasure in it and he never seemed to get away from it for a moment.

He never was ostentatious, but was as neat and careful in his dress as most well-to-do men. He had his hair cut in the study of horses and horse racing, and though he often lost he never went broke. It was repeatedly said in his lifetime that he knew more about horses than any other living man, and he certainly had the best memory of "previous performances" that has ever been shown on the American turf.

"Pittsburg Phil" never promised, his method being exactly the opposite of Dwyer's. Consequently in the long run his results were exactly the reverse of Dwyer's. When the latter won his winnings were much smaller than his losses had been, while the reverse was true in the case of the former. His losses were much larger than the sums he had stood to win; Smith's winnings were larger than his losses, and his losses much smaller than the sums he stood to win.

Dwyer had to win much oftener than Smith, or "go broke." "Pittsburg Phil" could lose several times to one winning and still be ahead of the game. Dwyer took great pleasure in owning race horses; "Pittsburg Phil" declared that a man who proposed to make a fortune betting had no business owning race horses. He owned a small string of racers for some years, nevertheless, but it was his undoing, for his losses were piled up the track two or three years before his death, and he was required to be careful about his bets. There was reversal of the ruling against him, but it came too late, and he never re-established himself as a race horse owner.

There is no doubt that "Pittsburg Phil" had foxes ways of his own. Soon after his first appearance in the East the bookmakers at Monmouth Park, N. J., then in its early decadence, became so suspicious of his bets, which he almost always won, that he had to send twenty husky farmers, who looked as if they had never seen a racetrack before, into the betting ring. They put down the money in $20 bets. It was a 40-to-1 shot he had hired the farmers to play, and each bet meant $800, so that the day was one of great profit for Smith. He managed this scheme with such unusual cleverness that no body on the track suspected its nature while it was being worked, and no one could have learned about it had not Smith himself told it years afterward in a burst of unusual confidence.

Once at Sheepshead Bay he handed out a five-to-one shot. As the bookie took the money and called out $2,500 to $500 Smith took his hat and mopped his brow with his handkerchief. It was learned afterward that this was the signal for a young army of "commissioners" to bet all over the ring. The horse won, and Smith raked in a big pot of money, though nobody ever knew how much. In their palmy days "Pittsburg Phil" backed the Dwyers' horses, but later that wasn't profitable and he changed his course. He bought King Cadmus and backed him persistently, losing so steadily that the public thought the horse was a "counterfeit."

Then came a day that old-time bookmakers refer to with a sigh. They laid 20 to 1 against King Cadmus, and King Cadmus won. So did Smith, to the tune of $100,000. On August 8, 1903 he won $55,000 on the winner of the Saratoga Special and $20,000 on other races—$75,000, all told. On that day and on the days of King Cadmus's big winnings—the latter once won $50,000 for him at Morris Park—when asked about his big hauls Smith merely answered: "Well, I had a bet down and I won," only that and nothing more. The margin by which King Cadmus won his race was very close, being only "by a nose" on the day he earned his owner $100,000.

Grannan, Gates, Drake.

Riley Grannan's career was shorter than either Dwyer's or "Pittsburg Phil's." Grannan was an elevator boy in 1880. Authorities differ as to where, some saying Cincinnati, some Louisville, some New Orleans and some San Francisco.

Anyway he was a Kentuckian by birth, and his first work on the track was peddling programs, his second was buying horses as they raced for a veteran bookmaker, and the third acting as partner of W. E. Applegate, a race horse owner, and he made money so long as they were together, but their partnership was short, for Grannan scared the older man half to death by his rashness.

Applegate left the booth to get lunch and had just about half finished when a friend told him Grannan was offering two points more than any other bookmaker on a certain horse. Costless, hatless and breathless Applegate rushed out and up to Grannan.

"What in the double amputable have you done, Riley?" he shouted. "Bet our last dollar against the favorite," answered Grannan.

Applegate growled: "That was all he could do, except to wait and see. The favorite lost and the cap of W. E. Applegate & Grannan was increased by 100 per cent, but Applegate declared the race too hot and they acquiesced in cutting a great figure."

One of the most amusing things ever reported of Mr. Drake was his alleged indignation in 1902 that if the papers didn't stop saying he was winning $100,000 a day, he should certainly withdraw from the track. He had won some money on the previous day, he admitted, but no such sum as the one mentioned, the actual figures being for Oct. 15, 1902: "Winning, $21,955; losing, $3,000; to the good, $18,955."

Two years earlier it was published that he had won a cool million on the English tracks. He certainly did win a lot of money that year, and the English alleged that his ways were such as they did not and could not approve.

The father of John A. Drake was F. M. Drake, one time governor of Iowa and railroad president. John A.'s English racing experiences followed his being ordered abroad for rest in 1895. Next season the horses of his improvised racing stable won fifty-two races, more than the horses owned by any other foreigner had won in a single season down to that time. He is said to have won $400,000 in five weeks, a big enough story for all practical purposes, if the figures were of half the magnitude.

Few Picturesque Spendthrifts Now-a-days.

There never was quite so much money thrown away every day as now, because there never was any such wealth before. All the same the present is without any really picturesque spendthrifts of world-wide fame.

Applegate growled: "That was all he could do, except to wait and see. The favorite lost and the cap of W. E. Applegate & Grannan was increased by 100 per cent, but Applegate declared the race too hot and they acquiesced in cutting a great figure."

There Are Race Track Plungers Enough Today, But the M. F. Dwyers, the "Pittsburg Phil's" and the Riley Grannans are Only Memories of Yester-Year---Gates and Drake.

cigarette in each box he opened, throwing the remainder away, of playing a dollar for each box and taking no change, of giving cattle and provisions to anybody who would take them, of presenting planes to school children in dozen lots, etc. One report tells how he built the finest saloon Texas ever knew, named it Satan's Gate and gave away the receipts. He also, it is reported, began to build a palace of vast extent and fabulous splendor, but died of too much beer when the structure was one-fifth completed.

Nobody ever really knew who he was, but there were dark hints of royal birth and of exile, but no affidavits have been brought forward to prove that the chap ever really existed.

Among authenticated American spendthrifts, John W. Steele, "Coal Oil Johnny," is the most famous. His half forgotten history was brought to the front again last January when he was reported to be dying. At that time, as often had been the case in previous years, many stories of his exploits, as apocryphal as the entire story of Ledman or Tedman may have been, were told.

These stories account for the spending of a million or more in a few months; Steele's own statement is that he spent rather more than $10,000, $20,000 of which was cash, while a somewhat larger figure was debt. His period of riotous living covered seven months in 1882; the source of the money he burned was an oil farm near Franklin, Pa., left to him by his father, who was burned to death by the explosion of a can of kerosene, and his petition in bankruptcy, 1888, the sum of his debts being $32,739.

He appears to have been a rather "cheap skate" at the best, but he sure did cut a dash in Philadelphia, where cause his father was the head of the French sugar trust, played his spendthrift game a little later than Jubilee Juggins, and more disastrously. He made away with $2,500,000 of the $5,000,000 left to him by his father in a year, and he died in 1885 of consumption, brought on by his fast living as a conscript. A lot of his money was absorbed by blackmailers, to whom he "gave up," believing their statements that they could keep him out of the army. Max Lebaudy's first famous extravagance was the establishment of private bull fights, near Paris, the "bulls" being half-grown steers.

His brother is the Jacques Lebaudy of the Sahara desert, who chose to seize part of the Sahara desert, just opposite the Canaries. This Lebaudy gave himself the title of Jacques I, emperor of Sahara, in 1902, when he made the Sahara his empire. Many people, especially among the Parisians, have declared him crazy, but others say he is sane enough, and likely to reclaim the territory ultimately that he has seized, which is about as large as Ireland.

The outside world doesn't seem to know just what he has done. According to the oldest stories, his course has been fantastic enough, but probably not to equal the more extravagant tales. In 1904, when there were stories that he had tired of his game and abandoned it, he had for a high officer of his court one Col. Gouring, an "American of European experience, who introduced the Edison phonograph and the Pullman car into Europe and went round the world with curiously enough, he went to spend his money. There is a story that he leased a hotel for a day and kept open house, that he bought a carriage and after riding in it half a mile presented it to the driver, but he denies both, and as told, the stories lack verisimilitude. He did become the angel of a minstrel troupe, and they used them for a while, but he didn't take them about the country in a special train. As a spendthrift today, "Coal Oil Johnny" would count for little enough. He wouldn't be "in it" with "Scotty," the owner of the alleged mysterious railroad trip across the continent a year or two ago, but he "lost" the Johnny will be a household word for many years to come, while half the people you meet have already forgotten all about Scotty.

After his splurge was over Steele moved West and worked at various things for several years, his best earnings being $2 a day. He returned to the vicinity of Franklin some years ago and at last accounts was still living there.

Howell Osborn, who flourished in the time of Berry Wall, the king of the Dudes, beginning his career in the eighties, spent more money every year for years than all "Coal Oil Johnny" ever got rid of, yet even in New York, where Osborn lived and wasted his wealth, ten men will remember "Coal Oil Johnny" to one who will remember Osborn.

Jubilee Juggins the Lebaudy's

"Jubilee Juggins," Ernest Benson, was a spendthrift of great vintage in England in the eighties, beginning with the queen's jubilee year, when he became of age and inherited $1,250,000. This tidy sum he disposed of in two years and a half, in all sorts of ways, literally giving much of it away to all sorts of grafters of both sexes. He gambled and played the races, and was swindled right and left. His story was told in every civilized language, and it has been heard of by the world at large for sixteen or eighteen years. His father made his fortune in the days of crinoline, making steel hoop skirts.

Max Lebaudy, Le Petit Suerier—"the little sugar bowl"—so nicknamed be-

LOOKED TOO YOUNG.

Los Angeles Times: Bishop Warren, during the Methodist conference in Philadelphia, was the guest of honor at a reception at the Bellevue-Stratford.

A young lady, on being presented to Bishop Warren, uttered a most effective epigram. Every one else applauded this epigram effusively, but the bishop hardly noticed it.

"Did you like my joke?" it was original, the young lady said to the bishop, a little annoyed at his failure to impress him.

"And the bishop, at this, smiled and shrugged his shoulders.

"Why do you shrug your shoulders," said the young lady, "when I tell you that my joke is original?"

"Ah, you don't understand," said Bishop Warren. "That shrug was a great compliment. It meant that you certainly don't look to be a centenarian."

characteristic in common; the sort of nerve that enables them to bear defeat and accept the gifts of good and bad fortune with equal imperturbability, neither scowling when the fates are against them, nor jumping about and shouting for joy when things are coming their way.

In Michael F. Dwyer's palmy days his friends used to tell him that he would soon be a millionaire, but his continuous smile, which changed not whether he won or lost; that unless he gave way to his emotions occasionally his nervous system would break down ultimately under the strain. When "Pittsburg Phil"—George F. Smith—first found it necessary to seek medical aid, his physician told him he was in a bad way and would die unless relieved.

"But," said the professional man, "no one can help you but yourself. And the only thing you can do is to

"PITTSBURG PHIL."

Dwyer and his older brother, Philip J., two prosperous butchers of Brooklyn, began their racing life in 1878, and for years frequented the race tracks in the neighborhood of New York; that year they went to Saratoga, where the younger brother was greatly taken with the black colt Rhadamantus, son of imported Lexington, and they started under the Dwyer colors on Aug. 17, winning a purse of $900 and, of course, the "Racing Times," as the Dwyers afterwards came to be called, won much more money than that in the betting ring. By the end of the season they owned three horses and at its close their profits were $1,065.

Small Returns and Quick Profits.

For sixteen years their partnership continued. During the latter of those years they were dominant. They did not agree in policy. Michael fought the bookmakers and did not bet to suit his brother, making many wagers at as short odds as the famous bet on Joe Cotton. Unlike this bet, however, many of the others were unlucky.

Today Philip J. Dwyer is much more than a millionaire, while the younger brother's debts are said to be larger than his resources. But throughout all his career Michael F. never once lost his nerve so far as any one was able to learn, nor was he ever accused of a dishonorable act. Philip J. always partook of the good things that came along, Michael F. lived a more abstemious life than most business men and repeatedly might have retired with a million, but he did not. The reason for the fascination which "clinch bets" always had for him.

"Small returns and quick profits" seems to have been his motto, and on that basis one day—his best—he won $100,000, but the "bookies" had it all in a week.

Once he lost $50,000 on Raeland, the race being won by Frisland, and when he went to England in 1884 with Craker his motto and the British bookies undid him badly. Still he might have retrieved himself, even then, but he couldn't change his nature or his methods, and by 1899, his health and money both gone, the men and the newspapers that had been wont to hail him as King of the Turf were forced to admit that down he had fallen. It was a more brief period for him, however, in which the skies seemed bright. It can be said that Craker, Alexander won the Suburban. They say he won nearly $50,000 on the race, and he had a pathetic sight to see. "Charley" Dwyer, the son, run to the

Children's Corner

Arthur and May Spend a Night with the Marionettes

BY WILLIAM WALLACE, JR.

"Now, if you'll be good children today," said papa to Arthur and May, "you shall go to the Marionette Show tonight."

"Shall we go alone?" asked Arthur, feeling some pride in his 12 years and thinking himself quite large enough to take care of himself and his 10-year-old sister May.

"Yes, you shall go alone—you and May," consented papa. "You know mamma is going to see poor sick grandmamma this evening and may remain over night with her, while I must take a trip out of town on business and may have to stay away several days. So you two little chaps may go to the show by yourselves. But you must come right home as soon as it is over and get to bed. Cook will wait up for you and will see that the hall door is secured for the night in the event of your mamma remaining away."

Full of anticipation for the evening, Arthur and May talked about marionettes all the afternoon, hardly being able to contain themselves till the night should come. They got what information they could out of the encyclopedia pertaining to the subject and found that marionettes dated back many centuries. Indeed, the encyclopedia said that the fact of the antiquity of marionettes was established by the discovery of "figures with movable limbs" in the tombs of Egypt.

So, when the night at last came, and Arthur and May were ready to go to the marionette show, they went with "magnifying" full of wisdom concerning the queer little puppets they were to see perform. The place of entertainment was in a large hall seated with benches and chairs. The admission was 15 cents for children under 12. Arthur, having just turned 12, honestly paid his quarter, for he was too honestly a boy to deceive the old Frenchman who presided at the door and issued the tickets.

In one corner of the room two musicians—or performers that went by that name—were seated, strumming on a guitar and mandolin. The seats were filling with a motley crowd of Italians, French and Americans. Children predominated. Arthur and May procured two front chairs, where they would have a splendid view of the little stage with its brilliantly and handsomely draped curtain.

Pretty soon the curtain went up and there dashed into view two very plump warriors or knights in armor. Their legs and arms could bend backward at the joints as well as forward. As one knight walked boldly and manfully toward the second, who as boldly came toward him, a great deep-throated voice belted forth from the wings at one side of the stage, speaking the dialogue for the marionettes who were being jumped about the stage in a most wonderful manner. Occasionally a huge, strong hand would appear from above the heads of the puppets, guiding the legs and arms of the warrior by means of a long iron rod.

The story being enacted on the stage was strange to Arthur and May, for the reader spoke in a foreign tongue; but nevertheless they watched it with increasing interest. And when a beautiful queen was thrust upon the stage, all dressed in scarlet velvet trimmed with white cotton batten, their enthusiasm grew.

Every little while the audience broke in to applause, and Arthur and May clapped hands as loudly as any. But all the time they wished so much to know what was being said. At the close of the performance Arthur whispered to May: "Suppose we slip into a corner and hide behind a bench and after the crowd has gone we can slip out and go behind the scenes and see those wonderful marionettes and discover how they are worked. Are you willing to run the risk?"

"Yes, you'll let's see them," whispered May, full of eager anticipation. Then, in the confusion of departure, no one noticed a tiny girl hide herself in a corner behind some old pieces of scenery which the manager of the Marionette Show had not used for the performance that evening and which made a fine hiding place.

Pretty soon the hall was empty save for Arthur and May. As they crept out from their hiding place in the dark, for the manager of the hall had turned out all the lights, they found it difficult to get about among the benches and chairs and find their way back of the stage. Once there, however, they found, to their delight, that a window in the rear of the small stage admitted both moon and electric light. Arthur groped about among the rows of strange figures that stood against the walls in their glittering armor, priestly, kingly and queenly robes, all as silent as the grave.

"Ah, I've found a candle," said Arthur, his voice sounding strangely in the empty hall. "And, incidentally, I have a match or two in my pocket."

"Well, let's have a light," said May, feeling a bit "creaky," as she expressed it,

He wears a mask
To hide his fear;
But his phiz you'll find,
So, look to right

With all your might;
And if not there,
Look everywhere:
For you can find it,
I declare.

among those strange objects.

In another moment they had the dim light of a friendly candle added to that which came from the outside. Then they stood and looked long and intently at the rows of dummies about them. How human they had appeared during the play, but now horribly "made up" they were at close range. And how the eyes of king, queen, prince, princess and knight did stare from their rings of dark paint.

"They're only a lot of wooden dolls after all," said Arthur, really feeling a bit disappointed to find the marionettes so ordinary—so mechanically and simply constructed. "Pshaw! Believe I could make some myself."

"Here's the queen who saved the knight from being beheaded," said May, pointing to a black-faced female puppet, whose queenly robes were both shabby and cheap. "Poor queen; she needs to be lauded."

"And look at her spouse, the king," said Arthur. "His beard is all coming off. He'll have to have some horse-hair whiskers."

Both children laughed and went on making close inspection of the numerous figures about them. Then they examined the little stage arrangements, the platform behind the back scenery, where the real performers stood to do their work, the men who moved the marionettes.

"So the time passed, and before the children realized the hour they heard a near-by clock strike 12 times.

"Marry," exclaimed May, frightened to think of the darkness. "Cook will be so uneasy about us."

"What if mamma didn't stay at grandmamma's all night?" half-whispered Arthur, fear seizing hold of him. "Why, she'll be about crazy, and she'll have all the policemen in town hunting me."

"Let's go as quickly as we can," urged May. "We should never have stayed this way."

With the candle in hand, Arthur led his sister out through the hall to the front door. He took hold of the knob and turned it, but the door would not open; it was locked. Arthur drew his breath quickly. Evidently they were prisoners for the night. He could feel himself growing pale and his knees shook under him.

"Why don't you open the door?" asked May, becoming impatient.

"We are locked in," gasped Arthur. May, poor child, almost fainted. She dropped upon a bench near the door and looked at her brother in a hopeless way. The children had all their lives been accustomed to doors that were locked from without, but always unlocked from within. The thought of a door being fastened so that no one on the inside could open it by simply turning the knob had never occurred to either of them. But now the horror of such a condition came full upon them.

"What shall we do?" wailed May, jumping to her feet and herself, trying the door, to no avail. Oh, why did we not obey papa? He told us to come right home as soon as the show was over, and now we are being paid for our disobedience to him."

"Well, I never meant to stay only a few minutes—just long enough to get a peep at the workings of those marionettes and the arrangement of the stage, for I want to fix something like it myself," said Arthur by way of excuse for his disobedience. "I never thought of our being locked in."

"No, that's always the way with disobedient children," wailed May. "They always find some loophole to try to creep out through. As for me—I confess to having done wrong; and if I get out of this place with my skin whole I promise you I'll never disobey either of my dear parents again. One always gets punished, so one does."

"I know it," agreed poor, repentant Arthur, who censured himself entirely for the present dilemma into which he and May had fallen. "It's all my fault; and I'll assume all the blame when we confront papa and mamma."

"No you shan't," declared May, too fond of her dear, big brother to allow him to suffer alone for their wrong doing. "I'll stand half the blame, for if I hadn't consented to stay you would not have done so."

"Well, sister, blame is not now the important question. How to get out of this mess is the matter for us to consider. I move that we go back to that little window that overlooks the alley and call out to it for help."

May agreed to this plan, and soon both quivering, childish voices rang out on the midnight air calling for help. The cries reached the ears of a poor man who was sleeping on the roof of his tenement. Some, which stood directly opposite the hall in which the children were prisoners. He got up and came to the edge of the roof and looked across the alley. Soon he detected the source of the call, and, bending over, called down: "Know what the matter was?"

You may be sure Arthur was not long in explaining the situation. Then the man told them to wait and he would come to their rescue. After what seemed an endless wait the children saw, to their great happiness, the man approaching the rear of the hall with a long ladder which he placed against the window-sill (the hall being in the second story), and down which Arthur and May gladly made their escape. But before going down behind his sister Arthur closed the window behind him, leaving it as secure as when he had found it.

Once in the alley, and after thanking heartily their kind rescuer, the two little ones ran to the corner, where they caught a car which let them off in front of their own home. The ringing of the doorbell told Arthur and May breathlessly to hear the dragging, sleepy footsteps of Cook. When she opened the door to admit them she rubbed her eyes half open and said: "Guess I must a-fell asleep waitin' for you. Is the show, just out, an' did you have a nice time?"

"You shall hear about it tomorrow," promised Arthur, who felt relieved to find that Cook had not noticed the time. Then he and May said good-night to her, thanking her for singling them out, and he whispered to May as they mounted the steps: "But only papa and mamma shall hear the whole story. And when they know how frightened we were—mostly on mamma's account—they'll forgive us for this first—and I now declare the last—offense of disobedience. My I never want to see nor hear tell of another marionette show—never."

"Them's my sentiments, in," laughed May, who, now that she was once more inside her own dear home, was inclined to see the humorous side of the situation. Then they said "good morning," as it was after 1 o'clock, and were soon in their respective rooms, sleeping and dreaming of the "Marionette Show."

A FEW FACTS ABOUT CLOCKS.

In Brussels there is a clock which is wound by atmospheric expansion induced by the heat of the sun.

The first cuckoo clock was made in Switzerland by Franz Ketterer in the year 1735.

Peterborough Cathedral, England, has the oldest running clock in the world. It was made by a monk in 1320 and is the only clock in existence that is wound up over a wooden wheel.

How the Crow Sing

This story is told of a crow.
How once he could beautifully sing;
But the sombre black coat which he wore
Did woe unto Mr. Crow bring.

He had sat on the bough of a tree
Watching ducks, the pond, so white;
And a longing came into his soul—
A longing that stayed day and night.

At last he conceived of a plan—
It happened one morning quite cold—
Of going into the pond,
And bathing himself, so I'm told.

For that poor, sly crow, so black,
Thought that thereby his coat would be Whiter.
So he washed, and he washed, and he Washed,
Till he got in a terrible plight.

Why Rome Was Built

In old Philadelphia, away down on Arch street, is the little place of "Old Glory," our beautiful American flag. It is the old home of Betsy Ross, and she it was who constructed the flag of "red, white and blue." The house was built over 200 years ago, and the bricks which form its walls were brought over from England in the old ship Welcome as ballast. It is told on good authority that this house was built under the supervision of William Penn. The shutters are fastened together by hand-made nails and the hinges secured in place by hand-made screws.

The parlor door, which is in an excellent state of preservation, is of solid, heavy oak, as are also the beams and rafters. About the quaint old fireplace are rows of blue tiles embellished with pictures of lovely English castles.

Some of the old cupboards still occupy their original corners, cupboards which once held the pewee and chinaware belonging to Betsy Ross.

For the wind rose that morning and blew

Till poor Mr. Crow caught a chill;
And he took himself home to his tree,
Where for long weary days he lay ill.

A cold settled deep in his throat,
And he got, oh, so hoarse, so they say,
And the power of song he then lost;
Never getting it back to this day.

At all of the washing he did
Never changed that coat on his back,
And he ever remained as when born,
Which is blacker than blackest of black.

Thus his vanity caused him to lose
A voice which he told was quite rare;
For he wouldn't be just as he was,
But longed to be like the ducks—fair.

MAUD WALKER.

Freckles and Tan

BY ANNIE GRAHAM.

Miss Freckles was none other than little Laura Martin, the ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin, of the Point, a beautiful seaside cottage standing on a cliff overlooking the ocean. Mr. Tan was none other than little Tom Smart, who lived with his aunt, Mrs. Smart, at another pretty cottage whose windows overlooked the same ocean.

Now, the Smarts and the Martins had not yet become acquainted, but one early morning while little Laura was out for a stroll in the shady grove that stretched back from her house, the Point, she heard a strange little whistle. Looking round to see its source, whom should she behold but Master Tom Smart, standing, hands in pockets, with his funny mouth puckered up and his eyes as round as two nickels.

"Who are you?" the young man asked, unpuckering his mouth long enough to ask the question, his round eyes looking inquisitively into Laura's face. Laura looked him over critically; then, thinking the stranger a bit bold, she turned up her pretty nose and said: "And who are you, pray?"

Tom whistled long and shrilly. Then, unpuckering his funny little mouth again, he said: "It's impolite to do like that. Why didn't you tell me your name?"

"Cousin," said Laura, again turning up her nose and flitting her little lawn frock disdainfully. "It is none of your business—"

"Well, I guess your name is Freckles," said Tom, growing more bold, for he recognized the young lady's cool treatment. "Anyway, your face is as speckled as a guinea egg. Gee! but you've got freckles to burn."

Laura's face became crimson at Tom's personality. "Ugh!" she retorted. "And your face is so brown, I suppose your name is Tan. Anyway, one couldn't see a freckle on it if you had a million, for it's so dark. I wouldn't wonder if people take you for a Negro."

Tom only smiled and whistled again. He didn't care if his face was almost the color of his richest stockings. "Oh, I don't care if you call me Tan," he said, his round eyes squinting up till they looked like two tiny slits through which he peeped. "My daddy calls me Buster and mamma calls—"

"But here the young man paused, for the sudden remembrance of the name his mother called him almost brought a blush to his face. That name was "buddy," and Tom felt that to tell this to the quarrelsome little Miss Freckles would give her "the laugh on him."

"Well, go on," urged Laura. "What does your mamma call you?" Then, without waiting for a reply she quickly added: "I'll bet she calls you buddy."

Tom felt he could drop into the earth. How did she ever guess it? But as he stood there, scratching one foot with the toe of the other, he determined to put a stop to his mother making a "silly" of him by calling him any such names.

"Buddy," indeed! But he didn't intend to let this snip of a girl know that she had struck upon a truth, so he shook his head meaningly, put on a smile and asked: "How do you know my mamma calls me anything? My real name is Thomas—Tom for short."

"You're smart, aren't you?" said Laura, not thinking of anything else to say. "Yes, my other name is Smart," confessed Tom. He felt that this pretty freckled Miss knew more of him than he knew of her.

"Oh, then you're 'Tan Smart.' My, what a name. And again the little nose tilted itself toward the clouds.

"And you're Freckles what?" asked Tom, coming a step nearer to the little teasing girl.

Just then a bird began to sing in a tree over their heads. A happy thought came to Laura. "My other name is that of a bird," she said. "Can you guess what it is?"

"Lark?" asked Tom.

Laura shook her head.

"Hawky?" asked Tom. Laura looked indignant.

"The idea," she said, a sneer curling her upper lip. "Do I look like a hawk, sir?"

"Then, maybe you're an owl—a hoot-owl," said Tom, laughing uproariously.

"I'm going home and tell my mamma on you," said Laura, her lips quivering. "You are a bad boy and an impudent one, too. What are you on our ground for, anyway?"

"Because I guessed it," declared Laura. "No, sir—ee. I told it to you," said Tom.

Just then the bird over their head sang more loudly than before. Laura, really wishing to remain and learn something more of the strange little chap, who, after all, was becoming interesting to her, looked up into the branches and remarked: "Well, I'll give you two more chances to guess my name. Then if you do not strike it right I'll tell you."

Immediately Tom assumed his best behavior. He smiled kindly and began: "I guess your name is meadow-lark."

Laura said, "Guess again."

Tom bent his head in meditation. "Oh, I'll bet a penny it's canary," he cried. "A canary is so little and—"

Then as he said this gallant thing to the little "Freckles" Tom's face grew red.

"Oh, you'd never guess," laughed Laura, growing good-natured. "So I'll have to tell you. My name is—"

"Lark!" asked Tom.

Laura said, "Guess again."

"I'll call you 'Freckles' Martin," said Tom. "Won't that be great? I'm calling you 'Freckles' and you call me 'Tan.'"

"But I don't know as I can associate with you," said Laura. "I must show you to my mamma first. If she likes your looks and manners—why then we'll talk about being friends. Where do you live, Tan?"

"Do you see those brown gables over yonder among the pine trees?" asked Tom. "Well, I'm there for the summer with my aunt, mamma and papa have gone to Europe for the summer. I can do about as I like, too, for auntie has no children, and she likes so much to have me with her that she allows me to eat all I want and to waste in the sand all day long. She knows that if she is too strict and makes me dress up like I do when at home in the city I'll not come to live with her any more."

"I'd get a boat and become a pirate," declared Tom. "I'd enjoy being a pirate."

"Mercy, that would be fine," agreed Laura. "Wish I could be a pirate, too. But come with me. I want to show you to my mamma. If she likes you I'll let you come often to see me, and we can play at being pirates down on the beach. There's an old rowboat washed up on the sand. We can play it as our pirate ship."

"Goody," cried Tom. "I'll go home first and wash the dirt off my feet and face and put on a clean white linen suit and my plaid necktie. If my mamma was to see me this way she might object to me."

"And shall I go home with you and let your auntie see me?" asked Laura.

"Nope, that isn't necessary," replied Tom. "Girls are always a right, reckon. But you can wait for me down by the gate. I would be afraid you would run off and leave me if I should go home to dress and leave you here."

Laura consented to do this, and the two newly made friends ran down to the gate which led into the brown-gabled cottage where "Tan" lived. On reaching there Laura sat down on a huge boulder near the carriage entrance while Tom ran to the house to dress for his presentation to the mother of "Freckles."

In a few minutes Tom—or "Tan," as he was ever afterward called by Laura—came running to join her. And what a miraculous change had been wrought in his appearance! His brown face shone almost pink from contact with a spongeful of water and soap. His flaxen hair was brushed and put on a clean white linen suit and his plaid necktie. His feet were shod in white canvas shoes over snowy half-socks. He had donned a suit of immaculate white linen and a tie of brave colors waved gaily from his round brown throat.

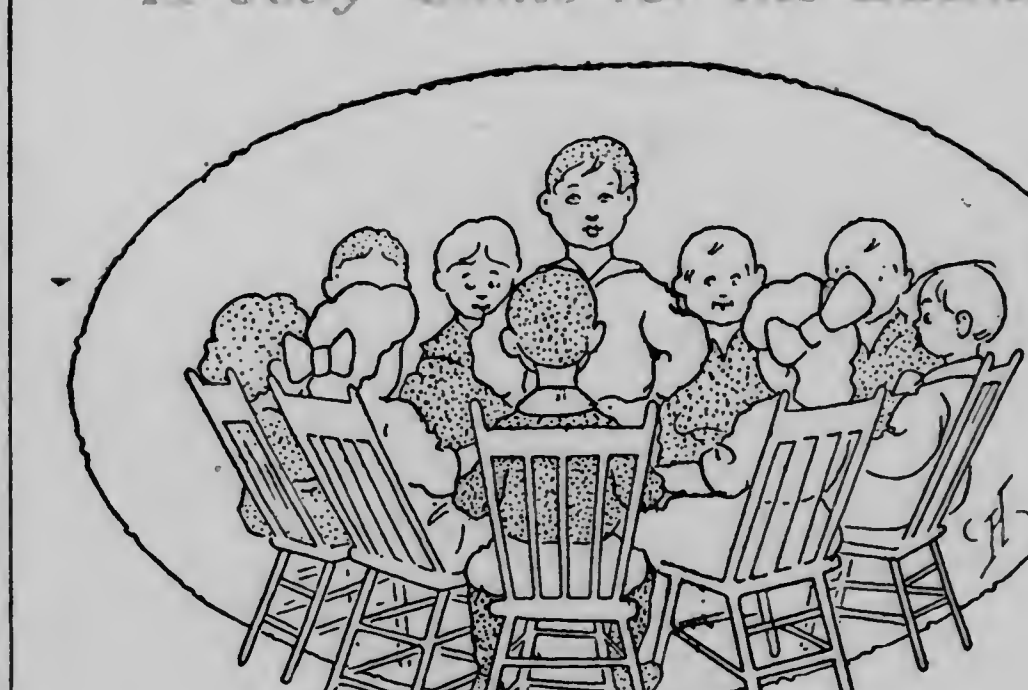

He looked at Laura with a self-satisfied smile and asked: "How do you like me now, Freckles?"

"Oh, you'll do," said Laura. Although she admired him very much since the change she would not flatter his vanity by telling him so. "Boys are such silly creatures anyway," she mused to herself, "and I'll not pay this little goose a compliment to make him siller. So that goes to show that a few words on first acquaintance may not be a bad thing after all."

"The Point."

As Laura and Tom walked up the broad

A Jolly Game for the Lawn.

Did you ever play "Pop?"

Well, if not, try it. You will find it one of the jolliest little games you ever participated in. Invite your friends—about a dozen of them—to spend an hour with you on the lawn. Place chairs, one for each guest, in a circle, allowing the backs to be outside, thus letting the guests face the inside of the ring. Have all the guests but one take the seats; the unsated guest—boy or girl—will be asked to take up his or her position inside the circle. When all is in readiness the game is begun by the hostess crying "Pop!" whereupon each seated guest "hops" to the chair to his right, the boy or girl in the center trying to take possession of the vacant seat by a quick movement. On account of the confusion which follows upon the signal "Pop," the standing one is at a disadvantage, for he cannot see the chair which is to be left vacant one time in half a dozen.

The "dodging" continues till he or she is seated, however, and then the boy or girl at his or her right takes the center of the circle and the game begins again.

avenue leading to "The Point" the little girl's mamma came on the veranda. Laura took Tom's hand and led him forward. "Now, Tan, when I introduce you to lady—who is my mamma—you must bow very elegantly and pronounce her name very plainly and say you are delighted to have the honor." Instructed Laura in an undertone.

Then followed the introduction: "Mamma, 'low me to present to you my new friend, Master Tan—whose real name is Thomas—Smart. He lives in the cottage down among the pines, and I think he's all right for me to play with."

"How do you do, Miss—er—Mrs. Martin," said Tom, bowing very low. "I'm delighted to honor you."

Mrs. Martin, smiling sweetly on the little fellow came down the steps and took both his chubby hands in hers. "How do you do, Master Tan Smart," she said in the gentlest and most cordial voice. "I am also delighted that you honor me with your acquaintance. So you are our little neighbor of 'The Pines' are you? Welcome to our home."

Then turning to Laura she said: "You may order your pony cart and take Master Tan for a drive along the coast. And as the two little ones—'Freckles' and 'Tan'—ran out to the stables to order the pony cart Tom whispered to Laura and said: "This is better than quarreling, isn't it?" To which Laura replied: "Oh, ever so much better, Tan. But just think if we hadn't quarreled a tiny little bit we would never have had pleasant to make him siller. So that goes to show that a few words on first acquaintance may not be a bad thing after all."

DELEGATES NOT WANTED UNLESS THE CONVENTION REPUDIATES SULLIVAN

William J. Bryan Makes Certain Hot Fight in Illinois.

Names Only Terms on Which Instructions Are Acceptable.

Fight Will Come Over
Resolutions to be Adopted.

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 20.—William J. Bryan, according to his friend, Judge Owen P. Thompson of Jacksonville, desires no instructed delegates from Illinois in the next Democratic national convention unless National Comptroller Roger C. Sullivan is repudiated by tomorrow's state convention.

Judge Thompson made the announcement immediately upon his arrival in the city that he had received such a message from Mr. Bryan. When asked today for a copy of the dispatch, Judge Thompson said:

"I cannot give out a copy of the message, as it contains other matters which should not be published. I can, however, quote verbatim all that it contains relative to the instructions by the convention. This is, 'Oppose instructions unless Sullivan is repudiated.' That is all there was on the subject."

"What is Mr. Bryan going to do about it if Sullivan is upheld by the convention and instructions are given for Mr. Bryan, despite the fact that 'they will not do such a thing as that,' replied Judge Thompson. 'Do you suppose that any man will attempt to compliment Mr. Bryan with instructions when he has been informed by Mr. Bryan that it is not in his power to compliment him. I don't believe it.'"

"Now, then," continued Judge Thompson, coming down to politics practical in the extreme. When Mr. Bryan is elected, where will these fellows stand who asked these instructions in his face, after he had in effect declared that he would regard them as an insult. Where will they be when Bryan is in? Who knows? Will the fellows who showed instructions on his part and who were so proud of doing so, if delegates come to the convention instructed for Bryan, they will have to vote that way."

The actual fight for the control of the convention will not commence until 10 o'clock tonight when the state central committee will meet. Ex-Congressman Williams, Ex-Congressman Kerns and Judge C. C. Bueger are mentioned for temporary chairman. After this little matter is adjusted the fight will be shifted to the committee on resolutions. National Comptroller Sullivan and his friends do not wish the resolution endorsing Mr. Bryan to contain anything that would endorse the action of the national committee. The matter will undoubtedly come before the convention and will be a subject of major and minority reports.

Matters are very quiet today, but the political mercury is expected to bounce upward when the Chicago delegation of 1,000 arrives this evening.

MANGLED BODY FOUND AT EBRO

Charles Wade, Half Breed, Killed and Murder Suspected.

Ebro, Minn., Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The mangled remains of Charles Wade, a half-breed, were found lying on the railroad tracks, and circumstances point to murder having been committed. The body of Wade, a half-breed, was found at the east of the Great Northern platform. The clothing had been removed from the body and there was no blood on the rails near the spot. It is believed that Wade was first killed and then his body placed on the track, and that the wheels of a passing train would forever conceal the evidences of foul play.

Wade came to an Indian camp from Lehigh, in an intoxicated condition. He had but recently sold some land which he owned in Clearwater county, and it is believed that he had considerable money with him. He told Jack Porter that he was to be killed at the same place as his brother was a year ago. Nothing more was seen of Wade until his body was picked up Saturday morning.

Wade was 25 years of age and has a family living on the White Earth reservation.

ECUADOR REDUCES

Promulgates New Tariff Schedules That Makes Many Changes.

Curious Feature is That Cabinet Members Get Concessions.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Ecuador has just reached the state department and will become effective Nov. 1. The schedule makes many changes in the existing tariff. It provides for a complete reclassification and makes reductions in some classes of goods sent from the United States to Ecuador, but makes no marked alterations on the chief exports from this country to Ecuador.

A reduction of about 1 per cent a pound is made on manufactured steel, iron, brass, bronze, copper and tin. The present duty on these goods is about four cents a pound, and after Nov. 1 it will be about three cents a pound.

Flour and land are the chief exports from this country to Ecuador, and on these products there is no change in duty. The value of American flour exported to Ecuador in 1905 was more than a quarter of a million dollars, and the duty is about one cent a pound. The value of American land sent to Ecuador was about the same as that of the flour for 1905. The American flour trade with Ecuador shows a marked increase. In 1904 it was $159,841, and a year later the total was $279,027. The exports to Ecuador from the United States for 1905 aggregated $1,750,000, and the imports from Ecuador were $2,000,000.

A curious feature of the new tariff act in Ecuador is that it permits cabinet members to enjoy exemption from duty on goods they import for their own use. For the first year of their service the cabinet ministers are to be permitted to import $500 worth of goods duty free, and each succeeding year of their service they are to be exempt from duty on $1,000 worth of goods. The president may import duty free $10,000 worth of goods the first year of his service, and thereafter may import half that amount without paying duty. Cabinet ministers are granted exactly the same exemption as the president. It has not formerly been the custom to grant such exemptions to government officials in Ecuador, and the practice does not obtain in other Latin-American countries.

LOSS UNBALANCED MIND.

Chicago Bank Failure Causes Man to Hang Himself.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—Another suicide was added today to the list caused by the wrecking of the Milwaukee Avenue State bank. Edward Kellereb, 40 years old, who two months ago deposited $200 in the defunct bank, today hanged himself from a pile of lumber in sight of a number of men in boats on the lake. Several of the men hurried to his assistance but were unable to reach him in time. Friends of Kellereb claim that the loss of the money so preyed on him that for several days he had appeared to have been unbalanced.

Receiver Charles H. Dawes closed the Milwaukee Avenue Co-operative store, the Stensland enterprise today. Notices were posted on the windows that the store had been closed in preparation for a receiver's sale. Judge Kellereb, to employ counsel, to insure the assets of the corporation were not lost, and to have business transacted. The receiver, however, did not take advantage of the last named privilege.

DIED FROM SUNSTROKE.

Oscar Olson, an Engineer, Is Found Dead at Snowball.

Nashua, Minn., Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Oscar Olson, a Swede about 35 years of age, was found dead from sunstroke at Snowball near Nashua. Dr. John L. Shellen, the coroner, was called and decided no inquest was necessary. Nothing was found in the effects of Olson, who was an engineer, and he decided to indicate who his relatives, but he is supposed to have a sister in Michigan and friends in Sweden. He was buried in Nashua cemetery.

SHOT AND ROBBED.

Thugs Kill Man in Railroad Yards at St. Paul.

St. Paul, Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Henry Dankert, aged 27, a boiler-maker, was attacked by two unknown men in the Wisconsin Central yards last night and shot. He died in the city hospital today. The purpose of the attack was robbery. Dankert came to St. Paul last week from Milwaukee, where he had been living. He was going to the Dakota harvest fields.

PROMINENT MEMBERS OF LIBERAL PARTY IN CUBA ACCUSED OF CONSPIRACY

CLEVERLY CONCEALED

Examiner Jones Says
Stensland's Career Has Been Remarkable.

Defalcation Will Reach Million Dollars or More.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 20.—Bank Examiner Jones, in his report to the auditor of public accounts on the Milwaukee Avenue State bank of Chicago, which has been received by the auditor and given to the press, estimates the total defalcations through the manipulation of the affairs of the bank by President Stensland to be $1,000,000, and possibly more. He says the closing of the bank was the consummation of a career the most remarkable and, in his opinion, the most conspicuous in the history of banking.

On his examination of Nov. 15, 1905, everything appeared to be prosperous and satisfactory, but it has since developed that in the figures were many questionable and forged notes, the exact amount of which nobody but the president or cashier can determine. He is of the opinion that Mr. Alberg, the chief clerk; Frank Kawaski, assistant paying teller, who has since committed suicide; John Gullikson, the receiving teller, and Mr. Dohr, the paying teller, and without doubt other employees of the bank, had guilty knowledge of many things which were not divulged by the directors to him. Mr. Jones declares that Cashier Herling, in swearing to the statement of Jan. 30, 1906, perjured himself to the extent of $184,839 and in the April statement to the amount of $202,122. He declares that the executive committee of the bank never acted in an official capacity and that had they done so each member of the two committees would have found guilty note in the assets. Cashier Herling, he says, denied forging the notes and, falling to implicate President Stensland, gave him to understand that an Italian named Demario, employed in the bank, had been the guilty party and that Stensland had given him $5,000. State's Attorney Healy learns that Demario is now in Italy.

The report says that the examinations of the bank have always shown it to be in fine condition and good. The last examination showed absolutely no suspicious circumstances. Jones considers it one of the most remarkable examples in banking that credence on such a scale could be concealed. He says that even prior to the organization of this bank it is the common report that many crooked things were done by the Stenslands when they conducted a private banking institution.

Government Takes Energetic Measures to Put Down Rebellion.

Plotting to Assassinate President Palma One of Charges.

One of Arrested Leaders Escapes—Rebels Getting Reinforcements.

Havana, Aug. 20.—Half a dozen highly prominent leaders of the Liberal party have been taken into custody on the charge of conspiracy against the government and plotting to assassinate President Palma. The events of yesterday have shown that the government was fully aroused to the necessity of putting down not only the open outburst in Western Cuba but also of capturing and confining the alleged leaders of this movement, who were strongly suspected of planning the assassination of the president and overthrowing the present government by force. To that end six prominent Liberals were arrested.

Telegrams were sent to Santiago directing the arrest of Juan Gualberto Gomez of Havana, one of the most influential of the Liberal leaders. Gomez has been campaigning lately throughout Santiago province against the government.

The Havana arrests were made by the city police on charges preferred by the chief of government secret service, Gen. Enrique Loynaz Del Castillo, one of the men arrested in Havana, managed to make his escape. After his arrest he was placed in a carriage in charge of a lieutenant of police. He asked that his brother-in-law, Senor Arana, be allowed to accompany him to bring a change of clothing. This request was granted. While on the way to the police station Arana drew a revolver and threatened the lieutenant with instant death unless he allowed the prisoner to escape. Both men then jumped from the carriage and ran.

They were not caught by the police. Palma learned of this incident and ordered that the lieutenant of police be at once discharged.

The details of the alleged conspiracy are not yet clear. The officials assert that they have sufficient evidence to secure convictions. It is reported here that the rebels in the province of Pinar del Rio have received considerable reinforcements in the remote districts. Rumors of encounters between them and rural guards have not been verified. Leading veterans are assembling volunteers to attack and disperse all rebel bands. The rebels in the remote districts are said to be well armed and probably well supplied with ammunition. President Palma crossed the harbor yesterday morning from his summer residence in Cabanas fortress. He remained in his office throughout the day and was reading telegraphic reports.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

Reviews and Approves of Work of Present Congress.

Tariff Revision When It Will Do More Good
Than Harm.

New York, Aug. 20.—A letter written by President Roosevelt to Congressman James E. Watson of Rushville, Ind., reviewing and approving the work of the present congress, and declaring that "to change the leadership and organization of the house at this time means confusion upon those who have successfully engaged in the steady working out of a great and comprehensive scheme for the betterment of our social and civic conditions," was made public today. The president also declared that such a change would result in a hurtful oscillation between the extreme radical and the extreme reactionary. He said, also, that he hopes the present congress will enact laws prohibiting political contributions by corporations, lowering the duties on imports from the Philippines, and limiting the number of hours for railway employees.

Of the tariff, Mr. Roosevelt says: "We stand unequivocally for a protective tariff, and we feel that the phenomenal industrial prosperity which we are now enjoying is not lightly to be jeopardized, for it would be imprudent to secure here and there a small benefit at the cost of general business depression. But whenever a given rate or schedule becomes evidently disadvantageous to the nation, because of the changes which go on from year to year in our conditions, and where it is feasible to change the rate or schedule without too much dislocation of the system, it will be well to make a general revision of the rates and schedules. It is not undertaken whenever it shall appear to the sober business sense of our people that of the whole the benefits to be derived from making such changes will outweigh the disadvantages; that is, when the revision will do more good than harm. Let me add one word of caution, however."

The question of revising the tariff stands wholly apart from the question of dealing with the trusts, that is, with the control of monopolies and with the supervision of great wealth in business. Specially in corporate form. The only way in which it is possible to deal with those trusts and monopolies, and this great corporate wealth, is by action along the line of the laws enacted by the present Congress and its immediate predecessors. The cry that the problem can be met by any changes in the tariff represents, whether consciously or unconsciously, (Continued on page 12, fifth column.)

Some Reports Indicate Greater Loss Than That at San Francisco.

Loss of Life Now Placed at Five Hundred—Great Number Wounded.

Observatory Reports Further Seismic Disturbances Unlikely.

Santiago, Chile, Aug. 20.—Five hundred persons are dead at Valparaiso as a result of the earthquake shocks, according to the latest advices based on the reports of refugees who reached this city this morning. The monetary loss at Valparaiso runs into the millions. Six or eight other cities have been destroyed. The railroad, street railway, telegraph and telephone systems are thoroughly demoralized.

The known dead in this city number twenty. Madame Monte, wife of Admiral Monte, who was reported killed, is alive, but seriously injured. It is expected that the street railway and lighting systems in this city will be restored today.

Santiago, Chile, Sunday, Aug. 19.—The situation is becoming clearer. A relief committee was organized here today and the street railway service was resumed. It was feared that Santiago would be plunged in darkness owing to lack of coal to supply the works, but the officials of the gas company say that they have a sufficient supply to last a week.

Charles Edwards, one of the proprietors of the Hermito of Valparaiso, has arrived here on horseback from that city. He confirms the reports that Alameda quarter and the principal avenue of Valparaiso have been transformed into heaps of ruins. When he left the city the inhabitants were wandering about looking for relatives and friends. The majority of the inhabitants, he says, have sought refuge on the hills, in the parks, and along the seashore. The administration building and Victoria theater had disappeared. The foundations of the Marine arsenal was only slightly damaged, but not any of the private residences were injured. In spite of the desolation, perfect order was maintained by the troops which were in the city, and even to their avenue and Victoria square. The military ambulances were gathering up the wounded and dead.

When Mr. Edwards left Valparaiso it was impossible to determine the number of persons killed, but according to his estimate, the number of lives lost were small, when the extent of the catastrophe was taken into consideration. He had one deputy, but the majority of the houses in the Amagada district have collapsed, as did a hill between Valparaiso and Vina del Mar, destroying railroad. RECORD OF ONE WEEK IN RUSSIA

Figures Tell Fearful Result of Uprising Among the People.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 20.—Last week's statistics show that fifty-eight officials were murdered and forty-three were wounded in Russia proper; that five bomb depots were discovered, and that sixty-three persons were robbed. These official figures do not take into account the pillaging in the country, nor do they give the number of military executions or arrests of agitators and revolutionists, and there are no figures showing the number of persons sent into exile.

The St. Petersburg Gazette says that 2,300 persons were banished on Saturday from St. Petersburg alone, and that 750 were placed on trains bound for the interior. Prefect of Police Von Launitz has declared his intention of clearing the capital of all "vagabonds." The police of this city are being trained in the handling of rapid fire guns at an arms factory outside of St. Petersburg. A detachment of police is sent there daily for training.

Moscow, Aug. 20.—In an interview today Alex J. Guchkoff, who is regarded as one of the strongest and most capable Conservative Liberals in Russia, and who many times has been mentioned as the natural premier in a Conservative cabinet outside of the bureaucratic circles, spoke in a despondent tone of the future. He said:

"There can be no doubt of the emperor's good intentions. The great misfortune is that he does not comprehend the situation. The influence which hedge him about are such that it is impossible for him to understand what is going on in the country, and he is constantly forced to take action upon false premises. The fact that the emperor is constantly in the dark regarding the true state of affairs is responsible for the hopelessness of the outlook."

RAILROADS

BEGIN WORK NEXT MONTH

Southeastern's Operations in Duluth Are Soon to Commence.

Depot Construction Will Not be Under Way Before 1907.

It is expected that preliminary work on the Lake Superior & Southeastern line in Duluth will be started next month. The most difficult engineering work of the whole system will be carried on in Duluth, for it will be necessary to tunnel under Michigan street, from Twelfth avenue west to the depot between Superior and Michigan streets, at sixth avenue west, as has been announced before.

This will be a very expensive undertaking, and will be the last of the work on the new branch of the Wisconsin Central to be completed. Work will be along on all other parts of the line before it is begun at all. A possibility exists that the tunnel and Duluth yards will not be constructed before next year, but the understanding among the officials now is said to be that the work shall be begun this fall, probably late in September.

The job will be expensive as well as difficult. The tunnel, starting at Twelfth avenue, will pass through the solid rock to Eighth avenue west, and will there pass into the grounds of the railway company's depot. There is little chance that work on the depot itself will begin before next season. It will be necessary to tear down several buildings along the Bowers before the foundations can be laid.

The tracks will lead from the Northern Pacific railway bridge in West Duluth to the depot site. The terminal yards will be in the Forty-first avenue west and a point nearly a mile to the westward.

Meantime work is being rushed on the road in Wisconsin, and it will be completed into the city across the bay as soon as circumstances permit. Trains will be running in and out of Superior over the Southeastern for quite a while before they are able to enter Duluth, unless the tracks of some other road are used for the time being, and a right is obtained to enter the Union depot.

At first it was expected the Wisconsin Central would run the Southeastern passenger trains into the Union depot, for it was regarded as too expensive a proposition for them to undertake to build their own depot, but the available sites apparently having been taken up, The announcement in The Herald, late in May, that a new depot would be constructed, opposite the Lenox hotel, was a surprise to Duluthians.

TO CONSIDER RATES.

Illinois Lines Against the Cut on Export Grain Charges.

Representatives of the Eastern roads and of the North and South railroads meeting in Illinois, will meet in Chicago tomorrow for the purpose of considering the effect of the action of the New York Central lines and the Pennsylvania in cancelling the plus basis on shipments of export grain from interior points in Illinois.

The Illinois lines feel that their traffic, which has been a haul from interior points to Chicago, the natural basic point for export rates East, has been dealt a serious blow, and it is the purpose of the conference, if possible, to affect an amicable arrangement whereby the effect of the diversion of grain traffic may be offset. In the opinion of some officials the lake and rail rates are at the bottom of the trouble.

W. B. PECK'S BODY HAS BEEN FOUND

Is Recovered at Solon Springs and Will Arrive on Omaha.

The body of W. B. Peck, the Duluth man drowned at Solon Springs yesterday, was found this morning by searchers in the lake there. The find took place about 9 o'clock this morning, but no particulars concerning it have been received here yet.

The body will be brought to Duluth on the Omaha train, which will arrive this evening, at 9:45 o'clock, and will be taken to Stewart's undertaking rooms, where it will be prepared for burial. No funeral arrangements have yet been made, and nothing has been done toward such arrangements.

Expressions of regret are heard on all sides from the numerous friends of Mr. Peck in Duluth.

STRIKES REEF NEAR HONOLULU
Manchuria Goes on During Storm and High Tide.

Honolulu, Aug. 20.—The Pacific Mail steamship Manchuria is on the reef at Eschscholtz island. The Manchuria struck here on during a heavy rain storm about 4:30 o'clock this morning. She was considerably out of her course. Rabbit island is a small speck in the sea, close to the windward side of the island of Oahu, on which Honolulu is located. The coast here is unusually dangerous owing to the on-shore seas. The steamer lies about 300 feet from the main shore. There are from two to three fathoms of water forward and about six fathoms aft. The tug Fearless and the inter-island steamer A. B. Cummings have gone to the scene. The officers of the Pacific Mail Steamship company are on the Fearless. It was high tide when the Manchuria struck. An officer who has come ashore expressed the opinion that the vessel can be floated at high tide tomorrow at about the same hour she struck.

There is no danger of any loss of life, but it is feared that the steamer will be seriously damaged. The Manchuria is a twin screw steamer of 12,500 gross tons and 8,750 net tonnage. She is 600 feet long with a beam of 65 feet 3 inches, and a depth of 31 feet one inch. She was built in 1894 by the Camden Shipbuilding company.

TRAGIC DEATH TURNS LIGHT ON A ROMANCE.

Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 20.—The tragic death of W. F. Brown, manager of a produce company, has brought to light a series of romantic incidents and disclosed the marriage of Brown to his stenographer and bookkeeper in Minneapolis last November, one month after the death of his first wife.

Brown's dead body was discovered in the bathroom of his house. His heart was swathed in towels, and a rubber tube ran from his mouth to the gas jet on the wall. The corpse was discovered by his second wife, who formerly was Miss Sarah Lister.

Miss Lister had been for years employed by Brown as a stenographer and bookkeeper. When his first wife died last October, as she lay on her deathbed she exacted a promise from Lister, who long had been a friend of the family, that her little daughter might have the care of a woman whom she knew would be loving and tender. The promise was made and kept within a month. Brown and Miss Lister going to Minneapolis, where they were married.

The marriage had been kept a profound secret, however, and was only disclosed by the tragic death of the husband.

THREE WORDS OMITTED; ALL DIVORCES INVALID?

Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 20.—Upon the possible omission in a divorce petition of three little words, "without just cause," depends the validity of every divorce granted upon the grounds of desertion in the state of Iowa. If the contentions raised by the attorneys of John J. Draper, a wealthy retired farmer residing in the Southern part of the state, is sustained.

The attorneys contend that every petition for divorce on the grounds of desertion must be stated in the plaintiff's petition "without just cause," and if these words are omitted the judge is without jurisdiction and the decree is invalid. Investigations of divorce petitions in this state will show that very few of them contain the words mentioned, and if the court should hold that the contentions of the attorneys are correct, thousands will see a stirring up in divorce circles that will surpass that which recently followed a decision of the United States supreme court on the divorce where service is by publication on a party outside the state.

FATHER AND SON

Both Restored by Treatment at Fergus Falls Insane Asylum.

Fergus Falls, Minn., Aug. 20.—The unusual spectacle of a father and son leaving the insane hospital together was presented Saturday when Anton Dubrava and his son, Joseph Dubrava, were released on parole and left for their home near St. Cloud.

Anton Dubrava has been an inmate of the hospital a long time, but his son came here only about six weeks ago, and was one of the most violent patients ever brought to the institution. He fell into his stockings, and when he was brought here he was a dangerous man. There was a fierce struggle at the station when he was removed to the hospital, but he has recovered rapidly and is perfectly rational. His father has also regained his reason, and the two returned to their home together.

FORTY-NINE ARRAIGNED

Record of Police Court for Number of Prisoners Broken.

All But Three of the List Were Plain Drunks.

In police court this morning the great broke all records—at least since the present court administration came into office.

Forty-nine people of all sexes and colors stared at Judge Cutting through the gloom of the "morning after." They were all ordinary drunks, with the exception of two men, who listed as "boxcar bums," and one young woman of the demi monde. Her case was not settled for the time.

One of the bums was given a suspended sentence on condition that he would get out of town, and the other was sent up for seven days. The ordinary drunks got the usual sentence, ranging anywhere from three to twenty days, and took their medicine without quailing.

Christina Johnson, a colored woman, who was arrested for being drunk, claimed emphatically, vociferously and much, that she was not drunk. Then she wept, and wept copiously. Her trial was set for this afternoon. She tried hard to tell the judge all about it, but his honor declined to listen until the matter was taken up in proper order. She waited disconsolately while going out of court and down the corridor, but stopped as soon as she was out of the judge's hearing.

Most of the drunks this morning pleaded guilty. Very few of them offered any excuse for their indulgence, but merely said "guilty," and let it go at that. One or two modified their plea by saying that they had met a friend, who was either going away or had just struck town after a long absence, and probably took a drop too much. But generally speaking the court disposed of the cases in rapid-fire style.

LATE DOINGS IN UPPER MICHIGAN

Homesteader Confesses to Shooting Man in Mistake for Deer.

Ishepeming—Near Lathrop, Saturday afternoon, Guy ~~Shoedle~~ of that town was shot and killed by Joseph Shoedle, a homesteader, in mistake for a deer. Shoedle confessed to the killing, which was purely accidental, and will be arrested as soon as the division will be stationed at Hancock. The maximum penalty on conviction, under a special statute covering these cases, is ten years.

Fire here Saturday night destroyed two dwellings owned by the Miller Brewing company, of Milwaukee, and William Buckett, Minneapolis, also three barns besides scorching other property. The loss amounts to $19,000.

Houghton—Daniel Fisher, for a number of years assistant clerk of the Quincy mine, has resigned that position and will at once assume the duties of clerk of the Hancock Consolidated Mining company. Mr. Fisher has been an employee of the Quincy ever since he started in his office boy, when 13 years old. His resignation was rapid.

A division of the state naval reserves, organized at Hancock last Friday night, about thirty-five signing its members of the Hancock division will be stationed at Hancock. This is the first Michigan brigade on Lake Superior. The Minnesota Reserve is stationed at Duluth.

The infant child of Wilfred Roy, cook in a lumber camp at Stackpole, fell into Scotland house water and died a horrible death.

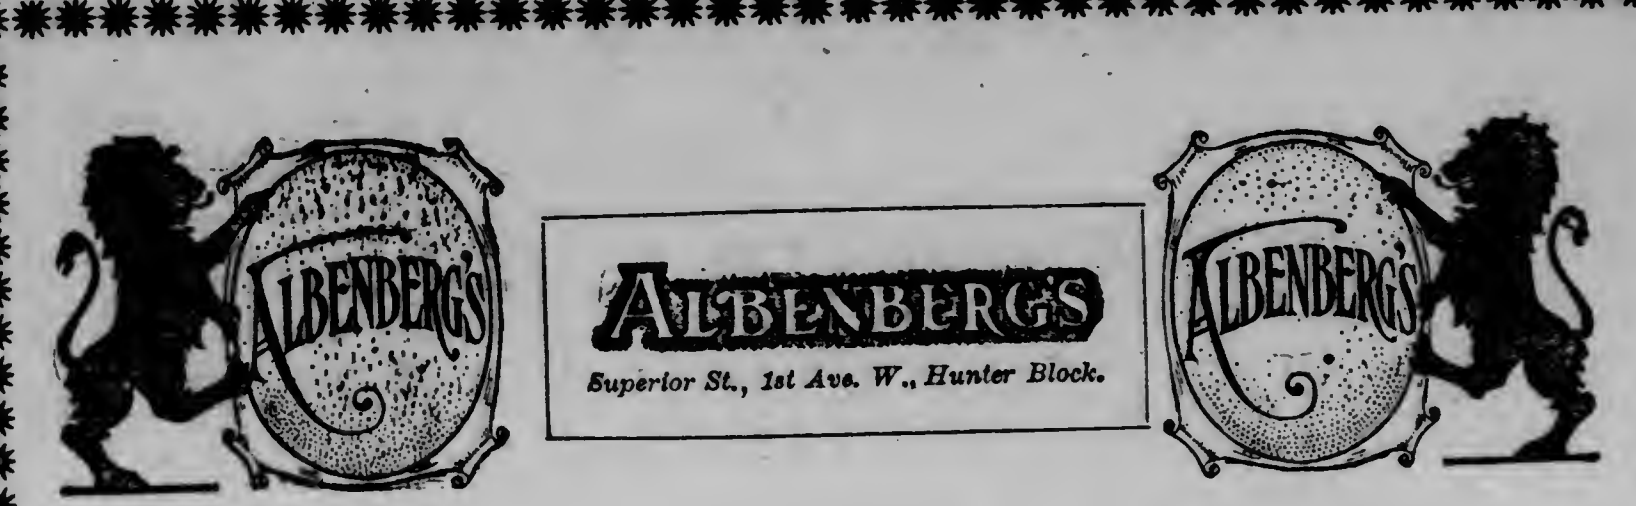

Menominee—While standing at the open window of her home at Porterville, Mrs. William Osborn was struck by a bullet fired from a Keweenaw and may recover.

Plans for a solid brick factory building for the Home & Keller company, to be located at Menominee, are being drawn. The company is a Menominee concern, which manufactures bottle fillers, under a patent obtained nine years ago. The bottle fillers are said to be a success, and that orders for them come from all over the world.

The filler is a stand for ten to sixteen bottles, upon which the bottles are placed, each under a patent spout, without leakage, the only labor necessary being the removal of the filled bottles and their replacement by empty ones.

Lake Linden—Despite that hundreds of men have engaged in the search, and that the territory in the vicinity of the spot where the child was last seen twenty days ago has been thoroughly beaten for miles around, no trace of the 3-year-old Karvels boy has been found. The disappearance of the baby is the most mysterious in the history of the copper children to meet his father, who lives at the Allouez location, the little boy sat down in the woods along the side of the road while his small companions continued on their way. The youngster was tired, and without food. He was cautioned to remain where he was, yet from that day to this no clue to his whereabouts has been discovered.

Marquette—Commercial fishermen have deserted the fishing grounds in the immediate vicinity of Marquette and are not setting their nets in the vicinity of Isle Royale, near the Canadian shore. The lifts this summer have been very light, and so far no commercial fishermen at Ontonagon, Lake Michigan, have suspended operations entirely. The truth of the mat-

ATTACK MOTORMAN.

Italians Assault Him Who Ran Car Through Their Parade.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—John Grady, a motorman on a Halsted street car, was probably fatally injured yesterday by a crowd of Italians, who dragged him from his car and beat him. A riot call was sent to police headquarters and officers hurried to the scene. At night of the police the Italians dispersed and officers hurried to the scene. At night of the police the Italians dispersed and officers hurried to the scene.

Other members of the club were dressed to represent the bride and groom, and began laughing so hard that she finally broke a blood vessel and had to be carried home. Physicians were summoned and for a time despaired of her life.

The bride and bridegroom had their new home all prepared and were compelled to indefinitely postpone the ceremony. This is the third time the young couple have been compelled to postpone their wedding day and they are beginning to fear that the accident may prove fatal and the marriage never take place.

MORE TROUBLE IN CUBA.

Havana, Aug. 20.—An insurrection began last night in Havana province when Gen. Bandera, the negro who distinguished himself in the war for independence, left Arroyo Arcaes, twelve miles west of Havana, with a force estimated at over twenty men, which, it is believed, was largely augmented today by a band armed with guns and ammunition which set out from Havana.

GIRL LAUGHS SO HARD

That She Breaks Blood Vessel and Wedding is Postponed.

Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 20.—Mock weddings are barred in Des Moines now. Miss Hattie Hansen, a pretty young Swedish girl laughed so hard at the impersonation of herself in a mock wedding, that she broke a blood vessel. She was engaged to be married Wednesday night to Adolph Johnson, a prominent East side manufacturer.

The Yuletide club, of which both were members, decided to properly celebrate the event by a pre-nuptial, at which the principal feature was a mock wedding.

Other members of the club were dressed to represent the bride and groom, and began laughing so hard that she finally broke a blood vessel and had to be carried home. Physicians were summoned and for a time despaired of her life.

The bride and bridegroom had their new home all prepared and were compelled to indefinitely postpone the ceremony. This is the third time the young couple have been compelled to postpone their wedding day and they are beginning to fear that the accident may prove fatal and the marriage never take place.

stroyed much property. The Tarlans also counted outcasts in other small towns.

NEW ERA FOR THE JUMP RIVER REGION.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Aug. 20.—Years ago some of the best pine logs that came to Chippewa Falls were from the Jump river country. It was a far-off country in those days, and the pioneers proclaimed that it would not be settled in a hundred years.

Of another twelve months on the headwaters of the Jump river will spring up a fine line of the forest which has been transformed into beautiful, fertile farms and gardens. Trains now are running over the new line from Chippewa Falls to Ladysmith by way of Owen and the Jump river country, that it took a week to reach in the old days, can now be entered by railroad in a few hours.

From the Jump river south to Owen it is almost a dead level, the road being much higher than the land through which it runs. There are a few exceptions, however, in some of the hills, but the general level. This strip of country, however, is one vast forest in which can be found almost any variety of timber in Northern Wisconsin.

There are a few patches of good hemlock, some cedar, lauraceae, various hardwoods and about a mile of beautiful pine. In some of the lumberman's ax he had failed to leave an impression upon it, and now that the mighty monarchs of the forest are falling and swiftly passing away, it is pleasant to find one which has been left in its natural condition.

OIL PRICES REDUCED.

Cleveland, Aug. 20.—Refined oil again declined 1/2 cent per gallon today. The Standard Oil company's new quotations are as follows: Water white Ohio state test, 9 1/2 cents; headlight, 10 1/2 degrees, 10 1/2 and 10 1/2. There is no change in the quotations on Ohio state test oil or on gasoline.

DULUTH IS SWELTERING IN OPPRESSIVE HEAT

Blazing Sun and Humid Atmosphere Almost Unbearable.

For Once the Cool Lake Breeze Seems to be Missing.

Under the glare of a fierce August sun and with the atmosphere heavy and sultry from last night's thunderstorm, Duluthians are today panting and perspiring from the most oppressive heat of the entire summer season.

The crisp, dry freshness is missing from the air today, and in its place there is a sticky dampness that is almost unbearable to Duluthians used to fresh and cooling breezes from the lake.

The little shimmering lake waves can be seen rising from Superior street, and for once Duluthians know what it is to feel the hot blast reflected from overheated cement sidewalks and asphalt pavements.

Down around the docks and in the lumber and coal yards the heat is sickening.

Even a howling northwest wind with fog and rain would be welcomed with open arms today, and the chief business of the people in the city appears to be trying to keep cool.

Sunday was also a scorching with the thermometer soaring up in the eighties, and people generally spent the day on the lake shore or at the various resorts about town. The lake breeze was cooling and refreshing, however, and toward evening the air was delightful.

In the middle of the night a shower came and in some of the outlying districts there was a generous downpour. In the central part of the city, however, there was scarcely enough moisture to lay the dust. The thunderstorm which accompanied the rain did not clear the air, but the moisture merely added to the humidity.

The weather man was appealed to this afternoon for some dope on the conditions, and prepared some tables, showing the temperatures and relative humidity for certain hours during the day.

The maximum temperature for the day, said Mr. Richardson, "was 86, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. This is 3 deg. lower than the highest point reached this summer, but owing to the greater humidity we have felt the heat more. With the greater humidity the air does not absorb the perspiration from our bodies, and we feel the heat. When the air is dry we can stand a much greater degree of heat, because the perspiration is readily taken up."

The humidity is rapidly decreasing this afternoon, owing to a thunderstorm which is coming up from the southwest, and while the thermometer has not changed much, conditions are becoming much more bearable this afternoon.

The outlook for tomorrow is for cooler weather and some more rain."

The following table shows the temperatures recorded since 7 o'clock this morning:

7 a. m.	8 a. m.	9 a. m.	10 a. m.	11 a. m.	12 a. m.	1 p. m.	2 p. m.
72	75	76	78	79	82	84	86

The following table shows the percentage of humidity in the air at different hours:

7 a. m.	8 a. m.	9 a. m.	10 a. m.	11 a. m.	12 a. m.	1 p. m.	2 p. m.

MORRISON GETS HIS COMMISSION

New Receiver of Land Office Will Take Hold Sept. 1.

N. B. Morrison, the newly appointed receiver of the land office, is to take hold of the office on Sept. 1. He has received his commission from Washington, but will not use it until that time in order to let receiver Jay M. Smith clean up his business for the month.

In the meantime, Mr. Morrison will be in the land office getting used to the feel of the ropes. He started in today to do this and will continue on for the rest of the month, sharing the work of Mr. Smith on the books, listening to the contest, watching the filing, and getting into the run of the routine in general.

STEPHENSON ENTERS THE RACE

Democrat Files for Nomination for Sheriff of St. Louis County.

Steve Stephenson, who filed today for the Democratic nomination for sheriff of St. Louis county, was born in Norway. He left home when a small boy and followed the seas for many years. He came to Duluth twenty-six years ago, and was employed on boats and dredges for several years. Of late years he has dealt in real estate and pine lands to a considerable extent, and at present owns farm lands in Carleton county and iron lands on the range.

He has always been a staunch Democrat and a great admirer of Bryan and Hearst. He asks the support of all followers of those two fearless leaders and all other voters who believe that a Democrat should be sheriff of this county at least once in twenty years.

WILL FIGHT JOHNSON.

Some Ohio Democrats Will Fight His Control of Convention.

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 20.—From the talk of the friends of the late Governor Pattison, who are here for the Democratic state convention, which opens tomorrow, Mayor Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland will have a rough time of it if he attempts to control the convention. The delegates say they will tolerate no combination between State Chairman Barber and Louis Bernard of Cincinnati, or any other of the bosses. Friends of Johnson here say that the defiance of the Pattison men will all disappear when the Cleveland mayor comes.

HAPPENINGS IN THE DAKOTAS

Farmer Arrested for Stealing Horses From Customs Collector.

NORTH DAKOTA.
Minot—William Libby, a farmer living seven miles north of Minot, has been arrested by United States Marshal Shea, charged with stealing ten horses from the United States customs collector at Westhope. The horses were part of a bunch which the collector had seized while they were being smuggled across the line from Canada. The horses were stolen July 5, and since that time officers have been working upon the case. Libby was arraigned before United States Commissioner Blaisdell and held in $1,500 bonds to appear Aug. 29 for a preliminary hearing.

SOUTH DAKOTA.
Parker—Hiram Bore, aged 82 years, a pioneer of this county and owner of a 30-acre farm, is dead. He had been at work in the harvest field driving a binder the day before his death and retired at night, apparently in good health. He had requested his family to allow him to sleep late the next morning, as he was not called until noon. When an effort was made to arouse him it was found he was dead.

SIoux Falls.—The Sioux Indians residing on the Pine Ridge reservation, in Western South Dakota, on several occasions during the past few weeks have been badly frightened by distinct earthquake shocks throughout the reservation. Now the white people living in the vicinity of White Clay Buttes, a freak geological formation situated north of the Pine Ridge reservation, are puzzled to account for a peculiar sound that appears to come from the earth in that region at short intervals. Those who have heard the sound describe it as resembling the rumblings of an earthquake or a dormant volcano, but state that it is much more indistinct and is not accompanied by any vibrations or disturbances of the earth's surface.

THE Point.—The annual picnic of the Old Settlers' association of Union county will be held in this city Tuesday, Aug. 28. That day is the anniversary of the founding of the town and an especially large crowd is expected as the picnic made are unusually good. Ex-Senator R. P. Pettigrew of Sioux Falls will deliver the address of the day. Master John McDonald, the boy violinist, will render a couple of selections.

GRANTED A HEARING.

Minneapolis Baseball Officials Can Tell Their Story Wednesday.

Milwaukee, Aug. 20.—President J. D. O'Brien of the American association today announced that the meeting of the board of directors to be held on Wednesday forenoon next will be an open one. At that meeting Manager M. J. Kelly and Secretary Lydard of the Minneapolis club will be given a hearing in connection with the case growing out of charges of gambling proposed against Umpire Clarence Owens in connection with the Columbus-Minneapolis series several weeks ago. Owens was acquitted of the charges at a meeting in Chicago and the suspension of the Minneapolis officials followed a further investigation by President O'Brien.

TWO ENJOYABLE TRIPS.

Herald Excursions to Fond du Lac and Two Harbors.

The biggest crowd of the season took advantage this morning of The Herald's Monday excursion to Fond du Lac on the steamer Newsboy. The promise of an intensely hot day made the prospect of a few hours' ride on the beautiful St. Louis river, with a cool shady grove at the end of it an especially attractive one. Tomorrow at 4 p. m. the popular steamer America will leave Booth's dock for Two Harbors. An hour's stop will afford those who have not followed the good old-fashioned custom of bringing their own lunch baskets, an opportunity of getting their supper in the romantic old town. For this scorching weather, nothing could be more pleasant than a trip on the lake, whose life-giving breezes invigorate to new life. The America will leave Booth's dock, Lake avenue at 4 p. m., returning at 9 p. m. Tickets are now on sale at The Herald office, thirty cents for the round trip.

COURT EXAMINES TWO.

H. A. Francis and Charles Tornens Thought to be Insane.

An examination into two cases where insanity is suspected, is being conducted by the probate court this afternoon. One case is that of H. A. Francis, of Milwaukee, the traveling salesman who attempted suicide at the Spalding hotel several days ago by cutting his throat. Francis had been despondent and a victim of melancholia for some days preceding his rash act. He has been recovering at St. Mary's hospital. It is thought that an examination will show that he needs to be kept for a time at some place where he will have the proper treatment. The second alleged insanity case scheduled for this afternoon is that of Charles Tornens of Aurora. The information was filed by August Knut, who says that Tornens is too dangerous to be at large. He is said to imagine that he is talking with persons deceased and credits himself with very great powers as a spiritualistic medium.

RECOMMENDS WITHDRAWAL.

San Antonio, Tex., Aug. 20.—Gen. W. E. McCaskey, commanding the department of Texas, has recommended to the war department that the negro troops at Brownsville and elsewhere along the Rio Grande in Texas be immediately withdrawn. The recommendation further suggests that the force now stationed with negro soldiers of the Twenty-fifth infantry be left without uniform, in the interim before their relief can be established.

SHAKES OFF HIS ACHE.

Cleveland, Aug. 20.—John D. Rockefeller, who last week was confined to his bed for a short time as a result of an attack of stomach trouble, was out today and came down town to attend to some business matters. Mr. Rockefeller stated that he was again enjoying his good health.

$75

Never before has such an opportunity been extended to the public. The regular price for a course in chiropractic is $500.00 and for a course in Electro-Therapeutics $75.00, but in order to put this science within reach of all who wish to learn it I am giving the course for this small sum for this limited time only. This profession will not be overcrowded for many years. Not only does it put you in a position to earn a large income, but you gain the knowledge of the greatest curative science of the age.

If you Intend to Take up this Profession Do So At Once

as I hold the right to withdraw this offer at any time on three days' notice. I have a list of rooms and boarding places where I can place students and patients from out of the city at very reasonable prices. For the benefit of students out of the city, who cannot afford to pay board while here studying, I have on my list a number of good places to obtain board free by a few hours' of easy work each day, which will not conflict in any way with your study. Make application at once.

building and installed in the rear of the company's blacksmith shop and an addition has been built to accommodate the same. These operations are nearly complete and it is expected that the offices in the Wolvin building, which have been occupied by the company, will be vacated before Saturday. Superintendent Harris and the other officials, who have been located at the furnace before, will occupy their same offices on the ground floor with the addition of the room vacated by the chemists. The new laboratory room, while somewhat smaller, is much more conveniently fitted up than the old one. All the large manufacturing institutions in the western end of the city now have their offices located on the ground. The American Carbonite people are occupying a building across the road from their plant; the National Iron foundry has its offices in the same building with the machine shops; and the brass works also has its offices in its new building. The Duluth Match company's offices are located in the factory and all the officials at the various sawmills have their headquarters in close proximity to the mills.

AFTER SUBSCRIPTIONS.

Commercial Club Committee Raising Funds for New Road.

The committee from the West Duluth Commercial club, which was appointed to secure subscriptions from merchants of this city for the new Wrenshall road, will commence its work this afternoon and a list is being circulated among West Duluth business men for signatures. The resolution asking for the subscription was as follows:

"Whereas, the West Duluth Commercial club has carefully considered the matter of repairing the old military road from Wrenshall to the St. Louis river opposite Point du Lac and finds that the work, if done, would give an entrance to Duluth to many farmers who would bring their produce and sell and purchase supplies, thereby benefiting the West Duluth merchants, who would have first chance to secure their trade."

CAUGHT ON FENDER.

Morris Ericson of Mora Has Narrow Escape From Death.
Prompt action on the part of a motor man on a west bound West Duluth and East end car, in dropping the fender, was all that saved Morris Ericson of Mora, from being ground under the wheels of the car this morning. Two cars approached at about the same time and Ericson failed to see either of them until he was between the tracks. In his efforts to dodge out of the way of the east bound car he fell directly in front of the other and was caught on the fender.

DISPOSE OF MANY LOTS

Good Demand for Chester Park Tract Now on Sale.

Many of Purchases Are Made Late in the Evening.

The sale of Chester Park lots on Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh and Twelfth streets, and Tenth avenue East, which is now being conducted by Moore & Bushnell, has been a very successful and interesting event. The firm put 186 lots on the market Saturday and up to this morning had sold 120 of them. The demand, it is said, was steady Saturday afternoon and all day yesterday. One of the features of the present sale is the fact that a number of lots were sold late in the evening.

Moore & Bushnell have employed a special policeman at the ground, who is staying there in a tent. He has been called up at all hours of the night by persons who were out on picnics or excursions yesterday, and did not get home to look at the property until a late hour. This morning at 5 o'clock the special policeman sold ten lots to men who were on their way to work and had to get down early.

This late and early buying is not an unusual experience with the firm of Moore & Bushnell, who make it a business to conduct the easy payment plan system all over the country, in cities with suburban property that the owners wish to sell. One member of the firm says that in Des Moines, Iowa, a year or more ago he sold lots all night long, some of the purchasers coming in with lanterns and soaked to the skin after being out in a driving rain, to look at the lots.

The run of purchasers during the present sale has been men employed in industrial institutions—clerks, small store keepers, etc. The purchases as a general rule ran to two or more lots, although quite a number of single lots were sold. The location of the land makes the district a very desirable one, considering the price at which the lots are put on sale and the length of time given to complete payment. Water and gas service has already been secured to Seventh street, and it is only a question of a little time before it will be available all through the property now under sale.

It is expected that by the coming Sunday the entire 186 lots will have been disposed of.

LEWIS MORRISON DIES.

Noted Actor of Faust Fame Succumbs to Operation.

New York, Aug. 20.—Lewis Morrison, an actor, whose work as Mephistopheles in "Faust" gained him fame, died suddenly of shock on Saturday afternoon in St. John's hospital, Yonkers, after undergoing an operation for a dislocation of the stomach. Taken ill suddenly last week, Mr. Morrison was informed by his physicians that an immediate operation was necessary to save his life. He was under engagement to start for San Francisco on Friday.

YELLOW FEVER CASE.

New Orleans, Aug. 20.—President C. H. Iron of the state board of health, yesterday issued the following statement: "One case of yellow fever at New Iberia, 125 miles from New Orleans. An leaving tonight to take personal charge of the situation." Quarantine has been declared by Dr. Iron on New Iberia. He has instructed the Southern Pacific railroad not to sell any tickets out of the town, so that trains simply stop there for water.

NEGRO ASSAULTS CHILD.

Charleston, S. C., Aug. 20.—A special to the News and Courier from Saluda, says that yesterday afternoon a negro, 15 years of age, in the Sandy Creek section of Batesburg county, attempted to assault a white girl 7 years of age. The negro escaped to the swamp which are now surrounded by a hundred armed men. A message sent from the governor's office to the sheriff urges him to protect the negro, but it is thought he will be lynched if captured.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

DEVELOPMENT AROUND SPARTA

Likely to Make it a Mining Camp of Importance.

Virginia, Minn., Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—With the amount of development that is now in progress at the mines in the vicinity of Sparta, it would be indeed surprising if that town does not develop into a mining camp of considerable importance. The new shaft being sunk by the Genoa Iron company at the edge of the village for the purpose of taking out the ore under the townsite is now down to a depth of 20 feet. It is in solid rock, and it is expected that it will be sunk to a depth of 25 feet, and then considerable drift will be necessary before the ore body is reached. The shaft is vertical and will contain three compartments.

All the improvements about this new shaft indicate permanence and that a large amount of ore is to be taken out. A big cut is being made by Contract 10, which is being made for a sidewalk to the shaft. It is also being made a portion of the old cave-in in order to make room for sinking. The shaft is now down to a depth of 25 feet, and it is expected that it will be sunk to a depth of 25 feet, and it is expected that it will be sunk to a depth of 25 feet, and it is expected that it will be sunk to a depth of 25 feet.

Just when the village of Sparta was being moved, or if it ever will be moved, is not yet known, but it is expected that it will be moved. The work will be done next year about the time the new shaft is completed.

It is understood that the work of sinking a shaft on the Gilbert property of the Steel corporation between Sparta and the town of Sparta is being done. A number of drills have been at work for some time proving in the ore body. The new shaft of the Sparta property is being sunk with good progress, while the shaft of the Steel corporation is being sunk with good progress. REDUCTION IN GRAIN RATES

Made by Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Soo Lines.

St. Paul, Aug. 20.—Late Saturday afternoon the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Soo lines filed with the state grain and warehouse commission notice of a 10 per cent reduction in grain rates.

The reductions will apply to all territory more than fifty miles distant from the terminals, and include practically all of the territory in which grain is raised. The three roads named made a proposition to reduce the rates on grain from the terminals to the points of destination. The commission is expected to accept the proposition, and the rates will be reduced from 10 per cent to 10 per cent.

The commission is expected to accept the proposition, and the rates will be reduced from 10 per cent to 10 per cent.

NEW THEATER IN VIRGINIA.

Missouri Theatrical Man Has Become Interested in the Scheme.

Virginia, Minn., Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. L. Kimball, president of the city council, who recently returned from a trip to Chillicothe, Mo., succeeded in interesting Z. B. Myers, a theatrical man of that place, in a plan to erect a modern theater in Virginia. Mr. Myers was somewhat surprised when he was asked to take an interest in the project, but he immediately became interested and, being in that line of business, thought it might be a good plan to submit a proposition for a play house that would be a pride to the town and would be the means of attracting the class to the town.

Mr. Myers' plan is to put $20,000 into the project, of which amount he is willing to put in the lion's share himself and would expect to dispose of some stock to the moneyed men of Virginia. Mr. Kimball brought plans of an opera house along such as Mr. Myers would like to build and it is a splendid structure in every way.

IS LAVING CONCRETE

Government Resumes Construction Work on Superior Entry Pier.

Will Lay About 800 Feet of Blocks This Year.

Construction of the south concrete pier at Superior entry was resumed yesterday after operations in that quarter had been suspended since the late fall of 1904. The work is in charge of Assistant United States Engineer Clarence Coleman, under Maj. Fitch, government engineer in charge of this district.

The government is working with about the same sized crew that it had when the big monolithic blocks were laid two years ago, the concrete being turned out of the big concrete mixer that was built under Mr. Coleman's supervision at that time.

It had been planned to continue the pier out in the lake last season, but the frequent storms upset all the preparations that were made in the way of protection dikes as fast as they were made, and quite a large amount of timber cribwork was destroyed. After several attempts, that lasted well into the summer, to get some sort of protection work in at the entry, the government abandoned the pier work until this year, except to continue making preparations that have been this year successfully carried out.

During the last season of construction some 1,500 feet of the new pier was built out from the shore near Wisconsin Point. There still remains about the same distance to build out into the lake at the end of which will be the pier head, the lighthouse and fog whistle station. The outside work is attended with far greater difficulties than the inside work, owing to the exposed position, but the engineers have a well-built protection dike running along the shore for a distance of nearly 1,000 feet. This, it is expected, will form adequate protection so that the concrete construction can go right along without interruption during ordinarily bad weather. It is thus possible to lay out a dike of heavy northeast stones, which will be used to form a protection dike.

The government, it is understood, does not expect to get the pier completed this season, but will probably get it built out as far as the protection dike extends. After that point is reached, the concrete construction will be continued, but it is expected that it will be completed by the end of the season.

GROCERY FIRMS ARE DECEASED

Unique Scheme for Which Swindlers Are Now in Prison.

Washington, Aug. 20.—For using the United States mails to defraud the whole-sale grocery firms throughout the country, a number of swindlers are now serving terms in the Atlanta penitentiary. For over a year previous to their arrest and conviction, they had been carrying on a rather unique scheme to defraud the grocery trade by means of a mail-order business. The swindlers, who were known as the "Grocery Gang," had been operating for some time in the city of New York, and had been successful in obtaining large amounts of money from the grocery trade by means of their mail-order business.

Inspector soon obtained sufficient evidence to cause Donaldson's arrest and conviction, and he was taken into custody in the warehouse of the Old Dominion Building, at Norfolk, Va., while in the act of signing for a large consignment of veterinary supplies that had been shipped to him under the name of Donaldson, Frank & Co. of Phoenix, which he had re-shipped at Norfolk as Wallace, Weth & Co. Being unable to give bond he was sent to jail and was later convicted and sentenced to serve eighteen months in the penitentiary.

The scheme adopted by Donaldson and Powell to defraud the wholesale grocery houses was conducted in a rather shrewd manner. After deciding upon the town of Norfolk, they decided to rent a store room, and a large number of the most prominent men of the town, rent a look box at the store, and they proceeded to make statements as to their business standing, and they obtained large quantities of goods, which were never paid for, the same would be re-shipped to Norfolk, and there sold for considerably less than the amount. They ordered almost anything in the line of business they were supposed to be conducting, and concerning their business standing, furnished such convincing statements to the various committees in which they operated that many firms were easily deceived. The notices of goods found in the warehouse at Norfolk goods consigned to Wallace, Weth & Co. from one of the firms that had been defrauded several times by the same pair, and the goods were later returned to the consignor.

CAREFULLY ARRANGED

Was Launching of Presidential Boom of "Joe" Cannon.

Yet It Does Not Lack Enthusiasm or Sure Foundation.

Washington, Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The presidential boom of Joseph Cannon has been launched. Its launching is not spontaneous in the sense of spontaneity, but a carefully arranged performance, in which some of the most prominent politicians of Illinois not only participated but have had it under careful consideration for months past.

Just how for Mr. Cannon's boom will be heard and how long it will last is a most questionable fact. It is not vouchsafed to any man to predict what vogue it will attain before the presidential convention of the Republican party is held in St. Louis, Mo., in June, 1908. However, there are many Republicans in the lower house of congress and quite a few senators, who seriously look upon "Uncle" Joe Cannon as a formidable candidate for the Republican nomination, and that it will be the desire of the majority of the party to elect him.

However, there are many Republicans in the lower house of congress and quite a few senators, who seriously look upon "Uncle" Joe Cannon as a formidable candidate for the Republican nomination, and that it will be the desire of the majority of the party to elect him.

There has been a story in circulation for several days here in regard to the national government that a number of the very shrewdest politicians, including Joe Shiley of Pennsylvania, Jim Sherman and Littauer of New York, Wacker and Kild of Maryland, Blackwood of North Carolina, Alexander of Buffalo, N. Y., Cullum, Billy Lorimer, Mann and Boutell of Illinois, with other congressmen scattered throughout the remaining states, believe that the hour has struck for Joseph G. Cannon, and that, with Illinois sending forth its clarion call for the Danville statesman to take the lead, other states will fall into line, and that by the first of April 1908, he will be looked upon as the logical successor of Theodore Roosevelt.

This is entirely preposterous, and it is not to be taken seriously. The most striking example of a recent reform is the determination of the general staff, through Quartermaster Gen. Humphrey to make our "Tommy Atkins" the peer of the world's soldier, both in spirit and in dress, and in the new uniform, especially in the cut of the coat and trousers, that already many officers are adopting the new trousers for their personal wear, and when the American "Tommy Atkins" dons the uniform which is now being fashioned by a London military tailor he is promised to be the admiration of the world.

BLACK MOUNTAIN PLANT A MODEL

Average Value of Ore is $5. in the Vicinity of $5.

President W. Z. Stuart of the Black Mountain Mining company, who has just returned from the mine makes the following statement in brief:

The 120 stamps were installed and operating on April 11th and could have been in continuous operation except for the stoppage of the machinery labor which swept throughout the whole of northern Mexico.

In spite of this, for three months we have been producing more ore than the capacity of the stamps would require. Less than one-third of this ore was available for use until the entire stoppage of eighty feet high could be broken.

This stoppage, containing about 40,000 tons of ore ready for the mill, will be opened on the 15th of August. This stoppage, containing about 40,000 tons of ore ready for the mill, will be opened on the 15th of August.

Of such stamps as were running in July, say an average of 50, the saving by plate amalgamation was 63 per cent. By the excellence of the cyanide plant, it is certain that nearly 95 per cent of the total values will be recovered.

The average value of the ore will be in the vicinity of $5, with the cost of operation about $2.25. It is expected that these results, which are conservative, will be increased as the plant in its entirety moves along from month to month.

S.S.S. RIDS THE SYSTEM OF MALARIA

The healthy color of the skin is given to it by the millions of little red corpuscles in the blood. These are the carriers of nourishment, health and strength to all parts of the body—in other words the very life of the blood. When the germs of Malaria get into this vital fluid they destroy these corpuscles and rob the blood of its life, life-sustaining qualities, rendering it thin, weak and watery and unable to supply the system with the needed strength to resist disease. Then the symptoms of Malaria, such as pale, sallow complexion, weak vitality, poor appetite, deranged digestion, a general "let down" condition of the system, and perhaps chills and slight fever, show that this insidious disease is gradually affecting the entire health.

Malaria must be removed from the system through the circulation, and the medicine to accomplish this is S. S. S. It not only cleanses the blood of all impure, unhealthy matter, but rids the system of Malaria, and restores the blood to a strong, healthy condition. S. S. S., besides removing the germs of Malaria, builds up and gives tone and vigor to the entire system by its fine tonic effects. Malaria is a blood disease, and S. S. S. cures it because it is a perfect blood purifier. Book on the blood and any medical advice without charge.

A shape for every man

And satisfaction for the most particular man in the fall styles in the hundreds who with trowel and level and square and saw and plane are erecting two of the most magnificent buildings ever constructed for purely office purposes for the nation's legislators.

In the erection of the House of Representatives office building an interesting fact has developed in connection with the brick masons' work. The first brick was laid at the site on the afternoon of July 6, 1905, and on July 3, 1906, there had been laid in the walls 10,580,000 bricks. This is believed to be the greatest number of bricks ever laid on any building in one year in the United States, and probably in the world.

These winter months the work continued almost without interruption from either snow or cold weather, and not more than twelve or fifteen days were lost during the entire winter by reason of weather conditions.

There is no very great hope among the members of the General Staff of the Army that brigade camps will be established to any great extent throughout the country, local conditions and politics seriously interfering with any accomplishment of this character. Cities and towns nearby in which are located army posts will never consent to see those army posts reduced and finally abandoned simply because it may be the desire of the secretary of war and some of those associated with him in the war office to consolidate posts in one great camp for purposes of instruction. Senators and members will be found generally opposing the scheme, although the policy of concentration which has been outlined by the general staff is commended most heartily not only as a money saver, but from the highest military point of view. Some of the older posts of the army, particularly those located in the "brush," as remote garrisons are called, will generally be abandoned and the remaining most accessible garrisons will be improved to the highest degree of efficiency.

Reforms in the army are matters of slow growth, and they are brought about after endless delay. The most striking example of a recent reform is the determination of the general staff, through Quartermaster Gen. Humphrey to make our "Tommy Atkins" the peer of the world's soldier, both in spirit and in dress, and in the new uniform, especially in the cut of the coat and trousers, that already many officers are adopting the new trousers for their personal wear, and when the American "Tommy Atkins" dons the uniform which is now being fashioned by a London military tailor he is promised to be the admiration of the world.

LEADER IN THE SKYSCRAPER RACE

New York, Aug. 20.—Senator Platt's United States Express company building leads in the big race now on between the New York skyscrapers. The thousands who journey daily by the Sixth and Ninth Avenue elevated roads have a rare chance to see a skyscraper in the making, girder and girder, floor by floor, for the express company has new towers for their personal wear, and when the American "Tommy Atkins" dons the uniform which is now being fashioned by a London military tailor he is promised to be the admiration of the world.

The new structure is twenty-three stories high, with a frontage of 119 feet on Reister street. The lower stories will be occupied by the express company. Senator Platt, president of the company, will also have offices in the building, and other members of the company will have offices in the building. The building will be equipped with all the latest modern conveniences, each office having hot and cold, as well as ice water, and a vacuum cleaning apparatus. The new building will be a landmark in the city, and it is expected that it will be the most important building in the city.

OFFICE MEN IN BREACH

Clerks Discard Collars and Hustle Freight
From Huronic.

Other Vessels Tied Up
Awaiting Settlement
With Men.

The men who are employed in the offices on the Northern Pacific are cursing the freight handlers for going out on such a day as this.

With collars wilted or discarded, hands blistered, and perspiration rolling off their faces in streams, they are putting in the afternoon unloading the passenger and freight steamer Huronic as she may be ready to start back on her scheduled time tonight.

The steamer North Wind is tied up at the same dock with the Huronic with a cargo of wire nails and steel pipe waiting to be unloaded and the New York, H. D. Coffinberry, Delaware and J. G. Child, are tied up at other merchandise docks in the harbor. As none of these craft are passenger carriers it is improbable that any effort will be made to unload them until some settlement is arrived at, or men have been secured to take the strikers' places.

One of the officials at the docks said this afternoon that it was simply a case of being up to the strikers either to settle or send in men from the outside at once, and in view of the fact that the scarcity of men has never been so pronounced as at present, it looks as though the union had taken a most opportune time to enforce its demands.

Copper stocks were strong during most of the day but declined slightly at the close. North Butte opened at $2.75, advanced to $2.85 during the hour of trading, fell to $2.80 and closed at $2.75. Idaho and $2.25 asked a little off from Saturday. Anaconda opened at $10.25, advanced to $11.11, fell off to $10.75, rallied to $10.87 1/2 and closed at $11.30. B. I.

Anaconda opened at $2.67, sold as low as $2.50, rallied to $2.55 and closed higher at $2.65. Butte Coalition opened at $2.15, advanced to $2.17 1/2, declined to $2.02 1/2 and closed at $2.02 1/2. B. I. and $1.11 asked. Calumet & Arizona opened at $1.11, fell off to $1.04 1/2, advanced to $1.12 1/2 and closed at $1.11. B. I.

Chama Central was strong again today, selling first at $16 and advancing to $17. The closing price was $16.50. Superior & Pittsburg sold at $17 and $17 1/2, and closed at $16.37 1/2. B. I. and $1.11 asked. Penn-Arizona at $20.75 and $21, closing at $21. Consolidated at $6 and closed at $6.25. B. I. and $1.11 asked.

Hancock Consolidated was inactive and closed at $8.14. Copper Queen of Idaho at $2 bid and $2.50 asked. Ophir opened at $2.15 and $2.25 asked and $1.11 bid. Black Mountain at $2.75 and closed at $3 bid and $3.75 asked.

The Shattuck-Arizona mine at Bisbee, Ariz., is scheduled to begin the shipment of ore tomorrow. It is expected that at the outset, the production of the mine will be about 250 tons a day, which will be increased within a few months to 500 tons. The aerial tramway has been completed and tests have shown it to be in good condition.

FACT

that some of the nicest weather we get in Duluth is yet to come. Don't you think you'd like to dress in some of these pretty summer things that can now be had for a song? And then when you are through with them lay them away until next season—for, as an old millionaire when asked how he accumulated such a vast amount of money, said, "By buying straw hats in the winter time!" The "moral" is self evident.

The Twin Cities were late in arriving at Duluth today because of the wreck of a fast freight train which occurred near Holyoke about 4 o'clock this morning. A broken flange threw nine loaded cars into the ditch, badly tearing up the track. The train due here at 6:30 a. m. did not arrive until 11:30 a. m., and the 2:30 p. m. train was more than an hour late.

Situation Unchanged.
There were no new developments in the freight handlers' strike today. The settlement of difficulties appeared to be no nearer at 3 o'clock this afternoon than it was last night.

Soft Coal Is Scarce.
The price of soft coal advanced 25 cents a ton today. The inability of the dealers to secure enough coal for present needs and those of the future are given as the reason for the latest increase. Duluth and vicinity is consuming an enormous amount of soft coal these days, a circumstance which indicates great business activity.

PECULIAR SITUATION

In Division of Money in the Gans-Nelson Match.

Harry Baker's Victory Over Frankie Neil Was a Surprise.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 20.—It is all settled now, and Nelson and Gans are to look at Goldfield on Labor day, Sept. 3. There was a deadlock for a while owing to Nelson asking for 75 per cent of the $30,000 purse for Nelson whether the Dane won or lost. Finally Nelson agreed to accept $20,000, and articles were signed.

There is to be no winner's end and no loser's end. Each man knows now, before beginning to train, how much he is to receive.

Nolan says there have been numbers of instances in which champions have been drawn down the long end of the purse, though defeated. He forgets that ring historians pronounce Gans the real champion of the class that Nelson belongs in, but that's neither here nor there. Nelson is the drawing card in this particular case, and that is what places his manager in a position to demand inordinate concessions.

There certainly have been instances where a defeated champion has received more than his conqueror—the Fitzsimmons-Jeffries fight at Conny Island for one—but the facts did not leak out until long after the contest.

This thing of looking the whole world squarely in the eye and making a demand for the hog's share of the plunder, win or lose, is brain-fried to the hope of earning the long end of the purse and lifting the mortgage on the farm.

It stands to reason where each principal is to receive a stated sum for his services, "win or lose," there is no incentive to endure more fatigue or buffeting than the law allows.

The records of the ring are sprinkled with instances of pugilists who, with battered ribs and bruised faces, gritted their teeth and fought on and on in the hope of earning the long end of the purse and lifting the mortgage on the farm.

In this case, though, the long end of the purse doesn't hang in the balance. All mortgages are provided for before the starting bell thunders.

EMBARRASSING DISCOVERY.

Many Divorces Granted by an Old Court Are Void.

New York, Aug. 20.—Discovery was made today by investigators of the United States census bureau who are looking up divorce statistics in this city that many of the divorce decisions in the old courts of common pleas are inoperative because no decree has been entered upon the records. In hundreds of cases in which the court has ordered that decrees of divorce or separation should issue the order for judgment has not been submitted to the court by counsel for a successful party. Thus, in many cases the divorce has been a mere legal fiction, and in many cases the parties have been married again. It was stated today that such marriages are void, and can only be legalized by action of the legislature, and that much confusion and inconvenience to the interested parties is certain to ensue. The court of common pleas is no longer in existence.

and such being the case there is ample reason for speculation as to what effect the cut and dried apportionment of the plunder will have on the fighters.

Say, for instance, that Battling Nelson is being severely punished may not be the thought occur to him as he sniffs ammonia between rounds. "What am I putting up with all this for? I am to get the long end of the purse anyhow, and they won't pay me any more if I stand here to be hammered to shreds. Guess I'll take a little nap in the next round."

The same line of reasoning may occur to Gans if he happens to be getting the worst of the milking, and then again the rivalry between the men may be such as to make them forget all morbid consideration and battle like demons while strength remains.

The only thing is that where one man demands a bigger slice of the prize money before the fight it is but natural to suppose that he has doubts as to his ability to win the long end of the purse in legitimate, sportsman-like manner, and where a "drawing card" shows by his tactics he is a victim of doubt, there is every reason why the public should remain in doubt as to the outcome of the whole business.

Harry Baker's victory over Frankie Neil at Los Angeles was one of the surprises for which the pugilistic game is famous. Baker has long been known as a shifty, speedy glove man, but few supposed he had it in him to lower Neil's colors.

Of course, the "Nells" question the fairness of Referee Tommy Burns' ruling, but it is over that when the defeated man has any light left in him at the close of a limited bout.

It makes no difference to him that his face looks like a paper target after a German school, while his opponent is as fresh and smooth as though just turned out of a barber's chair. He has been "robbed," and "that's all there is to it."

Baker's leap into prominence reminds us that San Francisco's new crop of boxers is becoming quite an imposing battle line, overlapping, as it does, every class from bantam to heavy. In addition to Baker there are Dick Hyland, Bob Luntie, Joe Thomas, Al Kaufman and Sam Berger. Quite a formidable bunch of "spring chickens."

We ought surely to land one world's champion out of that lot.

The middle in the Gans-Nelson fight had its effect on the boxing situation generally. There was no telling what an hour would bring forth, and the San Francisco promoters' trust held aloof from match-making entirely. No doubt they hoped against hope that Nelson-Gans might fall to them after all.

As matters stand, it is believed that Jimmy Britt and Ed Hanlon will be signed for the opening card on Sept. 10. Then again they may not. The friction in the fight trust is held at bay, and the old game of cross-purposes may begin again with Grancy and Levy at one end of the saw and Crockett and Willm at the other. If Britt and Hanlon are matched there will be considerable interest in the affair. It is a case of two native sons who have been rivals for a long time and who can each boast a large following.

Despite the enormous volume of outside buying orders attracted by the rampant bull speculation prices were gradually forced downward after realizing by professionals. In many instances only a fraction remained of the early substantial gain. St. Paul sold at 1 1/2 and United Pacific 3/4 below Standard's closing. There was a considerable shifting of bull operations later from the Harriman and others into Missouri Pacific, Reading and Atchafalaya. The enormous buying of these stocks.

last, Missouri Pacific ran up 3½, Atchafalca 3½ and Reading 5½. Luckawanna sold at 1½ and declined 20 points from its last sale. Bonds were neglected after noon.

The volume of business continued on an enormous scale and there were indications of a number of long dominant booms. Reading and Atchafalca were allowed to fall back, while Atchafalca, Smeltzer and St. Paul were taken hold of and pushed up quietly. The Harriman stocks held steady.
